Italians Mobilize More Soldiers As War Threats Grow

CONFERENCE IS HELD

Three Allied Nations Achieve 'Unity Of Purpose' At Paris

(By Associated Press)

Italy mobilized 220,000 more soldiers and France made ready to shift 300,000 men closer to the German border Saturday as French, Italian and British conferees at Paris achieved "unity of purpose" in handling the German rearmament crisis.

With any thought of asking penalties for Germany at the forth-coming League of Nations council session "pushed into the background," Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, prepared to fly to Berlin Sunday to start momentous security conversations with Adolf Hitler.

In the German capital Hitler, who returned from Wiesbaden to take personal charge of the conversations, was described as ready to sign bi-lateral non-aggression accords guaranteeing peace on the continent for the next 20 years.

PARIS.—Capt. Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, got Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs Fulvio Suvich of Italy and Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France to agree to move cautiously on the German question until he and Simon sound out opinion at Berlin. A meeting of French, Italian and British foreign ministers was scheduled for Stresa, Italy, April 11.

ROME.—Benito Mussolini, calling the class of 1911 to the colors and thus raising the total of Italian troops immediately available to more than 1,000,000, told 10,000 Blackshirts celebrating the 15th anniversary of the founding of the Fascist party that Italy "is ready for any threat of war."

BERLIN.—Hitler, though insistent that Germany be treated as an equal in the Anglo-German negotiations, nevertheless will do everything possible to gain the good will and confifidence of the British, his intimates said, and will propose bi-lateral pacts to guard against war.

LONDON.—Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, declared disarmament, "as many of us dreamed of it after the war, is not going to be effected in the near future." Simon in an address to his constituency, hinted Britain might seek to isolate herself from continental quarrels.

GENEVA.—Further indication of a disturbed Europe was seen in reports to the league that Czechoslovakia, fearing a possible Nazi putsch, would begin fortifying frontiers hitherto neglected. A spokesman said his country is not interested in any pact with Germany. Even Switzerland rehearsed defense against gas attacks.

MADRID.—Premier Alejandro Lerroux expressed the belief that Germany could have achieved rearmament "without resorting to measures which might easily be interpreted as provocative and menacing."

BUCHAREST. — Foreign Minister Nicholas Titulescu postponed until Tuesday or Wesdnesday the start of his European tour, in the course of which he will seek to solidify Little Entente opinion concerning Germany's rearmament.

SOLONS INSTRUCTED TO FRAME OWN BILL

WASHINGTON, March 23. — (AP) — President Roosevelt today passed over protests of one of his own cabinet members—Secretary Perkins—and told house Democratic ways and means committee leaders to go ahead and perfect their own social security bill.

The committeeman who talked with the president for more than an hour about the tentative draft of the rewritten bill were Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, and Representatives Samuel B. Hill, Democrat, Washington, Vinson, Democrat, Kentucky, Lewis, Democrat, Maryland, and Cooper, Democrat, Tennessee.

They declined to quote the president directly, but sturdy, 71-year-old Chairman Doughton, obviously pleased at the results of the conference, told newspapermen who surrounded him upon his return to Capitol Hill:

"We are in agreement. I don't look for any substantial changes in the bill as it now stands."

B. HUDSON BOLINGER DIES AT SHREVEPORT

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23.—(AP)—B. Hudson Bolinger, 50, well known lumberman and active in business and civic affairs of Shreveport died at a local hospital early today.

He was a past president of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce and past president of the Norwila Boy Scout council, a representative of the council in the national Scout organization, and a member of the regional executive committee.

The funeral will be held from the First Methodist church here at 4:30 p.m., Sunday. His wife and a four-year-old daughter survive.

San Diego Looks Ahead
Vast Power

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1935, by King Features Syndicate Inc., International Copyright and all other rights reserved.)

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—This is the last day of this latest visit to the west coast. Over the Cajon pass, through the mountains by automobile this afternoon, and then by train from Barstow back to the long suffering east.

Thanks to San Diego's forthcoming "America's Exposition, 1935," this Pacific coast region feels cheerful. There will be very low railroad excursion fares from everywhere and railroad agents, on certain lines, at least, will receive a bonus for every round trip ticket they sell. This will create many advertising promoters for the exposition.

THE SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION, most beautiful in itself, with a setting high up on the hills overlooking the Pacific ocean, that could be duplicated nowhere else in the world, has for adjacent exhibits wonders unknown elsewhere. They include the trip across the continent, and over the Rocky mountains, convenient visits to old Mexico, just south of San Diego's city limits, intimate acquaintance with the broad Pacific and the giant redwood forests.

This is certainly the year for you to make that trip across your North American continent, visit your big ocean and the other wonders of the west. And remember that, out here, summer is the best season.

RUNNING NORTH and south along the coast are beautiful continuous ranges of hills and mountains, fertile valleys between them, and a wide expanse of level lands lying between the mountains and the ocean.

Opposition To Levee Plans Is Organized At Tallulah

TALLULAH, La., March 23.—(Special)—Opposition to the proposed floodway through East Carroll, Madison and Tensas parishes, as recommended by the United States engineer in his report to congress, crystallized here during the past week with the organization of the Northeast Louisiana Protective association, composed of civic, business and professional leaders, as well as prominent planters. Former Senator Joseph E. Ransdell was chosen president of the association, which plans to make a determined fight at Washington to resist the adoption of the proposed floodway.

A public meeting was held Thursday night at Tallulah, attended by 400 property owners and others prominent in the official and business life of this section of the state.

Strong resolutions were adopted condemning the proposed floodway, which assertedly "would destroy the autonomy of the parishes involved, destroy millions of dollars of property unpaid for, make human life unsafe, make a jungle of the most fertile of our lands, destroy their use for agricultural purposes, and make a waste of more than 400,000 acres of the most fertile land in America." A committee composed of Senator Ransdell, State Representative Joseph T. Curry, F. H. Schneider, J. M. Hamley and Harry C. Sevier was named to go to Washington and appear before the house flood control committee and General Markham, to present the case for the property owners of this section of the state against the floodway. Report of a special committee appointed to examine the plan of the proposed floodway follows:

"The Eudora floodway would extend from Red Fork of Cypress creek, Arkansas, to a point opposite Jonesville, on Black river, in Louisiana; it would consist of leveeing the gaps in the Macon Ridge and the construction of a levee from Red Fork south, which would run about 100 miles in length in Louisiana; that part of the floodway in Arkansas would chiefly be used to let in Arkansas river water from entering the Mississippi river; that part of the floodway in Louisiana would receive water from the Mississippi river about the Louisiana state line, thus getting water from both rivers. The floodway would be, where possible, 10 miles wide; the height of the east side levee would be 23 feet providing for a flooding of 20 feet in depth and a free board of 3 feet.

WALLACE ASSERTS LOANS ON COTTON TO BE CONTINUED

Is Not Revealed Whether Present 12-Cent Rate Will Remain

ANNOUNCEMENT EARLY

Senator Hints Taxes On Bread, Meat, Clothing Will Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, March 23. — (AP) — The south was told today by Secretary Wallace that cotton loans would be continued on the 1935 crops, although whether at the present 12-cent-per-pound rate remained to be revealed.

The secretary denied an intimation by Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, that processing taxes were to be lifted on "bread, meat and clothing."

George, after a visit to the White House, had combined the prediction about processing taxes with the assertion that he was certain that President Roosevelt would not permit the price of cotton to fall below the "12-cent loan level now in effect."

From all indications this forced the department of agriculture to announce that it intended to continue the cotton loans, an announcement that would not have been made in the ordinary course of events for several months. The 1935 crop does not begin to move to market until late summer.

An accumulating surplus of cotton attributed partly to the present 12-cent loan has reflected itself recently in some of the most precipitate price drops in the staple for years.

The cotton experts of the AAA and department of agriculture have concentrated on the problem and apparently have decided to continue loans and keep the several million bales now held by the government

ORLEANS SLAYER STILL A MYSTERY

Girl Who Killed Young Writer Refuses To Tell Real Name

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—(AP)—Identification of the 23-year-old night club habitue known as "Marion King," was still a mystery to police tonight as she sat in her police cell remorseful over the stabbing to death of her companion, John Irving Pierce, 23, a magazine writer and scion of a prominent Jackson, Miss., family.

Police in New Orleans and in Chicago, Detroit and New York where the girl said she wrote for newspapers were searching high and low for family connections of the young woman, while Marion, formally charged with murder, tearfully refused to bare her real name.

"I'll never reveal my identity," the woman told police. "I wouldn't for the world. What good would it do? It may do others harm and my sins are my own."

Although admitting to M. E. Culligan, assistant district attorneys, that she stabbed Pierce in the heart with a three-inch knife blade, she declared that she did not mean to harm him.

Pierce was stabbed to death after a night of gaiety early Friday morning while the couple was seated, quarreling at a table in the Nut club on Bourbon street, and the weapon was his own knife which he had handed to the girl.

She told police she met Pierce several months ago at a river front club when she was a narcotic addict, that he had cured her and wanted to marry her and go to Florida if she

An Encouraging Prospect

Announcement by the United States engineers of plans for completing the huge levee construction work on both sides of the Ouachita river affords a new feeling of confidence and satisfaction to the people of Monroe and West Monroe in contemplating business prospects during the coming summer.

A program involving the expenditure of approximately $2,000,000 in erecting protective levees on the east and west banks of the river is of more than ordinary importance. Not only are the plans designed to insure the future safety of the two communities from overflow, but the immediate implications of industrial and labor activity are of tremendous significance.

The improvements will include earthworks and levee walls of sheet metal piling, reinforced with concrete construction. There will be a great deal of activity in moving buildings from the rights-of-way. Expenditures for labor will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, all of which will as a matter of course be spent among the merchants, professional and business men, and owners of rental property. Every element of the economic life of the city will be beneficiaries of the program.

The importance of the government and levee board's plans, as they effect industrial recovery can hardly be overestimated. Last year nearly $1,000,000 was expended on the new levees in Ouachita parish and the work required for clearing rights of way. A vast proportion of that money went into local channels of trade. Similarly this year, levee construction will lend a special emphasis to bettering business conditions, because it will mean more employment and greater purchasing power given into the hands of the workers. Materials and supplies purchased locally will serve the same end.

In addition to the levee work, the highway building program, sponsored by the state road department, will permit the flow of another half million dollars into labor and industrial channels, offering another basis for confidence that the coming summer will witness one of the greatest periods of activity this community has enjoyed in many years.

The Federal Housing Administration's efforts to stimulate new building and home repairs, both in the city and the rural areas, has already had an enlivening effect, especially since the announcement by administrators of the program that funds for housing purposes have been made more readily available through new regulations and the cooperation of banks and building loan associations.

Altogether the prospect for a good business year is most auspicious. The opportunity to make the most of it confronts every business man as well as the trades and industries which will be directly connected with the new activities.

The turn of the recovery corner has already been accomplished. Wide open fields of new economic progress are just in front of us.

Let's go!

BARBARA MDIVANI HURRIES TO RENO

Heiress Boards Ship After Early Morning Dash From London

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., March 23—(AP)—Princess Barbara Hutton Mdivani, $42,000,000 heiress, hurried away from England today toward the Reno divorce which she says will not give her handsome Georgian prince one penny.

An early morning dash from London, where the 22-year-old American girl has spent eleven days in virtual voluntary imprisonment, ended at Southampton where she and her apple-cheeked cousin, 19-year-old Jimmy Donahue, boarded the steamship Bremen.

The princess and Jimmy, who is stage-managing the divorce proceedings against Prince Alexis Mdivani, left for New York and Reno.

At 7:30 a.m., bundled in a mink coat, she and her cousin hurried to a waiting green stream-lined coupe that shot her streak-like through a runway from the underground garage and dodged London's early morning traffic to roar—sometimes at 70 miles an hour—out through the countryside.

Southampton police, elaborately helpful, said they had instructions u

WILL TEST LEGALITY OF POLICE JURY ACT

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23.—(AP)—Four elected East Baton Rouge parish police jurors allied with Senator Huey P. Long's political organization today announced intention of testing constitutionality of Long's legislative act providing for appointment of 13 police jurors for the parish to equal the total of 13 elected.

The four said they would intervene in the state administration suit to prevent interference with themselves and the 13 appointed jurors as the parish's governing officials, and would allege unconstitutionality so that all phases of the issue could be settled at once.

PROGRESS MADE ON RIVER SPANS

Work Is Going Ahead Steadily On Two Bridges In Caldwell

Good progress is being made in the construction of two river bridges in Caldwell parish, according to information received here by the Louisiana state employment service. One is the state highway bridge across the Ouachita river at Columbia and the other is known as the Three Rivers bridge across the Boeuf river, about 12 miles out of Columbia on the Winnsboro road.

The Three Rivers bridge is being constructed by Forcum-James Construction company of Dyersburg, Tenn., at a cost of $140,000, and work was started in July of last year. Steel work on this structure has been completed and it will be ready for traffic as soon as concrete flooring has been laid and has had time to cure.

At Columbia the bridge is being built by List and Weatherly of Kansas City, at a cost of $350,000. Steel work for the second span has been completed and workmen are now engaged in constructing the lift or bascule span, which will be drawn upward to clear the way for steamboats plying up and down the river. Steel work on this bridge is expected to be completed within about 45 more days.

Good progress is also being made

SEAPLANE DISTANCE RECORD IS CLAIMED

MIAMI, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Claiming a new world's seaplane distance record, the Pan American clipper plane returned to its home base here today after completing a non-stop flight to the Virgin Islands on a test of ship and crew for future trans-Pacific commercial service.

Capt. Edwin C. Musick, in charge of the flight, set the plane down on its home waters in Biscayne Bay after an uneventful trip that began at 4:06 p. m. yesterday.

The flight was made in an effort to simulate conditions which might be expected on trans-Pacific service linking California with the Orient, to be started soon by Pan American airways.

BODY OF MISSING DOCTOR FOUND IN WATER RESERVOIR

Dr. George H. Bigelow Disappeared Almost Four Months Ago

WAS PROMINENT MAN

Corpse Positively Identified From Papers In Clothes Pockets

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., March 23.—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Dr. George H. Bigelow, former director of the world-famous Massachusetts General hospital, was solved tonight with the recovery of his body from a reservoir, nearly four months after he vanished on Dec. 3.

Two farmhands, their curiosity aroused by an object which had been bobbing up and down in the water near their homes for several weeks, drew the body ashore with a weighted rope, and soon afterward it was identified as that of the 44-year-old physician, prominent socially as well as in his profession.

The identification was made by Dr. M. J. Shaughnessy, medical examiner, who knew Dr. Bigelow. Papers in pockets of clothing on the body proved beyond a doubt that the dead man was the missing physician, for whom a wide search had been made since his disappearance.

The body was found by Robert Fleck and Herbert Forst less than a mile from the point at the Fayville reservoir at which Dr. Bigelow was last definitely placed after the day he disappeared. At that time employes of the Metropolitan District commission reported that the physician had wandered about aimlessly after identifying himself to them.

He leaves his widow, the former Margaret Wesselhoeft, daughter of a prominent Boston physician, and a daughter and a son.

ANOTHER YOUTH FALLS IN RIVER

West Monroe Boy And Bicycle Topple From Railroad Bridge

The second boy to fall from the Illinois Central railroad bridge into the Ouachita river here within the past four nights, toppled from the bridge early last night and swam safely to the shore.

The boy was Otis Stratton, 14, son of Mrs. Eva Stratton, 117 Oakland street, West Monroe.

He was on his way to West Monroe, and plunged into the river about 65 feet from the Monroe end of the bridge. At this point the plank flooring ended, the flooring from there westward having been taken up for repairs, leaving only the cross-ties jutting out from under the rails.

The boy's bicycle fell into the river. Firemen were dragging the river bottom in an effort to recover it.

Although advised to go home and change his clothing by several persons of the group which visited the scene of the accident shortly after it happened, the boy remained at the bridge to obtain his bicycle in event it was recovered.

During the few minutes that a reporter was at the railroad bridge, about a dozen young couples and about the same number of men and boys crossed the bridge from the west side to Monroe. They walked a greater part of the distance across the bridge on the cross-ties between the

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., March 3.—(Special)—I was shooting off the other day about holding companies. Mr. Roosevelt and lots of folks working for 'em think mighty well of 'em, it's the old fault of not calling your shots, by naming the bad ones, and shooting into the whole covey.

I tell you another argument a fellow wants to keep out of, and that's this printing money thing; it's the subject where nobody knows just exactly what it would do, and every person thinks he knows exactly what it would do. All I know, it's easier to print than to make by work. But please don't write or wire explaining it. If you know all about money, you are awful lucky, and it's a secret you should cherish and not let even your grandchildren know about.

HOOVER SEEN AS 1936 CANDIDATE

Fletcher Sees Ex-President's Message As 'A Call To Arms'

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, whether he chose or not, set the 1936 presidential campaign rumbling more audibly today with his communication to California Republicans condemning the New Deal.

Scorned by Democrats as a "pitiful effort to get back in the White House" the message was construed by some Republicans—in the words of Chairman Henry P. Fletcher—as "a call to arms of all who believe in our American system of government."

Readiness of the former president to speak out combined with other signs of a resurging Republican spirit to herald a quickening of political strife in the 15 months between now and the party conventions.

The administration took what satisfaction it could from senate passage of the work-relief bill at last. While President Roosevelt apparently rested content to let congress take its time, the continued delay on his program and house defiance of his wishes yesterday on the bonus afforded encouragement to the opposition that few looked for when the Democratic victories were counted last November.

The situation has made leaders in both parties campaign-minded, and the Hoover letter made them more so.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, commented that "if Mr. Hoover in the White House had done only a fraction of what Mr. Hoover out of the White House now says should be done, he would not have to make such a feeble attack on the Roosevelt administration in his palpable and pitiful effort to get back in the White House."

The Fletcher statement asserted national conditions to be "worse than ever" under the New Deal, and added that "there is no real hope of improvement as long as the administration persists in following its present confused and confusing policies."

Newspaper Writer Watches As Flier Plunges To Death

By Jack Dale

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

JACKSON, Miss., March 23.—I saw a man plunge to his death this afternoon.

He was Herb Bassett, 26-year-old former Colorado cowboy turned air circus "stunter" to help support his widowed mother back in Colorado Springs, Colo.

This correspondent was among the crowd of spectators at the municipal airport to witness the air circus by the Flying Aces, aerial barnstormers.

Bassett, billed as a parachute jumper, was "filling in" for Lilio Benvenuti, Italian war ace, who wasn't feeling in top form this afternoon. At the last moment Bassett was substituted for him for the tail-spin and high stunt dips.

The small crowd of spectators, set to expect anything, hardly knew what was happening when at an altitude of 1600 feet the right wing of Bassett's plane snapped.

As he came out of a tail spin, with his motor cut off, some of the novices believed it only a part of the "show." But soon they were to know better.

The plane, now helplessly out of control, catapulted over and over, as the announcer at the microphone, Ed Sherrard, manager of the show, shouted frantically and uselessly:

"Come out of it, Herb; my God, bail out, boy."

And Herb tried desperately to bail out. He had succeeded in opening his chute as the broken plane came twisting to the ground with gathering speed. But the stunt 'chute jumper could not manage the silks from that distance. He barely pulled out of the rear cockpit as the plane struck the ground. But pilot and parachute were enmeshed in the struts and wire of the ship as it hit the ground with violent impact, breaking apart.

Bassett was dead when he hit the ground.

Only a minute before the announcer had assured the crowd that the "danger of airplane flights is only a myth. "Why the department of commerce has figured it out that the chances of being killed in the air are only one-fifth as great as in an automobile.

" —But look at him up there, folks; he's going into a spin."

Sixty seconds later Herb Bassett was dead. Sherrard said it was the first fatal accident to his troupe in his eight years on the road.

Bassett had been with the circus for the past three seasons, had been flying since 1927.

Giant Relief Bill Passed In Senate By 68 To 16 Vote

Lawmakers Capitulate To Pressure From Democratic Leaders

GOES TO CONFERENCE

Measure Adopted After Silver Inflation Rider Is Attached

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—A senate torn and weary from eight weeks of tussling with the largest single legislative appropriation in world history, today capitulated to big stick pressure from Democratic leaders and passed the administration's $4,880,000,000 relief bill.

A measure, carrying a mild silver inflation rider, was speeded to a conference with the house for a settlement of differences by the decisive margin of 68 to 16.

The $375,000,000 silver rider, advanced by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, was accepted only as a parliamentary move to pre[illegible] filibuster. Leaders expect it to [illegible] stricken out in the senate-house conference. Decisively, the senate defeated before a final vote a proposed amendment for a $4,000,000,000 greenback issue to pay for the whole program.

Designed to provide work for 3,500,000 employables now on relief rolls after the $880,000,000 for direct aid is exhausted, the big measure on final roll call drew the support of 55 Democrats, 11 Republicans, and the two Farmer-Laborite and Progressive senators.

Only six Democrats and ten Republicans answered a meek "no" when Vice President Garner, on top of things all day, put the final question. Among them was the veteran conservative Carter Glass of Virginia, who was in charge of steering the bill as chairman of the appropriations committee, but who thought the huge appropriation would endanger the nation's credit.

First indications that strong-arm methods would be employed to choke off an incipient filibuster came just as the senate convened, an hour earlier than customary.

Senator Robinson, the majority chieftain, moved to table a rider by Senator Thomas providing for a broad mandatory silver inflation to make money more plentiful and help pay the relief bill. This parliamentary club is even more drastic than cloture for it automatically shuts off further debate.

The tabling motion carried 40 to 33, after which Thomas was permitted to put in a milder silver amendment for the sake of checking further delaying tactics and with the ultimate view of having the provision eliminated in conference.

The modified amendment directs the treasury to issue silver certificates against all silver bullion now on hand or still to be acquired. The certificates would be issued, however, on the basis of silver valued at $1.29 an ounce instead of the actual cost of the metal. The amendment would require that this money be kept in circulation.

It also authorizes the treasury to do what it is now doing—trade gold for silver—but to issue silver certificates against the silver thus acquired and to accept silver at agreed prices in settlement of any balances owing the United States.

Immediately after passage, coming two months after the house approved

WILSON FLOOD BILL IS REPORTED FAVORABLY

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(Special)—In a move to secure a major allocation of funds for flood control from the four billion dollar work relief bill, the house flood control committee today reported favorably the Wilson bill authorizing an allotment of at least $600,000,000 for this type of work.

Representative Riley J. Wilson, author of the resolution and chairman of the committee, said that he would make a vigorous attempt to secure passage of the bill by the house before President Roosevelt starts allocation of the work money.

Although passage of the resolution by the house would not bind the president to make the $600,000,000 designated available for flood control works throughout the country, it is expected such action would materially influence his decision.

WAR IN EUROPE IS SEEN BY DIPLOMAT

CHICAGO, March 23.—(AP)—Nicholas Roosevelt, former U. S. minister to Hungary, told the Chicago Council of Foreign relations today European war is an "inevitability" that has been hastened by Germany's rearmament.

The troubled Balkans, Roosevelt declared, are being exploited for advantages by the major powers just as they were twenty years ago as a prelude to the World war. Dissatisfied small nations, territorial losers in the last war, will turn more and more to the third reich for leadership as Germany grows stronger, he said.

No Gold For You

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—This is the last day of this latest visit to the west coast. Over the Cajon pass, through the mountains by automobile this afternoon, and then by train from Barstow back to the long suffering east.

Thanks to San Diego's forthcoming "America's Exposition, 1935," this Pacific coast region feels cheerful. There will be very low railroad excursion fares from everywhere and railroad agents, on certain lines, at least, will receive a bonus for every round trip ticket they sell. This will create many advertising promoters for the exposition.

THE SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION, most beautiful in itself, with a setting high up on the hills overlooking the Pacific ocean, that could be duplicated nowhere else in the world, has for adjacent exhibits wonders unknown elsewhere. They include the trip across the continent, and over the Rocky mountains, convenient visits to old Mexico, just south of San Diego's city limits, intimate acquaintance with the broad Pacific and the giant redwood forests.

This is certainly the year for you to make that trip across your North American continent, visit your big ocean and the other wonders of the west. And remember that, out here, summer is the best season.

RUNNING NORTH and south along the coast are beautiful continuous ranges of hills and mountains, fertile valleys between them, and a wide expanse of level lands lying between the mountains and the ocean.

WALLACE ASSERTS LOANS ON COTTON TO BE CONTINUED

Is Not Revealed Whether Present 12-Cent Rate Will Remain

ANNOUNCEMENT EARLY

Senator Hints Taxes On Bread, Meat, Clothing Will Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, March 23. — (AP) — The south was told today by Secretary Wallace that cotton loans would be continued on the 1935 crops, although whether at the present 12-cent-per-pound rate remained to be revealed.

The secretary denied an intimation by Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, that processing taxes were to be lifted on "bread, meat and clothing."

George, after a visit to the White House, had combined the prediction about processing taxes with the assertion that he was certain that President Roosevelt would not permit the price of cotton to fall below the "12-cent loan level now in effect."

From all indications this forced the department of agriculture to announce that it intended to continue the cotton loans, an announcement that would not have been made in the ordinary course of events for several months. The 1935 crop does not begin to move to market until late summer.

An accumulating surplus of cotton attributed partly to the present 12-cent loan has reflected itself recently in some of the most precipitate price drops in the staple for years.

The cotton experts of the AAA and department of agriculture have concentrated on the problem and apparently have decided to continue loans and keep the several million bales now held by the government

ORLEANS SLAYER STILL A MYSTERY

Girl Who Killed Young Writer Refuses To Tell Real Name

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—(AP)—Identification of the 23-year-old night club habitue known as "Marion King," was still a mystery to police tonight as she sat in her police cell remorseful over the stabbing to death of her companion, John Irving Pierce, 23, a magazine writer and scion of a prominent Jackson, Miss., family.

Police in New Orleans and in Chicago, Detroit and New York where the girl said she wrote for newspapers were searching high and low for family connections of the young woman, while Marion, formally charged with murder, tearfully refused to bare her real name.

"I'll never reveal my identity," the woman told police. "I wouldn't for the world. What good would it do? It may do others harm and my sins are my own."

Although admitting to M. E. Culligan, assistant district attorneys, that she stabbed Pierce in the heart with a three-inch knife blade, she declared that she did not mean to harm him.

Pierce was stabbed to death after a night of gaiety early Friday morning while the couple was seated, quarreling at a table in the Nut club on Bourbon street, and the weapon was his own knife which he had handed to the girl.

She told police she met Pierce several months ago at a river front club when she was a narcotic addict, that he had cured her and wanted to marry her and go to Florida if she

Opposition To Levee Plans Is Organized At Tallulah

TALLULAH, La., March 23.—(Special)—Opposition to the proposed floodway through East Carroll, Madison and Tensas parishes, as recommended by the United States engineer in his report to congress, crystallized here during the past week with the organization of the Northeast Louisiana Protective association, composed of civic, business and professional leaders, as well as prominent planters. Former Senator Joseph E. Ransdell was chosen president of the association, which plans to make a determined fight at Washington to resist the adoption of the proposed floodway.

A public meeting was held Thursday night at Tallulah, attended by 400 property owners and others prominent in the official and business life of this section of the state.

Strong resolutions were adopted condemning the proposed floodway, which assertedly "would destroy the autonomy of the parishes involved, destroy millions of dollars of property unpaid for, make human life unsafe, make a jungle of the most fertile of our lands, destroy their use for agricultural purposes, and make a waste of more than 400,000 acres of the most fertile land in America." A committee composed of Senator Ransdell, State Representative Joseph T. Curry, F. H. Schneider, J. M. Hamley and Harry C. Sevier was named to go to Washington and appear before the house flood control committee and General Markham, to present the case for the property owners of this section of the state against the floodway. Report of a special committee appointed to examine the plan of the proposed floodway follows:

"The Eudora floodway would extend from Red Fork of Cypress creek, Arkansas, to a point opposite Jonesville, on Black river, in Louisiana; it would consist of leveeing the gaps in the Macon Ridge and the construction of a levee from Red Fork south, which would run about 100 miles in length in Louisiana; that part of the floodway in Arkansas would chiefly be used to let in Arkansas river water from entering the Mississippi river; that part of the floodway in Louisiana would receive water from the Mississippi river about the Louisiana state line, thus getting water from both rivers. The floodway would be, where possible, 10 miles wide; the height of the east side levee would be 23 feet providing for a flooding of 20 feet in depth and a free board of 3 feet.

An Encouraging Prospect

Announcement by the United States engineers of plans for completing the huge levee construction work on both sides of the Ouachita river affords a new feeling of confidence and satisfaction to the people of Monroe and West Monroe in contemplating business prospects during the coming summer.

A program involving the expenditure of approximately $2,000,000 in erecting protective levees on the east and west banks of the river is of more than ordinary importance. Not only are the plans designed to insure the future safety of the two communities from overflow, but the immediate implications of industrial and labor activity are of tremendous significance.

The improvements will include earthworks and levee walls of sheet metal piling, reinforced with concrete construction. There will be a great deal of activity in moving buildings from the rights-of-way. Expenditures for labor will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, all of which will as a matter of course be spent among the merchants, professional and business men, and owners of rental property. Every element of the economic life of the city will be beneficiaries of the program.

The importance of the government and levee board's plans, as they effect industrial recovery can hardly be overestimated. Last year nearly $1,000,000 was expended on the new levees in Ouachita parish and the work required for clearing rights of way. A vast proportion of that money went into local channels of trade. Similarly this year, levee construction will lend a special emphasis to bettering business conditions, because it will mean more employment and greater purchasing power given into the hands of the workers. Materials and supplies purchased locally will serve the same end.

In addition to the levee work, the highway building program, sponsored by the state road department, will permit the flow of another half million dollars into labor and industrial channels, offering another basis for confidence that the coming summer will witness one of the greatest periods of activity this community has enjoyed in many years.

The Federal Housing Administration's efforts to stimulate new building and home repairs, both in the city and the rural areas, has already had an enlivening effect, especially since the announcement by administrators of the program that funds for housing purposes have been made more readily available through new regulations and the cooperation of banks and building loan associations.

Altogether the prospect for a good business year is most auspicious. The opportunity to make the most of it confronts every business man as well as the trades and industries which will be directly connected with the new activities.

The turn of the recovery corner has already been accomplished. Wide open fields of new economic progress are just in front of us.

Let's go!

BARBARA MDIVANI HURRIES TO RENO

Heiress Boards Ship After Early Morning Dash From London

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., March 23.—(AP)—Princess Barbara Hutton Mdivani, $42,000,000 heiress, hurried away from England today toward the Reno divorce which she says will not give her handsome Georgian prince one penny.

An early morning dash from London, where the 22-year-old American girl has spent eleven days in virtual voluntary imprisonment, ended at Southampton where she and her apple-cheeked cousin, 19-year-old Jimmy Donahue, boarded the steamship Bremen.

The princess and Jimmy, who is stage-managing the divorce proceedings against Prince Alexis Mdivani, left for New York and Reno.

At 7:30 a.m., bundled in a mink coat, she and her cousin hurried to a waiting green stream-lined coupe that shot her streak-like through a runway from the underground garage and dodged London's early morning traffic to roar—sometimes at 70 miles an hour—out through the countryside.

Southampton police, elaborately helpful, said they had instructions to

WILL TEST LEGALITY OF POLICE JURY ACT

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23.—(AP)—Four elected East Baton Rouge parish police jurors allied with Senator Huey P. Long's political organization today announced intention of testing constitutionality of Long's legislative act providing for appointment of 13 police jurors for the parish to equal the total of 13 elected.

The four said they would intervene in the state administration suit to prevent interference with themselves and the 13 appointed jurors as the parish's governing officials, and would allege unconstitutionality so that all phases of the issue could be settled at once.

The suit is before Judge W. Carruth Jones for hearing in district court Monday.

PROGRESS MADE ON RIVER SPANS

Work Is Going Ahead Steadily On Two Bridges In Caldwell

Good progress is being made in the construction of two river bridges in Caldwell parish, according to information received here by the Louisiana state employment service. One is the state highway bridge across the Ouachita river at Columbia and the other is known as the Three Rivers bridge across the Boeuf river, about 12 miles out of Columbia on the Winnsboro road.

The Three Rivers bridge is being constructed by Forcum-James Construction company of Dyersburg, Tenn., at a cost of $140,000, and work was started in July of last year. Steel work on this structure has been completed and it will be ready for traffic as soon as concrete flooring has been laid and has had time to cure.

At Columbia the bridge is being built by List and Weatherly of Kansas City, at a cost of $350,000. Steel work for the second span has been completed and workmen are now engaged in constructing the lift or bascule span, which will be drawn upward to clear the way for steamboats plying up and down the river. Steel work on this bridge is expected to be completed within about 45 more days.

Good progress is also being made

SEAPLANE DISTANCE RECORD IS CLAIMED

MIAMI, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Claiming a new world's seaplane distance record, the Pan American clipper plane returned to its home base here today after completing a non-stop flight to the Virgin Islands on a test of ship and crew for future trans-Pacific commercial service.

Capt. Edwin C. Musick, in charge of the flight, set the plane down on its home waters in Biscayne Bay after an uneventful trip that began at 4:06 p. m. yesterday.

The flight was made in an effort to simulate conditions which might be expected on trans-Pacific service linking California with the Orient, to be started soon by Pan American airways.

BODY OF MISSING DOCTOR FOUND IN WATER RESERVOIR

Dr. George H. Bigelow Disappeared Almost Four Months Ago

Corpse Positively Identified From Papers In Clothes Pockets

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., March 23.—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance of Dr. George H. Bigelow, former director of the world-famous Massachusetts General hospital, was solved tonight with the recovery of his body from a reservoir, nearly four months after he vanished on Dec. 3.

Two farmhands, their curiosity aroused by an object which had been bobbing up and down in the water near their homes for several weeks, drew the body ashore with a weighted rope, and soon afterward it was identified as that of the 44-year-old physician, prominent socially as well as in his profession.

The identification was made by Dr. M. J. Shaughnessy, medical examiner, who knew Dr. Bigelow. Papers in pockets of clothing on the body proved beyond a doubt that the dead man was the missing physician, for whom a wide search had been made since his disappearance.

The body was found by Robert Fleck and Herbert Forst less than a mile from the point at the Fayville reservoir at which Dr. Bigelow was last definitely placed after the day he disappeared. At that time employes of the Metropolitan District commission reported that the physician had wandered about aimlessly after identifying himself to them.

He leaves his widow, the former Margaret Wesselhoeft, daughter of a prominent Boston physician, and a daughter and a son.

ANOTHER YOUTH FALLS IN RIVER

West Monroe Boy And Bicycle Topple From Railroad Bridge

The second boy to fall from the Illinois Central railroad bridge into the Ouachita river here within the past four nights, toppled from the bridge early last night and swam safely to the shore.

The boy was Otis Stratton, 14, son of Mrs. Eva Stratton, 117 Oakland street, West Monroe.

He was on his way to West Monroe, and plunged into the river about 65 feet from the Monroe end of the bridge. At this point the plank flooring ended, the flooring from there westward having been taken up for repairs, leaving only the cross-ties jutting out from under the rails.

The boy's bicycle fell into the river. Firemen were dragging the river bottom in an effort to recover it.

Although advised to go home and change his clothing by several persons of the group which visited the scene of the accident shortly after it happened, the boy remained at the bridge to obtain his bicycle in event it was recovered.

During the few minutes that a reporter was at the railroad bridge, about a dozen young couples and about the same number of men and boys crossed the bridge from the west side to Monroe. They walked a greater part of the distance across the bridge on the cross-ties between the

ROGERS HAS HIS SAY

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., March 3.—(Special)—I was shooting off the other day about holding companies. Mr. Roosevelt and lots of folks working for 'em think mighty well of 'em, it's the old fault of not calling your shots, by naming the bad ones, and shooting into the whole covey.

I tell you another argument a fellow wants to keep out of, and that's this printing money thing; it's the subject where nobody knows just exactly what it would do, and every person thinks he knows exactly what it would do. All I know, it's easier to print than to make by work. But please don't write or wire explaining it. If you know all about money, you are awful lucky, and it's a secret you should cherish and not let even your grandchildren know about.

Yours,

Fletcher Sees Ex-President's Message As 'A Call To Arms'

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, whether he chose or not, set the 1936 presidential campaign rumbling more audibly today with his communication to California Republicans condemning the New Deal.

Scorned by Democrats as a "pitiful effort to get back in the White House" the message was construed by some Republicans—in the words of Chairman Henry P. Fletcher—as "a call to arms of all who believe in our American system of government."

Readiness of the former president to speak out combined with other signs of a resurging Republican spirit to herald a quickening of political strife in the 15 months between now and the party conventions.

The administration took what satisfaction it could from senate passage of the work-relief bill at last. While President Roosevelt apparently rested content to let congress take its time, the continued delay on his program and house defiance of his wishes yesterday on the bonus afforded encouragement to the opposition that few looked for when the Democratic victories were counted last November.

The situation has made leaders in both parties campaign-minded, and the Hoover letter made them more so.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, commented that "if Mr. Hoover in the White House had done only a fraction of what Mr. Hoover out of the White House now says should be done, he would not have to make such a feeble attack on the Roosevelt administration in his palpable and pitiful effort to get back in the White House."

The Fletcher statement asserted national conditions to be "worse than ever" under the New Deal, and added that "there is no real hope of improvement as long as the administration persists in following its present confused and confusing policies."

Newspaper Writer Watches As Flier Plunges To Death

By Jack Dale

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

JACKSON, Miss., March 23.—I saw a man plunge to his death this afternoon.

He was Herb Bassett, 26-year-old former Colorado cowboy turned air circus "stunter" to help support his widowed mother back in Colorado Springs, Colo.

This correspondent was among the crowd of spectators at the municipal airport to witness the air circus by the Flying Aces, aerial barnstormers.

Bassett, billed as a parachute jumper, was "filling in" for Lilio Benvenuti, Italian war ace, who wasn't feeling in top form this afternoon. At the last moment Bassett was substituted for him for the tail-spin and high stunt dips.

The small crowd of spectators, set to expect anything, hardly knew what was happening when at an altitude of 1600 feet the right wing of Bassett's plane snapped.

As he came out of a tail spin, with his motor cut off, some of the novices believed it only a part of the "show." But soon they were to know better.

The plane, now helplessly out of control, catapulted over and over, as the announcer at the microphone, Ed Sherrard, manager of the show, shouted frantically and uselessly:

"Come out of it, Herb; my God, bail out, boy."

And Herb tried desperately to bail out. He had succeeded in opening his chute as the broken plane came twisting to the ground with gathering speed. But the stunt 'chute jumper could not manage the silks from that distance. He barely pulled out of the rear cockpit as the plane struck the ground. But pilot and parachute were enmeshed in the struts and wire of the ship as it hit the ground with violent impact, breaking apart.

Bassett was dead when he hit the ground.

Only a minute before the announcer had assured the crowd that the "danger of airplane flights is only a myth. "Why the department of commerce has figured it out that the chances of being killed in the air are only one-fifth as great as in an automobile.

" —But look at him up there, folks; he's going into a spin."

Sixty seconds later Herb Bassett was dead. Sherrard said it was the first fatal accident to his troupe in his eight years on the road.

Bassett had been with the circus for the past three seasons, had been flying since 1927.

Lawmakers Capitulate To Pressure From Democratic Leaders

Measure Adopted After Silver Inflation Rider Is Attached

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP)—A senate torn and weary from eight weeks of tussling with the largest single legislative appropriation in world history, today capitulated to big stick pressure from Democratic leaders and passed the administration's $4,880,000,000 relief bill.

A measure, carrying a mild silver inflation rider, was speeded to a conference with the house for a settlement of differences by the decisive margin of 68 to 16.

The $375,000,000 silver rider, advanced by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, was accepted only as a parliamentary move to prevent a filibuster. Leaders expect it to stricken out in the senate-house conference. Decisively, the senate defeated before a final vote a proposed amendment for a $4,000,000,000 greenback issue to pay for the whole program.

Designed to provide work for 3,500,000 employables now on relief rolls after the $880,000,000 for direct aid is exhausted, the big measure on final roll call drew the support of 55 Democrats, 11 Republicans, and the two Farmer-Laborite and Progressive senators.

Only six Democrats and ten Republicans answered a meek "no" when Vice President Garner, on top of things all day, put the final question. Among them was the veteran conservative Carter Glass of Virginia, who was in charge of steering the bill as chairman of the appropriations committee, but who thought the huge appropriation would endanger the nation's credit.

First indications that strong-arm methods would be employed to choke off an incipient filibuster came just as the senate convened, an hour earlier than customary.

Senator Robinson, the majority chieftain, moved to table a rider by Senator Thomas providing for a broad mandatory silver inflation to make money more plentiful and help pay the relief bill. This parliamentary club is even more drastic than cloture for it automatically shuts off further debate.

The tabling motion carried 40 to 33, after which Thomas was permitted to put in a milder silver amendment for the sake of checking further delaying tactics and with the ultimate view of having the provision eliminated in conference.

The modified amendment directs the treasury to issue silver certificates against all silver bullion now on hand or still to be acquired. The certificates would be issued, however, on the basis of silver valued at $1.29 an ounce instead of the actual cost of the metal. The amendment would require that this money be kept in circulation.

It also authorizes the treasury to do what it is now doing—trade gold for silver—but to issue silver certificates against the silver thus acquired and to accept silver at agreed prices in settlement of any balances owing the United States.

Immediately after passage, coming two months after the house approved

WILSON FLOOD BILL IS REPORTED FAVORABLY

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(Special)—In a move to secure a major allocation of funds for flood control from the four billion dollar work relief bill, the house flood control committee today reported favorably the Wilson bill authorizing an allotment of at least $600,000,000 for this type of work.

Representative Riley J. Wilson, author of the resolution and chairman of the committee, said that he would make a vigorous attempt to secure passage of the bill by the house before President Roosevelt starts allocation of the work money.

Although passage of the resolution by the house would not bind the president to make the $600,000,000 designated available for flood control works throughout the country, it is expected such action would materially influence his decision.

WAR IN EUROPE IS SEEN BY DIPLOMAT

CHICAGO, March 23.—(AP)—Nicholas Roosevelt, former U. S. minister to Hungary, told the Chicago Council of Foreign relations today European war is an "inevitability" that has been hastened by Germany's rearmament.

The troubled Balkans, Roosevelt declared, are being exploited for advantages by the major powers just as they were twenty years ago as a prelude to the World war. Dissatisfied small nations, territorial losers in the last war, will turn more and more to the third reich for leadership as Germany grows stronger, he said.

Wallace in announcing that loans would be continued this year also said that the 12-cent loans on the 1934 crop would be extended indefinitely beyond July 31, 1935, their present maturity date.

The farmer has been permitted to borrow 12 cents a pound on his cotton and the government takes the loss if the price goes below that figure.

Farmers will not pay off the loans unless the price rises sufficiently above 12 cents to permit them to repay the government and make a profit.

George followed his reference to the processing taxes by attaching an amendment to the $4,880,000,000 relief fund which would permit benefits to cotton—and other producers—to be paid out of that gigantic fund.

This would provide the money to reimburse producers for reducing production but Wallace and his aides are strongly opposed to the abolition of the processing levies. And unless the president has changed his mind within the past few days, he agrees with his secretary of agriculture.

Senator George said in his original statement he was "confident that President Roosevelt will bring positive assurance to the country and to the cotton trade" that the price of cotton would not be allowed to drop below 12 cents.

Full Information on Liberty Bonds

Liberty Bonds, as you will recall, were issued during the war—in five series—known as First Liberty Loan, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth or Victories.

This is the present standing of these issues:

First Liberty Loan—some bearing 3½%, some 4% and some 4¼%, are all called for redemption by U. S. Treasury on June 15th, 1935. Interest on these will cease after that date.

Second Liberty Loan Bonds—were all called several years ago.

Third Liberties—matured several years ago.

Fourth Liberties—Those bearing letters A, J, or K, or ending in numbers 1, 9 or 0, were called on April 15, 1934, and have borne no interest since that date.

Those bearing letter B or H or ending in 2 or 8 were called on October 15, 1934.

Those bearing letter E, F or G, or ending in 5, 6 or 7 are now called for April 15, 1935. (You may exchange these for a new 2 7-8% Bond, provided you turn them in for exchange before March 27th. If you get them to us tomorrow—Monday—so we can get them to Dallas by Wednesday, we will be glad to get them exchanged for you).

Those bearing letters C or D or ending in 3 or 4, are not called, and will continue to bear interest until called.

Fifth Liberties—or Victories—matured several years ago.

Dozens of persons subsequently reported seeing him, but the only positive identification of him after Dec. 3 was made by employes of a reservoir in this vicinity.

Dr. Bigelow identified himself to them, and acted so strangely that his presence was reported to police.

For weeks the search went on intensively, for the 44-year-old and brilliant physician. He was a graduate of Harvard and later taught there.

He was believed to have been a victim of amnesia.

HUEY LONG SPEAKS IN SOUTH CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—Huey Long told approximately 5,000 South Carolinians today that he was ready to place "the people" before the Democratic party.

The Louisiana senator nominated himself to carry out what he described as President Roosevelt's pre-election doctrines in a speech condemning present administration policies and holding them up to derogatory comparison with his "share the wealth" movement.

His deduction was that the depression, "which is worse today than it was in 1929," will never end until wealth is redistributed by his plan.

"I tell you," Long asserted, "that I am preaching the same doctrine that Mr. Roosevelt preached before he became president."

He then quoted from a copy of a speech in which he said President Roosevelt had advocated redistribution of wealth with the comment, "I'm saying just what he said."

Smiles Around The World

(By Associated Press)

Vienna—In the swirl of international conferences, even the bar rooms are breaking out in a diplomatic rash.

A Vienna cafe has introduced the "London pact cocktail," which is compounded as follows: French vermouth, 25 per cent; Italian Turin wine, one drop, and Austrian mineral water.

The Nazis advocated adding a touch of German kuemmel, but with this modification, in Vienna, it would have to be drunk in secret.

London—The British socialists regard the nation's housing program so seriously that in a socialist amendment the proposal was made that a bed kept constantly in the living room constituted overcrowding.

But if the socialists object to sleeping in the living room, members of the standing committee evidently do not. Standing committee A saw nothing at all unusual in using the living room for purposes of repose and the proposal was rejected.

Belfast—the Rev. Dr. Thomas M. Johnstone has lodged a strong protest against the proposed use of a team of brewery horses to draw a coach of the speaker of the house, in the jubilee procession May 6 at London in honor of King George.

The Irish Presbyterian moderator in a wire to Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald declared: "It will be using a great state occasion for advertising traffic to which multitudes of his majesty's loyal subjects are strongely opposed."

By an old grant, a prominent London brewing firm had the privilege of horsing the speaker's carriage in royal processions for several years.

Paris—Whether the nation has the moral right to reward non-strikers with cigars has agitated parliament.

Communists brought up the point in a debate on union liberties in state establishments. Deputy Albert Paulin said workers in an artillery arsenal who refused to strike one day were presented stogies the next. Strikers who brought their own smokes and passed them around were suspended.

General Maurin, minister of war, promised to look into the situation.

London—New pennies are bright in Britain again and an odd little gesture by the royal mint is at an end.

Just before the Christmas season in the rush of trade the banks asked for more coppers. Other banks, well stocked, carried out in protest because some banks could pass out bright new coins while others had dirty dull ones

The mint actually dulled the new batch. But now the rush has subsided the pennies are brilliant once more.

After Hsiao agreed to write an anti-communist article every week for local newspapers, he was released Most of the others were freed after signing statements that they would renounce their Red leanings.

UNION RALLY HELD IN FACE OF THREA

MARKED TREE, Ark., March 23.—(AP)—In the face of alleged threats of violence, organizers for the Southern Tenant Farmers union held a rally here late today, after socialist party leaders demanded federal intervention in the east Arkansas sharecropper controversy to prevent threatened "lynchings" and other violence.

The national executive committee of the Socialist party, in a telegram to President Roosevelt from Buffalo, N. Y., declared the government will be responsible for murder if it refuses to act in the "reign of terror" against the union.

H. L. Mitchell, union secretary, in a statement at Memphis, Tenn., said "the terror which has been inaugurated both by the planters and their retainers can be stopped only by federal intervention."

A General Motors Value

At first sight, America named the Silver Streak Pontiac the most beautiful thing on wheels. But even that high praise tells only half of Pontiac's story. Get in, drive, and you'll discover that this low-priced car is even better than it looks. It's an unusually safe car with solid steel "Turret-Top" Bodies by Fisher and triple-sealed hydraulic brakes.

It's a marvel on the road—smooth, lively, easy to handle and easy on gas and oil. And, as such superfine features as silver-alloy bearings and a completely sealed chassis prove, Pontiac asks no odds of any car at any price when it comes to quality and dependability. A look, a ride and you'll decide—the car makes the price phenomenal.

Wallace in announcing that loans would be continued this year also said that the 12-cent loans on the 1934 crop would be extended indefinitely beyond July 31, 1935, their present maturity date.

The farmer has been permitted to borrow 12 cents a pound on his cotton and the government takes the loss if the price goes below that figure.

Farmers will not pay off the loans unless the price rises sufficiently above 12 cents to permit them to repay the government and make a profit.

George followed his reference to the processing taxes by attaching an amendment to the $4,880,000,000 relief fund which would permit benefits to cotton—and other producers—to be paid out of that gigantic fund.

This would provide the money to reimburse producers for reducing production but Wallace and his aides are strongly opposed to the abolition of the processing levies. And unless the president has changed his mind within the past few days, he agrees with his secretary of agriculture.

Senator George said in his original statement he was "confident that President Roosevelt will bring positive assurance to the country and to the cotton trade" that the price of cotton would not be allowed to drop below 12 cents.

Full Information on Liberty Bonds

Liberty Bonds, as you will recall, were issued during the war—in five series—known as First Liberty Loan, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth or Victories.

This is the present standing of these issues:

First Liberty Loan—some bearing 3½%, some 4% and some 4¼%, are all called for redemption by U. S. Treasury on June 15th, 1935. Interest on these will cease after that date.

Second Liberty Loan Bonds—were all called several years ago.

Third Liberties—matured several years ago.

Fourth Liberties—Those bearing letters A, J, or K, or ending in numbers 1, 9 or 0, were called on April 15, 1934, and have borne no interest since that date.

Those bearing letter B or H or ending in 2 or 8 were called on October 15, 1934.

Those bearing letter E, F or G, or ending in 5, 6 or 7 are now called for April 15, 1935. (You may exchange these for a new 2 7-8% Bond, provided you turn them in for exchange before March 27th. If you get them to us tomorrow—Monday—so we can get them to Dallas by Wednesday, we will be glad to get them exchanged for you).

Those bearing letters C or D or ending in 3 or 4, are not called, and will continue to bear interest until called.

Fifth Liberties—or Victories—matured several years ago.

reached the Massachusetts General hospital shortly after 8 a.m., left in 10 minutes and vanished completely.

Dozens of persons subsequently reported seeing him, but the only positive identification of him after Dec. 3 was made by employes of a reservoir in this vicinity.

Dr. Bigelow identified himself to them, and acted so strangely that his presence was reported to police.

For weeks the search went on intensively, for the 44-year-old and brilliant physician. He was a graduate of Harvard and later taught there.

He was believed to have been a victim of amnesia.

HUEY LONG SPEAKS IN SOUTH CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—Huey Long told approximately 5,000 South Carolinians today that he was ready to place "the people" before the Democratic party.

The Louisiana senator nominated himself to carry out what he described as President Roosevelt's pre-election doctrines in a speech condemning present administration policies and holding them up to derogatory comparison with his "share the wealth" movement.

His deduction was that the depression, "which is worse today than it was in 1929," will never end until wealth is redistributed by his plan.

"I tell you," Long asserted, "that I am preaching the same doctrine that Mr. Roosevelt preached before he became president."

He then quoted from a copy of a speech in which he said President Roosevelt had advocated redistribution of wealth with the comment, "I'm saying just what he said."

Freak Egg Is Brought To Newspaper Office

Another freak in the way of eggs was brought to the office of the Monroe Morning World and News-Star Saturday. It was an egg with a handle on it. The small end of the egg was elongated, making it possible to hold the egg as though by a handle. Otherwise the egg was of normal size and shape. The egg was laid on the farm of C. E. Blackmon of Mangham.

Mrs. Osborne Opens Shop At Winnsboro

Mrs. Edna Osborne, owner and manager of the Hotel Frances Beauty salon, the Edna K. Osborne School of Beauty and the Ouachita Beauty shop of Monroe, has announced the opening of a fourth beauty establishment, which is located in Winnsboro.

Much success has been enjoyed by Mrs. Osborne, who is a Marinello graduate, and she attributes her success in the beauty field to "quality work."

Mrs. Osborne teaches all types of beauty work, turning out students weekly. One of the features of her business, Mrs. Osborne said, is that every student is assured employment when her course is completed. Mrs. Osborne teaches hair styling from the beginning of the student's course.

the bill January 24, Vice President Garner named Senators Glass, McKellar and Copeland, Democrats, and Keyes and Hale, Republicans, as conferees to compose differences with the house.

The senate then adjourned until Tuesday. Then the treasury-postoffice appropriation bill will be taken up.

The largest single appropriation ever to pass any national legislature was revised and compromised during eight weeks on the senate floor and in committee but still leaves President Roosevelt wide powers in spending the huge sum.

The entire sum remains available until June 30, 1937, as in the original house bill. Despite nine earmarkings of the work fund, the president has $800,000,000 to switch from one group of projects to another at will.

The bill provides $4,000,000,000 for public works on which 3,500,000 persons now on relief and able to work should be given jobs. The remainder of the appropriation—$880,000,000—would go for direct relief until the job-giving makes headway.

The $4,000,000,000 fund was earmarked in the senate to provide not more than the following sums for nine groupings of projects:

Highways, roads, streets and grade-crossing elimination, $800,000,000.

Rural rehabilitation and relief in stricken agricultural areas, irrigation, reclamation, water conservation and trans-mountain water diversion, $500,000,000.

Rural electrification, $100,000,000.

Housing, $450,000,000.

Projects for professional and clerical (white collar) persons, $300,000,000.

Civilian conservation corps, $600,000,000.

Loans or grants for public projects of states and political subdivisions, $900,000,000.

Sanitation, prevention of soil and seacoast erosion, reforestation, forestation, flood control, rivers and harbors, and miscellaneous projects, $350,000,000.

Aid to states in maintaining public schools for the remainder of the school year, $40,000,000.

These earmarkings exceed the $4,000,000,000 total for works by $40,000,000, but since they are merely limitations the fund can be maneuvered almost at will to prevent an excess expenditure.

Ike Dembinski Back From Trip To Marts

Ike Dembinski, president of The Grand Leader, Inc., of this city, returned Saturday morning from a buying trip to St. Louis, Chicago and other eastern markets, where he purchased spring and summer merchandise for his DeSiard street establishment.

Mr. Dembinski states that conditions in the north are much improved and all indications lead to much better business. He says he made large purchases, expecting a heavy Easter business here.

Mr. Dembinski states that he has made arrangements with his buyers to ship this new merchandise every day, assuring the women shoppers of this vicinity the latest fashions. Already a large shipment has arrived and is now on display.

The Peasant Influence Accentuates Slimness With Full Lines

Spring fashions reflect the peasant influence, but not in a too accurate sense. Fullness is used effectively, below shoulder yokes back and front, with a suggestion of gathered flounce at the back of the skirt above the kneeline. The resulting flattery is most satisfactory. Waistline, hips and shoulders look twice as slim by comparison.

Soft crepes, rough or smooth, can be dressy or not-so-dressy. It all depends on the degree of lingerie touches you crave. The simplest frock becomes quite a formal affair with a few dashes of lace and pleatings. You can add or substract this confectionery according to your need—but even the most sedate spring frock needs a frivolous touch here and there. It's just the spirit of the season, and there isn't a thing you can do about it. Except enjoy it immensely.

Our British cousins would say that anything smart is "swish." Well, you have to "swish" to be smart in these United States this spring. Why? Taffeta, of course. Than which there is no whicher! There is such a wide choice, you simply can't escape at least one version. Plain, striped, plaid, checks, changable, warp prints and so on and on. There are suits, jacket frocks, day time dresses. In fact, you might say, it's smart if it's taffeta!

Spring suits just about hold the center of the stage at the moment, but sooner or later you will realize that spring sunshine is hinting about summer. Then you will need a bit less weight and warmth. The jacket costume is the answer. You preserve your silhouette smartly, and can discard your jacket with perfect ease, when Old Sol, gets really in earnest. For instance, a checked, striped or gayly printed top frock with dark skirt and matching jacket completes a very satisfactory costume. Minus the jacket, you are still very sure of your chic.

P.-T. A. TO MEET

The Parent-Teacher association of the Claiborne school will meet next Wednesday afternoon. The program of the meeting will have for its subject, "Adult Education."

Real Thrills Found At Rome's Zoological Park

ROME, March 23.—(AP)—Deep in the African jungles, with nothing but a strip of grass between you and a hungry lion—shut up in a mountain ravine with nothing but grotesque bears for company—these are the impressions one gets on a casual stroll through Rome's zoological park.

Experts have designed the park to provide real thrills. In so doing they have not limited themselves to providing all the well known types of wild animals.

On a certain shady path in the zoo one finds oneself suddenly pocketed in a rocky blind alley with one or more prowling lions. Not a very good look at the lion is obtainable until the second visit. But as the visitor flees from the only exit he is likely to stare deeply into the appalling eyes of a Bengal tiger.

Or one might feel that one has stepped to an Arctic ice cake with a polar bear who looks more ravenous than congenial.

The zoo designers have used as little caging as possible in order to provide these thrills. In most cases the animals are separated from the public only by deep, brush-concealed pits.

The rocky walls of the lairs are hewn out of living rock and cleverly designed to look scalable. The protecting pits, to the first startled gaze, look like irrigation ditches—mere insults to the springing powers of the cat tribe.

So carefully constructed are the pools for the polar bears that a first customer invariably hesitates before walking up to the retaining walls for fear that an extra playful swipe on the part of the bear may take his hat off—or his head.

It is all very safe, however. But the Roman zoo is a terrifying place and makes the spine prickle. The park is jammed all day long.

DR. TALBOT AND MISS CRAIN WED

Dr. Ralph Talbot, local pediatrician, and Miss Isbael Lea Crain, student nurse at St. Francis sanitarium, were quietly married last night at 7:30 at the home of the bridegroom's father, B. H. Talbot, of Ruston. Rev. W. J. Bolin, pastor of the Ruston First Baptist church, officiated.

Dr. J. Q. Graves, an old friend of Mrs. Talbot's family, gave the bride away. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Crain of Sikes.

Local Optometrists Attend Caddo Meeting

Three optometrists of Monroe attended a convention of optometrists in Shreveport Wednesday and Thursday, it was learned Saturday. Those who attended from here were Dr. Bert Heinberg, Dr. C. C. Fryant and Dr. T. A. Brulte. The principal speaker at the meeting was Ralph Barstow of New York, business counselor and economist.

It was said at the convention that a totally new conception of optometry has come about within the last few years.

Defying The Conventions

A young woman snapped her fingers. "I don't give that for what the world thinks," she announced contemptuously.

When one begins to feel that way one had better look out. And when one begins to act that way, everybody else had better look out, too.

When one begins to scoff at man-made laws and worn-out conventionalities, one is heading toward trouble.

What are the conventionalities, anyway? They are those rules of conduct which after centuries of costly experiments, the world has found to be best for the protection and welfare of mankind.

Convention is not the arbitrary personal opinion of somebody. Convention is the sum total of what generations and generations of thinking people have found is the best thing to do. It is the opinion composite.

The conventionalities have to do with man's relation to man in the biggest and best sense.

Man is not naturally broadly social. He has not yet fully learned how to give and take for the good of that social order of which he is a part. He is forever kicking up disturbances in the group. It takes a considerable percentage of mankind to make mankind behave in its relations to mankind.

Man can never take his place in a heavenly kingdom until he can do group-work well. Group-work is what the conventionalities of the ages work toward. Experiences of people piled upon experiences of people have demonstrated that this line of conduct and that line of conduct are necessary even to approach group-harmony.

It was the sum total of the boiled-down experiences of the world at which that foolhardy young woman was popping her fingers. She did not care a snap what the world thought.

The world does not think rapidly. The world comes to its conclusions only after ages of trying travail. It is mad folly to disregard what the world thinks—to disregard what the world has found out. It is the height of childish impudence to set one's personal preferences against the findings of centuries.

And when a person does, that person is not doing that which he may fool himself into thinking he is doing—permitting his soul to grow, unfold and blossom in the sunlight of glorious freedom. He is merely trying to bolster himself up to go ahead and do something that he wants to do, and which he knows perfectly well he has no right to do.

YELLOW PERIL

The menace to our peace and security which lies potent and dangerous on the other side of the Pacific has again been the subject of speculation and comment at Washington. Another patriot has viewed with alarm the Yellow Peril. Representative John F. Dockweiler, of California, has counted 150 Japanese fishing boats in Los Angeles harbor.

Well, if he has not actually counted them, he knows that they are there; because he told the house military affairs committee so only the other day. And Representative Dockweiler has his own suspicions about those vessels. That is evident; for he added, "At least they appear to be fishing boats."

Representative Dockweiler knows that appearances are deceiving and all that glitters is not gold. A fishing boat is not necessarily a fishing boat because it looks like one. It might be a submarine. It might be a cruiser. For that matter, it might be an aircraft carrier. And if it is a Japanese fishing boat in a California harbor, it is almost certain to carry a battery capable of blowing Los Angeles right off the map.

Japan's fixed intention to annex California is common knowledge, and Representative Dockweiler naturally has no desire to transfer his legislative activities from Washington to Tokio. We hope the military affairs committee will look into this question of the 150 fishing boats in Los Angeles harbor before it is too late and the bombardment has begun.

Mrs. John Davis, Hesperia, Mich., took up stone work as a hobby several years ago and now her spacious yard is adorned with many examples of her art. Mrs. Davis obtains her stones in a nearby gravel pit and carefully sorts them as to color, size and composition.

More Truth Than Poetry

BY JAMES J. MONTAGUE

TO A TOO EARLY BIRD

It was foolish to come back so early
 When there's never a leaf on the trees;
Biting winds whistle by,
There are clouds in the sky
 And I think you will probably freeze.
There must have been food in the Southland
 On which you could fatten your form;
You certainly erred,
Poor weak-witted bird,
 When you fluttered up here through the storm.

Were it not for the crumbs that I fed you
 Whenever I heard your "Tweet-tweet,"
You would have to fly back
On the old barren track
 To find yourself something to eat.
And wouldn't you feel pretty foolish
 While you gloomed in the cold biting rain,
To know, little thing,
It's not really Spring,
 And your journey has been all in vain?

But now, in the chilly March twilight,
 You have found that your judgment was wrong;
While the flakes from the sky
Still go fluttering by
 There is small consolation in song.
Your feet must be bitten with chilblains,
 Yet you will not return whence you came;
You're deficient in wit,
But I'm bound to admit,
 That beyond any cavil, you're game.

JUST ONE EXCEPTION

A Doctor And A Small Town

By BRUCE CATTON

James Gray has written a really distinguished novel in "Shoulder the Sky." Because it is the story of a physician in a small Minnesota town—a physician whose wife is just a wee mite hard to get along with—it will remind a good many people of "Main Street."

Mr. Gray tells about a young doctor who emerges from his interneship full of a hot youthful eagerness to live a life that shall be honest, free, and useful to his fellows. He marries, buys a practice in a small country town, and sets up shop as an M. D.

The story gets under way a bit slowly. The young wife is rather cold, and for a while it looks as if the book is to be a fictionized version of one of Dr. Marie Stopes' helpful works. But Mr. Gray gets squared away presently and tells a remarkably interesting and appealing story.

For one thing, Mr. Gray has a sympathetic understanding of the heartaches and disappointments two young people must work their way through in marriage.

For another, he writes intelligently and indignantly of the human stupidity and meanness that fill the world, but does it without looking down his nose in a lofty manner. All in all, he makes "Shoulder the Sky" one of the brightest spots in spring fiction.

New Deal In Washington

Not so long ago, those keen minds were teamed. That was before the progressives gave Richberg up as a fallen angel.

Richberg, a labor lawyer and brilliant protagonist of progressive thought, fought many of the old fights at the side of the senior Senator LaFollette. While the old man lay sick in 1924, Richberg and young Bob went to Cleveland and ran the third party convention which nominated their common leader for the presidency.

Next year, when "old Bob" died, his son succeeded him as senator and Don Richberg was his chief legislative adviser. Between them, they furnished much of the brains of the progressive movement in the Coolidge and Hoover days.

But now no one hurls harsher questions at Richberg than LaFollette, who, with the suave Costigan of Colorado, represents on the committee the thought of progressives that Richberg has become an apologist for administration failures and conservative policies.

In past years Richberg has been agin' the government. Now he's a large part of it. Progressives have been both for and agin', but become increasingly sour.

Scorched by Young Bob

Lafollette describes NRA codes as a series of "horse trades" with industry, "with all the David Harums on the other side of the fence." This is a nasty crack, because Richberg was one of NRA's two chief traders.

LaFollette thinks Richberg is devious and evasive. He and Costigan want to know how, with NRA on the job, unemployment—according to NRA figures—rose from 10,600,000 at the end of 1933 to 10,830,000 at the end of 1934.

Then they throw figures back and forth at each other to prove alternately that NRA has been a grand success and a grand flop. They also prove that there aren't any reliable figures on unemployment or many other figures to demonstrate what NRA has and hasn't done.

(A prying newspaperman at about this point discovers that NRA has given the senators a booklet of charts which do not include many of the most significant discoveries and interpretations by NRA's research and planning division.)

A Neat Cover-Up

For instance, the study showing that wages paid in 1934 were but 60 per cent of the 1926 amount, whereas dividends and interest stood at 150 per cent.

(It's a booklet especially prepared for the committee and further prying reveals a seemingly deliberate effort to avoid letting the committee understand too much.)

Richberg proves to be an able advocate. But LaFollette's recitation of the original announced aim of NRA—promotion of fullest use of production facilities, increased consumption, spread of purchasing power and so on—reminds everybody that the early glorious visions of General Johnson have yet to be fulfilled.

Notables in Cast

Those two old pals, Don and Bob, are the stars of the show. But the supporting cast is notable.

The committee room is full, mostly of high NRA officials—including Chairman Clay Williams, smoking one of the cigarets his company makes, and John L. Lewis of the miners' union and NRA labor advisory board.

The committee includes many of the more prominent senators—Pat Harrison, chairman and administration leader; Hugo Black, sort of a daddy to NRA because the administration invented it to sidetrack his 30-hour week bill; Joe Guffey, whose the committee despite his newness; Jim Couzens, cynical about all this NRA business; Arthur Capper, bright and alert; and Gerald Nye, who helped promote the investigation.

Then there are three would-be sharp-shooters—Dan Hastings, Harry Byrd and "Blind Tom" Gore, all of whom would be more effective if they weren't so densely ignorant about NRA.

Probably I owe it to Don Richberg to report his good-natured protest, after the session, about a story I recently wrote. He said:

"When I refuse 40 to 60 invitations for speeches every month and make only two or three, and you write that I have a 'mania for making speeches,' I want to rumple your hair."

To Observe Fifty-Third Anniversary Of Wedding

HOMER, La., March 23.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Knighton, pioneer citizens of Claiborne parish, and prominent residents of Homer, will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary at a quiet home celebration at their residence here April 13. A family reunion will also feature this occasion.

Mr. Knighton is a well known planter of this parish and still supervises this work at the age of 82. However a recent illness of pneumonia has incapacitated him for the present time. Mrs. Knighton is moderately active and attends to home duties.

They are the parents of five children, Mrs. J. A. Green and Miss Ida Knighton, Homer; Mrs. O. S. Middlebrook, Athens; Mrs. J. L. Fomby, Austin, Texas; Miss Abi Knighton, Palestine, Texas, also four grandchildren.

Legion Auxiliary Head Attends Winnsboro Meet

WINNSBORO, La., March 23.—(Special)—Mrs. Mabel Brown Sichterman of Alexandria, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, visited Winnsboro Thursday night. A joint meeting of the Legion and auxiliary was held in her honor in the community center. Mrs. Sichterman outlined the auxiliary plans for the remainder of the year as well as grouping the accomplishments at this time. Dr. R. E. Applewhite, Raymond Parker and J. B. Cash, local Legionnaires, also spoke. The meeting was well attended. Refreshments were served after the business session by members of the local auxiliary.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

CHAMPION COOK AND FASTER—Guilleaume Tirel Taillevent (1315-1395) was chef de cuisine (chief cook) to King Charles V and King Philip VI of France. He wrote the first cook book in the French language and is considered the father of French food. Oddly enough he was not only the high priest of the royal table but a champion faster. He died and was buried in St. Germain-en-Laye, near Paris. His tombstone, which is preserved at the museum of St. Germain, enumerates several amazing fasting feats of the grand chef. According to this tombstone, he once lived on an exclusive diet of water for 90 days, and a year later he sustained himself on an exclusive diet of oil for two months. He lived to the advanced age of 80

Lights Of New York

By Paul Harrison

NEW YORK. — Madison Square Garden is ablaze with light during the squirrel-cage derby. Redolent with the odors of hot dogs, stale beer, and cigar smoke. Filled with the dissonances of jazz music, shouts of the crowd and clanging of the timekeepers' bell.

On the oval, sharply-banked track, grown men with reasonably intelligent faces straddle bicycles and, bending low and awkwardly over the handle-bars, diligently pedal on their long journey to nowhere. Around they sweep and around again. Ten laps make a mile, 270 miles make a fair day's riding, and 1700 miles make a six-day bicycle race.

The thousands of cash customers around the gleaming saucer watch intently. Thousands of heads turn in unison, following the revolutions of the field of riders. Time passes unnoticed; riders relieve other riders; a band plays and is applauded; a soprano sings and is hooted. But the glazed-eyed spectators sit transfixed, moving their heads in silly little circles. Here, if there is such a thing anywhere, is mass hypnosis. The hours men spend, staring, staring, staring, are like the minutes of a dream—forgotten afterward but for a vague framework of memory.

Not all men, either. Thousands of women are bike race fans, know the names and records of the riders, and scream shrill warnings to their favorites when other riders begin surprise sprints with the intention of stealing a lap. It is 2 a.m., and in the boxes at the track's edge are evening-clad parties making the night rounds. And scores of chorus girls, here en masse from the theaters on invitation of the big spenders.

Wise Child

Directly behind me sit a well-dressed blonde and a sleepy child of about 5. "Mama," she asks, "is papa riding now?" Not yet, darling.

"Mama, I'm awful sleepy." We'll go to the hotel, darling, just as soon as the sprints are over. "Did papa hurt himself when he fell this afternoon, mama?" No darling; see, there's papa now. He's just got a little bandage on his knee. You can wave at him when he comes around. "Mama, I'm so slee-e-eepy. . . ."

All the riders wear bandages or black eyes or cruelly scraped forearms—mementoes of the "jams," those bursts of sprinting which pile up vehicles and men and send them skidding through the splinters. Old "Iron Man" Reggie McNamara, who has had 21 broken bones in his 114 races, is a sentimental favorite with the fans. But Letourner and Giorgetti, the red-jerseyed Frenchmen and Italian, are the favorites to win. The latter team's wage is $1,00 daily, which gives you an idea of the commercial aspects of the crackpot carnival

Thralldom

After the sprints, in which an Italian breaks a collarbone and another skids ten feet on his nose, there is a great bustle of home-going among the customers

Yet about half of them remain. A domestic brawl is staged in front of me. "I wanna get outa this place!" insists the woman bitterly and loudly enough to be heard across the Garden. "Let's go home, or go get a drink, or go any place. You promised you'd go!"

But the man is a bike race fan. "Justa minute, honey; justa minute." He's hypnotized, like the others. His head moves in a pattern of motion with the circling riders. His wife sheds a few vexatious tears. Never taking his eyes from the track, he pats her hand, then feels in a pocket for a fresh cigaret.

In other years it was possible to pay a 40-cent admission to the Garden and remain inside for a week. Lots of down-and-outers did just that, happy to have a warm place to doze, entertainment at all hours, and plenty of prosperous, tipsy folks to panhandle for dimes, to buy hot dogs. Now between the hours of 6 and 7:30 a m.

Among those who must be ejected in the morning are four young men occupying a box They wear full evening dress, with top hats tilted at ridiculous angles. A few hours ago they were boisterously drunk. Now they are silent and attentive, mesmerized by the mad, monotonous whirl.

Legion Will Sponsor Dance At Sterlington

Walter L. Smith post No. 207, American Legion, will sponsor a dance to be given at the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas company's club house in Sterlington Wednesday night, for the purpose of raising funds to send two Boy Scouts from Sterlington troop No. 67 to the international Jamboree in Washington, D. C., next June. Old-fashioned, round and square dances will be a feature of the program. Music will be furnished by the "American Strutters" orchestra.

The Monroe Morning World is an independent newspaper. It prints the news impartially. It supports what it believes to be right. It opposes what it believes to be wrong without regard to party politics.

Defying The Conventions

A young woman snapped her fingers. "I don't give that for what the world thinks," she announced contemptuously.

When one begins to feel that way one had better look out. And when one begins to act that way, everybody else had better look out, too.

When one begins to scoff at man-made laws and worn-out conventionalities, one is heading toward trouble.

What are the conventionalities, anyway? They are those rules of conduct which after centuries of costly experiments, the world has found to be best for the protection and welfare of mankind.

Convention is not the arbitrary personal opinion of somebody. Convention is the sum total of what generations and generations of thinking people have found is the best thing to do. It is the opinion composite.

The conventionalities have to do with man's relation to man in the biggest and best sense.

Man is not naturally broadly social. He has not yet fully learned how to give and take for the good of that social order of which he is a part. He is forever kicking up disturbances in the group. It takes a considerable percentage of mankind to make mankind behave in its relations to mankind.

Man can never take his place in a heavenly kingdom until he can do group-work well. Group-work is what the conventionalities of the ages work toward. Experiences of people piled upon experiences of people have demonstrated that this line of conduct and that line of conduct are necessary even to approach group-harmony.

It was the sum total of the boiled-down experiences of the world at which that foolhardy young woman was popping her fingers. She did not care a snap what the world thought.

The world does not think rapidly. The world comes to its conclusions only after ages of trying travail. It is mad folly to disregard what the world thinks—to disregard what the world has found out. It is the height of childish impudence to set one's personal preferences against the findings of centuries.

And when a person does, that person is not doing that which he may fool himself into thinking he is doing—permitting his soul to grow, unfold and blossom in the sunlight of glorious freedom. He is merely trying to bolster himself up to go ahead and do something that he wants to do, and which he knows perfectly well he has no right to do.

YELLOW PERIL

The menace to our peace and security which lies potent and dangerous on the other side of the Pacific has again been the subject of speculation and comment at Washington. Another patriot has viewed with alarm the Yellow Peril. Representative John F. Dockweiler, of California, has counted 150 Japanese fishing boats in Los Angeles harbor.

Well, if he has not actually counted them, he knows that they are there; because he told the house military affairs committee so only the other day. And Representative Dockweiler has his own suspicions about those vessels. That is evident; for he added, "At least they appear to be fishing boats."

Representative Dockweiler knows that appearances are deceiving and all that glitters is not gold. A fishing boat is not necessarily a fishing boat because it looks like one. It might be a submarine. It might be a cruiser. For that matter, it might be an aircraft carrier. And if it is a Japanese fishing boat in a California harbor, it is almost certain to carry a battery capable of blowing Los Angeles right off the map.

Japan's fixed intention to annex California is common knowledge, and Representative Dockweiler naturally has no desire to transfer his legislative activities from Washington to Tokio. We hope the military affairs committee will look into this question of the 150 fishing boats in Los Angeles harbor before it is too late and the bombardment has begun.

More Truth Than Poetry

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

TO A TOO EARLY BIRD

It was foolish to come back so early
When there's never a leaf on the trees;
Biting winds whistle by,
There are clouds in the sky
And I think you will probably freeze.
There must have been food in the Southland
On which you could fatten your form;
You certainly erred,
Poor weak-witted bird,
When you fluttered up here through the storm.

Were it not for the crumbs that I fed you
Whenever I heard your "Tweet-tweet,"
You would have to fly back
On the old barren track
To find yourself something to eat.
And wouldn't you feel pretty foolish
While you gloomed in the cold biting rain,
To know, little thing,
It's not really Spring,
And your journey has been all in vain?

But now, in the chilly March twilight,
You have found that your judgment was wrong;
While the flakes from the sky
Still go fluttering by
There is small consolation in song.
Your feet must be bitten with chilblains,
Yet you will not return whence you came;
You're deficient in wit,
But I'm bound to admit,
That beyond any cavil, you're game.

A Doctor And A Small Town

By BRUCE CATTON

James Gray has written a really distinguished novel in "Shoulder the Sky." Because it is the story of a physician in a small Minnesota town—a physician whose wife is just a wee mite hard to get along with—it will remind a good many people of "Main Street."

Mr. Gray tells about a young doctor who emerges from his interneship full of a hot youthful eagerness to live a life that shall be honest, free, and useful to his fellows. He marries, buys a practice in a small country town, and sets up shop as an M. D.

The story gets under way a bit slowly. The young wife is rather cold, and for a while it looks as if the book is to be a fictionized version of one of Dr. Marie Stopes' helpful works. But Mr. Gray gets squared away presently and tells a remarkably interesting and appealing story.

For one thing, Mr. Gray has a sympathetic understanding of the heartaches and disappointments two young people must work their way through in marriage.

For another, he writes intelligently and indignantly of the human stupidity and meanness that fill the world, but does it without looking down his nose in a lofty manner. All in all, he makes "Shoulder the Sky" one of the brightest spots in spring fiction.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

CHAMPION COOK AND FASTER—Guilleaume Tirel Taillevent (1315-1395) was chef de cuisine (chief cook) to King Charles V and King Philip VI of France. He wrote the first cook book in the French language and is considered the father of French food. Oddly enough he was not only the high priest of the royal table but a champion faster. He died and was buried in St. Germain-en-Laye, near Paris. His tombstone, which is preserved at the museum of St. Germain, enumerates several amazing fasting feats of the grand chef. According to this tombstone, he once lived on an exclusive diet of water for 90 days, and a year later he sustained himself on an exclusive diet of oil for two months. He lived to the advanced age of 80

New Deal In Washington

Not so long ago, those keen minds were teamed. That was before the progressives gave Richberg up as a fallen angel.

Richberg, a labor lawyer and brilliant protagonist of progressive thought, fought many of the old fights at the side of the senior Senator LaFollette. While the old man lay sick in 1924, Richberg and young Bob went to Cleveland and ran the third party convention which nominated their common leader for the presidency.

Next year, when "old Bob" died, his son succeeded him as senator and Don Richberg was his chief legislative adviser. Between them, they furnished much of the brains of the progressive movement in the Coolidge and Hoover days.

But now no one hurls harsher questions at Richberg than LaFollette, who, with the suave Costigan of Colorado, represents on the committee the thought of progressives that Richberg has become an apologist for administration failures and conservative policies.

In past years Richberg has been agin' the government. Now he's a large part of it. Progressives have been both for and agin', but become increasingly sour.

Scorched by Young Bob

Lafollette describes NRA codes as a series of "horse trades" with industry, "with all the David Harums on the other side of the fence." This is a nasty crack, because Richberg was one of NRA's two chief traders.

LaFollette thinks Richberg is devious and evasive. He and Costigan want to know how, with NRA on the job, unemployment—according to NRA figures—rose from 10,600,000 at the end of 1933 to 10,830,000 at the end of 1934.

Then they throw figures back and forth at each other to prove alternately that NRA has been a grand success and a grand flop. They also prove that there aren't any reliable figures on unemployment or many other figures to demonstrate what NRA has and hasn't done.

(A prying newspaperman at about this point discovers that NRA has given the senators a booklet of charts which do not include many of the most significant discoveries and interpretations by NRA's research and planning division.)

A Neat Cover-Up

For instance, the study showing that wages paid in 1934 were but 60 per cent of the 1926 amount, whereas dividends and interest stood at 150 per cent.

(It's a booklet especially prepared for the committee and further prying reveals a seemingly deliberate effort to avoid letting the committee understand too much.)

Richberg proves to be an able advocate. But LaFollette's recitation of the original announced aim of NRA—promotion of fullest use of production facilities, increased consumption, spread of purchasing power and so on—reminds everybody that the early glorious visions of General Johnson have yet to be fulfilled.

Notables in Cast

Those two old pals, Don and Bob, are the stars of the show. But the supporting cast is notable.

The committee room is full, mostly of high NRA officials—including Chairman Clay Williams, smoking one of the cigarets his company makes, and John L. Lewis of the miners' union and NRA labor advisory board.

The committee includes many of the more prominent senators—Pat Harrison, chairman and administration leader; Hugo Black, sort of a daddy to NRA because the administration invented it to sidetrack his 30-hour week bill; Joe Guffey, whose the committee despite his newness; Jim Couzens, cynical about all this NRA business; Arthur Capper, bright and alert; and Gerald Nye, who helped promote the investigation.

Then there are three would-be sharp-shooters—Dan Hastings, Harry Byrd and "Blind Tom" Gore, all of whom would be more effective if they weren't so densely ignorant about NRA.

Probably I owe it to Don Richberg to report his good-natured protest, after the session, about a story I recently wrote. He said:

"When I refuse 40 to 60 invitations for speeches every month and make only two or three, and you write that I have a 'mania for making speeches,' I want to rumple your hair."

To Observe Fifty-Third Anniversary Of Wedding

HOMER, La., March 23.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Knighton, pioneer citizens of Claiborne parish, and prominent residents of Homer, will celebrate their 53rd wedding anniversary at a quiet home celebration at their residence here April 13. A family reunion will also feature this occasion.

Mr. Knighton is a well known planter of this parish and still supervises this work at the age of 82. However a recent illness of pneumonia has incapacitated him for the present time. Mrs. Knighton is moderately active and attends to home duties.

They are the parents of five children, Mrs. J. A. Green and Miss Ida Knighton, Homer; Mrs. O. S. Middlebrook, Athens; Mrs. J. L. Fomby, Austin, Texas; Miss Abi Knighton, Palestine, Texas, also four grandchildren.

Legion Auxiliary Head Attends Winnsboro Meet

WINNSBORO, La., March 23.—(Special)—Mrs. Mabel Brown Sichterman of Alexandria, state president of the American Legion auxiliary, visited Winnsboro Thursday night. A joint meeting of the Legion and auxiliary was held in her honor in the community center. Mrs. Sichterman outlined the auxiliary plans for the remainder of the year as well as grouping the accomplishments at this time. Dr. R. E. Applewhite, Raymond Parker and J. B. Cash, local Legionnaires, also spoke. The meeting was well attended. Refreshments were served after the business session by members of the local auxiliary.

Lights Of New York

By Paul Harrison

NEW YORK. — Madison Square Garden is ablaze with light during the squirrel-cage derby. Redolent with the odors of hot dogs, stale beer, and cigar smoke. Filled with the dissonances of jazz music, shouts of the crowd and clanging of the timekeepers' bell.

On the oval, sharply-banked track, grown men with reasonably intelligent faces straddle bicycles and, bending low and awkwardly over the handle-bars, diligently pedal on their long journey to nowhere. Around they sweep and around again. Ten laps make a mile, 270 miles make a fair day's riding, and 1700 miles make a six-day bicycle race.

The thousands of cash customers around the gleaming saucer watch intently. Thousands of heads turn in unison, following the revolutions of the field of riders. Time passes unnoticed; riders relieve other riders; a band plays and is applauded; a soprano sings and is hooted. But the glazed-eyed spectators sit transfixed, moving their heads in silly little circles. Here, if there is such a thing anywhere, is mass hypnosis. The hours men spend, staring, staring, staring, are like the minutes of a dream—forgotten afterward but for a vague framework of memory.

Not all men, either. Thousands of women are bike race fans, know the names and records of the riders, and scream shrill warnings to their favorites when other riders begin surprise sprints with the intention of stealing a lap. It is 2 a.m., and in the boxes at the track's edge are evening-clad parties making the night rounds. And scores of chorus girls, here en masse from the theaters on invitation of the big spenders.

Wise Child

Directly behind me sit a well-dressed blonde and a sleepy child of about 5. "Mama," she asks, "is papa riding now?" Not yet, darling.

"Mama, I'm awful sleepy." We'll go to the hotel, darling, just as soon as the sprints are over. "Did papa hurt himself when he fell this afternoon, mama?" No darling; see, there's papa now. He's just got a little bandage on his knee. You can wave at him when he comes around. "Mama, I'm so slee-e-eepy. . . ."

All the riders wear bandages or black eyes or cruelly scraped forearms—mementoes of the "jams," those bursts of sprinting which pile up vehicles and men and send them skidding through the splinters. Old "Iron Man" Reggie McNamara, who has had 21 broken bones in his 114 races, is a sentimental favorite with the fans. But Letourner and Giorgetti, the red-jerseyed Frenchmen and Italian, are the favorites to win. The latter team's wage is $1,00 daily, which gives you an idea of the commercial aspects of the crackpot carnival

Thralldom

After the sprints, in which an Italian breaks a collarbone and another skids ten feet on his nose, there is a great bustle of home-going among the customers

Yet about half of them remain. A domestic brawl is staged in front of me. "I wanna get outa this place!" insists the woman bitterly and loudly enough to be heard across the Garden. "Let's go home, or go get a drink, or go any place. You promised you'd go!"

But the man is a bike race fan. "Justa minute, honey; justa minute." He's hypnotized, like the others. His head moves in a pattern of motion with the circling riders. His wife sheds a few vexatious tears. Never taking his eyes from the track, he pats her hand, then feels in a pocket for a fresh cigaret.

In other years it was possible to pay a 40-cent admission to the Garden and remain inside for a week. Lots of down-and-outers did just that, happy to have a warm place to doze, entertainment at all hours, and plenty of prosperous, tipsy folks to panhandle for dimes, to buy hot dogs. Now between the hours of 6 and 7:30 a m.

Among those who must be ejected in the morning are four young men occupying a box They wear full evening dress, with top hats tilted at ridiculous angles. A few hours ago they were boisterously drunk. Now they are silent and attentive, mesmerized by the mad, monotonous whirl.

Legion Will Sponsor Dance At Sterlington

Walter L. Smith post No. 207, American Legion, will sponsor a dance to be given at the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas company's club house in Sterlington Wednesday night, for the purpose of raising funds to send two Boy Scouts from Sterlington troop No. 67 to the international Jamboree in Washington, D. C., next June. Old-fashioned, round and square dances will be a feature of the program. Music will be furnished by the "American Strutters" orchestra.

00 RECREATION LEADERS TO MEET

Garrison, superintendent of recreation, Austin, Texas; R. D. Evans, superintendent of recreation, Fort Worth, Texas; Ruth Garver, superintendent of recreation, Dallas. Eswald Pettet, of Shreveport, district representative of the National Recreation association, will also be in attendance.

The conference is sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department, which will be hostess at a dinner to be given Friday night in Virginia hotel to the delegates and to civic, business and educational leaders of this city. Mayor Arnold Bernstein will preside at the dinner. City commissioners and other officials, besides parish officials, will be honor guests.

Prior to the opening of the conference a meeting of mayors of the fifth district will be held, when problems of recreation and its importance in a municipal program will be discussed.

A reception to the delegates to the conference will be held in Hotel Virginia, beginning at 8 o'clock. The formal sessions of the conference will begin at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Luncheon sessions will be held Friday and Saturday noon, and a breakfast for the recreation executives in attendance will be held Saturday morning. The breakfast will be tendered by the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

The conference will close on Saturday afternoon, following which all the delegates will be taken for a boat ride on the Ouachita river. Alden Shotwell and Barney Oakland will be hosts to the delegates on the boat ride.

At the opening session Friday morning Mayor Bernstein will extend the official welcome from the city. Fred Williamson, chairman of the Monroe Recreation department, will speak on "Recreation in Monroe." A. B. Clarkson, Monroe representative of the National Recreation department, will talk on "The National Association in Monroe." A roundtable discussion on "Specialized Activities and Facilities" will be led by Miss Corinne Fonde, superintendent of recreation, Houston, Texas.

The topic for the afternoon session will be: "Finance and Organization," conducted by James A. Garrison, Austin. The Austin delegation will present a recreational stunt, following which refreshments will be served by the women's gym class of the Monroe Recreation department.

Speakers at the Friday night banquet will be: R. D. Evans, "The Fort Worth department of Recreation"; Fred Williamson An Element of Citizenship;" A. H. Wyman, St. Louis, "Coordination and Correlation of Leisure Time Activities."

The Saturday morning session will discuss the topic: "National Trends and Aids to Recreation." Speakers will be Vincent M. Miles, Fort Smith, Ark.; Grover Thames, New Orleans, ERA Recreation service; Miss Rebecca Cassell, director ERA, Ouachita parish; Miss Dorothy E. Rinehart, social service director, ERA, Monroe. Dr. B. M. McKoin will preside at the luncheon, when Miss Julia Wossman will speak on "Recreation and the Schools." Other speakers will be J. K. Montieth, superintendent of parks, University City, Mo.; Emmett Brown, superintendent of schools, Cleburn, Texas; Rev. T. F. Jett, Monroe.

The Saturday afternoon session will be devoted to questions and answers on recreational topics.

Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, secretary of the Monroe Recreation board, and Miss Lucyle Godwin, superintendent of the Monroe Recreation department, will be the official hostesses of the conference.

rails, most of the planking having been taken up on both sides of the rails.

One youth, Walter Masling, 20, of 406 Coleman avenue, West Monroe, who rolled his bicycle in the several-minute period across the bridge to Monroe, said that the place where the Stratton lad fell into the river was the exact spot where Oswald Adams, 16, of 611 North Fifth street, West Monroe, fell into the river from his bicycle Wednesday night. Young Masling said that he was only a few feet from the Adams youth when the latter fell from the bridge, and that at that time he was helping a woman whom he didn't know to cross the bridge to Monroe.

Masling and the woman were walking on cross-ties between the tracks and had almost reached the place where the planking had not been taken up when the Adams youth fell, Masling said. The woman, after the fall, walked the remaining distance to the planking, the youth stated and then fainted and fell to the planking which, like the rest of the bridge, has no railing or guard to prevent trespassers on the bridge from falling into the river.

The Adams youth's bicycle caught on the bridge and was recovered. He swam to the shore, and young Masling pulled him to the bank, the latter said.

PROPOSED LEVEE PLAN IS OPPOSED

miles west of Lake Providence, 8 miles west of Tallulah, 6 miles west of Newellton, 8 miles west of St. Joseph, 6 miles west of Waterproof, 5 miles west of Ferriday.

"It would take an area of approximately 144,000 acres in East Carroll parish out of the parish area of 209,000 acres; 152,000 acres in Madison parish out of a parish area of 350,000 acres; 120,000 acres in Tensas parish out of a parish area of 350,000 acres; 82,600 acres in Concordia parish out of a parish area of 400,000 acres; a total of 498,600 acres in this levee district. Flowage rights over this land, and the land alone are to be paid for at a price not to exceed one and one-half times the assessed value as of January 1, 1935. No payment is to be made for timber nor for buildings or improvements or personal property of any kind, nor for damage to roads and bridges, nor for damage to crops by reason of letting water in on floodway lands, nor for crop or any other damage from seepage water from the floodway levee to land outside the floodway.

"The payments for flowage rights would be made by government to the state or levee board in a lump sum who would settle with land owners. We observe that nearly all this money would go to mortgage creditors after deducting both federal and state income taxes, and that the land owner would be left with his land, still in debt, with no possible prospect of selling it, and with no possibility of borrowing money on a land mortgage or to make a crop. The land in the floodway would be absolutely out of commerce. There would be a gap left open at the end of the spillway. It is barely possible that a small levee about the height of the L. and A. embankment would be built from the end of the floodway levee to the Mississippi river levee.

"All the land in the floodway area in Concordia parish, and nearly all the land in the floodway area in Tensas parish, is also in the back water area. General Markham's report recommends that no land subject to overflow from back water should be paid for. General Ferguson says no flowage rights over any of said lands in Tensas and Concordia parishes would be paid for.

"It is proposed to dig a drainage canal near the base of the east side levee to replace destroyed drainage. The government will not build any bridges over this canal.

"It is proposed to construct only one bridge in the entire floodway in Louisiana; that would be a bridge across the floodway from Quebec to Delhi on the Dixie-Overland highway, which would cost about $6,000,000. If the parish desires bridges at intervals across the drainage canal, the parish must build them, end even if built the problem is presented of how to get over the levee.

"We find that the effect of the construction of this floodway would be to utterly destroy the area within its limits so far as the possibility of cultivating it is concerned; to destroy the farm houses and homes of many of our industrious, useful citizens, and to start them and their families name to begin life again; to destroy their schools and their churches; to destroy valuable manufacturing plants, their outfit, their railroads and bridges; to wipe out of existence such towns as Monticello, Milliken, Gassoway, Tendal, Waverly and other smaller hamlets, none of which damage would be compensated, and to make the area in the floodway fit only for habitation by alligators, water moccasins, bull frogs and the beasts and varments of the jungle.

"We further find that by the practical elimination of this vast area from taxation, that in order to maintain our schools, our roads and our levee board, our bridges and our parish governments, the tax burden on the property owners in these four parishes would be so largely increased as to be an insupportable burden.

"We further find that much increased taxation would be also necessary of those property owners outside the spillway to pay bond interest and provide sinking fund on outstanding indebtedness of each of the parishes of this district and of your levee board, to take the place of such taxes proportion of which has heretofore been borne by property within said floodway. The assessed value of the four parishes in this levee district is around $30,000,000. Why not pay all property owners three times the assessed value of all property, land, timber and personal, which would amount to $90,000,000 as against $150,000,000 estimated cost of the Eudora floodway, make the whole area from the Mississippi river levee to the Macon Ridge a big floodway and let all of us take the payments we get and move out on the Ridge? The government could start right now with an already made floodway, not have to wait six years or more to complete the Eudora plan, and save $60,000,000. We cannot escape the conclusion that if this work is a national necessity the nation should compensate all who suffer loss or damage. As it is we much prefer present conditions to those that will be imposed by the proposed spillway.

"General Ferguson is of the opinion that with the lowering of the flood height in the Mississippi river by the Atchafalaya floodway, now building, and the cutting across points in the Mississippi river, now nearly completed, that the Eudora floodway would very seldom, if ever, be used.

"That being so, we advise that floodway legislation by congress in line with General Markham's recommendations, insofar as the Eudora floodway is concerned, be opposed and defeated, and we recommend that this levee board memorialize the president of the United States, the secretary of war, the congress and our senators and representatives, to that effect, and that a copy of this report be sent to each of them and be published in each newspaper in this levee district, and in the daily paper of Monroe, Vicksburg, Memphis and New Orleans."

on the bridge across the river in Monroe, both in concrete and steel work. Steel reaching about half the distance of the first span has been bolted, but has not yet been riveted. As soon as work of placing and bolting the first span is completed workmen will begin riveting, and after that has been done they will proceed with the next span. This work is being done by Vincennes Bridge company of Vincennes, Ind.

In the concrete work the fifth span has been completed on the east side and the sixth will be ready to pour Monday, leaving two more spans on this side to be completed. About a week is required to build frames and set steel for a span and only one day is required to pour the concrete. There are eight spans on the east side of the river on what is dry land at pool stage of the river. Working of constructing the concrete abutment on the west side is about three-fourths completed. Central Construction company of Monroe has this contract.

Foundations for the overpass at Sicard are now being poured and dirt work is in progress. Dirt work was delayed somewhat by the fact that the soil was too wet to handle and the concrete work was held up until a water line was completed. Concrete footings were poured Thursday and Friday.

Men will not always be content with the humdrum life of a prairie dog village. A glorious change is coming, and it will be due, not to any plan to seize and divide someone else's money, but to industrial genius, science, engineering skill and of the common sense of the American people.

THE HOUSE of representatives vote to pay soldiers their bonus now, that they may spend it when they need it most and when the country needs to have it spent.

The house votes to pay with nice new American money, instead of issuing two billion dollars worth of bonds that would cost four billions when finally paid with interest.

Two billions spent in every corner of the United States, and spent promptly, would certainly make business happier, money more plentiful and "prime the pump."

TALK OF INFLATION is foolish. You don't inflate when you distribute in tens of thousands of places a sum that is less than twenty dollars for each inhabitant. The two billions would be absorbed like a gallon of water in the middle of the Sahara desert.

In old slave days a healthy black man was worth $1,000. An ordinary white American might be trusted with twenty dollars to spend, without any threat of upsetting our financial system.

OUR TREASURY has sold to Mexico twenty odd million dollars worth of gold, at our new fancy price, thirty-five dollars an ounce, taking silver in exchange.

The treasury announces that other nations can buy gold from the United States, if they want it, provided they "make their offers attractive."

This puzzles the ordinary native born American, told by his government "YOU can't have any gold. For you it is poison ivy."

Americans compelled to give up what gold they had may or may not be amused to think that any foreign government can get that gold and distribute it among its nationals if it chooses. A few years ago you might have asked "What is there about Americans that makes them unfit to own gold?" But you ask such questions no longer. The modern American knows that it is "his to do and die," or survive if he can.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM EDWARD FOSTER

Funeral services for William Edward Foster, 58, plantation overseer of Parkdale, Ark., who died at a local hospital yesterday morning at 2:30 o'clock, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home in Parkdale. Reverend Burgess, pastor of the First Baptist church there, will conduct the services. Interment will follow in the Mount Pleasant cemetery of Parkdale.

He is survived by two sons, A. B. Foster, of Parkdale, and Cloyd Foster, of Memphis, Tenn.; and one daughter, Mrs. Hannon Richie.

J. J. COLEMAN

News of the death of J. J. Coleman, 75, father of Mrs. D. S. Benton of West Monroe, has been received here. Mr. Coleman died Wednesday at his home in Alexandria.

Mr. Coleman, who was a member of the First Baptist church of Alexandria, is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. R. Welch, of Melder, La.; Mrs. T. A. Nichols, of Alexandria; Mrs. J. R. Nichols, of Beaumont, Texas; and Mrs. Benton. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Adrian Devane and Reverend Chandler of Alexandria, with the pallbearers, all grandsons of Mr. Coleman, being L. 00 RECREATION LEADERS TO MEET

Garrison, superintendent of recreation, Austin, Texas; R. D. Evans, superintendent of recreation, Fort Worth, Texas; Ruth Garver, superintendent of recreation, Dallas. Eswald Pettet, of Shreveport, district representative of the National Recreation association, will also be in attendance.

The conference is sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department, which will be hostess at a dinner to be given Friday night in Virginia hotel to the delegates and to civic, business and educational leaders of this city. Mayor Arnold Bernstein will preside at the dinner. City commissioners and other officials, besides parish officials, will be honor guests.

Prior to the opening of the conference a meeting of mayors of the fifth district will be held, when problems of recreation and its importance in a municipal program will be discussed.

A reception to the delegates to the conference will be held in Hotel Virginia, beginning at 8 o'clock. The formal sessions of the conference will begin at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Luncheon sessions will be held Friday and Saturday noon, and a breakfast for the recreation executives in attendance will be held Saturday morning. The breakfast will be tendered by the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

The conference will close on Saturday afternoon, following which all the delegates will be taken for a boat ride on the Ouachita river. Alden Shotwell and Barney Oakland will be hosts to the delegates on the boat ride.

At the opening session Friday morning Mayor Bernstein will extend the official welcome from the city. Fred Williamson, chairman of the Monroe Recreation department, will speak on "Recreation in Monroe." A. B. Clarkson, Monroe representative of the National Recreation department, will talk on "The National Association in Monroe." A roundtable discussion on "Specialized Activities and Facilities" will be led by Miss Corinne Fonde, superintendent of recreation, Houston, Texas.

The topic for the afternoon session will be: "Finance and Organization," conducted by James A. Garrison, Austin. The Austin delegation will present a recreational stunt, following which refreshments will be served by the women's gym class of the Monroe Recreation department.

Speakers at the Friday night banquet will be: R. D. Evans, "The Fort Worth department of Recreation"; Fred Williamson An Element of Citizenship;" A. H. Wyman, St. Louis, "Coordination and Correlation of Leisure Time Activities."

The Saturday morning session will discuss the topic: "National Trends and Aids to Recreation." Speakers will be Vincent M. Miles, Fort Smith, Ark.; Grover Thames, New Orleans, ERA Recreation service; Miss Rebecca Cassell, director ERA, Ouachita parish; Miss Dorothy E. Rinehart, social service director, ERA, Monroe. Dr. B. M. McKoin will preside at the luncheon, when Miss Julia Wossman will speak on "Recreation and the Schools." Other speakers will be J. K. Montieth, superintendent of parks, University City, Mo.; Emmett Brown, superintendent of schools, Cleburn, Texas; Rev. T. F. Jett, Monroe.

The Saturday afternoon session will be devoted to questions and answers on recreational topics.

Mrs. Charles M. Mitchell, secretary of the Monroe Recreation board, and Miss Lucyle Godwin, superintendent of the Monroe Recreation department, will be the official hostesses of the conference.

ANOTHER YOUTH FALLS IN RIVER

rails, most of the planking having been taken up on both sides of the rails.

One youth, Walter Masling, 20, of 406 Coleman avenue, West Monroe, who rolled his bicycle in the several-minute period across the bridge to Monroe, said that the place where the Stratton lad fell into the river was the exact spot where Oswald Adams, 16, of 611 North Fifth street, West Monroe, fell into the river from his bicycle Wednesday night. Young Masling said that he was only a few feet from the Adams youth when the latter fell from the bridge, and that at that time he was helping a woman whom he didn't know to cross the bridge to Monroe.

Masling and the woman were walking on cross-ties between the tracks and had almost reached the place where the planking had not been taken up when the Adams youth fell, Masling said. The woman, after the fall, walked the remaining distance to the planking, the youth stated and then fainted and fell to the planking, which, like the rest of the bridge, has no railing or guard to prevent trespassers on the bridge from falling into the river.

The Adams youth's bicycle caught on the bridge and was recovered. He swam to the shore, and young Masling pulled him to the bank, the latter said.

PROPOSED LEVEE PLAN IS OPPOSED

miles west of Lake Providence, 8 miles west of Tallulah, 6 miles west of Newellton, 8 miles west of St. Joseph, 6 miles west of Waterproof, 5 miles west of Ferriday.

Sixty 4-H Club Girls Attend Meeting Here

Sixty girl representatives of Ouachita parish 4-H clubs attended a meeting devoted to a study of school and party costumes, yesterday at the courthouse. A lecture on the subject was given by Miss Edith Mott, of New York City, fabric stylist, and cash prizes were awarded for the two best clothing posters brought to the meeting.

Margaret Alexander, of Sterlington, won the first prize, and Bertha Louise Dennis, of Claiborne, won the second prize.

Miss Mott was assisted in judging the posters by Miss Frances St. Martin of Rayville, assistant home demonstration agent of Richland parish, and Miss Marietta Nelson, of Farmerville, home demonstration agent of Union parish.

A parish-wide contest will be held here in July in connection with a state-wide clothing contest to be held by 4-H clubs a short time after the local contest.

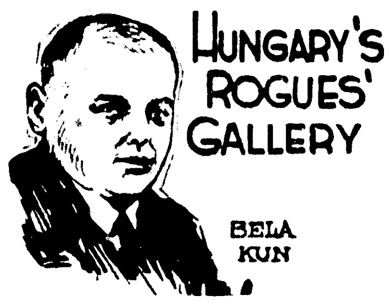
A STAMPING CORNER

By W. J. KIRBY



HUNGARY'S short-lived Soviet Republic, established shortly after the World War by Bela Kun, has left a weird memento of its existence in a set of five postage stamps. Issued in 1919, the stamps represent five revolutionary leaders of Europe—Karl Marx, Friedrich Engels, Gyorgy Dozsa, Alexander Petofi, and Martinovics.

The dread sketches on these stamps have led collectors to dub the issue "Hungary's Rogues' Gallery."

Bela Kun's power lasted only 143 days. It was known as "Magyar Tanacskoztarsasag," or the Hungarian Soviet Republic.

By W. J. Kirby

What is perhaps the oddest set of stamps ever issued by any country is that recently issued by Tannou Touva, a district in northern Mongolia, up against the Siberian frontier. This country was formerly a part of China, but Soviet Russia is now the dominating factor in this section.

The set, or rather two sets, with two exceptions, either triangular or diamond shaped in formation. The set for registration consists of eight values. The 1-kop. and 2-kop. values ar vertical rectangles, while the 3-, 4-, 5-, 10-, 15-, and 20-kop. values are diamonds. All show scenes typical of that frigid area.

The set for airmail use consists of nine varieties. The 1-, 5-, 15-, and 50-kop. and 2-r values are diamonds, while the 2-, 10-, 25-, and 75-kop. values are rectangular. These, too, bear scene sfrom Tannou Touva, with an airplane as a part of the design. The registration set was issued both perforate and imperforate; the airmails in perforate only.

With reference to the Silver Jubilee issue of Great Britain and Colonies, mentioned in this column last week, the Union of South Africa will issue a set of four denominations. Like the other colonies, the design will embody the King's head and will be emblematical of the union. Whether or not they will be bilinguals has not been announced.

A new pictorial set has been issued for Trinidad and Tobago, another of Great Britain's many colonies. The set consists of nine varieties, eight of them in two colors. Lack of space prevents our mentioning the designs and colors.

Every collector in Monroe and vicinity is urged to attend the next regular meeting of the Twin City Stamp club, which will be held Thursday evening, March 28 Mr. Clark of Fairbanks will speak on "United States Emissions."

VAN ZANDT WILL VISIT IN MONROE

Definite Word That V. F. W. Chief Will Come Here Is Received

Definite word that James E. Van Zandt, of Altoona, Pa., national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will visit Monroe next Wednesday, had been received here Saturday afternoon by C. A. Hunt, commander of the Rodney J. Hobbs post of the organization.

The national commander's scheduled visit here was called off last Friday, after he had suddenly been recalled to Washington, D. C., but his visit there was a comparatively brief one, and he will make his southern tour as scheduled, it was announced.

Commander Van Zandt, traveling southward from St. Louis and Little Rock, will leave his train at Collinston, in Morehouse parish, about 7:30 a.m., and will be met there by a delegation of veterans. He will be escorted to Bastrop for a meeting with veterans and citizens there, and on the automobile trip to Monroe will make a visit to Sterlington, provided there is no delay in his schedule, according to the tentative plans.

It is expected that the commander will arrive here at Hotel Frances about 11:30 a.m. He will be the guest of honor at a banquet at noon. Following the banquet, a reception will be held at the post headquarters, 307 North Second street, so that both veterans and citizens may communicate with him.

TO VISIT CITY

J. E. VAN ZANDT

Following his visit here, he is expected to leave about 3 p.m. for Alexandria, where he will visit veterans of that city and disabled veterans in the government hospital there.

Frigidaire '35 WITH ITS MARVELOUS NEW Super Freezer

NO DOWN PAYMENT

NO RED TAPE • NO BOTHERSOME DETAILS

If you really want a Frigidaire here's your opportunity. You don't have to wait another day. You can have it right now.

You don't even have to get a few dollars together to make a down payment. None is necessary!

And you don't have to plan your budget to make the monthly payments. Our Meter-Ice Plan takes care of that automatically.

Our Meter-Ice Plan is simplicity itself. We deliver the Frigidaire you select with Meter-Ice attached. And into this handy bank-like device you drop odd nickels and dimes that otherwise might slip through your fingers. These small coins make all necessary payments.

Once each month our representative calls, collects the money, and credits your account. Almost before you can realize it, the full purchase price is paid. Then we remove the Meter-Ice and the Frigidaire is yours. There's nothing more to do. Nothing more to pay.

MORE COLD-MAKING POWER

The Super Freezer makes possible a Complete Refrigeration Service. It provides the right kinds of cold for every purpose—all in the same cabinet. There's fast freezing for making ice cubes and desserts; frozen storage for meats and ice cream; extra cold storage for keeping a reserve supply of ice cubes; moist storage for vegetables and fruits; and normal storage for foods requiring dry, frosty cold.

Come in and see for yourself how the Super Freezer adds to the usefulness and convenience of electric refrigeration.

Standard Series Frigidaire 4-35. This Frigidaire can be bought for only 15c a day. Equipped with Super Freezer, Automatic Ice Tray Release, Automatic Reset Defrosting, Interior Light, and the famous Cold Control. Daily payments for other models slightly higher.

This is Meter-Ice—a handy little device that permits you to pay for your Frigidaire with the money it saves

TYPHOID FEVER STATEMENT IS GIVEN FOR CITY

Health Director Sees No Cause For Alarm; 4 Cases Reported

A statement by Dr. G. Douglas Williams, director of the Ouachita parish health unit, regarding the typhoid situation here, was issued Saturday as follows:

"We have had quite a number of inquiries concerning the typhoid fever situation in the city of Monroe during the past several days and we wish to state to the public that to date we have only had four cases of typhoid fever officially reported to the health department since January 1, 1935. We have traced several so-called cases of typhoid fever reported to us by the laity and have found the patient to be suffering from some other malady.

"Every effort is being made to trace the source of this infection and so far there is no cause for alarm.

"During the calendar year of 1934 there was a total of 22 cases of typhoid fever reported to this office from Ouachita parish. Fifteen of these cases occurred in the cities of Monroe and West Monroe, so that from these figures it can readily be seen that the incidence of typhoid fever for the year 1935 is running about the same as it did for the year 1934. However, we advise those individuals who have not taken the typhoid immunizing 'shots' during the past two years that they consult their family physician about taking these 'shots,' as it is our opinion that it is always better to be safe than sorry.

"The health department is open on week days from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m., and on Saturday from 8:30 a. m. until 12 m., and we are always glad to discuss your health problems with you and serve you in any capacity that comes within the field of public health activities."

NEW BAND MAKES ITS APPEARANCE HERE LAST WEEK

LaRocco's 25-piece band took its place as a leading musical organization of Monroe when it made its first official appearance after six weeks of rehearsing and preparation for its debut last week.

Five years ago, under the direction of Prof. Vincent LaRocco, late of the Royal Italian army, where he spent four years as a teacher and director of the army band, the germ of LaRocco's band was planted in Monroe. With only a handful of men and boys, who got together in their spare time to play for "the fun of it" Prof. LaRocco was on the road to the organization of the band which he directs today.

Several months ago the group of men "who got together and played because they liked to" decided on definite organization of the band and, with their ranks swelled to 25 members, officers were elected. The officials are: Director, Vincent LaRocco; secretary, Joe Ditto; and business manager, Johnny Lacaro.

For six months rehearsals were held at the Columbus Social club's hall. Then, during the celebration of St. Joseph's day here during the past week, the group made its first official appearance by providing music at each of the homes in which an altar to St. Joseph had been placed.

It is the belief of Prof. LaRocco that his band is now one of the best that Monroe has had for several years and has said he intends to increase the band to 30-pieces.

CONTRACT SIGNING ALMOST COMPLETED

The signing of 1935 cotton acreage reduction contracts in Ouachita parish is nearly completed, and is expected to be completed by the end of this week, it was learned yesterday afternoon from E. R. Strahan, parish agricultural agent.

Approximately 150 new contracts have been signed by farmers of the parish and nearly all of the 850 farmers who signed contracts last year have signed the supplemental contracts required of them for attaching to their last year's contracts.

Farmers who expect to sign cotton acreage contracts for this year, but who have not yet signed such contracts, are requested by Mr. Strahan to communicate with their respective ward committeemen, or to call at Mr. Strahan's office, this week.

The Careful Styling Of Furniture Gives New Distinction To The American Home

Gradually we are becoming aware that a new, a distinctly American type of furniture is being created. It is designed to meet our special needs and taste. When the so-called "modern" designs were first presented they were almost wholly of European origin or design. But as our native artists have become interested in this field of creative effort new and distinguished names appear. Such men as Donald Deskey—a pioneer in the creation of furniture that truly typifies the spirit of the American scene—have enriched the field of modern design.

Classic Selections

But your selections need not be confined to the strictly modern type of furniture, you may choose the more classic Chinese Chippendale or adaptations from Georgian England. Modernized Empire or the type called Classic-Modern give a scope for choice that should meet every varying taste.

Accessories Important

Having selected the type of furniture you prefer, the success of your decorative scheme then becomes a matter of choice of accessories and color in hangings and rugs. The drabness and lack of interest in most homes is due to too little courage in daring to create a color scheme that is vigorous and cheerful.

Decorative Schemes

Bold pure color or fine gradations of "off" shades in combination is responsible for the beauty and charm of those decorative schemes you admire so much in the groups of modern rooms displayed in furniture shops or photographed in your favorite home furnishings magazine. Study these effects and then try to imagine a room you yourself could create, utilizing your favorite color combinations. If you like yellow, by all means use it. Don't be afraid of a dash of Chinese vermilion, brilliant blue or clear green.

New Color Ideas

Good Combinations

White walls, curtains of heavy dark blue wool with white bindings. Sofa of the same, rug a neutral beige. One large wing chair upholstered in magenta velvet.

Three Lovely Rooms

Dining room with white woodwork, pale blue paper patterned in silver leaves, rose satin curtains and black painted floor.

Color Schemes In Fabrics

Perhaps you may find a suggestion for a color scheme in a bit of cretonne or patterned linen. A walk through the fabric section of any department store will give you a wealth of ideas. And don't neglect the movies—you'll find many gorgeous examples of furniture grouping in the best modern pictures. All you need to do is put yourself in an open frame of mind—there are suggestions in plenty if you have the courage to follow them toward the creation of a pleasant and colorful decorative scheme.

OUACHITA BAKERS ARE LEADING FIRM

Lovers Lane Concern Uses Most Modern Methods And Equipment

The Ouachita Baking company, 2519 Lovers Lane, one of the group of leading bakeries of the city which are conducting an educational campaign through the advertising columns of the Sunday World and News-Star, makes its products according to the latest scientific methods through use of the most modern mechanical equipment available. The firm has 24 employes, including a mechanic whose duty it is to check and maintain the efficiency of the plant machinery, and each employe is a specialist in his particular work.

Organized in 1924 and first opened for business in September of that year, the Ouachita Baking company now serves a trade territory encompassed within a radius of 75 miles of Monroe. Eight delivery trucks serve this territory.

The company's plant is said to be the largest bakery plant in northeast Louisiana.

A cordial feeling has always existed between the firm and the public, this feeling being especially manifested in the standing invitation to the public to visit the company's plant at any hour that the doors are open. During each week, doors of the company are closed only for a few hours, from early Sunday morning to several hours later. The public is invited to inspect the plant for cleanliness and for efficiency and any other points on which a modern bakery may be judged.

The Ouachita Baking company has copyrighted the name of its feature product, "Butter-Krust" bread.

The plant of the company has a capacity of 1,000 loaves of bread per hour.

Hard wheat flour is used in the making of the company's products. This type of flour is said to be more adaptable to the making of finer types of bakery products, with the advantage of providing more gluten.

Bread and cakes made by the company are wrapped in waxed paper.

CHAPTER XX

Brian Westmore skated slowly, hands in pockets, the tip of his cigaret glowing in the drakness. As far as the bend in the river where the big cottonwood hung out over the ice he went, then turned back. He had made the trip three times within the last half hour.

Brian skated close to the river bank, in the shadows. Now and then he looked back, but there was no one in sight. He had the river to himself until he drew near the boat house. There were other skaters there—a number of boys playing hockey, half a dozen young girls, several couples and a dark youth cutting figures on the ice.

One of the hockey players went down and there were shrill cries and laughter. Brian circled the edge of the crawd, keeping his eyes on the place where the road came down past the boat house to a sort of wharf. That was where most of the skaters sat down to put on their skates. He watched the place and suddenly a girl in a short, dark jacket and scarlet cap appeared.

Brian moved forward—and then swung back. There was another figure behind the girl, the figure of a man. A minute later the two started across the ice and Brian saw that the girl was not so tall as he had thought, nor so slender.

"She isn't coming," he told himself.

No, Gale Henderson wasn't coming. He'd been telling himself that for 15 minutes and yet he waited. Brian tossed his cigaret aside, turned and made his way up the river again.

The wind was cold and for a while he skated briskly to warm himself. He reached the turn in the river and once more doubled back, this time would be the last time. If he didn't see her this time—

All day long Brian had been looking forward to seeing Gale Henderson, saving things to tell her. He couldn't forget the girl. It wasn't that she was so pretty, though of course she was that, too. But he wanted to talk to her. He felt he could talk to her. Brian, during the past few weeks had discovered that there were plenty of people to dictate letters to, there were plenty to attend conferences and to present reports and tables of figures, there were plenty to attend his mother's dinner parties but there was almost no one to talk to.

The men at the mill, heads of departments and their assistants, were all older than he was. When Brian wanted to make a suggestion he was aware of this, aware, too, that they were experienced and he was not. So he listened and, once or twice, when he spoke about something, the others were attentive and respectful but before long the discussion was going on just as it had and somehow Brian's suggestions were overlooked.

He'd tried getting acquainted with some of the younger men, the assistants, but that hadn't turned out very well either. Gale Henderson was the only one about the mill who had really treated him like a human being. He wanted to tell her about that pension plan he'd worked out and see if she thought the employes would like it. He felt he knew Gale Henderson well, that they were old friends, though he'd only talked to her once. Perhaps that was because they'd been at school together.

He passed the place where they'd had their campfire the night before. The shore was dark and lonely now. And there was no slender figure wearing a short skirt and leather jacket skating toward him. There was no one at all in sight.

Brian told himself again, "she isn't coming."

This time when he reached the boat house he took off his skates and walked down the road to the place where he had left his coupe. He got inside and turned the car about and started for home. Half way there he changed his mind and made a turn left. His mother was having some friends in, he remembered, and he didn't want to see them. He could drive to the club and see if anything was happening there or he could look up Ted Bainbridge—

Brian decided to do none of these things. A better prospect presented itself. He'd drop in at Thatchers'. If Vicky were home he'd be assured of agreeable company. Vicky was a good sort—just the one to get him out of this moodiness.

A maid in uniform answered his ring and said yes, that Vicky was in.

Brian said, "Where is she—in the living room? I'll go in—"

He turned into the large room at the left. Vicky was there, slim and picturesque in emerald velvet, with one arm stretched against the back of the davenport. Her dark hair was sleek and shining, her lips a sulky blaze of crimson.

A young man sat facing her. He was a tall young man with tawny-reddish hair and his features were pleasant enough but it was clear that the young man was not pleased about something.

He said, "But look, Vicky—" and then stopped, seeing Brian.

Vicky was on her feet at once. "Brian!" she exclaimed, hurrying forward. "How sweet of you! I'd begun to think you'd buried yourself in that mill. Come and tell us how the wheels of industry are turning."

Greg Harmon had risen, too, but he was not smiling. "Hello, Brian," he said rather curtly. "How're you? Hope you don't mind if I run along?"

"Oh but see here—!!" Brian began.

"Greg was just leaving," Vicky assured him. "He doesn't find me sufficiently entertaining tonight. Really I think heaven must have sent you, Brian, to keep me from spending a pokey evening alone."

She turned to the other man, "Good night, Greg," she went on. "Give me a ring, won't you, tomorrow about 4? Don't call me earlier because I'm going shopping with Claire."

"You're sure I'm not interrupting," Brian asked.

Greg Harmon said, "No—got to be on my way. Got some things to see about. All right, Vicky, I'll call you."

He was gone. Vicky sank back on the davenport, leaning her head against her open palm. The loose sleeve fell back, revealing a slim white arm. "Thank goodness that's over," she said dryly. "Give me a cigaret, Brian. I feel the need of one."

"You, Vicky? What on earch have you been doing?"

The girl's eyes regarded him pensively. "It's Greg," she said. "I don't know what I'm going to do about him."

"Well—?"

She shook her head. "Greg's getting to be a problem, Brian. Honestly, I don't know what to do. Just because I've gone around with him a little—playing golf and riding horseback and now and then going to parties—he seems to think I haven't any right to go with anyone else. It's ridiculous! And whenever I say anything he gets the way he was tonight—sullen and simply unbearable."

Brian shook his head, smiling. "The perils of being an irresistible charmer, my dead!"

Vicky pouted. "You can laugh," she said, "but it isn't very funny to me." Suddenly she stopped and the dark eyes grew rounder. "Oh," she said, "I've just thought of something—"

"Animal, mineral or vegetable?"

She made a deprecating little movement with one hand. "I'm serious. Really, I am." She went on, her voice touched with excitement. "But I don't see why it wouldn't work! Brian, will you do something for me?"

"Maybe I'd rather hear about it first."

"It's nothing that would be so terribly hard—at least I don't think it would be. Just to take me to a few parties and be seen with me places. Oh, it's the very thing! Would you, Brian? Would you do that?"

"See here, I don't know what you're getting at."

"It's about Greg," she explained. "Don't you see that if you begin taking me places and—sort of seem fond of me—it will be the best way in the world to teach Greg that he can't order me around and bully me the way he's been trying to? It's exactly what he needs. You wouldn't have to keep it up long—only until Greg comes to his senses."

"Oh," he said, "I see. You want me to step in and play the heavy lover until Greg gets the idea he's not wanted."

Vicky nodded. There was a gleam of almost feline satisfaction in the dark eyes. "Of course," she said "we'd only be pretending."

"Of course. Well, if all you want me to do is to be your attentive escort I don't know how I can refuse."

"You'll do it? You will?" She put both hands on his arm and drew him nearer. "Oh, Brian," she said, "you are sweet!"

She looked very pretty as she raised her face to his, eyes glowing and the red lips slightly parted. Another girl had disappointed him that evening. Brian Westmore said slowly, "Of course, I'll help you, Vicky. Of course I will."

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Feazell, of West Monroe, have announced the birth of a son, Robert Ray, last Wednesday.

The United States government as such has never borrowed money from the British government.

Variety In Color And Pattern, The Secret Of Spring Smartness

For years and years, it was heresy to even suggest that the male of the species might like to have a little color in his clothing. Such a thing was not to be dreamed of! That at least, was the presumption under which many manufacturers operated.

But what a change has taken place since those drab, dark days. Some brave individual whose name is lost to posterity, came forth in a colorful outfit. And the American man, who wanted no color, snickered and grinned and then went home to consult the secret dictates of his heart. And lo and behold! he went out and bought some color to wear around his neck.

This was just the start. With each succeeding season, colors have become brighter, bolder and more wonderful to gaze upon. Color combinations have become daring and patterns individual. And does the male cry, "Hold, enough"? Not on your life! His cry is, "Lay on, MacDuff"!

The Shirt Styles

Variety is the open sesame to shirt smartness. Variety in color, pattern, fabric and weave. Colors and patterns that might have made you hesitate last year are now given a hearty welcome.

Colors are richer, deeper. Yellow and gray combinations, rose or salmon shades set off by gray, deep wines lightened by silver are only a few examples of what to expect.

The Wide Spread Collar

This was taken up in this country in a small way after it was worn by the Prince of Wales. However, the Duke of Kent, the former Prince George really gave his style its present impetus.

You're going to see more of it this spring. It is comfortable as well as smart and can be worn by the man who didn't look well in a tab collar. Because the wide spread collar needs a larger knot, tie styles will be influenced by it.

More About Patterns

British stripes are continuing to be the prime favorite with smart dressers. A newer note that seems to find acceptance is the British stripe separated by a healther ground in two or three colors. In the more exclusive shops, the British stripe will be found with a separating satin stripe.

The madras shirt, once a requisite to every wardrobe, is back to stay. Mostly shown in candy stripes, bold in execution.

The Rougher Fabrics

During the cold weather, oxford and cheviot shirtings were seen on most every college man. This vogue has carried into the early spring months. The plain white oxford with the button down collar is the number one favorite.

The newer shirtings of this type show more color. Brown and yellow, beetroot and gold, yellow and blue are but a few of the combinations.

And So To Summer

Mesh shirts will again be a hot weather favorite. Linens have come upon the style scene and are seen in plain dark blues, dark browns, yellows, ecrus and greens.

OUACHITA BAKERS ARE LEADING FIRM

Lovers Lane Concern Uses Most Modern Methods And Equipment

The Ouachita Baking company, 2513 Lovers Lane, one of the group of leading bakeries of the city which are conducting an educational campaign through the advertising columns of the Sunday World and News-Star, makes its products according to the latest scientific methods through use of the most modern mechanical equipment available. The firm has 24 employes, including a mechanic whose duty it is to check and maintain the efficiency of the plant machinery, and each employe is a specialist in his particular work.

Organized in 1924 and first opened for business in September of that year, the Ouachita Baking company now serves a trade territory encompassed within a radius of 75 miles of Monroe. Eight delivery trucks serve this territory.

The company's plant is said to be the largest bakery plant in northeast Louisiana.

A cordial feeling has always existed between the firm and the public, this feeling being especially manifested in the standing invitation to the public to visit the company's plant at any hour that the doors are open. During each week, doors of the company are closed only for a few hours, from early Sunday morning to several hours later. The public is invited to inspect the plant for cleanliness and for efficiency and any other points on which a modern bakery may be judged.

The Ouachita Baking company has copyrighted the name of its feature product, "Butter-Krust" bread.

The plant of the company has a capacity of 1,000 loaves of bread per hour.

Hard wheat flour is used in the making of the company's products. This type of flour is said to be more adaptable to the making of finer types of bakery products, with the advantage of providing more gluten.

Bread and cakes made by the company are wrapped in waxed paper.

CHAPTER XX

Brian Westmore skated slowly, hands in pockets, the tip of his cigaret glowing in the drakness. As far as the bend in the river where the big cottonwood hung out over the ice he went, then turned back. He had made the trip three times within the last half hour.

Brian skated close to the river bank, in the shadows. Now and then he looked back, but there was no one in sight. He had the river to himself until he drew near the boat house. There were other skaters there—a number of boys playing hockey, half a dozen young girls, several couples and a dark youth cutting figures on the ice.

One of the hockey players went down and there were shrill cries and laughter. Brian circled the edge of the crawd, keeping his eyes on the place where the road came down past the boat house to a sort of wharf. That was where most of the skaters sat down to put on their skates. He watched the place and suddenly a girl in a short, dark jacket and scarlet cap appeared.

Brian moved forward—and then swung back. There was another figure behind the girl, the figure of a man. A minute later the two started across the ice and Brian saw that the girl was not so tall as he had thought, nor so slender.

"She isn't coming," he told himself.

No, Gale Henderson wasn't coming. He'd been telling himself that for 15 minutes and yet he waited. Brian tossed his cigaret aside, turned and made his way up the river again.

The wind was cold and for a while he skated briskly to warm himself. He reached the turn in the river and once more doubled back. this time would be the last time. If he didn't see her this time—

All day long Brian had been looking forward to seeing Gale Henderson, saving things to tell her. He couldn't forget the girl. It wasn't that she was so pretty, though of course she was that, too. But he wanted to talk to her. He felt he could talk to her. Brian, during the past few weeks had discovered that there were plenty of people to dictate letters to, there were plenty to attend conferences and to present reports and tables of figures, there were plenty to attend his mother's dinner parties but there was almost no one to talk to.

HURCH TO HONOR REV. HUNTSBERRY

Special Services To Be Held Today By West Monroe Baptists

Special services commemorating the fourth anniversary of Rev. E. E. Huntsberry's pastorship of the First Baptist church of West Monroe will be held this morning at 11 o'clock when honor will be paid to the pastor and his wife by the congregation of the church.

Reverend Huntsberry's text for today, "The Lord Watch Between Thee and Me When We Are Absent One From Another," has been appropriately chosen for the occasion.

In 1931, when the church faced heavy obligations incurred in the erecting of the new church building, Rev. Huntsberry moved to West Monroe with his wife. The following year flood waters encroached upon the property of the church at the corner of Pine and North Third streets, but under Rev. Huntsberry's leadership the obstacles were overcome and the outlook for the church is now a promising one.

There has been a 35 per cent increase in all departments of the church, according to reports. Six hundred new members have been received during this period, bringing the total membership to 1,850, with a full W. M. U. family, B. T. U. department standard and a Brotherhood aggregating 200 men.

249 Persons Attend Booster Club Meet

Two hundred and forty-nine members and visitors attended the meeting of the Illinois Central railroad's Twin City Booster club here Friday night with representatives from Ruston, Choudrant, Rayville, Delhi, Bastrop, Farmerville and Vicksburg, Miss., present.

Speakers on the program were J. M. Chandler, train master; Sheriff Milton Coverdale, of Ouachita parish; J. M. Harper, division engineer; W. J. Tremaine, traveling freight agent; John F. Hardin, division freight and passenger agent; and Jerry Cronin, traveling engineer.

Entertainment at the meeting was provided by the dancing class of Misses Clarice and Goldah Roan. Dances were given by Marie Nelson, Layne Jones, Evelyn Wade, Jerry Jauneman and tap dance by Margaret Ann Harper, Evelyn Wade and Goldah Roan. The dance numbers were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Earl Mattox. A dance and social hour followed the business meeting.

Methodist Society Meets At Winnsboro

WINNSBORO, La., March 23.—(Special)—A large meeting of zone 33 of the Methodist Missionary society was held Friday afternoon at the local Methodist church. Seventy-eight representatives of six missionary societies were present. Mrs. C. W. Berry of Winnsboro presided. A program with "Loyalty" as the theme was presented.

The following appeared on the program: Mrs. C. W. Berry, Mrs. Poole of Mangham, Eva Register of Winnsboro, Mrs. E. B. Moore of Winnsboro.

The following communities were represented: Little Creek, Crowville, Wisner, Buckner, Winnsboro, Gilbert and Mangham. The next zone meeting will be held at Buckner the second Thursday in July.

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf of Monroe, district secretary, was present at the meeting and made an interesting talk. Refreshments were served by the Winnsboro society.

AT THE CAPITOL TODAY

AT LOCAL THEATERS

AT THE PARAMOUNT. — The movie news of the day is that America's golden-haired sweetheart arrives in her latest picture.

Shirley Temple, the five-year-old screen miracle who was unknown less than a year ago, and who now ranks among the ten world's outstanding box-office attractions, co-stars with Lionel Barrymore in "The Little Colonel," which continues a three day engagement at the Paramount theater today.

Through her marvelous performances in four pictures, Shirley has become the nation's idol, adored by young and old. Her innocent romp through the land of fame is one of the bright fairy-tales of modern days.

Fox film combed all the available fiction, past and present, for a suitable vehicle for Shirley and found it in one of the "Little Colonel" stories of Annie Fellows Johnston, which have been eagerly read by millions. Drama and comedy, pathos and humor, vie for supremacy in this tale of a wrecked Kentucky family, during the reconstruction era, reunited by the determination of a lilliputian dimpled colonel.

For the first time in her short, brilliant screen career, Shirley Temple will be presented to the world precisely as she is. A part of the film is shown in Technicolor.

A supporting cast was selected in keeping with the importance of the principals. Among them are names that have glittered on the marquees of Broadway's theaters. They include Evelyn Venable, John Lodge, Sidney Blackmer, William Burress, and others. Bill Robinson, the celebrated colored dancer, makes his film debut in "The Little Colonel" in a part which, from all reports, gives him the finest chance of his lifetime to display his famed stair dance as it should ideally be performed.

Murphy, who is a recruit from the New York stage, is teamed with Nancy Carroll in the leading roles, with a supporting cast that includes Donald Cook, Arthur Hohl, Inez Courtney and Raymond Walburn, another New York stage player who is making a name for himself in Hollywood.

"Jealousy" tells the story of a prize fighter who kills a man in jealous rage after a quarrel with his wife. He allows the girl to take the blame for the crime until, conscious-stricken, he surrenders and is convicted of the deed.

The surprise climax to the story is much too good to expose here, but it does not come until there has been unfolded a gripping and absorbing story. Murphy's acting is finished and his debut will start him a long way on the road to screen popularity.

Lee Ramage, leading heavyweight challenger, is Murphy's opponent in the boxing sequences.

The production was directed by Roy William Neill from an adaptation by Kubec Glasmon and Joseph M. March.

AT THE RIALTO—Mischievous, gay spectacular and glamorous, RKO-Radio's musical comedy, "The Gay Divorcee" is affording wholesale amusement for local theatergoers. It is a high-speed entertainment with no time for parking and co-stars Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, the delightful pair who made such a hit in "Flying Down to Rio."

In the story Fred meets Ginger under strange circumstances, too amusing to rob of its punch by telling, and he chases her hither and yon in a frantic effort to clinch their romance.

She runs because she loves him . . . but that can't be explained either, without revealing one of the smartest situations of the season. Finally, through mistaken identity, she issues him a strange invitation which results in a conglomerate mixup of loves and romance and people in one hotel suite!

The climax is a happy one, and the story is so entertaining that it could stand even without the remarkable song and dance features.

AT THE STRAND—A tribute paid to the nursing profession by the late President Theodore Roosevelt, following a siege in a hospital, provides the inspiration and theme for Jesse L. Lasky's "The White Parade," the tremendous Fox Film production which opens today at the Strand theater in West Monroe.

First film to glorify America's "young ladies in white," "The White Parade" was made at the Fox Film studios under the direction of Irving Cummings, with Loretta Young and John Boles in the leading roles.

In keeping with the theme and spirit of the production, "The White Parade" is dedicated to the memory of the immortal Florence Nightingale and the idol and pattern of those who pursue this profession.

Lake Providence

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Magee of Lake Providence announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Minnie Belle, to Mr. William Cecil Deal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wily Deal. The marriage will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, in Millikin, Sunday afternoon, March 31, at 2 o'clock with Rev. G. A. Nelson of the Baptist church officiating.

Among the lovely events of the week was the bridge party with Mrs. W. K. Evans as hostess and in entertaining complimentary to Mrs. Jack DeWees, a recent bride who has come to Lake Providence to reside. Those invited to meet the honoree were Mesdames J. E. Brown II, Leon Minsky, Roland Smith, L. P. Thomas, Jr., Herman Stein, Jr., F. H. Schneider, Jr., W. D. Brown, Jr., J. P. Brown, Ernest Parra, J. C. Purdy, Jr., C. J. Wyly, B. R. Burgoyne, H. M. Quin, J. N. Hill, Jr., and Mrs. Al. Cammack.

Bringing together a congenial gathering of younger matrons was the beautiful party Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Pittman as hostess. The gathering of club members included Mesdames R. A. Rentz, W. F. Trieschman, J. E. Brown II, W. D. Brown, Jr., W. E. Scott, C. J. Wyly, C. A. Rose, Herman Stein, Jr., L. H. Richards, F. H. Schneider, Jr., H. L. Harkey and L. P. Thomas, Jr. The prizes were won by Mrs. Trieschman, Mrs. J. E. Brown and Mrs. L. H. Richards.

Quite delightful was the bridge club of Thursday afternoon when Mrs. C. B. Mitchell entertained at her new suburban home for the pleasure of club members and an extra table of players. The guests were Mesdames J. L. Johnson, J. C. Surles, C. E. Newman, Leon Harbin, F. G. Meek, C. M. Bass, A. G. Frost, J. P. Brown, Hugh King, S. L. House, Sterling Merrill. The club prizes were won by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Bass and the guest prize by Mrs. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Abernethy are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a son Friday morning, March 22. The baby weighs seven pounds and is called "Billie," after his father, whose full name is William Roy Abernethy.

GRAVEL PROGRAM PROGRESSES HERE

Swayze Says He Hopes To Improve Every Dirt Street In City

The program of placing gravel on the dirt streets of Monroe, launched several months ago through the cooperation of the Monroe street and park department, headed by City Commissioner R. D. Swayze, and the emergency relief administration, of which Lloyd Frost is district engineer, is progressing steadily, Mr. Swayze said Saturday. It is expected that this program will continue as long as ERA labor is available or until all of the dirt streets of Monroe are graveled.

More than 60,000 lineal feet, or between 10 and 12 miles of gravel have been laid and the work has extended into practically every section of the city. "My hope," Mr. Swayze said, "is to gravel every dirt street in the city."

The commissioner pointed out that he is not able to grant every request for graveling work, because of the fact that ERA officials are desirous of having graveled first those streets which afford service to the greatest number of people and the cooperation of Mr. Frost must be obtained in designating the streets to be graveled.

Gravel for the work is being obtained from the city gravel pit west of West Monroe, near Downing's filling station on the Dixie-Overland highway, and hauling is being done with street department trucks and employes. The gravel is dug and loaded into trucks by workers furnished through the ERA.

In addition to the streets that have been graveled in the Monroe traffic areas and in the parks, the street department has placed about 350 cubic yards of gravel on the parking space at Neville high school, making it suitable for parking in all kinds of weather.

Streets or sections of streets that have been graveled under the program were listed as follows: Highland avenue, Pope street, Roberts avenue, Division, Isabelle and Foster streets, Highland Park addition, ninth from Breard to Olive, Tenth, Adams to Olive, Eleventh, Washington to Pine; Breard, Sixth to Eleventh; Auburn, Sixth to Seventh; Seventh, Pine to Auburn; First, Stubbs to pavement; L, Sixth to Eighth; Eighth, L to Forsythe; Fairview, Twelfth to Barberry; Barberry, Park avenue to Island drive; Myrtle, Park avenue to Island drive; Hawthorne, Park to Island drive; Sycamore, Park to McKinley, Myrtle, Milton to Spencer; Third, Ouachita to Pecan; Lee, Benton to Vernon; Railroad, First to Plum; Johnston, Grand to Lee; Hampton, Grand to Lee; Dixie, Grand to Gordon; Dixie, Lee to Jackson; Richmond, Dixie to Thomas; Dick Taylor, Thomas to Pargoud; Standifer, Gordon to Missouri Pacific railroad; Benton, Grand to Jackson; Pargoud, Grand to Jackson; Pargoud, Hawes to Hanson; Hanson, Pargoud to levee; Carolina, levee to Dick Taylor; Hawes, levee to Grayling switch; Filer, Grand to Hawes; Groves, Grand to Gordon; Orange, Jackson to Railroad avenue; Plum, Mississippi to Third; Chestnut, Gordon to Grand; Breville, Sterlington road to College avenue.

REVIVAL SERVICES GET GOOD RESPONSE

The revival services being conducted by Dr. D. L. Coale, Los Angeles, Calif., evangelist, at the First Methodist church of West Monroe, are getting considerable response from the church-going public, Rev. Martin Hebert, pastor of the church, reported yesterday.

Dr. Coale has held two services daily since his initial appearance in Rev. Hebert's pulpit here last Sunday and his program for today consists of three services.

In addition to the regular morning and night services, Dr. Coale will conduct a mass meeting of men and boys at the church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. "Some of the Things Men and Boys of This Age Should Know," will be Dr. Coale's topic for the special program. The morning worship today will be devoted principally to the members of the Sunday school department. At the worship hour tonight the subject will be "Does the Bible Teach a Burning Hell?"

The attendance at these revival services has increased each day and the response at Friday night's meeting was especially encouraging, Rev. Hebert said. The services will continue throughout the next week at the usual morning and evening hours.

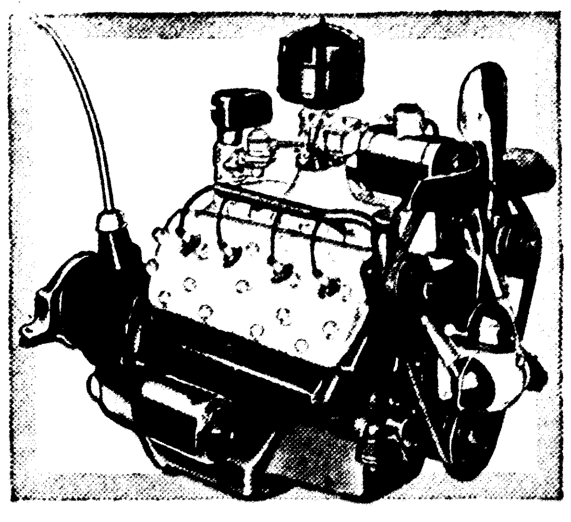
First Car to Close the Gap Between Low Price and Fine Performance



FROM THE $2000 PRICE CLASS
COMES THE V-8 ENGINE TO POWER THE MOST ECONOMI-
CAL FORD CAR EVER BUILT

THE FORD V-8 occupies a distinctive place among automobiles. There is no way to compare it with any other car because there is no other car like it.

The Ford enables you to step up into the fine-car class in performance, beauty, comfort and safety. But there is no stepping up in price. That is kept down by Ford low-profit policies and unique manufacturing methods. These are as different as the car itself.

What the Ford has done is to establish a new standard of value. Fine-car performance isn't limited to the well-to-do these days. The Ford V-8 has made it possible for the average motorist to have the kind of car that used to be beyond his reach.

It takes eight cylinders to give modern performance. And the Ford is powered by a V-8—the finest type of eight-cylinder engine. You have to pay more than $2000 for that in any other car.

Ford cars are priced at $495 up F. O. B. Detroit. Standard accessory group including bumpers and spare tire extra. Easy terms through Universal Credit Company. All body types have Safety Glass throughout at no additional cost.

HURCH TO HONOR REV. HUNTSBERRY

Special Services To Be Held Today By West Monroe Baptists

Special services commemorating the fourth anniversary of Rev. E. E. Huntsberry's pastorship of the First Baptist church of West Monroe will be held this morning at 11 o'clock when honor will be paid to the pastor and his wife by the congregation of the church.

Reverend Huntsberry's text for today, "The Lord Watch Between Thee and Me When We Are Absent One From Another," has been appropriately chosen for the occasion.

In 1931, when the church faced heavy obligations incurred in the erecting of the new church building, Rev. Huntsberry moved to West Monroe with his wife. The following year flood waters encroached upon the property of the church at the corner of Pine and North Third streets, but under Rev. Huntsberry's leadership the obstacles were overcome and the outlook for the church is now a promising one.

There has been a 35 per cent increase in all departments of the church, according to reports. Six hundred new members have been received during this period, bringing the total membership to 1,850, with a full W. M. U. family, B. T. U. department standard and a Brotherhood aggregating 200 men.

249 Persons Attend Booster Club Meet

Two hundred and forty-nine members and visitors attended the meeting of the Illinois Central railroad's Twin City Booster club here Friday night with representatives from Ruston, Choudrant, Rayville, Delhi, Bastrop, Farmerville and Vicksburg, Miss., present.

Speakers on the program were J. M. Chandler, train master; Sheriff Milton Coverdale, of Quachita parish; J. M. Harper, division engineer; W. J. Tremaine, traveling freight agent; John F. Hardin, division freight and passenger agent; and Jerry Cronin, traveling engineer.

Entertainment at the meeting was provided by the dancing class of Misses Clarice and Goldah Roan. Dances were given by Marie Nelson, Layne Jones, Evelyn Wade, Jerry Jauneman and tap dance by Margaret Ann Harper, Evelyn Wade and Goldah Roan. The dance numbers were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Earl Mattox. A dance and social hour followed the business meeting.

Methodist Society Meets At Winnsboro

WINNSBORO, La., March 23.—(Special)—A large meeting of zone 33 of the Methodist Missionary society was held Friday afternoon at the local Methodist church. COLOR SCHEME A JOY TO ALL

Decorations Of White House Demonstrate New Deal In Loveliness

(Contributed by George E. Breece Lumber Co.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(Special)—People from all over the world come to visit the White House in Washington, the home of the president and first lady of the United States of America.

For 100 years the Green Room, Blue Room and East Room in the White House have witnessed a most interesting drama. The walls and ceilings in these rooms have looked down upon so many brilliant functions, both social and political. The Blue Room in the White House, is where the president and first lady greet their guests at formal receptions. The walls are covered with blue silk embroidered in gold. The beautiful crystal chandelier is vivid with light. Three golden eagles gleam on their perches above the tall windows. Everyone who has visited the White House remembers the Blue Room; the color of its wall is an unfailing identification.

The Green Room is named because of the Green satin covered walls. Mrs. Coolidge refurnished this Green Room with copies of the Hepplewhite furniture used in this room originally.

The East Ball Room in the White House is particularly lovely with its beautiful gold and white decorations and old gilt French furniture. It's hard to believe that in 1800 Abigail Adams used this room for drying clothes.

One might suppose that moving into the White House was just like moving into a furnished home—but that is not true of the private living quarters of the president and his family. To date, two dozen presidents' wives with ideas of their own on house furnishings have moved in and out of the private living quarters of the White House. So much personality and individuality are expressed in the furnishings of these rooms. The president's study is a reflection of his interest in marine prints and beautiful ship models. Mrs. Roosevelt's sitting room is a reflection of her favorite color scheme of blues. Her walls are covered with photographs for she loves to have pictures of her family and friends surrounding her.

We all have our own personal tastes and interests. Instead of living in a palatial house ours might be a little Brown home on a hill but the joy of having a home of beauty and charm is increased many times when that charm and beauty express your own taste and personality. The backgrounds of your home, such as the walls, floor and ceiling have the power of either making or marring a room. Beautiful soft colors in a dull or egg-shell finish are available so that you, too, may have a Blue Room, a Green Room or a Gold and White Room in your home.

For a room with a southern exposure light blue is particularly lovely for the walls, with the ceiling and woodwork of cool ivory or peach tint. The gleam of a deep royal blue enameled floor will add a rich background for the rug. If this is a bedroom there is nothing prettier than painted furniture, the newest of which is white given a mellow antiquated appearance called bone-white. With dainty peach curtains and orchid accessories, it will complete a room as lovely as a bit of rainbow.

A colorful home is a joy to all and it's such a simple recipe with the aid of paint, calsomine and enamel.

BUILDING NOTES

According to Einstein asbestos must be at least 5,000,000 years old. Used in shingles and wallboards it supplies durability that will last as long as the house.

The Federal Housing act is expected to reemploy 5,000,000 men throughout the United States.

Rock wool, used for insulation in homes, was first discovered in Hawaii. Molten rock in the volcano Kilauea was blown into thin woolly fibres and wafted about the island, the natives believing it to be hair from the goddess Pele.

It has been estimated that in Great Britain last year a minimum of 300,000 houses were repaired in comparison to 50,000 in the United States.

If all the residential buildings in the United States were insulated with rock wool there would be an annual saving in fuel bills of over $100,000,000.

Four inches of rock wool blown into the wall space of a house through a pneumatic hose is equal in insulation value to 11 feet of solid stone.

REDWOOD IS IDEAL FOR ATTRACTIVE SETTINGS ON LAWN

From the humid and foggy north coast of California comes the Redwood, that magnificent giant of the forest. Huge and rugged in stature, they have been known to grow to 375 feet in height and as large as 25 feet in diameter. The ring count shows many of them to be over 2,000 years old. These are the trees travel-minded friends send back on postcards showing a road cut through them.

This redwood lumber comes from a comparatively small area, a timbered region of approximately one million acres. Here are found the oldest and largest living things on the face of the globe today. This section, approximately 10 to 25 miles in width and three hundred miles in length, contains the heaviest store of valuable timber per acre in the world.

Commercially known as California redwood, it is ideal for outdoor use. Nature has supplied it with a tanic acid which makes the "heart" wood practically impervious to decay. The heart wood is easily distinguished by its reddish brown color, while the "sapwood" is almost white. In all woods, the sapwood is least desirable, but in many other species it is almost impossible to distinguish it from the "heart" wood.

Because nature has endowed this wood with such lasting qualities, it is ideal for outdoor use. Subjected to constant moisture and dampness, it does not decay and still retains its strength and solid fiber. In selecting outdoor furniture window boxes, plant stakes, or other items for outdoor use, much care should be used in the kind of wood chosen.

There are so many interesting possibilities in lawn furniture—so much that it can add in pleasure and enjoyment of a home during the summer months. Put on some window boxes and shutters, they'll add much to the attractiveness of your home. Get a comfortable lawn chair for that cool, shady spot under the big tree in the back yard. It will return its small cost many times over in pleasure and enjoyment.

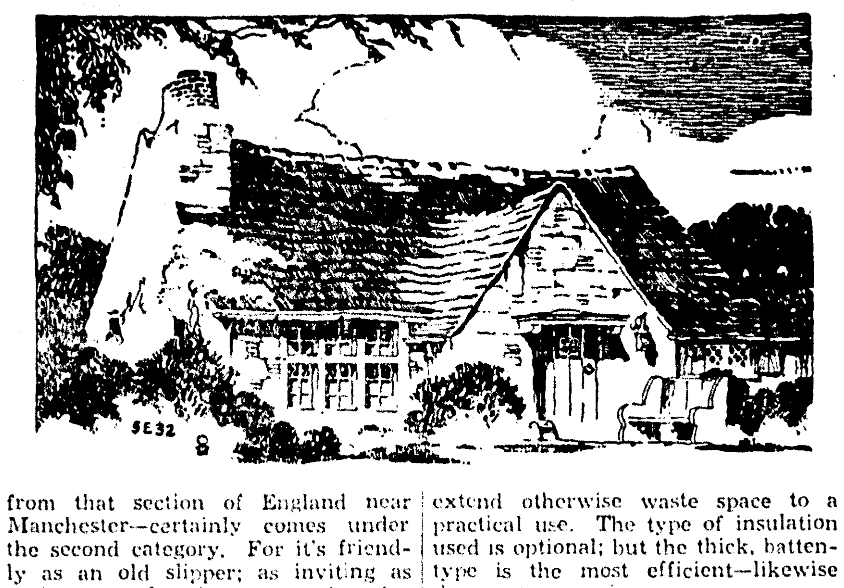
CORNER CUPBOARDS

Twin pieces are happily used in the dining room. A pair of flip top tables, or a pair of consoles, may be used on either side of a door or window with great decorative effect. A pair of corner cupboards, now being shown so extensively in the shops, add to the convenience and beauty of the dining room.

'Milford House' Connotes Fine English Atmosphere

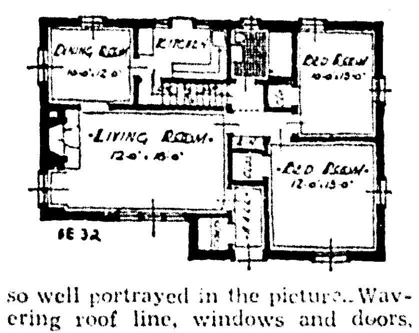
Homes, like people, are capable of possessing distinguishing charcteristics. Some are smart, sophisticated, and formal; others are friendly, inviting, and intimate; while still others have a negative quality, expressing little or nothing in the way of personality. Unfortunately, most small homes fall into this latter class.

Today's home, which we call "Milford Haven" because of its English ancestry—it comes to this country from that section of England near Manchester—certainly comes under the second category. For it's friendly as an old slipper; as inviting as a cigarette advertisement; and as intimate as a politician before election.



The roof-pitch is steep; the house fits snugly and close to the ground. The exterior walls would be best if constructed of white-washed common brick or stucco—an off white shade. The massive chimney is as much a part of the picture as the white picket fence, the comfortable front bench, or the heavy oaken door.

The foundation planting is cleverly planned to emphasize the "naturalness" and sense of "belonging" so well portrayed in the picture. Wavering roof line, windows and doors, and other important detail all serve a definite purpose and should be included as shown on the working drawings in actual construction.



Inside, there is a compace, efficient room arrangement with a minimum of waste space. There is a large convenient wrap closet off the entrance hall; a generous-sized living room with a maple wall space and a generous fireplace; a corner dining room with cross lighting and ventilation; and a kitchen with wall-lined build-in cabinets, work tables, sink, and refrigerator space. The bedrooms are large and airy and each with an adequate sized closet. They open into a hall which contains, among other things, a linen closet that extends from floor to ceiling.

The bathroom is well located and efficiently arranged. Off the bedroom hall, there is a stairway leading to the attic or what could very easily be second floor bedrooms, a game room, library, den, or whatever use you would care to put it.

The upstairs should be insulated; for by doing so, it is possible to extend otherwise waste space to a practical use. The type of insulation used is optional; but the thick, batten-type is the most efficient—likewise the most expensive.

The basement is reached by a stairway off the kitchen and may be planned to suit your particular needs. It should be partitioned to contain a heating room, a fuel rom, a storage room, a cool-room or fruit closet, a laundry, and if there is any space left, a play room. It is well lighted with steel sash and numerous electric light outlets.

The cost of this house will vary, depending upon the contractor chosen; specifications used; percentage of financing necessary; and locality. Because of its compactness and size, the cost should be comparatively small. To get an accurate figure, get estimates from local contractors.

Real Pleasure To Be Had In "Painting Up"

There is real pleasure to be had through the redecoration of your own furniture and woodwork. In this manner you open a field of decorative possibilities heretofore restricted by a limited budget, for your only investment is your own time and a few materials.

To the uninitiated it may, at first, represent the impossible, but a few attempts will bring increased confidence, and eventually real ability.

With the variety of beautiful, fast-drying enamels to choose from, you first venture can hardly fail to bring satisfying results.

Let us start with that assortment of odd chairs. They don't match, some are painted, some are varnished and the finish on all of them is pretty well worn.

As a suggestion, finish them all in ivory for a starter. Immediately the chairs begin to appear related. Next, finish the seats and uprights in lettuce green. As a final touch, an accent color of lavender, apricot or black and the chairs have absolutely become a set.

The Master Builder

Characteristic of a new era, The Master Builder, of the federal housing administration, talks each week, not with scores of friends, but with thousands of people. He talks to them of home and home problems with a warmth and friendliness born only of conviction. This new radio personality, speaking from years of experience, tells property owners how they may receive the benefits of the national housing act. Yet, although this is his primary purpose, so deep and vital is his interest in home, and all that pertains to it, that it is frequently difficult for him to keep from digressing and talking on the fundamental, social, and spiritual values which make a house a home.

"Your nice friendly voice came way up to this little toy city of the Sierras, where deep mines are roaring and folk are busily engaged in remodeling their homes and public buildings, and it drifted into a little room where I sit before a typewriter and tick the days away," writes a listener to The Master Builder, "and I said I like the person who owns that voice, so I'm writing to tell you that we have much in common, and that I've decided we are friends." Typical of hundreds of letters received daily is this letter from California—typical in that it shows how this simple, homely character is making friends from coast to coast. But it is not surprising because, as The Master Builder says himself, "Home folks are the same the world over." It is probable that because he is primarily a home person himself that he strikes a universal note, because letters have been received from as far away as Ireland and Poland.

It seems fitting that a representative of a federal agency should strike a resounding chord in the heart of the nation. No nation is ever greater than its homes, and here we have an official representative of the nation advising and counseling on problems affecting our greatest national asset. This practical, experienced builder tells of remodeling, of interior decorating, of insulating. Practical ideas, sound and based upon common sense ideas of economy and efficiency, and he gives them in simple terms—terms which strike a common denominator, terms that are familiar to us all.

But behind the philosophy, behind the practicality of this personality one feels that there is a sincere note of progressive thinking. The Master Builder is always looking to the future. He counsels planning for the future, for future comfort and happiness. He shows how investing in your home means investment for the future, and Ben Franklin's adage "a penny saved is a penny earned" he takes as his own.

Not only does The Master Builder answer personally the hundreds of letters he receives daily, but he sends a copy of that most helpful publication issued by the federal housing administration—"The Properey Owner's Check List." He tells not only about the betterment of housing conditions, of better living for Americans, but also how this may be accomplished. He tells how the modernization credit plan operates and how home improvement may be financed under the provisions of the national housing act, and not only are the residents of towns and cities writing him, but folks in the rural districts as well.

Seventy-seven stations in a coast-to-coast network carry the message of The Master Builder every Saturday night at 5:45 C. S. T. and every Saturday night thousands of Americans are listening. The broadcast from Washington is on.

ENCLOSED RADIATORS

Radiator enclosures add considerably to a room's beauty and comfort. In addition they serve as a protection for decorations which are likely to become streaked from air ascending from the radiators.

W. J. RILEY AMONG LEADING PLUMBERS OF MONROE AREA

W. J. Riley, local plumbing and heating contractor, with show rooms and warehouse located at 805 South Grand street, has enjoyed a phenomenal growth since the establishment of his business here in 1927.

This firm numbers among its major contracts such buildings as the Bastrop hotel, the Bastrop high school, the new field house and swimming pool at Louisiana State university at Baton Rouge, the Bernhardt building, Northeast Center of Louisiana State university, Neville high school, Hotel Frances, Hotel Alvis, Ouachita parish high school, and many of the finest homes in this locality.

An expert repair service is maintained at all times, the most competent journeymen plumbers being employed so as to give the best possible work that may be had today. Only the best in fixtures and repair parts will be found in the show room, as Mr. Riley believes that it never pays to sacrifice quality for price.

Under the terms of the national housing act, this concern is enabled to finance plumbing and heating jobs with no down payment and as long as three years to pay for the work. They will be glad to explain this plan and finance notes which requires no mortgage on the property whatever. Full details of this plan for the asking without any obligation can be had.

Danger Spots Demand Careful Consideration

First signs of decay may be already apparent in your home—a leaking roof, paint thirsty surfaces, sagging doors, rusted sheet metal. All these things unless remedied at once mean a rapid accumulation of expenses.

1. Does rain reach your wall paper? Perhaps there are loose shingles. Perhaps there is broken or missing slate, tile or other roofing material.
2. It may be the rafters that need inspection. Perhaps the frame of your house is resting on rotted beams. Look and see.
3. Does your porch roof leak? Canvas or metal decks over porches and bay windows may need repairing, or painting.
4. The trouble may be flashings—at some point on the roof.
5. Faulty gutters cause costly damage—and so do downspouts which need to be repaired or replaced.
6. Do you use your fireplace these cool Spring days? An ash dump may make a vast difference in the usefulness of the fireplace.
7. Is plaster spotted and cracked on walls and ceilings? Defective lath should be repaired—and worn plaster patched.
8. Are any of those little hexagon titles in your bathroom floor loose and coming out? If they are, call in a tile mason and let him fix them for you.
9. The floors uneven? Perhaps there are loose or broken boards in the flooring which need attention. New floors may be laid over worn ones—or floors may be refinished.

Inexpensive Method In Plank Floorings

Some new homes done in certain architectural style call for the use of random width plank flooring. This type of flooring is attractive, but because it is a little more costly than the ordinary oak flooring it is not practical for many of us. Here is the way to effect practically the same result with ordinary oak flooring.

When laying the new flooring, have the carpenter bevel the second, third or fourth board about an eighth of an inch, repeating the operation on the board immediately following. This makes a V-shaped joint randomly spaced four, six of eight inches apart, which, to the casual observer closely approximates the expensive random width flooring. At the end of each piece of flooring, cut a half inch circle with a blunt edged steel die and let the painter touch the inside of the circle with a paint a shade darker than that used on the rest of the floor. Thus you have pegs for this type of floor.

COLOR SCHEME A JOY TO ALL

Decorations Of White House Demonstrate New Deal In Loveliness

(Contributed by George E. Breece Lumber Co.)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(Special)—People from all over the world come to visit the White House in Washington, the home of the president and first lady of the United States of America.

For 100 years the Green Room, Blue Room and East Room in the White House have witnessed a most interesting drama. 'Milford House' Connotes Fine English Atmosphere

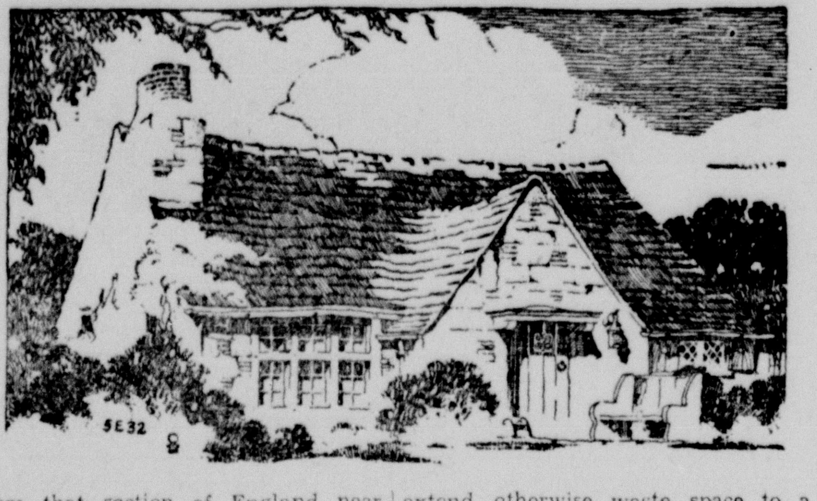
Homes, like people, are capable of possessing distinguishing charcteristics. Some are smart, sophisticated, and formal; others are friendly, inviting, and intimate; while still others have a negative quality, expressing little or nothing in the way of personality. Unfortunately, most small homes fall into this latter class.

Today's home, which we call "Milford Haven" because of its English ancestry—it comes to this country from that section of England near Manchester—certainly comes under the second category. For it's friendly as an old slipper; as inviting as a cigarette advertisement; and as intimate as a politician before election.



The roof-pitch is steep; the house fits snugly and close to the ground. The exterior walls would be best if constructed of white-washed common brick or stucco—an off white shade. The massive chimney is as much a part of the picture as the white picket fence, the comfortable front bench, or the heavy oaken door.

It should be partitioned to contain a heating room, a fuel rom, a storage room, a cool-room or fruit closet, a laundry, and if there is any space left, a play room. It is well lighted with steel sash and numerous electric light outlets.

The cost of this house will vary, depending upon the contractor chosen; specifications used; percentage of financing necessary; and locality. Because of its compactness and size, the cost should be comparatively small. To get an accurate figure, get estimates from local contractors.

As a suggestion, finish them all in ivory for a starter. Immediately the chairs begin to appear related. Next, finish the seats and uprights in lettuce green. As a final touch, an accent color of lavender, apricot or black and the chairs have absolutely become a set.

The Master Builder

Characteristic of a new era, The Master Builder, of the federal housing administration, talks each week, not with scores of friends, but with thousands of people. He talks to them of home and home problems with a warmth and friendliness born only of conviction. This new radio personality, speaking from years of experience, tells property owners how they may receive the benefits of the national housing act. Yet, although this is his primary purpose, so deep and vital is his interest in home, and all that pertains to it, that it is frequently difficult for him to keep from digressing and talking on the fundamental, social, and spiritual values which make a house a home.

"Your nice friendly voice came way up to this little toy city of the Sierras, where deep mines are roaring and folk are busily engaged in remodeling their homes and public buildings, and it drifted into a little room where I sit before a typewriter and tick the days away," writes a listener to The Master Builder, "and I said I like the person who owns that voice, so I'm writing to tell you that we have much in common, and that I've decided we are friends." Typical of hundreds of letters received daily is this letter from California—typical in that it shows how this simple, homely character is making friends from coast to coast. But it is not surprising because, as The Master Builder says himself, "Home folks are the same the world over." It is probable that because he is primarily a home person himself that he strikes a universal note, because letters have been received from as far away as Ireland and Poland.

It seems fitting that a representative of a federal agency should strike a resounding chord in the heart of the nation. No nation is ever greater than its homes, and here we have an official representative of the nation advising and counseling on problems affecting our greatest national asset. This practical, experienced builder tells of remodeling, of interior decorating, of insulating. Practical ideas, sound and based upon common sense ideas of economy and efficiency, and he gives them in simple terms—terms which strike a common denominator, terms that are familiar to us all.

But behind the philosophy, behind the practicality of this personality one feels that there is a sincere note of progressive thinking. The Master Builder is always looking to the future. He counsels planning for the future, for future comfort and happiness. He shows how investing in your home means investment for the future, and Ben Franklin's adage "a penny saved is a penny earned" he takes as his own.

Not only does The Master Builder answer personally the hundreds of letters he receives daily, but he sends a copy of that most helpful publication issued by the federal housing administration—"The Properey Owner's Check List." He tells not only about the betterment of housing conditions, of better living for Americans, but also how this may be accomplished. He tells how the modernization credit plan operates and how home improvement may be financed under the provisions of the national housing act, and not only are the residents of towns and cities writing him, but folks in the rural districts as well.

Seventy-seven stations in a coast-to-coast network carry the message of The Master Builder every Saturday night at 5:45 C. S. T. and every Saturday night thousands of Americans are listening. The broadcast from Washington is on.

ENCLOSED RADIATORS

Radiator enclosures add considerably to a room's beauty and comfort. In addition they serve as a protection for decorations which are likely to become streaked from air ascending from the radiators.

W. J. RILEY AMONG LEADING PLUMBERS OF MONROE AREA

W. J. Riley, local plumbing and heating contractor, with show rooms and warehouse located at 805 South Grand street, has enjoyed a phenomenal growth since the establishment of his business here in 1927.

This firm numbers among its major contracts such buildings as the Bastrop hotel, the Bastrop high school, the new field house and swimming pool at Louisiana State university at Baton Rouge, the Bernhardt building, Northeast Center of Louisiana State university, Neville high school, Hotel Frances, Hotel Alvis, Ouachita parish high school, and many of the finest homes in this locality.

An expert repair service is maintained at all times, the most competent journeymen plumbers being employed so as to give the best possible work that may be had today. Only the best in fixtures and repair parts will be found in the show room, as Mr. Riley believes that it never pays to sacrifice quality for price.

Under the terms of the national housing act, this concern is enabled to finance plumbing and heating jobs with no down payment and as long as three years to pay for the work. They will be glad to explain this plan and finance notes which requires no mortgage on the property whatever. Full details of this plan for the asking without any obligation can be had.

Danger Spots Demand Careful Consideration

First signs of decay may be already apparent in your home—a leaking roof, paint thirsty surfaces, sagging doors, rusted sheet metal. All these things unless remedied at once mean a rapid accumulation of expenses.

1. Does rain reach your wall paper? Perhaps there are loose shingles. Perhaps there is broken or missing slate, tile or other roofing material.
2. It may be the rafters that need inspection. Perhaps the frame of your house is resting on rotted beams. Look and see.
3. Does your porch roof leak? Canvas or metal decks over porches and bay windows may need repairing, or painting.
4. The trouble may be flashings—at some point on the roof.
5. Faulty gutters cause costly damage—and so do downspouts which need to be repaired or replaced.
6. Do you use your fireplace these cool Spring days? An ash dump may make a vast difference in the usefulness of the fireplace.
7. Is plaster spotted and cracked on walls and ceilings? Defective lath should be repaired—and worn plaster patched.
8. Are any of those little hexagon titles in your bathroom floor loose and coming out? If they are, call in a tile mason and let him fix them for you.
9. The floors uneven? Perhaps there are loose or broken boards in the flooring which need attention. New floors may be laid over worn ones—or floors may be refinished.

Inexpensive Method In Plank Floorings

Some new homes done in certain architectural style call for the use of random width plank flooring. This type of flooring is attractive, but because it is a little more costly than the ordinary oak flooring it is not practical for many of us. Here is the way to effect practically the same result with ordinary oak flooring.

When laying the new flooring, have the carpenter bevel the second, third or fourth board about an eighth of an inch, repeating the operation on the board immediately following. This makes a V-shaped joint randomly spaced four, six of eight inches apart, which, to the casual observer closely approximates the expensive random width flooring. At the end of each piece of flooring, cut a half inch circle with a blunt edged steel die and let the painter touch the inside of the circle with a paint a shade darker than that used on the rest of the floor. Thus you have pegs for this type of floor.

UNPAINTED FURNITURE

Unpainted wood furiture should be sandpapered light, primed with a paint consisting of three parts wall primer to one part of turpentine, and finished with two or more coats of some high grade enamel or lacquer.

FHA ANSWERS MANY QUERIES

Questions On Rural Participation In Program Given Ample Reply

Rural people of Louisiana desirous of modernizing their farmsteads under title one of the federal housing act will be interested in a set of questions and answers based on this activity, believes I. R. Bradshaw, farm representative, federal housing administration, who spoke in Monroe last Thursday before a group of farmers and farm workers. These questions are comprehensive and complete, states Mr. Bradshaw, and presuppose the general character of questions which will arise in the minds of potential borrowers. If further information is desired, the questioner should get in touch with the farm and home demonstration agents who are well posted on this subject. It is hoped that every rural Louisianian will avail himself of this plan, he said.

The questions and answers follow:

1. Who may apply? Any farm owner.

2. To whom do I apply? To any national bank, state bank or trust company, savings bank, industrial bank, building and loan association, production credit association, or any financial institution approved by the federal housing administration—or to a contractor or building supply dealer working with any of the above or with one of the many finance companies handling this type of business.

3. How much money may I apply for? Up to $2,000 for improvement on any one property.

4. May I borrow for work on more than one property? Yes, if your income permits.

5. How much time am I given to pay? From one to five years—at the discretion of the financial institution.

(a) At least one payment each year is required. If the note runs for several years, the later payments must not be larger than the earlier ones.

6. What assurance need I give?

(a) That the annual gross income, actual or sufficiently in prospect to satisfy the lender, of the signers of the note is at least five times the annual payments on the note.

(b) That your mortgage, if any, and your tax payments are in such standing that the lender is justified in making the loan.

(c) That you will use the proceeds solely for "improvement of real property."

7. May I take the maximum time allowed to pay back any size loan? The object is to arrange the time so that the loan is repaid at the earliest date consistent with the income of the borrower. No careful banker or prudent borrower will want the maximum time if it is not necessary—not will they approve a time arrangements which bears too heavily on the farm owner's income.

8. What security is required? The federal housing administration requires that you have an adequate income and good credit record. The individual lender's requirements vary, of course, with the type of institution making the loan and with the character of the loan itself.

9. What is the cost of this credit? The interest rate and other charges which a lender may make on any loan are matters of arrangement between the lender of the money and the farmer. These rates should be consistent with local conditions. However, the total charges including interest may not exceed the limit prescribed under the regulations of the federal housing administration, applying to all property whether of farm or urban character.

10. Must friends endorse my note? Co-signers (other than wife or husband) are neither prohibited nor required.

11. May the owner of any type property apply? Yes.

12. Must I use any particular kind of building materials? No. You choose your own workmen and materials.

13. May I borrow to buy improvements? Yes—if the equipment is "built-in or permanently attached."

14. Do I make any "down payment?" No.

15. Do I borrow money from the government? No. The government simply supplies the credit to the financial institution making the loan.

16. Where do I make payments? In person, by mail, or otherwise as arranged with the lending agency.

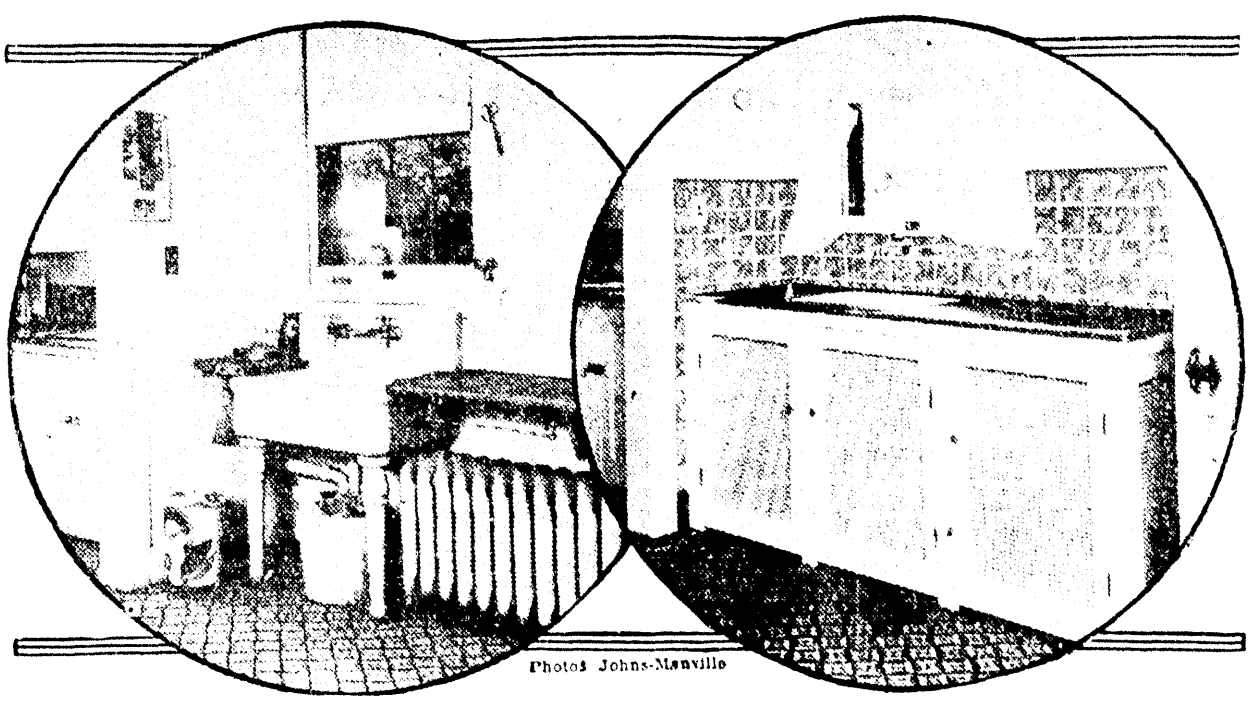
KITCHEN: BEFORE AND AFTER



Photos Johns-Manville

A modern kitchen is one of the most important rooms in the house. Here we see how Johns-Manville materials can be used to advantage by a homeowner at a slight cost, according to Mr. Ralph Gatlin of the Ritchie Grocery Co., local J-M dealer.

Asbestos flexboard has been applied right over the old surface, lending neatness and color. Made of asbestos fibers and portland cement it will last indefinitely and will not chip, warp or corrode. It comes in several soft, pastel colors in tile-scored and smooth sheets.

Following the popular trend the sink and radiator have been enclosed, improving the appearance of the room greatly and providing a convenient place for the storage of pails and pans. The Johns-Manville Deferred Payment Plan operating under the terms of the F. H. A., makes it possible to pay for such improvements in regular monthly installments.

Heat Loss Sources Should Be Studied

Four sources of heat loss—the roof, glass of the windows, cracks around doors and windows and faulty chimneys—must be given serious consideration if a satisfactory temperature is to be maintained throughout.

The roof loss is unquestionably the largest, but on the other hand is the easiest to remedy. Insulation is not only the proper solution but will in a few winters, pay for itself in fuel saving.

Infiltration and leakage around the doors and windows can be satisfactorily combated by weather stripping and calking. Storm sash will greatly reduce the loss of heat through the window glass. The west and north windows of every house should be equipped with storm sash.

If you are getting less heat out of your furnace despite the fact that you are burning more coal than in past years, your trouble may be found in your chimneys or flues. Cracked chimneys and leaky flues, it is claimed, are responsible for millions of tons of coal being wasted annually.

Solid brick work with smooth, sound joints of rich mortar make the strongest chimneys. The flues should be lined with fire clay or special flue tile.

Civil Service To Hold Examinations

The United States civil service commission has announced here, through Mrs. W. A. O'Kelly, secretary of the local civil service board of examiners, the following competitive examinations:

Range examiner, $3,800 a year, associate range examiner, $3,200 a year, assistant range examiner, $2,600 a year, geological survey.

Local inspector of boilers, $3,200 a year, local inspector of hulls, $3,200 a year, assistant inspector of boilers, $2,900 a year, assistant inspector of hulls $2,900 a year, bureau of navigation and steamboat inspection.

Full information may be obtained from Mrs. O'Kelly at the postoffice here.

What To Do This Week

1. Install dormer window or skylight to make attic space more useful.
2. Resurface old, worn floors with linoleum.
3. Replace old screens with more modern type such as outswinging or rollup.
4. Provide outside accessories such as window boxes, trellisses, lawn furniture and child's play house.
5. Bring home up to date by applying wood shingles, composition shingles, brick facing or stucco.

Correct Wall Colors Conserve Eye Sight

Wall color is closely allied to sight, according to the Better Vision Institute, which is devoting its energies to appraising the public of the urgent need for adequate lighting if eyes and eyesight are to be carefully conserved.

In undertaking home improvement projects, it is well to consider the natural lightness or darkness of a room before selecting a wall color. If a room is ordinarily very dark, it is wise to select a light and cheerful tint that will reflect and make the most of every ray of light that enters.

If a room has so many doors and windows that there is usually a brilliant glare reflected, a restful tone should be chosen that will absorb the excess light and soothe the eyes.

SINK REQUISITES

The sink that meets the maximum requirements of comfort is exactly the right height for the woman who will use it. Its surface is acid resisting and it will have a swinging central spout. There will be a good light over it.

Basements Made Into Recreation Facilities

The dismal depths of the old fashioned cellar or the basement underneath the southern homes have given place to a new American institution—the recreation room. People are taking advantage of the opportunities for obtaining loans made easy by the Better Housing Program to have their cellar walls and ceiling lined with insulating board. This attractive material is pleasing in appearance and sturdy in character. It costs little to install, and makes a perfect background for the informal furniture and decoration of the recreation room.

Call in your favorite carpenter and let him give you an estimate on what it would cost to do that work for you.

BUFFET CENTER DINING GROUP

A dining room group naturally centers around the buffet or cupboard. On either side of this may be placed chairs not in use around the table, and above it may be hung a mirror or a wall hanging or some picture of excellent quality. Whatever decoration is used on the buffet, be sure it is arranged carefully and artistically.

NEW WRINKLES

The most unusual item seen this week was the new wheel-away dinette set. This clever piece of furniture is a combination corner cupboard and dining table on wheels. Ideal for the small kitchenette apartment, it stands in an out-of-the way corner as a four-shelved receptacle for dishes and other table ware. When wanted for use as a table, the four shelves cleverly fold together forming a sturdy tabletop large enough to accommodate six people.

The kitchen has become a music room. An effort to make this room inviting as possible is being made by at least one national stove manufacturer.

At the furniture show this year, the style trend in furniture was toward the Modern. This type of design was much more in evidence than the Period style. The stylists, however, are using restraint striking a happy medium between the extreme Modern and the conventional Period.

A practical improvement was the three-cornered sink strainer made of heavy green rubber. This type of strainer will not scratch, mar or stain the sink.

An interesting development in the plumbing field is the new steel plumbing fixtures. Covered with acid resisting porcelain and available in colors or plain white, they weigh about one third the weight of cast iron thereby offering greater convenience for handling and installation. Contrary to usual procedure, they will also be sold through department stores.

A new safety device is the rubber bath grip. This is a flat rubber mat that covers the bottom of the bath tub, offering safe footing for the timorous bather.

For those who take their bathing luxuriously there was a spongy, rubber pillow—truly a boon to the reclining bather.

Why not have an attractive looking cellar as well as a dry one?

The waterproofer is a two- -one product made up of a liquid vehicle which penetrates and seals the pores of the wall material and an aluminum base which sets and forms a solid sheet of metal over the surface.

Here is a pleasant exterior indication of inward hospitality. Literally, the latch string is out. For a door knocker, this home owner hung a heavy six inch iron ring holding four or five heavy keys in the place generally accorded the conventional type knocker. It serves as a decorative, individual appointment.

Everyone likes plants and flowers some where in the house. Select a sunny window and mount on brackets several glass shelves far enough apart to allow for growing plants. This makes an ideal resting place for decorative plants and flowers in their gayly colored pots and vases.

Oil Cloth Practical For New Decorations

New colors and patterns for oil cloth have all added greatly to this material's useful possibilities. Oil cloth can be hung like wall paper and certain appropriate designs make excellent wall coverings for nurseries. Because of its washable qualities, smudges and finger prints that childish fingers make can be instantly removed. Some clever decorators are using it to cover the pads that they put on children's nursery chairs. Other patterns, particularly the plaids and checks, are excellent for use on kitchen walls. Window shades can be made of this material and because it is inexpensive, they may be changed frequently. Screens for nursery, bathroom or kitchen when covered with this material are very attractive.

BRICK EASY TO TEST

If you wish to know whether you are getting good brick or not, make this simple test. Pick out from the pile of samples to which you wish to put this test, then by striking them together sharply, holding them by the ends you will find the answer. The well burned brick will ring as clearly as a piece of metal when brought into sharp contact.

What To Do This Week

1. Install dormer window or skylight to make attic space more useful.
2. Resurface old, worn floors with linoleum.
3. Replace old screens with more modern type such as outswinging or rollup.
4. Provide outside accessories such as window boxes, trellisses, lawn furniture and child's play house.
5. Bring home up to date by applying wood shingles, composition shingles, brick facing or stucco.

Correct Wall Colors Conserve Eye Sight

Wall color is closely allied to sight, according to the Better Vision Institute, which is devoting its energies to appraising the public of the urgent need for adequate lighting if eyes and eyesight are to be carefully conserved.

In undertaking home improvement projects, it is well to consider the natural lightness or darkness of a room before selecting a wall color. If a room is ordinarily very dark, it is wise to select a light and cheerful tint that will reflect and make the most of every ray of light that enters.

If a room has so many doors and windows that there is usually a brilliant glare reflected, a restful tone should be chosen that will absorb the excess light and soothe the eyes.

SINK REQUISITES

The sink that meets the maximum requirements of comfort is exactly the right height for the woman who will use it. Its surface is acid resisting and it will have a swinging central spout. There will be a good light over it.

Basements Made Into Recreation Facilities

The dismal depths of the old fashioned cellar or the basement underneath the southern homes have given place to a new American institution—the recreation room. People are taking advantage of the opportunities for obtaining loans made easy by the Better Housing Program to have their cellar walls and ceiling lined with insulating board. This attractive material is pleasing in appearance and sturdy in character. It costs little to install, and makes a perfect background for the informal furniture and decoration of the recreation room.

Call in your favorite carpenter and let him give you an estimate on what it would cost to do that work for you.

BUFFET CENTER DINING GROUP

A dining room group naturally centers around the buffet or cupboard. On either side of this may be placed chairs not in use around the table, and above it may be hung a mirror or a wall hanging or some picture of excellent quality. Whatever decoration is used on the buffet, be sure it is arranged carefully and artistically.

NEW WRINKLES

The most unusual item seen this week was the new wheel-away dinette set. This clever piece of furniture is a combination corner cupboard and dining table on wheels. Ideal for the small kitchenette apartment, it stands in an out-of-the way corner as a four-shelved receptacle for dishes and other table ware. When wanted for use as a table, the four shelves cleverly fold together forming a sturdy tabletop large enough to accommodate six people.

The kitchen has become a music room. An effort to make this room inviting as possible is being made by at least one national stove manufacturer.

At the furniture show this year, the style trend in furniture was toward the Modern. This type of design was much more in evidence than the Period style. The stylists, however, are using restraint striking a happy medium between the extreme Modern and the conventional Period.

A practical improvement was the three-cornered sink strainer made of heavy green rubber. This type of strainer will not scratch, mar or stain the sink.

An interesting development in the plumbing field is the new steel plumbing fixtures. Covered with acid resisting porcelain and available in colors or plain white, they weigh about one third the weight of cast iron thereby offering greater convenience for handling and installation. Contrary to usual procedure, they will also be sold through department stores.

A new safety device is the rubber bath grip. This is a flat rubber mat that covers the bottom of the bath tub, offering safe footing for the timorous bather.

For those who take their bathing luxuriously there was a spongy, rubber pillow—truly a boon to the reclining bather.

Why not have an attractive looking cellar as well as a dry one?

The waterproofer is a two-in-one product made up of a liquid vehicle which penetrates and seals the pores of the wall material and an aluminum base which sets and forms a solid sheet of metal over the surface.

Here is a pleasant exterior indication of inward hospitality. Literally, the latch string is out. For a door knocker, this home owner hung a heavy six inch iron ring holding four or five heavy keys in the place generally accorded the conventional type knocker. It serves as a decorative, individual appointment.

Everyone likes plants and flowers some where in the house. Select a sunny window and mount on brackets several glass shelves far enough apart to allow for growing plants. This makes an ideal resting place for decorative plants and flowers in their gayly colored pots and vases.

Oil Cloth Practical For New Decorations

New colors and patterns for oil cloth have all added greatly to this material's useful possibilities. Oil cloth can be hung like wall paper and certain appropriate designs make excellent wall coverings for nurseries. Because of its washable qualities, smudges and finger prints that childish fingers make can be instantly removed. Some clever decorators are using it to cover the pads that they put on children's nursery chairs. Other patterns, particularly the plaids and checks, are excellent for use on kitchen walls. Window shades can be made of this material and because it is inexpensive, they may be changed frequently. Screens for nursery, bathroom or kitchen when covered with this material are very attractive.

BRICK EASY TO TEST

If you wish to know whether you are getting good brick or not, make this simple test. Pick out from the pile of samples to which you wish to put this test, then by striking them together sharply, holding them by the ends you will find the answer. The well burned brick will ring as clearly as a piece of metal when brought into sharp contact.

Across The Breakfast Coffee Cups

A certain Monroe physician relates that in the early days of his career when he was a struggling young doctor in a rural community, he was called to administer to a woman critically ill. Her case seemed hopeless. The members of the family had gathered about her bedside to comfort her during her last hours.

Calling the husband to one side the doctor said, "Your wife is very ill. She cannot live."

"You mean she's going to die!" exclaimed the husband.

"Yes," replied the doctor sorrowfully.

With this the wife opened her eyes, raised up in bed and protested weakly, "No I ain't!"

"Lie down, Mary," returned the husband quickly, "the doctor knows best!"

But Mary didn't die.

Business And Professional Women Conclude Observance Of National Business Week

In keeping with the observance of National Business and Professional Women's week, local members have entered into the spirit of the national organization and the past few days have been filled with interesting affairs.

Opening the week with services at the First Christian church, the intervening days have been busy ones for the members.

On Tuesday evening the public relations banquet was given at the club house. On Wednesday evening members entertained with an open house affair for the Y. W. C. A. girls. Spring flowers added a festive note to the affair and games and stunts were enjoyed during the evening.

Iced tea, canapes and cakes were served to the guests in the dining room. The dining table covered with yellow damask was centered with an oblong centerpiece of colorful spring flowers, iris, jonquils and spirea. Among the guests on this occasion were Miss Era Osterland, Miss Johnnie Clay Harris, Miss Helen Thompson, Miss Rubie Dot Oliver, Miss Mary Beck, Miss Ida Rose Strohm, Miss Monique Coates, Mrs. S. L. Allen, Miss Velma Crawford, Miss Johnnie Gregory, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. R. N. Slator, Miss Elsie Johnson, Miss Dorothy Proffitt, Miss Vivian Jarvis, Mrs. Mary Baily.

Thursday evening Mrs. Johnnie Smith Elbert assisted by Miss Florence Powers was the charming hostess at a bingo party at her home on Roselawn. Spring flowers were used in artistic arrangement throughout the reception suite. A delicious refreshment course was served the guests at the conclusion of the games. Following are the guests enjoying the affair: Miss Mary O'Kelly, Miss Mae Johnson, Miss Hazel Wakefield, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. Dora Anish, Miss May Read, Miss Mamie Ober, Miss Mae McIntosh, Mrs. Lola Lanius, Miss Bernice Wright, Mrs. Jennie Thornton, Mrs. Lillie Arant, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Slator and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baily.

Miss Frances Fowler entertained a few friends informally at her home Friday night. Dancing was the diversion of the evening and during the intermission refreshments were served to the following guests: Miss Bonnie Burden, Clyde Culver, Miss Jonnie Edwards, H. L. Collins, Miss Marjorie Williamson, Adams Causey, Miss Opal Curry, Charles Taylor, Miss Anne Gannaway, Billie Gannaway, Miss Faith Knapp, Miss Olla Mae Fayson, Dickie Eason, Frances Fowler and Bob Staples.

Yes, the time has most certainly come to talk gayly of cabbages and kings and many other things . . . Of the approaching Easter tide, for instance, with its white cathedral candles, fashion parade, fragrant lilies on altars . . . We might talk also of Mae Wooten home from the blazing Azalea Trail to Mobile and the Garden club meeting in New Orleans . . . she is so enraptured with the very thought of seeing Monroe enveloped in a sea of heavenly blue that she is not only urging but imploring, almost on bended knee, every family in Monroe to plant blue morning glories over every fence, every telephone pole and in fact over every object that morning glories will beautify. . . . In the colloquialism of the day, "let's give Mae a big hand" . . . for the price of a package of seeds we will be able to enjoy a feast of the soul every morning during the long, hot summer months. . . . The Persian poet, Sadi of Shiraz, said, "Had I two loaves one would I sell and buy white hyacinth to feed my soul" . . . If we had two loaves we would most certainly sell one for a package of blue morning glories . . . in this case, however, we would be able to keep both loaves as morning glory seeds cost so little. . . . Saw Frances Browning, glowing and vibrant and as busy as the proverbial bee, dashing around town in the interest of the College Theater Guild . . . she is president you know and feels a sense of responsibility in sponsoring the Shakespearean plays to be presented at the college auditorium on the twenty-ninth and thirtieth. . . . India Stubb's trousseau contains several knitted suits, one in particular of light tan is worn with brown accessories . . . All's quiet socially until April the twenty-first when the Easter parade will usher in (we hope) a gala post-Lenten season . . . Of course India Stubbs is claiming the social spotlight regardless of the Lenten season and will continue to do so until the sixth of April when she walks altarward . . . the thought of not seeing India in the old familiar haunts after her marriage renders her friends disconsolate . . . Scintillating at the Lakeside Country club Saturday night where the company of Mexican musicians poured out their souls in music were Sue Graves and Ellen Kent Millsaps in smart black evening models . . . An attractive figure on horseback these days is Jennie Hanna . . . the lovely pallor of her skin is taking on a most becoming coat of tan . . . Have you ever thought how very much like a cradled baby half waking from dewy sleep is the month of March in Louisiana? . . . It is a grand month and even attracts the aged, rebelling at chimney corners and slippers, out-of-doors to see how much longer Spring will delay . . . the warm sun's rays reaches with slim fingers down into their hearts and stirs old forgotten memories, fragrant with the scent of wisteria, wild honeysuckle . . . by the way the wild honeysuckle will soon be blooming beside cool, shadowy bayous deep in the forest, known only to those who love its perfume, its glorious color and its breath of the woodland. Springtime and wild honeysuckle time go hand in hand in this section of Louisiana . . .unless you have buried your face in the sweet fragrance of these woodland flowers you have missed something infinitely beautiful.

Friends of little Jane Shea will be glad to know that she is recuperating nicely after a recent illness.

Miss McLaurin Is Honoree At Bridge Affairs

Among the delightful affairs given during the past week for Miss Sidney McLaurin, lovely sister of Mrs. Vaughan Fields, was the charmingly planned bridge at the home of Mrs. Fields on Auburn avenue Friday afternoon.

Purple iris and yellow jonquils were employed in the decorative scheme used in the living rooms where the tables for bridge were grouped.

At the conclusion of the games Miss McLaurin was presented with a lovely collar set for the guest's prize and Mrs. J. B. Lamkin received linen finger towels for high score. A delectable salad course was served to the following guests: Mrs. Clark Duncan, Mrs. Jack Rogers, Mrs. Ronald Lee Davis, Mrs. Gordon Wright, Mrs. D. Y. Smith, Mrs. Harold Dixon, Mrs. Edgar Florsheim, Mrs. J. B. Lamkin, Mrs. George Trousdale, Mrs. Nathan Gaston, Mrs. Ralph King and Miss Sidney McLaurin.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Robert McCoy was hostess at bridge honoring Miss McLaurin. Bowls of snapdragons and iris created a lovely setting for this charming occasion. After an enjoyable afternoon of bridge the guest of honor was presented with a beautiful compact. A refreshing frozen fruit salad course was served to the following guests: Miss Sidney McLaurin, Mrs. Vaughan Fields, Mrs. Romaine Peters, Mrs. Cecil Jarrell, Mrs. Richard Kellogg, Miss Olive Leigh Myatt, Miss Getrtrude Hart, Mrs. Ted Allen, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, Mrs. W. A. Walker, Jr., Mrs. R. L. Davis and Mrs. Ford Pipes.

Mrs. Collins Hostess At Buffet Supper

A delightful affair was enjoyed last week when Mrs. S. A. Collins entertained with a charmingly planned buffet supper complimentary to Miss Helene Wattrous who has been the lovely guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vaughan.

Giant yellow daffodils centered the beautifully appointed dining table and an appetizing buffet supper of devilled oysters, moulded salad, pickles, potato chips, hot rolls, doughnuts and coffee was served to the following guests: Miss Helene Wattrous, Miss India Stubbs, Miss Mary Bonita Allen, Mrs. James Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Scott Hamilton, Miss Mary Louise O'Donnell, Dr. Fred Vaughan, Dr. Morgan Simonton, Dr. Prentice Gray, Mr. James Trousdale, Jr., and Mr. Charles Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lay and Mrs. Gilly Campbell of Shreveport are the attractive week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reid of West Monroe.

Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn Praised In Recent Review Given By 'Musical Digest'

Monroe friends of Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn, now in Europe continuing her vocal studies, will be interested in a review given by "Musical Digest," one of the foremost American magazines devoted to that phase of cultural activities, in which Miss Biedenharn is given high praise for the quality of her rich contralto voice as demonstrated in her recent recital in Town Hall, New York. The review which was accompaned by a characteristic photograph of Miss Biedenharn, follows:

"When simplicity is joined to sincerity in song, and there is added the effectiveness of a gorgeous contralto voice and an intelligent musical understanding the sum total is usually large. It proved to be so in the recent recital of Emy-Lou Biedenharn, the young singer from the south whose New York debut last season came as a fitting climax to an extended and eminently successful tour of Europe. Miss Biedenharn confirmed the fine impression of a few months ago. She showed that she had turned the intervening months to advantage, for it was singing of the highest order one heard—in beauty of voice, depicting of the composers' moods, and in poise and a direct, unaffected style. There were songs in Finnish as well as classics sung in German and English selections. The large audience was enthusiastic. Coenraad Boss was a splendid accompanist."

Y.W.C.A. Girl Reserves Live Organization

One of the most interesting organizations for girls in Monroe is that of the Girl Reserves sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. of this city. Members of the Girl Reserves are chosen from high school students and great care is exercised in their selection.

The prospective members are passed upon by a committee of Girl Reserves with their counselor. They must maintain a high scholastic record and be a member of a church. They are permitted to neither smoke nor drink. The objective of the organization is to develop the girls spiritually, physically and mentally. Interesting as well as instructive programs are outlined for their meetings, and camps, hikes and swimming parties are enjoyed by the members.

Miss Belle Lindsey is the sponsor for the senior group of the Ouachita parish high school. This organization holds a meeting the first Tuesday of each month when a program supper is enjoyed. The program followed this year is a discussion of "Women of the Bible" in which every girl is expected to take part.

The Junior Girl Reserves of the parish high school entertained last Friday night with an open house affair at the Y. W. C. A. with the Hi-Y boys guests. About thirty girls, all members of the Girl Reserves were hostesses on this occasion assisted by their sponsor, Miss Roy Cole.

White flowers with green foliage were used in artistic profusion accenting the St. Patrick motif employed in every detail of the affair.

The Junior Girl Reserves of the Neville high school meet the first Wednesday night of each month with Miss Robbie Lee Hanna, sponsor. Travel talks are enjoyed by the members of this group. Miss Beryl Madison was the speaker of the evening at the last meeting, describing her trip through Spain and Morocco.

Mrs. Austin Miller is the counselor for the Senior Girl Reserves of the Neville high school. The next meeting of this group will be held Tuesday evening, when a program and supper will be enjoyed.

Social Calendar For Past Week Filled With Lovely Affairs For Miss Stubbs

Beautifully planned affairs honoring Miss India Stubbs have crowded upon each other so thick and so fast that members of the bridal party along with their hosts of friends have been in one mad whirl during the past few weeks.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Miriam McGimsey entertained for Miss Stubbs with a shower, when the honoree was the recipient of a number of lovely as well as useful gifts. Purple and white iris were used in effective profusion throughout the living rooms where the guests were entertained during the afternoon. Enjoying this happy affair were:

Miss India Stubbs, Mrs. Guy Stubbs, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Miss Adelia Sandel, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps, Mrs. Charles Womack, Mrs. Hayden Cutler, Mrs. James Trousdale, Jr., Miss Leigh Russell and Miss Mary Bonita Allen.

Saturday morning Miss Nona Louise Smith and Miss Anna Laurie Smith were lovely young hostesses when they entertained Miss Stubbs' bridal attendants with a charmingly appointed breakfast at the Frances hotel.

A basket of snapdragons in pastel shades centered the breakfast table and bridal place cards marked the places of the guests.

During the morning the hostesses presented Miss Stubbs with a beautiful rose point crystal relish plate wrapped in white tissue and tied with pastel ribbons.

Guests on this occasion were Miss India Stubbs, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Miss Ann Platt, Miss Adelia Sandel, Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, Miss Anna Laurie Smith and Miss Nona Louise Smith.

Mrs. H. R. Speed and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft entertained for Miss Stubbs yesterday with a beautifully appointed luncheon at the home of Mrs. Speed on Pine street.

Recreation Workers To Meet Here

Prominent among the events scheduled for the coming week will be the round table conference held by the recreation workers of the Southwest Districa National Recreation association, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Virginia hotel.

Delegates from Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and Kansas will attend the meeting and will include mayors of some of the leading cities of the district, recreation superintendents, F. E. R. A. delegates, superintendents of education, superintendents and commissioners of streets and parks, as well as delegates from community councils and Parent-Teacher associations.

The sessions will be opened with a reception Thursday evening on the mezzanine floor of the Virginia hotel. On Friday a ladies' gym class will be conducted and Louisiana refreshments will be served. Mrs. Blanche Oliver will present several numbers on this occasion which promises to be one of more than usual enjoyment.

Eswald Pettet, district representative of the National Recreation association, will preside at the session Friday morning and Miss Corine Fonde, superintendent of recreation, Houston, Texas, will speak on "Specialized Activities and Facilities," during the round table discussion.

All's quiet socially until April the twenty-first when the Easter parade will usher in (we hope) a gala post-Lenten season . . . Of course India Stubbs is claiming the social spotlight regardless of the Lenten season and will continue to do so until the sixth of April when she walks altarward . . . the thought of not seeing India in the old familiar haunts after her marriage renders her friends disconsolate . . . Scintillating at the Lakeside Country club Saturday night where the company of Mexican musicians poured out their souls in music were Sue Graves and Ellen Kent Millsaps in smart black evening models . . . An attractive figure on horseback these days is Jennie Hanna . . . the lovely pallor of her skin is taking on a most becoming coat of tan . . . Have you ever thought how very much like a cradled baby half waking from dewy sleep is the month of March in Louisiana? . . . It is a grand month and even attracts the aged, rebelling at chimney corners and slippers, out-of-doors to see how much longer Spring will delay . . . the warm sun's rays reaches with slim fingers down into their hearts and stirs old forgotten memories, fragrant with the scent of wisteria, wild honeysuckle . . . by the way the wild honeysuckle will soon be blooming beside cool, shadowy bayous deep in the forest, known only to those who love its perfume, its glorious color and its breath of the woodland. Springtime and wild honeysuckle time go hand in hand in this section of Louisiana . . .unless you have buried your face in the sweet fragrance of these woodland flowers you have missed something infinitely beautiful.

Friends of little Jane Shea will be glad to know that she is recuperating nicely after a recent illness.

Miss McLaurin Is Honoree At Bridge Affairs

Among the delightful affairs given during the past week for Miss Sidney McLaurin, lovely sister of Mrs. Vaughan Fields, was the charmingly planned bridge at the home of Mrs. Fields on Auburn avenue Friday afternoon.

Purple iris and yellow jonquils were employed in the decorative scheme used in the living rooms where the tables for bridge were grouped.

At the conclusion of the games Miss McLaurin was presented with a lovely collar set for the guest's prize and Mrs. J. B. Lamkin received linen finger towels for high score. A delectable salad course was served to the following guests: Mrs. Clark Duncan, Mrs. Jack Rogers, Mrs. Ronald Lee Davis, Mrs. Gordon Wright, Mrs. D. Y. Smith, Mrs. Harold Dixon, Mrs. Edgar Florsheim, Mrs. J. B. Lamkin, Mrs. George Trousdale, Mrs. Nathan Gaston, Mrs. Ralph King and Miss Sidney McLaurin.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Robert McCoy was hostess at bridge honoring Miss McLaurin. Bowls of snapdragons and iris created a lovely setting for this charming occasion. After an enjoyable afternoon of bridge the guest of honor was presented with a beautiful compact. A refreshing frozen fruit salad course was served to the following guests: Miss Sidney McLaurin, Mrs. Vaughan Fields, Mrs. Romaine Peters, Mrs. Cecil Jarrell, Mrs. Richard Kellogg, Miss Olive Leigh Myatt, Miss Getrtrude Hart, Mrs. Ted Allen, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, Mrs. W. A. Walker, Jr., Mrs. R. L. Davis and Mrs. Ford Pipes.

Mrs. Collins Hostess At Buffet Supper

A delightful affair was enjoyed last week when Mrs. S. A. Collins entertained with a charmingly planned buffet supper complimentary to Miss Helene Wattrous who has been the lovely guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vaughan.

Giant yellow daffodils centered the beautifully appointed dining table and an appetizing buffet supper of devilled oysters, moulded salad, pickles, potato chips, hot rolls, doughnuts and coffee was served to the following guests: Miss Helene Wattrous, Miss India Stubbs, Miss Mary Bonita Allen, Mrs. James Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Scott Hamilton, Miss Mary Louise O'Donnell, Dr. Fred Vaughan, Dr. Morgan Simonton, Dr. Prentice Gray, Mr. James Trousdale, Jr., and Mr. Charles Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lay and Mrs. Gilly Campbell of Shreveport are the attractive week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reid of West Monroe.

Monroe friends of Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn, now in Europe continuing her vocal studies, will be interested in a review given by "Musical Digest," one of the foremost American magazines devoted to that phase of cultural activities, in which Miss Biedenharn is given high praise for the quality of her rich contralto voice as demonstrated in her recent recital in Town Hall, New York. The review whch was accompaned by a characteristic photograph of Miss Biedenharn, follows:

"When simplicity is joined to sincerity in song, and there is added the effectiveness of a gorgeous contralto voice and an intelligent musical understanding the sum total is usually large. It proved to be so in the recent recital of Emy-Lou Biedenharn, the young singer from the south whose New York debut last season came as a fitting climax to an extended and eminently successful tour of Europe. Miss Biedenharn confirmed the fine impression of a few months ago. She showed that she had turned the intervening months to advantage, for it was singing of the highest order one heard—in beauty of voice, depicting of the composers' moods, and in poise and a direct, unaffected style. There were songs in Finnish as well as classics sung in German and English selections. The large audience was enthusiastic. Coenraad Boss was a splendid accompanist."

Y.W.C.A. Girl Reserves Live Organization

One of the most interesting organizations for girls in Monroe is that of the Girl Reserves sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. of this city. Members of the Girl Reserves are chosen from high school students and great care is exercised in their selection.

The prospective members are passed upon by a committee of Girl Reserves with their counselor. They must maintain a high scholastic record and be a member of a church. They are permitted to neither smoke nor drink. The objective of the organization is to develop the girls spiritually, physically and mentally. Interesting as well as instructive programs are outlined for their meetings, and camps, hikes and swimming parties are enjoyed by the members.

Miss Belle Lindsey is the sponsor for the senior group of the Ouachita parish high school. This organization holds a meeting the first Tuesday of each month when a program supper is enjoyed. The program followed this year is a discussion of "Women of the Bible" in which every girl is expected to take part.

The Junior Girl Reserves of the parish high school entertained last Friday night with an open house affair at the Y. W. C. A. with the Hi-Y boys guests. About thirty girls, all members of the Girl Reserves were hostesses on this occasion assisted by their sponsor, Miss Roy Cole.

White flowers with green foliage were used in artistic profusion accenting the St. Patrick motif employed in every detail of the affair.

The Junior Girl Reserves of the Neville high school meet the first Wednesday night of each month with Miss Robbie Lee Hanna, sponsor. Travel talks are enjoyed by the members of this group. Miss Beryl Madison was the speaker of the evening at the last meeting, describing her trip through Spain and Morrocco.

Mrs. Austin Miller is the counselor for the Senior Girl Reserves of the Neville high school. The next meeting of this group will be held Tuesday evening, when a program and supper will be enjoyed.

Beautifully planned affairs honoring Miss India Stubbs have crowded upon each other so thick and so fast that members of the bridal party along with their hosts of friends have been in one mad whirl during the past few weeks.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Miriam McGimsey entertained for Miss Stubbs with a shower, when the honoree was the recipient of a number of lovely as well as useful gifts. Purple and white iris were used in effective profusion throughout the living rooms where the guests were entertained during the afternoon. Enjoying this happy affair were:

Miss India Stubbs, Mrs. Guy Stubbs, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Miss Adelia Sandel, Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps, Mrs. Charles Womack, Mrs. Hayden Cutler, Mrs. James Trousdale, Jr., Miss Leigh Russell and Miss Mary Bonita Allen.

Saturday morning Miss Nona Louise Smith and Miss Anna Laurie Smith were lovely young hostesses when they entertained Miss Stubbs' bridal attendants with a charmingly appointed breakfast at the Frances hotel.

A basket of snapdragons in pastel shades centered the breakfast table and bridal place cards marked the places of the guests.

Guests on this occasion were Miss India Stubbs, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Miss Ann Platt, Miss Adelia Sandel, Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, Miss Anna Laurie Smith and Miss Nona Louise Smith.

Mrs. H. R. Speed and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft entertained for Miss Stubbs yesterday with a beautifully appointed luncheon at the home of Mrs. Speed on Pine street.

Recreation Workers To Meet Here

Prominent among the events scheduled for the coming week will be the round table conference held by the recreation workers of the Southwest Districa National Recreation association, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Virginia hotel.

Delegates from Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas and Kansas will attend the meeting and will include mayors of some of the leading cities of the district, recreation superintendents, F. E. R. A. delegates, superintendents of education, superintendents and commissioners of streets and parks, as well as delegates from community councils and Parent-Teacher associations.

The sessions will be opened with a reception Thursday evening on the mezzanine floor of the Virginia hotel. On Friday a ladies' gym class will be conducted and Louisiana refreshments will be served. Mrs. Blanche Oliver will present several numbers on this occasion which promises to be one of more than usual enjoyment.

Eswald Pettet, district representative of the National Recreation association, will preside at the session Friday morning and Miss Corine Fonde, superintendent of recreation, Houston, Texas, will speak on "Specialized Activities and Facilities," during the round table discussion.

Synthetic Straws Bring The Newest Notes In Hats

Fuzzy finished straw fabrics strike a new note

It was up to synthetic straws to add variety to the straw hat situation, and they have done a very satisfactory job of it. Surfaces are dull or shiny, but the most exciting interest is in weaves. There are ribs, criss crosses, herringbone patterns and raised dot effects. Some synthetic straws are smooth finish and others are very rough—but they all have a tendency to look like fabric in the sense of looking woven and because they are so supple. This suppleness makes them adaptable to draping and all sorts of intricate detail. The result is, that the synthetic straw hat has a great deal in its favor as a change from baku, ballibuntl and toyo. As an "extra" hat synthetic straws furnish a wide choice to pep up your hat wardrobe as something "different." Don't confuse synthetic straws with those brittle cellophanes that we endured some time ago. There's no danger of your new bonnet "cracking up" on its first outing if it is one of the new synthetics. They'll stand any amount of tugging and crushing without showing any wear or tear.

HOME INDUSTRY

Everybody seems to be knitting but in case you have escaped, at least you sew. Perhaps you not only sew when absolutely necessary—buttons, snappers and chores like that.

If you knit, you will want one of those tall knitting "boxes" that hold quantities of wool and cheerfully "swallow" fourteen inch knitting needles. They are oval and resemble umbrella stands with lids. A little groove cut in the side allows the wool to escape without leaving the lid off. The whole contraption has a cord handle for easy carrying. Ask for them in cardboard or fabric covered versions at your pet notion department. You will find equally attractive sewing boxes with a hinged cover and inside pockets for "needle, thread and thimble, too."

Lambda Kappa Club Entertained Wednesday

Members of the Lambda Kappa club and a large number of guests were delightfully entertained by Miss Robbie Binion as hostess, at the home of Mrs. W. L. Jones on Wednesday afternoon, March 20th, at 3:30 o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. L. Walton, who conducted a brief business session, after which the guests enjoyed a well planned program, arranged by Miss Lavalle Calhoun, on prints, etchings and steel engravings.

The first speaker, Mrs. J. C. Salmon, gave some high lights on art. Miss Calhoun had on display a splendid collection of pictures illustrating, in a most instructive way, each type of art, showing a thorough knowledge of her subject as her listeners revelled in the enchanting atmosphere, which is the inspiration of art, as well as music and poetry.

Mrs. Robert Whatley, in her usual charming manner, gave a most colorful description of "The Lady of Godey's"—Sarah Joseph Hale, whose outstanding success as a business woman should tempt any modern business or professional woman to adopt some of her methods.

St. Patrick was commemorated by the luncheon appointments, adding a color note which gave a very pleasing effect. Next meeting will be with Mrs. H. J. Stodghill, on March 27th.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian auxiliary was held Tuesday in church parlors, Mrs. Alexander Morrice presiding. Mrs. W. B. Moore gave the devotional.

For the giving of the annual reports a church surrounded with flowers was placed on a table. Hanging just behind the church was a map of the world and topping the world was a copy of the Bible. As each cause secretary told of her special work for the year, a ribbon was linked up with the church.

The foreign mission secretary, Mrs. H. L. Gregg, linked her ribbon to the six countries, Africa, Brazil, China, Japan, Korea and Mexico, where Presbyterian churches have mission work.

Secretary of Christian educational and ministerial relief, Mrs. Walter McGee, linked her ribbon from church to schools and colleges.

Mr. Robert McGehee spoke on work of young people, telling of the summer conferences for young people, members of auxiliary and men of the church to be held in Clinton, La., in June and July. Mrs. Timmons from Atlanta and Miss Elizabeth Shields from Richmond will both speak at the leadership conference.

Mrs. W. B. Moore, secretary of spiritual life, gave an interesting report, followed by a discussion by Mrs. Sidney Stroud, pastor's aid, relative to the work accomplished by the ladies of the church.

Mrs. Morrice in closing praised the women for work done and the help given by each in linking the work they were doing with the church.

The circles for next year were then announced and after presenting Mrs. Morrice with a beautiful silver vase from members of the congregation in recognition of her faithful efforts for the past four years, a very impressive installation service was given by Mr. E. D. Holloway, installing the following for next year's work:

President, Mrs. C. A. Nenney; vice president, Mrs. W. M. Harper; recording secretary, Mrs. W. J. Kirby; treasurer, Mrs. O. M. Arnette; historian, Mrs. Harry Bailey; circle chairman, Mrs. Louis Hullum, Mrs. R. B. Garrison, Mrs. Sidney Stroud, Mrs. Alexander Morrice, Mrs. W. E. Reagan, Mrs. O. W. Brown, Mrs. O. M. Arnette, counselor for business women.

Secretaries of causes; Mrs. M. M. Cragan, secretary of foreign mission; Mrs. S. L. Digby, secretary home missions; Mrs. J. G. Durrett, secretary of C. E. and M. R.; Mrs. E. R. Strahan, secretary of synodical and Presbyterial home missions; Mrs. O. R. Brouer, secretary of literature; Mrs. E. D. Holloway, secretary of religious education; Mrs. L. C. McGuire, secretary of Christian social service; Mrs W. B. Moore, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. D. M. Moore, pastor's aid secretary, and Mrs. F. L. Allison, social activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holloway of Memphis, Tenn., are enjoying a visit this week in the home of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parker Holloway.

Shoes Will Be 'Air-Conditioned' For Spring Wear

Perforations and cut-outs "air condition" the new shoes and are also effective trimming details. All trimming is styled to give a streamline silhouette, which is both smart and flattering. Your foot won't look a bit longer, but it will look narrower. White piping livens up dark shoes, and is practically a necessity for navy shoes. And navy shoes, by the way, are positively a necessity if you have a navy costume. The navy shoe has steadily gained in importance and has long since ceased to be a novelty "costume" shoe. It lines up solidly now with black and brown, and is an established spring shoe fashion.

High cut is just about the most important thing about the new silhouette. Oxfords ride well up over the instep, and all the strap shoes, including T-straps, carry their straps high. Even operas have a new high cut, which is cut so skillfully that it increases the comfort and fit of this classic shoe fashion that everyone admires, but some claim they cannot wear. Forget any old time prejudices about opera pumps and indulge in a pair for spring. You can be fitted perfectly to opera pumps this season and praise them every step of the way.

There are "bright spots" in the spring shoe picture, too. The real news is that red is gaining in importance. There just isn't anything gayer than little red shoes, and if they're one of your suppressed desires, grab this opportunity to proudly possess red shoes. You really can be proud, because red shoes are definitely smart for spring. There's clipper blue, too, which is bright and very new.

Plantations And Gardens Of The Deep South Will Be Open To Public Next Month

If you would like to enrich your mind with the historical lore and feed your soul with the beauty of old plantations of the "Tidewater" section of the deep south, let us suggest that you join the memorial pilgrimage sponsored by a group of Texas club women for the thirty-first of March. The proceeds from the tour will go toward the purchase of and restoration of one of the country's finest and most historical mansions Stratford Hall, Virginia, the birthplace of General Robert E. Lee.

A trip which offers inducement to the many who are visited by spring fever at this season and long to experience an "enchanted April" in some fair garden spot is being organized at the present time by a group of energetic and enthusiastic Texas club women. Under the leadership of Mrs. Lee Davis, Texas director of the Robert E. Lee memorial foundation, representatives of five national women's organizations in Texas are sponsoring a memorial pilgrimage to the old plantations of Texas and Louisiana the proceeds of the tour to go toward the purchase and restoration of one of the country's finest and most historical mansions, Stratford Hall, Virginia, the birthplace of General Robert E. Lee.

Five years ago a small group of women, which has since been augmented by state directors with committees in thirty-eight states, began the work of saving from decay and destruction the famous home of the Lees which has housed more distinguished men of one family than any other in this country. In an effort to contribute their share to the reclamation of this lovely old homestead, the sponsoring organizations in Texas have planned and are offering to the public a week's tour by automobile of the "Tidewater" section of the deep south. Opportunity will be given to visit many beautiful private homes not usually opened to the public and to see a number of valuable works of art such as paintings, tapestries and rare pieces of antique furniture as well as our gardens with their tropical foliage and real sugar plantations with their negro quarters and all the atmosphere of "befo' de wah."

The party will start from Lake Charles on the morning of March 31, the route leading along the shores of Bayou Teche, rich in the history of the Conquistadores who pioneered this trail in early days to claim the lands from Spain and for their church. The influence of the French, who came in at a later date, is felt in the quiet stateliness of the manor houses and the formal gardens. The trail continues through New Orleans to Baton Rouge and Natchez.

All details can be secured from Mrs. Lee Davis, Waco; Mrs. Margaret Caruth, Dallas; Mrs. Walter Nolte, San Antonio; Mrs. Emerson R. Newell, Galveston; Mrs. C. D. Renner, Fort Worth; Mrs. Ben Powell, Austin; Mrs. Hall Greer, Beaumont; Mrs G. R. Scott, Corpus Christi; Mrs Charlton Hall, Temple; Miss Elizabeth Phillips, Tyler; Mrs. H. N. Peters, Waxahachie; Mrs. Greenleaf Fiske, Abilene; Miss Kate Hunter, Palestine; Mrs. A. J. Buchanan, Bryan; Mrs. Lutcher Stark, Orange; Mrs. Fred Colton, Weatherford; Mrs. J. B. Kennard, Gonzales; Mrs. Arthur Nolte, New Orleans; Mrs. Egbert Jones, Holly Springs, Miss.; Mrs. David Roberts, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Rufus Garret, El Dorado, Ark.

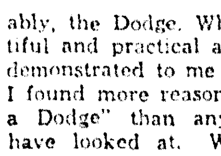
SHOPPING FLASHES

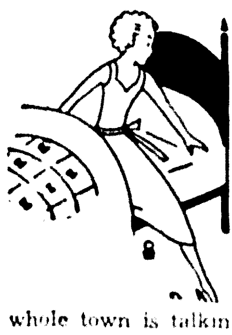
By IRENE

HELLO, everybody! Won't you stop your spring house cleaning long enough to let me tell you about my interesting shopping tour yesterday . . . Monroe merchants are more than ready for you with the largest and most complete stock of spring and summer merchandise that a thrifty woman could wish for.



THE automobile investment for 1935 is unmistakably, the Dodge. When this beautiful and practical automobile was demonstrated to me yesterday . . . I found more reasons for "owning a Dodge" than any other car I have looked at. Why, you take that large, roomy body . . . So easy to get in and out . . . Wonderfully safe because of its all-steel body . . . rust proofed all over . . . and the only car that carries the original "time proven" hydraulic brakes. You'll find those "air wheel" tires . . . and cross shockless steering. Its streamline appearance is taking the eye of everybody . . . believe me. You'll love the way it is ventilated. . . . And listen, it costs just a few more dollars than the lowest priced car. Obtainable in colors of murcery metallic, stratosphere blue, Dorset grey, and golden beige. Phone 436 and ask for a demonstration . . . because there is positively no obligation.

LADIES! . . . Ladies! . . . Have you tasted those new kind of rolls at Jitney Jungle No. 10 bakery? . . . Oh! Gee! . . . You never will buy any other kind if you let yourself in on these delicious fresh rolls . . . By the way, those white cakes there will take the prize . . . capture your husband and . . . Oh! you'll just go for it yourself . . . Umm . . . Um . . . A hundrded different kind of sweet breads to tempt you at this new bakery. You know . . this is one of the few Monroe grocery stores that always stock the unusual in foods . . . Why don't you try shopping there next week? . . . It's a fact, you'll find your next door neighbor there . . . That's how popular this new store is getting to be. Located corner North Fourth and Stubbs.



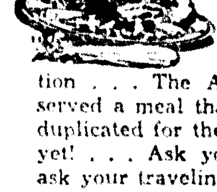
HURRY! . . . Hurry! . . . Hurry! . . . and I do mean hurry! . . . to the Dixie Bedding & Furniture Co. the first thing tomorrow morning! . . . The whole town is talking about those new hand-made summer bed spreads . . . "Candlewick" . . . Oh! they're postively lovely . . . There is a window full of them right now. Don't put it off . . . Go down there and purchase one for every bedroom . . . They're the kind that you don't have to iron . . . and in pastel materials . . . hand-embroidered in harmonizing shades . . . Something brand new! . . . I warn you, friends, you'll regret it a long time if you miss this bargain tomorrow . . . A special sale for Monday and Tuesday only . . . At Dixie Bedding & Furniture Co.

THAT J. C. Penney Co. is forever bringing something new and interesting to we women . . . The interesting style fabric show which was conducted by that clever Miss Edith Mott who is by the way, a nationally known figure in "correct styling" . . . Didn't you enjoy to the fullest the attractive models that gave us all those ideas about a bolt of cloth, a pair of scissors and thread . . . Every garment shown was made of material that can be purchased on the balcony floor of the Penney Company . . . One model in particular that appealed to me from a smart style point of view, and can be made so reasonable, was the green linen . . . So simple, yet such good lines. That crash beach number was a honey! . . . Can be made for only $1.85. She left many secrets with us concerning seaming (why our dresses look home-made, etc.). She told us how to get that ready-made appearance . . . If you did not attend or have forgotten, go down to Penney's tomorrow or anytime and secure this information . . . They'll gladly give it to you . . . By all means, purchase material for that new summer dress.

THAT custom-tailored look is adroitly achieved in the stunning costume suits I found at Johnnie Smith Elbert's. Beautiful fabrics, meticulously tailored . . . Some are graced with fox, lynx, mole or else elegantly simple without fur. Grey, beige, wood viel blue, checked, solids and plaids. . . . In fact, all the fashion favorite colors and materials are represented. A really exceptional collection priced from $19.75 to $39.50. Visit that economy department on the balcony.

MEN, talk about your $15.00 suit values . . . Wolff Bros. is showing a new line of spring woolens in by-swing, shirred backs and free swing models that will meet the approval of the "hard to please" . . . All hand tailored, and include every new feature, color and design that is being worn by the well dressed man of the season. Another thing I noticed, was that attractive window . . . filled with shoes for the whole family. That famous Nunn-Bush shoe for men at $7.00. The Edgerton shoe (which is a product of Nunn-Bush) at $5.00. Ladies' white kid pumps and oxfords at $2.95. Children's shoes at 98c up. The whole family is in luck at Wolff Bros.

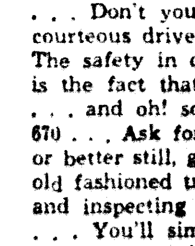
SAY, did you see that wonderful advertisement Home Furniture Co. ran in Friday's News-Star? . . . Why, there was a complete "home-outfit" . . . 4-room (100 pieces) . . . Think of it . . . for only $347.00. No, this is not a cash proposition . . . A small payment down will deliver the entire 100 pieces to your home. . . . I went by there yesterday to see it . . . What a buy! . . . Listen, if you don't care to purchase the entire outfit, why buy what you need . . . This arrangement can be made. Drop by there tomorrow . . . see for yourself just what you can buy in 1935 for $347.00.



LISTEN, do you enjoy eating uptown? . . . Well here is first hand truthful information . . . The Alvis Coffee Shop served a meal that has never been duplicated for the price, in Monroe yet! . . . Ask your husband . . . ask your traveling friend . . . They will all tell you their preference in uptown eating places is the Alvis . . . Sizzling steaks . . . all the trimmings . . . Evening dinners . . . lunches . . . and special lunches. Try one of the fried chicken loaves . . . They'll deliver it! . . . Everyone of the employes knows their business . . . trained to perfection by the owner who is, by the way, an experienced first class restaurant man of New Orleans . . . and you know New Orleans and its food! . . . Treat the whole family to an Alvis dinner . . . Truthfully, you'll love it. It's Monroe's "steak" house.

AUTOMOBILE owners! . . . Tidwell & Sons will have the most startling announcement for us in another week or so that Monroe has had concerning "a square deal" . . . At a very large figure, they will equip their station with a new type of gas pump . . . A smaller type pump which includes a cash register that registers the exact amount of gas that goes into your car . . . and you only pay for what you get. Should the service man mistake even a tea cup in measure, this new type gas pump shows the measurements . . . gives you the price. Frankly, you simply pay for what you get, and get what you pay for! Isn't that fair? . . . Watch for this announcement. The first in Monroe to give the public this modern money saving facility!

EVERYBODY is going fishing! . . . and practically every other person you talk to has outfitted his fishing box at Hunt & Whitaker's. . . . Have you seen that marvelous display down there? . . . There is everything . . . Fishing is a great sport. Gets your mind off your business worry. . . Come on, fellows, let's go fishing! . . . Meet me at Hunt & Whitaker's and let's get started right there . . . The famous "Pflueger" tackle . . . "South Bend Tackle," fly rods from 98c to $12.85 . . . Casting plugs 29c up. River runts all kinds. Say, men . . . Just the clothes you need to fish in, can also be found there. Listen . . . Hunt & Whitaker says: Why pay $15.00 for the same suit that he is selling regularly for $12.45? . . . Save the difference and buy a new spring hat.



HAVEN'T you heard a lot about that Monroe Milk Station lately? . . . Every family is "choosing" Dixieland milk and butter . . . It's by far the popular milk in this community . . . Don't you like the way the courteous driver services you? . . . The safety in drinking their milk is the fact that it's "Pasteurized" . . . and oh! so good! . . . Phone 670 . . . Ask for DIXIELAND . . . or better still, give yourself a good old fashioned treat by dropping in and inspecting this modern dairy. . . . You'll simply marvel at the way this modern scientific machinery handles your milk . . . No human hands contact it . . . No sir, ree! . . . Located on Catalpa, just off DeSiard street.

BY THE way, housewives . . . Did you know that Slagle-Johnson is selling a paint . . . (Pittsburgh product) called "Wallhide"? . . . I simply marveled at what this new "Wallhide" will do. Why, you can have your room painted during the morning and move back into it in the afternoon. . . . a job all finished . . . Simple as moving out to have the floors scrubbed . . . A one-day service is what you get in "Wallhide" . . . Notice their big ad on the builders page in today's paper . . . Then call [illegible] . . . Now is the time to paint [illegible]

Deafness
Headnoises, Earache
Catarrh—QUICKLY RELIEVED
These dreaded afflictions quickly respond to the Ourine method of treatment. Over one-half million people have enjoyed prompt relief. You may be a chronic long time sufferer, you may have tried many things without relief, but do not give up hope before you know what Ourine can do for you.
Dr. Edward Kolar, M. D., said, "Ourine helped cases I had given up as hopeless. A truly remarkable scientific remedy."
Joseph Meredith of Ontario, writes, "I suffered for over 50 years, some times I was stone deaf. I used only a half a bottle of Ourine, the headnoises disappeared and I could hear people talking clearly. I heard the choir in our church and the organ play for the first time in 2 years. I am recommending Ourine to every one."
No matter how stubborn your deafness, headnoises, earache or catarrh trouble are, you should try Ourine. No risk, no chance, no doubt. Ourine must do the work or cost you nothing.

Fuzzy finished straw fabrics strike a new note

It was up to synthetic straws to add variety to the straw hat situation, and they have done a very satisfactory job of it. Surfaces are dull or shiny, but the most exciting interest is in weaves. There are ribs, criss crosses, herringbone patterns and raised dot effects, Some synthetic straws are smooth finish and others are very rough—but they all have a tendency to look like fabric in the sense of looking woven and because they are so supple. This suppleness makes them adaptable to draping and all sorts of intricate detail. The result is, that the synthetic straw hat has a great deal in its favor as a change from baku, ballibuntl and toyo. As an "extra" hat synthetic straws furnish a wide choice to pep up your hat wardrobe as something "different." Don't confuse synthetic straws with those brittle cellophanes that we endured some time ago. There's no danger of your new bonnet "cracking up" on its first outing if it is one of the new synthetics. They'll stand any amount of tugging and crushing without showing any wear or tear.

HOME INDUSTRY

Everybody seems to be knitting, but in case you have escaped, at least you sew. Perhaps you not only sew when absolutely necessary—buttons, snappers and chores like that.

If you knit, you will want one of those tall knitting "boxes" that hold quantities of wool and cheerfully "swallow" fourteen inch knitting needles. They are oval and resemble umbrella stands with lids. A little groove cut in the side allows the wool to escape without leaving the lid off. The whole contraption has a cord handle for easy carrying. Ask for them in cardboard or fabric covered versions at your pet notion department. You will find equally attractive sewing boxes with a hinged cover and inside pockets for "needle, thread and thimble, too."

Lambda Kappa Club Entertained Wednesday

Members of the Lambda Kappa club and a large number of guests were delightfully entertained by Miss Robbie Binion as hostess, at the home of Mrs. W. L. Jones on Wednesday afternoon, March 20th, at 3:30 o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. L. Walton, who conducted a brief business session, after which the guests enjoyed a well planned program, arranged by Miss Lavalle Calhoun, on prints, etchings and steel engravings.

The first speaker, Mrs. J. C. Salmou, gave some high lights on art. Miss Calhoun had on display a splendid collection of pictures illustrating, in a most instructive way, each type of art, showing a thorough knowledge of her subject as her listeners revelled in the enchanting atmosphere, which is the inspiration of art, as well as music and poetry.

Mrs. Robert Whatley, in her usual charming manner, gave a most colorful description of "The Lady of Godey's"—Sarah Joseph Hale, whose outstanding success as a businesss woman should tempt any modern business or professional woman to adopt some of her methods.

St. Patrick was commemorated by the luncheon appointments, adding a color note which gave a very pleasing effect. Next meeting will be with Mrs. H. J. Stodghill, on March 27th.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian auxiliary was held Tuesday in church parlors, Mrs. Alexander Morrice presiding. Mrs. W. B. Moore gave the devotional.

For the giving of the annual reports a church surrounded with flowers was placed on a table. Hanging just behind the church was a map of the world and topping the world was a copy of the Bible. As each cause secretary told of her special work for the year, a ribbon was linked up with the church.

The foreign mission secretary, Mrs. H. L. Gregg, linked her ribbon to the six countries, Africa, Brazil, China, Japan, Korea and Mexico, where Presbyterian churches have mission work.

Secretary of Christian educational and ministerial relief, Mrs. Walter McGee, linked her ribbon from church to schools and colleges.

Mr. Robert McGehee spoke on work of young people, telling of the summer conferences for young people, members of auxiliary and men of the church to be held in Clinton, La., in June and July. Mrs. Timmons from Atlanta and Miss Elizabeth Shields from Richmond will both speak at the leadership conference.

Mrs. W. B. Moore, secretary of spiritual life, gave an interesting report, followed by a discussion by Mrs. Sidney Stroud, pastor's aid, relative to the work accomplished by the ladies of the church.

Mrs. Morrice in closing praised the women for work done and the help given by each in linking the work they were doing with the church.

The circles for next year were then announced and after presenting Mrs. Morrice with a beautiful silver vase from members of the congregation in recognition of her faithful efforts for the past four years, a very impressive installation service was given by Mr. E. D. Holloway, installing the following for next year's work:

President, Mrs. C. A. Nenney; vice president, Mrs. W. M. Harper; recording secretary, Mrs. W. J. Kirby; treasurer, Mrs. O. M. Arnette; historian, Mrs. Harry Bailey; circle chairman, Mrs. Louis Hullum, Mrs. R. B. Garrison, Mrs. Sidney Stroud, Mrs. Alexander Morrice, Mrs. W. E. Reagan, Mrs. O. W. Brown, Mrs. O. M. Arnette, counselor for business women.

Secretaries of causes: Mrs. M. M. Cragan, secretary of foreign mission; Mrs. S. L. Digby, secretary home missions; Mrs. J. G. Durrett, secretary of C. E. and M. R.; Mrs. E. R. Strahan, secretary of synodical and Presbyterial home missions; Mrs. O. R. Brouer, secretary of literature; Mrs. E. D. Holloway, secretary of religious education; Mrs. L. C. McGuire, secretary of Christian social service; Mrs. W. B. Moore, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. D. M. Moore, pastor's aid secretary, and Mrs. F. L. Allison, social activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holloway of Memphis, Tenn., are enjoying a visit this week in the home of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parker Holloway.

Shoes Will Be 'Air-Conditioned' For Spring Wear

Perforations and cut-outs "air condition" the new shoes and are also effective trimming details. All trimming is styled to give a streamline silhouette, which is both smart and flattering. Your foot won't look a bit longer, but it will look narrower. White piping livens up dark shoes, and is practically a necessity for navy shoes. And navy shoes, by the way, are positively a necessity if you have a navy costume. The navy shoe has steadily gained in importance and has long since ceased to be a novelty "costume" shoe. It lines up solidly now with black and brown, and is an established spring shoe fashion.

High cut is just about the most important thing about the new silhouette. Oxfords ride well up over the instep, and all the strap shoes, including T-straps, carry their straps high. Even operas have a new high cut, which is cut so skillfully that it increases the comfort and fit of this classic shoe fashion that everyone admires, but some claim they cannot wear. Forget any old time prejudices about opera pumps and indulge in a pair for spring. You can be fitted perfectly to opera pumps this season and praise them every step of the way.

There are "bright spots" in the spring shoe picture, too. The real news is that red is gaining in importance. There just isn't anything gayer than little red shoes, and if they're one of your suppressed desires, grab this opportunity to proudly possess red shoes. You really can be proud, because red shoes are definitely smart for spring. There's clipper blue, too, which is bright and very new.

Plantations And Gardens Of The Deep South Will Be Open To Public Next Month

If you would like to enrich your mind with the historical lore and feed your soul with the beauty of old plantations of the "Tidewater" section of the deep south, let us suggest that you join the memorial pilgrimage sponsored by a group of Texas club women for the thirty-first of March. The proceeds from the tour will go toward the purchase of and restoration of one of the country's finest and most historical mansions, Stratford Hall, Virginia, the birthplace of General Robert E. Lee.

A trip which offers inducement to the many who are visited by spring fever at this season and long to experience an "enchanted April" in some fair garden spot is being organized at the present time by a group of energetic and enthusiastic Texas club women. Under the leadership of Mrs. Lee Davis, Texas director of the Robert E. Lee memorial foundation, representatives of five national women's organizations in Texas are sponsoring a memorial pilgrimage to the old plantations of Texas and Louisiana the proceeds of the tour to go toward the purchase and restoration of one of the country's finest and most historical mansions, Stratford Hall, Virginia, the birthplace of General Robert E. Lee.

Five years ago a small group of women, which has since been augmented by state directors with committees in thirty-eight states, began the work of saving from decay and destruction the famous home of the Lees which has housed more distinguished men of one family than any other in this country. In an effort to contribute their share to the reclamation of this lovely old homestead, the sponsoring organizations in Texas have planned and are offering to the public a week's tour by automobile of the "Tidewater" section of the deep south. Opportunity will be given to visit many beautiful private homes not usually opened to the public and to see a number of valuable works of art such as paintings, tapestries and rare pieces of antique furniture as well as our gardens with their tropical foliage and real sugar plantations with their negro quarters and all the atmosphere of "befo' de wah."

The party will start from Lake Charles on the morning of March 31, the route leading along the shores of Bayou Teche, rich in the history of the Conquistadores who pioneered this trail in early days to claim the lands from Spain and for their church. The influence of the French, who came in at a later date, is felt in the quiet stateliness of the manor houses and the formal gardens. The trail continues through New Orleans to Baton Rouge and Natchez.

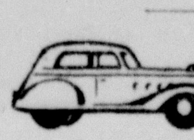
All details can be secured from Mrs. Lee Davis, Waco; Mrs. Margaret Carruth, Dallas; Mrs. Walter Nolte, San Antonio; Mrs. Emerson R. Newell, Galveston; Mrs. C. D. Renner, Fort Worth; Mrs. Ben Powell, Austin; Mrs. Hall Greer, Beaumont; Mrs. G. R. Scott, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Charlton Hall, Temple; Miss Elizabeth Phillips, Tyler; Mrs. H. N. Peters, Waxahachie; Mrs. Greenleaf Fiske, Abilene; Miss Kate Hunter, Palestine; Mrs. A. J. Buchanan, Bryan; Mrs. Lutcher Stark, Orange; Mrs. Fred Colton, Weatherford; Mrs. J. B. Kennard, Gonzales; Mrs. Arthur Nolte, New Orleans; Mrs. Egbert Jones, Holly Springs, Miss.; Mrs. David Roberts, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Rufus Garret, El Dorado, Ark.

Raymond John, who is attending the State university in Baton Rouge has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike John on Bress avenue for the past few days.

SHOPPING FLASHES

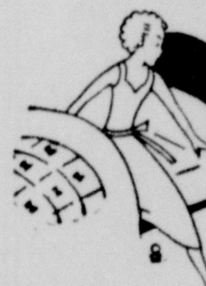
By IRENE

HELLO, everybody! Won't you stop your spring house cleaning long enough to let me tell you about my interesting shopping tour yesterday . . . Monroe merchants are more than ready for you with the largest and most complete stock of spring and summer merchandise that a thrifty woman could wish for.



THE automobile investment for 1935 is unmistakably, the Dodge. When this beautiful and practical automobile was demonstrated to me yesterday . . . I found more reasons for "owning a Dodge" than any other car I have looked at. Why, you take that large, roomy body . . . So easy to get in and out . . . Wonderfully safe because of its all-steel body . . . rust proofed all over . . . and the only car that carries the original "time proven" hydraulic brakes. You'll find those "air wheel" tires . . . and cross shockless steering. Its streamline appearance is taking the eye of everybody . . . believe me. You'll love the way it is ventilated. . . . And listen, it costs just a few more dollars than the lowest priced car. Obtainable in colors of murcery metallic, stratosphere blue, Dorset grey, and golden beige. Phone 436 and ask for a demonstration . . . because there is positively no obligation.

LADIES! . . . Ladies! . . . Have you tasted those new kind of rolls at Jitney Jungle No. 10 bakery? . . . Oh! Gee! . . . You never will buy any other kind if you let yourself in on these delicious fresh rolls . . . By the way, those white cakes there will take the prize . . . capture your husband and . . . Oh! you'll just go for it yourself . . . Umm . . . Um . . . A hundrded different kind of sweet breads to tempt you at this new bakery. You know . . this is one of the few Monroe grocery stores that always stock the unusual in foods . . . Why don't you try shopping there next week? . . . It's a fact, you'll find your next door neighbor there . . . That's how popular this new store is getting to be. Located corner North Fourth and Stubbs.



HURRY! . . . Hurry! . . . Hurry! . . . and I do mean hurry! . . . to the Dixie Bedding & Furniture Co. the first thing tomorrow morning! . . . The whole town is talking about those new hand-made summer bed spreads . . . "Candlewick" . . . Oh! they're postively lovely . . . There is a window full of them right now. Don't put it off . . . Go down there and purchase one for every bedroom . . . They're the kind that you don't have to iron . . . and in pastel materials . . . hand-embroidered in harmonizing shades . . . Something brand new! . . . I warn you, friends, you'll regret it a long time if you miss this bargain tomorrow . . . A special sale for Monday and Tuesday only . . . At Dixie Bedding & Furniture Co.

THAT J. C. Penney Co. is forever bringing something new and interesting to we women . . . The interesting style fabric show which was conducted by that clever Miss Edith Mott who is by the way, a nationally known figure in "correct styling" . . . Didn't you enjoy to the fullest the attractive models that gave us all those ideas about a bolt of cloth, a pair of scissors and thread . . . Every garment shown was made of material that can be purchased on the balcony floor of the Penney Company . . . One model in particular that appealed to me from a smart style point of view, and can be made so reasonable, was the green linen . . . So simple, yet such good lines. That crash beach number was a honey! . . . Can be made for only $1.85. She left many secrets with us concerning seaming (why our dresses look home-made, etc.). She told us how to get that ready-made appearance . . . If you did not attend or have forgotten, go down to Penney's tomorrow or anytime and secure this information . . . They'll gladly give it to you . . . By all means, purchase material for that new summer dress.

THAT custom-tailored look is adroitly achieved in the stunning costume suits I found at Johnnie Smith Elbert's. Beautiful fabrics, meticulously tailored . . . Some are graced with fox, lynx, mole or else elegantly simple without fur. Grey, beige, wood viel blue, checked, solids and plaids. . . . In fact, all the fashion favorite colors and materials are represented. A really exceptional collection priced from $19.75 to $89.50. Visit that economy department on the balcony.

MEN, talk about your $15.00 suit values . . . Wolff Bros. is showing a new line of spring woolens in by-swing, shirred backs and free swing models that will meet the approval of the "hard to please" . . . All hand tailored, and include every new feature, color and design that is being worn by the well dressed man of the season. Another thing I noticed, was that attractive window . . . filled with shoes for the whole family. That famous Nunn-Bush shoe for men at $7.00. The Edgerton shoe (which is a product of Nunn-Bush) at $5.00. Ladies' white kid pumps and oxfords at $2.95. Children's shoes at 98c up. The whole family is in luck at Wolff Bros.

SAY, did you see that wonderful advertisement Home Furniture Co. ran in Friday's News-Star? . . . Why, there was a complete "home-outfit" . . . 4-room (100 pieces) . . . Think of it . . for only $347.00. No, this is not a cash proposition . . . A small payment down will deliver the entire 100 pieces to your home. . . . I went by there yesterday to see it . . . What a buy! . . . Listen, if you don't care to purchase the entire outfit, why buy what you need . . . This arrangement can be made. Drop by there tomorrow . . . see for yourself just what you can buy in 1935 for $347.00.

LISTEN, do you enjoy eating uptown? . . . Well here is first hand truthful information . . . The Alvis Coffee Shop served a meal that has never been duplicated for the price, in Monroe yet! . . . Ask your husband . . . ask your traveling friend . . . They will all tell you their preference in uptown eating places is the Alvis . . . Sizzling steaks . . . all the trimmings . . . Evening dinners . . . lunches . . . and special lunches. Try one of the fried chicken loaves . . . They'll deliver it! . . . Everyone of the employes knows their business . . trained to perfection by the owner who is, by the way, an experienced first class restaurant man of New Orleans . . . and you know New Orleans and its food! . . . Treat the whole family to an Alvis dinner . . . Truthfully, you'll love it. It's Monroe's "steak" house.

AUTOMOBILE owners! . . . Tidwell & Sons will have the most startling announcement for us in another week or so that Monroe has had concerning "a square deal" . . At a very large figure, they will equip their station with a new type of gas pump . . . A smaller type pump which includes a cash register that registers the exact amount of gas that goes into your car . . . and you only pay for what you get. Should the service man mistake even a tea cup in measure, this new type gas pump shows the measurements . . . gives you the price. Frankly, you simply pay for what you get, and get what you pay for! Isn't that fair? . . . Watch for this announcement. The first in Monroe to give the public this modern money saving facility!

EVERYBODY is going fishing! . . . and practically every other person you talk to has outfitted his fishing box at Hunt & Whitaker's. . . . Have you seen that marvelous display down there? . . . There is everything . . . Fishing is a great sport. Gets your mind off your business worry. . . Come on, fellows, let's go fishing! . . . Meet me at Hunt & Whitaker's and let's get started right there . . . The famous "Pflueger" tackle . . . "South Bend Tackle," fly rods from 98c to $12.85 . . . Casting plugs 29c up. River runts all kinds. Say, men . . . Just the clothes you need to fish in, can also be found there. Listen . . . Hunt & Whitaker says: Why pay $15.00 for the same suit that he is selling regularly for $12.45? . . . Save the difference and buy a new spring hat.

HAVEN'T you heard a lot about that Monroe Milk Station lately? . . . Every family is "choosing" Dixieland milk and butter . . . It's by far the popular milk in this community . . . Don't you like the way the courteous driver services you? . . . The safety in drinking their milk is the fact that it's "Pasteurized" . . . and oh! so good! . . . Phone 670 . . . Ask for DIXIELAND . . . or better still, give yourself a good old fashioned treat by dropping in and inspecting this modern dairy. . . . You'll simply marvel at the way this modern scientific machinery handles your milk . . . No human hands contact it . . . No sir, ree! . . . Located on Catalpa, just off DeSiard street.

BY THE way, housewives . . Did you know that Slagle-Johnson is selling a paint . . . (Pittsburgh product) called "Wallhide"? . . . I simply marveled at what this new "Wallhide" will do. Why, you can have your room painted during the morning and move back into it in the afternoon. . . . a job all finished . . . Simple as moving out to have the floors scrubbed . . . A one-day service is what you get in "Wallhide" . . . Notice their big ad on the builders page in today's paper . . . Then call 225 . . . Now is the time to paint up . . .

Deafness
Headnoises, Earache
Catarrh—QUICKLY RELIEVED
These dreaded afflictions quickly respond to the Ourine method of treatment. Over one-half million people have enjoyed prompt relief. You may be a chronic long time sufferer, you may have tried many things without relief, but do not give up hope before you know what Ourine can do for you.
Dr. Edward Kolar, M. D., said, "Ourine helped cases I had given up as hopeless. A truly remarkable scientific remedy."
Joseph Meredith of Ontario, writes, "I suffered for over 50 years, some times I was stone deaf. I used only a half a bottle of Ourine, the headnoises disappeared and I could hear people talking clearly. I heard the choir in our church and the organ play for the first time in 2 years. I am recommending Ourine to every one."
No matter how stubborn your deafness, headnoises, earache or catarrh trouble are, you should try Ourine. No risk, no chance, no doubt. Ourine must do the work or cost you nothing.

Interest Of Club Women Of This State Is Centered In The Club Institute At L. S. U.

Outstanding in the annals of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs is the first statewide club institute to be held at Louisiana State University on April 12 and 13. Seldom, if ever, has an event in club circles claimed as great interest throughout the state.

Through the courtesy of L. S. U. which will be celebrating its diamond jubilee at the time, the club assembly will be privileged to hear two noted guest speakers, Miss Agnes McPhail of Ontario, Canada, member of the house of commons of the Canadian parliament, will speak on Friday evening. According to authorities, Miss McPhail is a brilliant speaker who has fundamental things to say; to hear her is an outstanding event in any assembly. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, will bring a message of vital importance to very person who is interested in the welfare of his country.

Mr. Fred Williamson, editor of the Monroe News-Star—World, will speak on Publicity, a subject which is vital to club life and one which club women especially feel the need of.

A panel on building a constructive club program which will be given by a chosen group of Monroe club women is being outlined and coached by Dr. Frank O. Kreager of L. S. U. A lively parliamentary law drill will be conducted by Mrs. Idabel Giefers, state parliamentarian of New Orleans. Mrs. W. S. Plauche of Lake Charles will doubtless strike the sympathetic note when she speaks on "What My Federated Club Means to Me."

Contests in the federation will be given as follows: Art, Mrs. D. H. Christman, Shreveport; poetry, Mrs. Patrick Justin White, Shreveport; short story writing, Mrs. Mary Willis Shuey, Shreveport; insurance, Mrs. Turner K. Butler, Ponchatoula; reading, Mrs. A. G. Reed, Baton Rouge; publicity scrap book, Mrs. Addison Thompson, Ruston; drama, Miss Catherine Winters, Natchitoches.

The "Question Box" which will be substituted for open forums will be conducted by district presidents and other federation officers.

Due to the unusual activity on the campus of L. S. U. which is occasioned by the diamond jubilee celebration, the assigning of rooms will be conducted by the Baton Rouge chamber of commerce. The customary price of one dollar per night will prevail. Dr. James M. Smith, president of L. S. U. will be host at two courtesy luncheons to club women; one on Friday and one on Saturday.

Those who have not been privileged to visit the state house and the university will welcome the opportunity on Friday afternoon.

Miss Julia Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gilbert of Wisner, who is a student at Gulf Park college was recently elected sponsor for "A" company and Sigma Psi fraternity of the Gulf coast military academy.

Friends of Mrs. W. L. Davis who was painfully injured in an automobile accident last Sunday at Delhi will be delighted to know that she is improving nicely.

Miss Louise Gray, daughter of Mrs. C. P. Gray, junior at Brenau college, and Miss Hazel Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. Fred Mitchell, freshman at Brenau, were recently initiated into their respective sororities, Miss Gray into Delta Delta Delta, and Miss Mitchell into Alpha Bamma Delta.

Shakespearean Treat Coming March 29, 30

When Shakespeare and his devoted associates in the Globe Theater were struggling with the original production of the thirty-nine comedies and tragedies which after a century of neglect, brought him immortal fame, he could scarcely have imagined, with all his centuries later, a theater would be erected in his memory at his birthplace in Stratford-on-Avon, that his statue would be erected and crowned with flowers in a city of six million people not even then conceived, that his plays would then be acted in the principal cities of the civilized world, that the most gifted actors and actresses should consider it the most precious privilege to worship at his shrine, that millions of children would be required to study his famous masterpieces and that the practical business man would endow civic theaters where his memory can be kept perpetually alive.

Yet all these things have come to pass, and educational institutions are now opening their auditoriums, in order that the great plays may be seen and heard as well as read.

Those in our city who have never yet had the pleasure of witnessing a Shakespearean play, as well as those whose memories reach back to the old days, will have an opportunity to do so on March 29 and 30 when James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce and their company will present Merchant of Venice in Matinee performance at 1:15 Friday March 29, Hamlet Friday evening at eight o'clock March 29, and Macbeth Saturday evening March 30 at eight o'clock, in the auditorium of the Northeast Center L. S. U.

The Business girl's club of the Y. W. C. A. is planning a garden party to be given early in May. This organization, composed of the young business girls of the Y. W. C. A., have a most active club. In addition to many social affairs, they have enjoyed a series of most interesting lectures by Mr. R. P. Bowden on "Gang Life in Chicago." Mr. Bowden's knowledge of the underworld life in Chicago is first hand, having been a social service worker in that section of the city for a number of years and his lectures are most vivid and realistic.

McMullen-Fluitt Nuptials Solemnized At Baptist Church Thursday Evening

Claiming the interest of a host of friends Thursday evening was the marriage of Miss Callie Oletia Fluitt, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Fluitt, and Mr. Albert Frederick McMullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McMullen, at 7:30 at the First Baptist church, Rev. L. T. Hastings officiating.

Baskets of bridal wreath, spirea and white flowering peach tied with festoons of white tulle, with a background of palms and ferns created a lovely setting for the beautiful ceremony.

The processional, Lohengrin's Wedding march, and the recessional, Mendelssohn's Wedding march, were played by Mrs. Grover Cornett, who also played McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" throughout the ceremony. Mr. L. A. Stulce sang "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. Cornett.

The bride was lovely in a powder blue celanese crepe with gray accessories. She carried a bride's bouquet of pink carnations and was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lucy Thomsan of Rayville, the maid of honor, wore a pink celanese crepe model with gray accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of blue sweet peas.

Mr. Dick Brothers and Mr. Oscar Kirkland were ushers.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where a beautiful array of wedding gifts were on display. Bamboo, wisteria and bridal wreath were used in effective arrangement throughout the reception suite.

The dining table was centered with an embossed wedding cake, a gift of circle No. 14 of the W. M. S., of which the bride's mother is a member.

Mrs. McMullen is a graduate of the Ouachita parish high school and is employed at Woolworth's. Mr. McMullen attended the parish high school and also studied mechanical engineering. He is employed by the Louisiana Light and Power company.

Captivating Assortment Of Books For Varied Tastes Of Readers Just Off The Press

That there is no dearth of interesting reading material for the lover of worthwhile literature is evident in the varied and captivating assortment of books just recently come off the press. There are books of love, books of adventure, books of history and books of reminiscences . . . books that leave a delightful aftermath in the recesses of the mind, instead of that bilious teste so many of the trashy novels now circulating, leave in the reader's mouth.

For instance, there is the odd little romance "The Virgin's Brand," by Leo Perutz, centered around the experiences of a young German physician. While on his way to take up an appointment as a physician on a large estate, he meets with an accident, he had been in love with a girl student in medical college and had lost track of her.

Waiting for a train, he saw her in a motor car. He stopped to gaze and the next thing he knew he woke up in a hospital. But it seemed to him that he had gone and taken up his duties in the hospital and that his injuries had resulted from a peasant riot . . . that he had finished his journey and found the girl employed in a mysterious laboratory experiment. Then followed a series of peculiar experiences wherein a curious elixir was found distilled from the blight of wheat. The administration of this elixir caused a complete conversion of the community to communism. The story is curiously interesting and does not appear to have been written as propaganda, but as a narrative of human beings.

For the devotee of history who loves to ponder upon the deeds of famous men, there is Winston Churchill's "Marlborough" in which he pictures three colorful years of Marlborough's life. The two volumes have no dry introduction to an outline, but give a rich and human account of those three tremendous years.

"Dr. Mallory," by Alan Hart is a novel by a physician who tried to modernize his profession and blind his colleagues. It relates the story of an urchin who wanted to be a doctor and who began his career as a country physician. In his first year he had to choose between his work and his wife, a girl accustomed to comfort and willing to give up her career as a pianist if only he would use her money to work toward professional distinction.

His struggle as a young country doctor is full of pathos and human interest. When he decided that kindness to the girl and justice to society made it imperative that a half-witted servant should have no more half-witted children, the country medical society sought to expel him. Just how he overcame his obstacles and built up a community hospital, not only makes an effective story but also makes the reader feel the warmth and sincerity of the doctor's ideals.

For lovers of mystery with a touch of romance there is "Want Ad Heiress," by Rob Eden. On her way to the office where she pounded a typewriter, Fran found an old fashioned locket lying in the gutter. No one advertised for it, and any way it looked as if it weren't worth much. But some weeks later a man began shadowing her, and she received an unsigned note: "If I were you, I should take off that locket you are wearing and place it in the Belmont hotel safe for the week-end. Monday I should put it in a safety deposit box." The mystery thickens rapidly and the complications are ingenious and romantic.

Other books that make for worthwhile reading are "Ernestine Takes Over," by Walter Brooks; "Abraham, Prince of Ur," by W. R. Hardy; "The Scarlet Beast," by Francis Gerard; "A Mirror for Dreams," by Netta Muskett; "Mushroom Heaven," by John Wilmot Wiley; "The Brain Trust Murder," by "Diplomat;" "Good Old Yesterday," by Charles Hanson Townes; "Elinor Wylie," by Nancy Hoyt, and "Farewell to Revolution," by Everett Dean Martin.

W. M. S. Presents Program Tuesday

An interesting program was presented Tuesday afternoon when members of circle number four of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church were in charge of the meeting.

"Christian Education" was the subject of the program and several instructive talks were made during the afternoon.

Hymn—"Send the Light"—No. 297.
Prayer.
Bible Study—Mrs. S. J. Meek.
Introduction—Mrs. A. H. Jones.
"A Pioneer of Baptist Education"—Mrs. Curtis J. Smith.
Hymn—"Let the Lower Lights Be Burning"—By circle members.
Baptist Schools—Mrs. L. A. Stulce.
Special Song—Mrs. A. R. Doughty.
Little Red School House—Mrs. Steve Powell.
Reading — "Wait" — Mrs. C. L. Thompson.

Mrs. Mildred Schraeder, worthy matron of the Dixie chapter O. E. S. and Mrs. Richard Sackett, have returned from Shreveport where they have been attending Grand chapter.

The Woolworth girl's club of the Y. W. C. A. met last Tuesday evening for its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. W. M. Harper gave a book review of "Queen Anne's Lace." This was one of a series of reviews of current books that has been a featu the program outlined by the club the early fall.

Miss Louise Gray, daughter of Mrs. C. P. Gray, junior at Brenau college, and Miss Hazel Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. Fred Mitchell, freshman at Brenau, were recently initiated into their respective sororities, Miss Gray into Delta Delta Delta, and Miss Mitchell into Alpha Bamma Delta.

Shakespearean Treat Coming March 29, 30

When Shakespeare and his devoted associates in the Globe Theater were struggling with the original production of the thirty-nine comedies and tragedies which after a century of neglect, brought him immortal fame, he could scarcely have imagined, with all his centuries later, a theater would be erected in his memory at his birthplace in Stratford-on-Avon, that his statue would be erected and crowned with flowers in a city of six million people not even then conceived, that his plays would then be acted in the principal cities of the civilized world, that the most gifted actors and actresses should consider it the most precious privilege to worship at his shrine, that millions of children would be required to study his famous masterpieces and that the practical business man would endow civic theaters where his memory can be kept perpetually alive.

Yet all these things have come to pass, and educational institutions are now opening their auditoriums, in order that the great plays may be seen and heard as well as read.

Those in our city who have never yet had the pleasure of witnessing a Shakespearean play, as well as those whose memories reach back to the old days, will have an opportunity to do so on March 29 and 30 when James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce and their company will present Merchant of Venice in Matinee performance at 1:15 Friday March 29, Hamlet Friday evening at eight o'clock March 29, and Macbeth Saturday evening March 30 at eight o'clock, in the auditorium of the Northeast Center L. S. U.

The Business girl's club of the Y. W. C. A. is planning a garden party to be given early in May. This organization, composed of the young business girls of the Y. W. C. A., have a most active club. In addition to many social affairs, they have enjoyed a series of most interesting lectures by Mr. R. P. Bowden on "Gang Life in Chicago." Mr. Bowden's knowledge of the underworld life in Chicago is first hand, having been a social service worker in that section of the city for a number of years and his lectures are most vivid and realistic.

McMullen-Fluitt Nuptials Solemnized At Baptist Church Thursday Evening

Claiming the interest of a host of friends Thursday evening was the marriage of Miss Callie Oletia Fluitt, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Fluitt, and Mr. Albert Frederick McMullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McMullen, at 7:30 at the First Baptist church, Rev. L. T. Hastings officiating.

Baskets of bridal wreath, spirea and white flowering peach tied with festoons of white tulle, with a background of palms and ferns created a lovely setting for the beautiful ceremony.

The processional, Lohengrin's Wedding march, and the recessional, Mendelssohn's Wedding march, were played by Mrs. Grover Cornett, who also played McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" throughout the ceremony. Mr. L. A. Stulce sang "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. Cornett.

The bride was lovely in a powder blue celanese crepe with gray accessories. She carried a bride's bouquet of pink carnations and was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lucy Thomsan of Rayville, the maid of honor, wore a pink celanese crepe model with gray accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of blue sweet peas.

Mr. Dick Brothers and Mr. Oscar Kirkland were ushers.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where a beautiful array of wedding gifts were on display. Bamboo, wisteria and bridal wreath were used in effective arrangement throughout the reception suite.

The dining table was centered with an embossed wedding cake, a gift of circle No. 14 of the W. M. S., of which the bride's mother is a member.

Mrs. McMullen is a graduate of the Ouachita parish high school and is employed at Woolworth's. Mr. McMullen attended the parish high school and also studied mechanical engineering. He is employed by the Louisiana Light and Power company.

Captivating Assortment Of Books For Varied Tastes Of Readers Just Off The Press

That there is no dearth of interesting reading material for the lover of worthwhile literature is evident in the varied and captivating assortment of books just recently come off the press. There are books of love, books of adventure, books of history and books of reminiscences . . . books that leave a delightful aftermath in the recesses of the mind, instead of that bilious teste so many of the trashy novels now circulating, leave in the reader's mouth.

For instance, there is the odd little romance "The Virgin's Brand," by Leo Perutz, centered around the experiences of a young German physician. While on his way to take up an appointment as a physician on a large estate, he meets with an accident, he had been in love with a girl student in medical college and had lost track of her.

Waiting for a train, he saw her in a motor car. He stopped to gaze and the next thing he knew he woke up in a hospital. But it seemed to him that he had gone and taken up his duties in the hospital and that his injuries had resulted from a peasant riot . . . that he had finished his journey and found the girl employed in a mysterious laboratory experiment. Then followed a series of peculiar experiences wherein a curious elixir was found distilled from the blight of wheat. The administration of this elixir caused a complete conversion of the community to communism. The story is curiously interesting and does not appear to have been written as propaganda, but as a narrative of human beings.

For the devotee of history who loves to ponder upon the deeds of famous men, there is Winston Churchill's "Marlborough" in which he pictures three colorful years of Marlborough's life. The two volumes have no dry introduction to an outline, but give a rich and human account of those three tremendous years.

"Dr. Mallory," by Alan Hart is a novel by a physician who tried to modernize his profession and blind his colleagues. It relates the story of an urchin who wanted to be a doctor and who began his career as a country physician. In his first year he had to choose between his work and his wife, a girl accustomed to comfort and willing to give up her career as a pianist if only he would use her money to work toward professional distinction.

His struggle as a young country doctor is full of pathos and human interest. When he decided that kindness to the girl and justice to society made it imperative that a half-witted servant should have no more half-witted children, the country medical society sought to expel him. Just how he overcame his obstacles and built up a community hospital, not only makes an effective story but also makes the reader feel the warmth and sincerity of the doctor's ideals.

For lovers of mystery with a touch of romance there is "Want Ad Heiress," by Rob Eden. On her way to the office where she pounded a typewriter, Fran found an old fashioned locket lying in the gutter. No one advertised for it, and any way it looked as if it weren't worth much. But some weeks later a man began shadowing her, and she received an unsigned note: "If I were you, I should take off that locket you are wearing and place it in the Belmont hotel safe for the week-end. Monday I should put it in a safety deposit box." The mystery thickens rapidly and the complications are ingenious and romantic.

Other books that make for worthwhile reading are "Ernestine Takes Over," by Walter Brooks; "Abraham, Prince of Ur," by W. R. Hardy; "The Scarlet Beast," by Francis Gerard; "A Mirror for Dreams," by Netta Muskett; "Mushroom Heaven," by John Wilmot Wiley; "The Brain Trust Murder," by "Diplomat;" "Good Old Yesterday," by Charles Hanson Townes; "Elinor Wylie," by Nancy Hoyt, and "Farewell to Revolution," by Everett Dean Martin.

W. M. S. Presents Program Tuesday

An interesting program was presented Tuesday afternoon when members of circle number four of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church were in charge of the meeting.

"Christian Education" was the subject of the program and several instructive talks were made during the afternoon.

Hymn—"Send the Light"—No. 297.
Prayer.
Bible Study—Mrs. S. J. Meek.
Introduction—Mrs. A. H. Jones.
Hymn—"Let the Lower Lights Be Burning"—By circle members.
Baptist Schools—Mrs. L. A. Stulce.
Special Song—Mrs. A. R. Doughty.
Little Red School House—Mrs. Steve Powell.
Reading — "Wait" — Mrs. C. L. Thompson.

Mrs. Mildred Schraeder, worthy matron of the Dixie chapter O. E. S. and Mrs. Richard Sackett, have returned from Shreveport where they have been attending Grand chapter.

The Woolworth girl's club of the Y. W. C. A. met last Tuesday evening for its regular monthly meeting. Mrs. W. M. Harper gave a book review of "Queen Anne's Lace." This was one of a series of reviews of current books that has been a featu the program outlined by the clu the early fall.

Colorful Frocks, Varied Bonnets —Fashion's Offering For Easter

Blue And Gray Harmonious Blending In Small Gardens According To Authorities

Talking with a member of the Monroe Garden club recently we were quite impressed with her ideas of blue in the garden. She said "Each year we go into the garden and gaze critically around and wonder why we do not enjoy the view quite like we did last year: In casting about for inspiration by which we may avoid this monotony, we should take more thought about colors and harmonious blendings. We can change borders and groupings and rearrange considerably, but a much happier result would be achieved by discarding a few reds and magenta's and adding a preponderance of blues.

Of course we all have the blue irises, larkspurs and blue pansies and violas, but their season is short at best, and it is not at all impossible to manage a long consecutive season of blue from March until frost.

These changes are especially applicable to the small garden where one has to achieve an artistic and harmonious effect within the confines of limited space, possibly fifty by fifty feet, more or less.

Dusty Miller is the old reliable and needs no comment. Plant some Silver King artemisia in the perennial border along with the tall pink hardy phloxes, they being about the same height, and it makes a charming effect. For the rockery or pool there is a new grass called festuca galauca, feathery and the early leaves very blue-gray. Satolina, a sweet-smelling evergreen perennial, with delicate silver-white foliage. Dwarf veronica incana, rock or border about six inches tall, with pretty blue flowers, and last, but not least, the old-fashioned true sweet lavender, of the name Vera.

The first splash of blue (and it is really blue) to appear in the spring is the muscari, or grape hyacinths. They are hardy, very fragrant and remain for several years. Mertensia Virginica, or Virginia Cowslips, with bell-shaped flowers. It is early and very unusual, the color merging from blue to delicate pink all at the same time. Planted with yellow primroses (vulgaris) the effect is priceless. Of the forget-me-not family the first is anchusa myosotis, which should, of course, always be planted with the bleeding hearts. Alpestris Royal Blue, of which there is a pink variety, is a hardy biennial. Palustris semperflorens, everblooming and hardy. The Chinese for-get-me-not, cynoglossum; annual and the seed should be sown as soon as the ground will permit.

Next is the delphiniums, and as to the hybrids in our climate, the only thing to be said for them, quoting one of our own leading gardeners, is "Plant 'em? love 'em, and lose 'em." However, there is comfort in the fact that we can have beautiful blossoms from the single types known as belladonna, a pure azure blue.

Next, and to the writer's way of thinking having tried them all, the most satisfactory species is the Chinese, or butterfly delphinium. It comes in all the shades of blue, grows about 1 1-2 feet high, is half-hardy and really blooms all summer, throwing up continually now shoots, the same as other varieties. These plants, as well as many others, are susceptible to fungus diseases or what is called dry rot, and should be treated early with gypsum (sulphate of lime.)

If you have never planted on your fence or trellis some heavenly blue morning glories, try it once. In the early fall and Indian summer is when they are at their best and to see them from your window in the early morning sun, glistening with the dew is, indeed, heavenly.

An interesting feature in connection with the art exhibit which has been on display at the Barkdull Faulk school during the past week were the living pictures posed by children in the school. The entire personnel of the cast for the "Living Pictures" included:

"Spanish Dancers," by Lillian Genth—posed by Mary Alougie with Spanish song by Mr. Drago.

"Air Castles," by Marie Perrault—posed by Carl Tidwell.

"Memories of Japan," by Yoshida—posed by Mildred Gibson, Elaine Elliott, Yvonne Cargile, Carolyn Husted and Dorothy Taylor.

"Artists Daughter," by Kaulbach—posed by Audrey Eatman.

D. A. R. Chapter Organized This Week

A D. A. R. chapter has been organized in Lake Providence and the officers are Mrs. J. W. McDaniel, regent, Mrs. A. S. Hill, first vice regent; Mrs. C. A. Rose, second vice regent; Mrs. E. D. Schneider, recording secretary; Mrs. Eleanor Kurrasch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. T. Hider, treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Benjamin, historian, and Mrs. Frank Brown, registrar.

The first regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Rose and in the business session, Mrs. W. B. Benjamin, chairman, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Rose were named on a committee to draft resolutions of respect on the death of their beloved member, Mrs. Olive Powell Ransdell. For the program committee Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Rose were appointed; on the membership committee are Mrs. Benjamin and Mrs. A. S. Hill, for the arrangement committee Mrs. Hider and Mrs. Schneider were named.

The charter members of the organization are Mesdames Elizabeth McCulloch Benjamin, Irma Williams Brown, Katherine McCulloch Davis, Virginia Benjamin Hider, Eleanor Benjamin Kurrasch, Gussie Tooke Hill, Pauline Mitchell McDaniel, Olive Irene Powell Ransdell, Mary Celina Ward Rose, Lucille Mitchell Treffry, Flora Evans Wyly and Misses Louise and Effie Carlisle. The second Friday was selected as the meeting date. Mrs. Rose the chapter's delegate to the state conference in Lake Charles gave a report of the session.

Mrs. G. B. Colwell, who has been the charming guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. O. Cornett, for the past three weeks has returned to her home in Birmingham, Ala. During Mrs. Colwell's visit in Monroe, a number of delightful affairs of a social nature were given in her honor.

On Tuesday a few friends gathered together for a farewell party in her honor, and games, contests and treasure hunts were enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. Colwell was the recipient of a number of lovely gifts on this occasion. A salad ice course was served to the guests who enjoyed the hospitality of this affair.

Colorful Frocks, Varied Bonnets --Fashion's Offering For Easter

Blue And Gray Harmonious Blending In Small Gardens According To Authorities

Talking with a member of the Monroe Garden club recently we were quite impressed with her ideas of blue in the garden. She said "Each year we go into the garden and gaze critically around and wonder why we do not enjoy the view quite like we did last year: In casting about for inspiration by which we may avoid this monotony, we should take more thought about colors and harmonious blendings. We can change borders and groupings and rearrange considerably, but a much happier result would be achieved by discarding a few reds and magenta's and adding a preponderance of blues.

Of course we all have the blue irises, larkspurs and blue pansies and violas, but their season is short at best, and it is not at all impossible to manage a long consecutive season of blue from March until frost.

These changes are especially applicable to the small garden where one has to achieve an artistic and harmonious effect within the confines of limited space, possibly fifty by fifty feet, more or less.

Dusty Miller is the old reliable and needs no comment. Plant some Silver King artemisia in the perennial border along with the tall pink hardy phloxes, they being about the same height, and it makes a charming effect. For the rockery or pool there is a new grass called festuca galauça, feathery and the early leaves very blue-gray. Satolina, a sweet-smelling evergreen perennial, with delicate silver-white foliage. Dwarf veronica incana, rock or border about six inches tall, with pretty blue flowers, and last, but not least, the old-fashioned true sweet lavender, of the name Vera.

The first splash of blue (and it is really blue) to appear in the spring is the muscari, or grape hyacinths. They are hardy, very fragrant and remain for several years. Mertensia Virginica or Virginia Cowslips, with bell-shaped flowers. It is early and very unusual, the color merging from blue to delicate pink all at the same time. Planted with yellow primroses (vulgaris) the effect is priceless. Of the forget-me-not family the first is anchusa myosotis, which should, of course, always be planted with the bleeding hearts. Alpestris Royal Blue, of which there is a pink variety, is a hardy biennial. Palustris semperflorens, everblooming and hardy. The Chinese for-get-me-not, cynoglossum; annual and the seed should be sown as soon as the ground will permit.

Next is the delphiniums, and as to the hybrids in our climate, the only thing to be said for them, quoting one of our own leading gardeners, is "Plant 'em? love 'em, and lose 'em." However, there is comfort in the fact that we can have beautiful blossoms from the single types known as belladonna, a pure azure blue.

Next, and to the writer's way of thinking having tried them all, the most satisfactory species is the Chinese, or butterfly delphinium. It comes in all the shades of blue, grows about 1 1-2 feet high, is half-hardy and really blooms all summer, throwing up continually now shoots, the same as other varieties. These plants, as well as many others, are susceptible to fungus diseases or what is called dry rot, and should be treated early with gypsum (sulphate of lime.)

If you have never planted on your fence or trellis some heavenly blue morning glories, try it once. In the early fall and Indian summer is when they are at their best and to see them from your window in the early morning sun, glistening with the dew is, indeed, heavenly.

SPANISH CITY
FLORIST

An interesting feature in connection with the art exhibit which has been on display at the Barkdull Faulk school during the past week were the living pictures posed by children in the school. The entire personnel of the cast for the "Living Pictures" included:

"Spanish Dancers," by Lillian Genth—posed by Mary Alongie with Spanish song by Mr. Drago.

"Air Castles," by Marie Perrault—posed by Carl Tidwell.

"Artists Daughter," by Kaulbach—posed by Audrey Eatman.

D. A. R. Chapter Organized This Week

A D. A. R. chapter has been organized in Lake Providence and the officers are Mrs. J. W. McDaniel, regent, Mrs. A. S. Hill, first vice regent; Mrs. C. A. Rose, second vice regent; Mrs. E. D. Schneider, recording secretary; Mrs. Eleanor Kurrasch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. T. Hider, treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Benjamin, historian, and Mrs. Frank Brown, registrar.

The first regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Rose and in the business session, Mrs. W. B. Benjamin, chairman, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Rose were named on a committee to draft resolutions of respect on the death of their beloved member, Mrs. Olive Powell Ransdell. For the program committee Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Rose were appointed; on the membership committee are Mrs. Benjamin and Mrs. A. S. Hill, for the arrangement committee Mrs. Hider and Mrs. Schneider were named.

The charter members of the organization are Mesdames Elizabeth McCulloch Benjamin, Irma Williams Brown, Katherine McCulloch Davis, Virginia Benjamin Hider, Eleanor Benjamin Kurrasch, Gussie Tooke Hill, Pauline Mitchell McDaniel, Olive Irene Powell Ransdell, Mary Celina Ward Rose, Lucille Mitchell Treffry, Flora Evans Wyly and Misses Louise and Effie Carlisle. The second Friday was selected as the meeting date. Mrs. Rose the chapter's delegate to the state conference in Lake Charles gave a report of the session.

Mrs. G. B. Colwell, who has been the charming guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. O. Cornett, for the past three weeks has returned to her home in Birmingham, Ala. During Mrs. Colwell's visit in Monroe, a number of delightful affairs of a social nature were given in her honor.

On Tuesday a few friends gathered together for a farewell party in her honor, and games, contests and treasure hunts were enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. Colwell was the recipient of a number of lovely gifts on this occasion. A salad ice course was served to the guests who enjoyed the hospitality of this affair.

Smith-Knight Wedding Is Solemnized

Friends will be interested in the announcement of the marriage on March 21st of Miss Katharine Smith, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Smith, Sr., to Mr. George Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Knight, at the home of Mrs. B. K. Grayson.

Mrs. Grayson, sister of the groom, was the only attendant of the bride. She wore a beautiful black crepe dress with pink accessories.

The bride was lovely in a Madelon blue crepe frock with accessories of white. She wore a corsage of white carnations and blue baby breath tied with tulle.

Mr. Eugene Berry, childhood friend of the groom, was the best man.

The couple will be at home to their friends at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knight, who will reside in New Orleans during the coming year.

Among the delightful affairs given for Miss Katharine Smith during the past week was a delightfully planned shower with Mrs. E. M. Granberry, Jr., Mrs. Billy Luton and Mrs. H. B. Todd, hostesses. The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts on this occasion.

A tempting salad course with individual iced cakes and tea was served to the following guests: Miss Katharine Smith, Mrs. B. T. Smith, Sr., Mrs. A. D. Knight, Mrs. J. M. Manning, Miss Mattie Reid, Mrs. Bryan Cook, Mrs. Herman Sumrall, Mrs. Godfrey Williams, Mrs. B. H. Grayson, Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Mrs. Claud Scharf, Miss Claudia Scharf, Miss Moore, Mrs. E. N. L. S. U. BREAKS FIVE MARKS TO WIN S. L. I. RELAYS

CENTER TEAMS WIN TWO FIRSTS IN TRACK MEET

The Tigers broke five of seven new marks set, while Southwestern smashed one, as did Tulane. Tulane also tied an old mark.

L. S. U. captured the meet and led in first places by a good margin in the college section, while Southwestern, Tulane and Louisiana college also won first places. Northeast Center of L. S. U. at Monroe, won both events in the college freshmen competition. Baton Rouge was out in front in the high school contests, while Istrouma, Baker, Bastile and Bolton also came out first in some of the events.

Wax, of Baton Rouge, and Brown, of Baker, each scored two firsts in the high school section.

New marks set by Louisiana State included the 880-yard college relay; two mile college relay; high jump; javelin, and mile relay. Southwestern established a new broad jump record, and Tulane made a new mark in the 440 yard relay. Tulane tied its own record set in 1934 in college high hurdles.

Individual record smashers were Duncan, Southwestern, and Kent and Blair, of Louisiana State.

An added feature of the meet was an exhibition hurdles race between Al Moreau and Johnny Morriss, in which Moreau finished first. His time was announced as 14.4 seconds.

The meet was one of the most successful in the history of the annual carnival and drew a large crowd to the stadium. The program opened with a parade of athletes, and Southwestern Louisiana institute band, which was led by Miss Mary Fontenot, of Crowley, queen of the carnival, and her maids.

The summary:

College high hurdles—Smith, Tulane, first; Chauviere, Southwestern second; Roberts, L. S. U., third. Time 1:5 seconds, ties Southwestern relay record established by Fisher of L. S. U. in 1934.

Shotput (college)—Hart, Louisiana college, first; Lester, L. S. U., second; Freese, Tulane, third. Distance, 46 feet, 4 1-2 inches.

880-yard relay (college)—L. S. U., first; Southwestern, second; Tulane, third. Time 1:29.6. Winning team composed of Saxon, Black, LaSalle, Newell. This is a new record. Old record 1:29.9 established by Louisiana State normal in 1932.

Pole vault (college)—Perez, Tulane, and Lodrigues, Tulane, tied for first place; Clements, S. L. I., third. Height, 11 feet, 6 inches.

Discus (high school)—Pruitt, Istrouma, first; Milner, Bolton, Alexandria, second; O'Neil, Baton Rouge, third. Distance, 119 feet 8 inches.

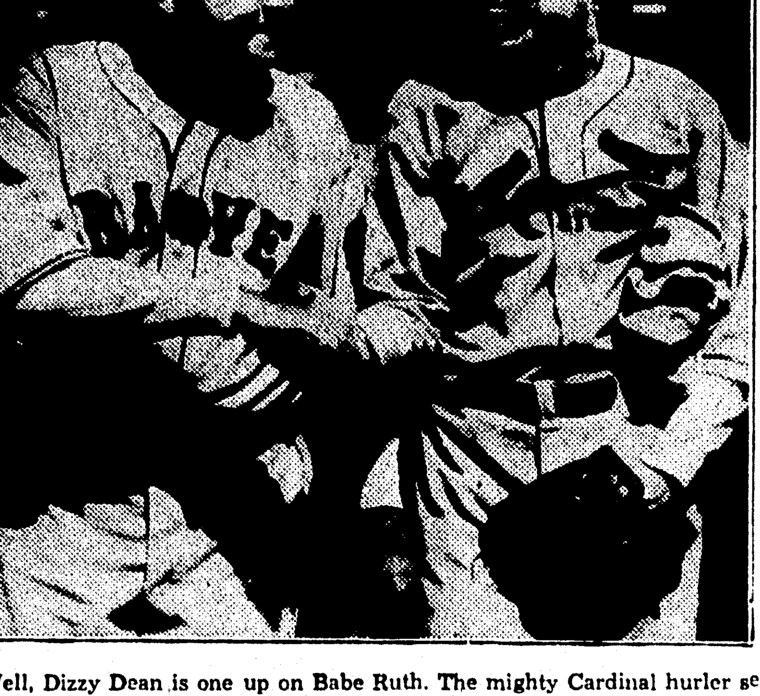
DIZ WINS FIRST TILT WITH BABE



Well, Dizzy Dean is one up on Babe Ruth. The mighty Cardinal hurler set down the mighty Braves slugger without a hit when he faced him twice in an exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla. It was the first meeting in a game for the two since the Babe entered the National league. You may recall that Diz said some unkind things about Ruth's switch to Boston when it was announced, but this picture indicates there's no hard feelings. It was made as each wished the other well before the start of the exhibition match. (Associated Press Photo)

Hughey Critz Finds The Dean Boys Easy To Hit

Here's The Latest Gossip From Big League Training Camps

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

MOBILE, Ala., March 23.—Random shots from the training camp dugouts:

Hughey Critz, whose name is pronounced to ryme with "fights" and whose nimble legs cover more ground than any other second baseman in the National league, wishes all the pitchers were as easy to hit as the Dean brothers . . . Hughey's stickwork averaged only .241 for the entire 1934 season but he combed the offerings of Dizzy and Paul Dean at a .400 clip. . . . His explanation: "I guess it's because I am more of a punch-hitter than a swinger."

Ray Harrell, right handed product of the Cardinals' Rochester "farm," clinched a job with the "varsity" this week by his sterling performance against the Giants . . . the 23-year-old Texan fanned New York's "big four" in the batting order, Hank Leiber, Mel Ott, Bill Terry and Travis Jackson, in swift succession at Bradenton . . . The world champions will need pitching re-enforcements, to help the Deans and Wild Bell Hallahan, already acting wilder than ever . . .

All American league clubs except the champion Detroit Tigers are carrying big "ifs" around in their bag of pennant prospects . . . Mickey Cochrane's crew, barring accidents, figures to overpower the league again . . . It will be a hot race only if Lefty Grove makes a pitching comeback for the Red Sox, if Jimmie Foxx succeeds as the backstopping builder-upper of the Athletics, if the Yankees develop more power to go with their speed, if Washington's twirling staff makes a comeback all along the line, and if Cleveland's Indians can survive the early loss of their great shortstop, Bill Knickerbocker, out with appendicitis . . .

Now that he's married and challenged by Charley Gelbert's attempted comeback, Leo Durocher is playing the best baseball of his career as shortstop and captain of the Cardinals . . . Charley hasn't a chance to get his old job back with Leo not only covering a country acre of ground but hitting oftener and harder than ever before . . . Leo was classed among the "all-American outs" when he was with the Yankees in 1928-29 but he became a hitting hero of the world series last fall as he aspires now to the home run crown of the "grapefruit league" . . .

Any question about what Babe Ruth meant to the Yankees as a drawing card has been dissipated by training camp attendance . . . The Boston Braves, who share St. Petersburg with the New York Americans as a conditioning ground, have outdrawn the Yankees at least 10 to 1 so far, including free as well as cash customers . . . It is likely that much of the Babe's old following in the Bronx will cross the Harlem river, starting this April, on the way to the Polo grounds . . . The shift of one well-worn king from the American league's playing deck to the National league's hand now seems to have assured the latter a "grand slam" for 1935 . . .

Rabbit Maranville, still gamely hobbling around on a leg that was fractured a year ago, will be kept by the Braves for utility work only . . . Manager Bill McKechnie has decided he can't risk the "Rab" as a regular at second base . . . Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Browns, won't attempt to do any infielding himself unless one of his front-line is hurt or traded . . . There's still talk that Oscar Melillo, second sacker, will eventually land with the Boston Red Sox, who balked at the previous price put on his services . . . Melillo is poison at the plate to Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, Yankee southpaw and ace of the American league hurlers . . .

Babe Ruth has a chance to break two all-time records this year that he didn't know about . . . One is for total runs scored, the other for total bases on all hits, and both are now held by Ty Cobb . . . The Babe must score 84 runs—six more than he did last year— to pass Cobb's mark of 2,244 but he needs only 102 total bases on the hitting side to exceed Ty's total of 5,863 . . .

Clarence Rowland is looking over possible training sites for the Chicago Cubs, who plan to shift next spring from Catalina to Florida . . . The Giants probably will not return to Miami Beach . . . Jacksonville, with new stands erected, is booking an extensive round of major league exhibition games for 1936.

LONG CONTINUES TO BERATE JONES

Biff Won Grid Games Because He Had More Men, Says Huey

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—Pausing in his talk of politics to discuss another favorite topic, football, Senator Huey Long said today Louisiana State university had won football games under Coach Biff Jones only "because we had more men than our opponents."

A bare 6 to 0 victory over the University of South Carolina two years ago brought Long to the subject of football and the mentor he forced out of his state university.

The Louisiana "kingfish," here to address a "share the wealth" mass meeting, was receiving a stream of callers at his suite at a local hotel. He spied a youth wearing a University of South Carolina monogram.

"Are you a football player?" Long asked, and continued quickly, "You all played us, I believe."

The athlete, who said his name was Watson, replied, "Yes, sir, year before last."

"Were you on that team?" Long fired at him. "You nearly beat us, as I recall."

"You know," Long averred, "the only reason we beat you was because we had more men than you did. Biff Jones would just keep running in new men until we won. We had to run in three teams before we beat Arkansas.

"We're going to get somewhere this year, though, I believe," he added.

DISTRICT BOXERS TO ENTER STATE MEET THIS WEEK

Neville To Defend Title; Choudrant Sends Championship Squad

High school boxers of north Louisiana, who qualified at the district tournament at Ruston March 15, will move on Baton Rouge this week-end for the fourth annual state boxing tournament which will be held Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Louisiana State university and the state high school athletic association at the L. S. U. gymnasium.

The Tigers of Neville high school of Monroe, who lost their district title to the Choudrant Aggies at the district contests, will be defending champions in the state battles. Coach Percy Brown, of the Bengals, will devote the first part of this week to final preparations for the defense of his team's state crown and plans to leave Thursday for the state capital. However, he is expected to enter only five of the seven qualified Neville mittmen.

Neville boxers who are to be taken will be Warren Wilkerson, district 90-pound champion; Manier Cannon, runner-up for the district title in the 98-pound division; "Shorty" Green, district 126-pound champion; Nick Danna, third place holder in the district 135-pound class; and Darius Crews, district 165-pound champion and veteran tourney scrapper. Two other Tigers who qualified at the district tourney, P. A. Poag, Jr., heavyweight, and Edward Endom, light heavyweight, are not expected to go.

From Choudrant in Lincoln parish, will come a fighting crew of Aggies who won the district crown, which Neville had held for the past two years, from the Tigers. The Aggies qualified six men and are expected to send them all to the battles. One of the entries is State Champion "Chic" Pipes, 155, who seems better than ever this year.

From six other north Louisiana towns come qualified boxers, with Bolton of Alexandria, third place winner of the district meet, and Farmerville leading with six qualified men each. Others qualified as follows: Homer 5, Oakdale 3, Haynesville 1 and Spearsville 1.

The entries from Farmerville will be two second place holders, Compton, 118, and Rabun, 145; and four third place winners, Meeks, 105, Frazier, 126, B. Works, 155, and Gates, 165.

Homer has two district champions, Brock, 105, and Chadwick, 135; one second place district title holder, Willis, 112; and two third place winners, Kendrick, 145, and White 118.

Sav-Mor Team To Play Lumbermen, Publishers

The Sav-Mor grocery softball team will engage the Slagle-Johnson Lumbermen, an independent team, and the Publishers, of the Twilight league in a doubleheader at the Barkdull Faulk diamond this afternoon, it was announced yesterday. The first game, with the Lumbermen, will begin at 1:30 o'clock.

Tom Spatafora will probably pitch the first game for the grocery boys, while "Skinny" Renaud will face the Publishers. Leo Garland, manager of the Sur-Wa squad, will catch both games.

FOOTBALL GUARDS FORM BATTERY ON L. S. U. BALL NINE

Brown, Helveston Are Veteran Stars; Tiger Prospects Good

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23.—(Special)—A pair of second-string all-southeastern conference football guards will form the first-string Louisiana State baseball battery this spring.

In naming his starting football lineup last fall, Capt. Biff Jones would announce "Buck" Brown and "Butch" Helveston when he got to guard positions. Thursday afternoon when the Tigers make their debut here against the Purdue Boilermakers, the guesser-in-chief will announce, "Batteries for L. S. U.—Brown, pitch, Brown—Helveston, catch, Helveston.

Due to an arm injury last year, his sophomore year, Brown was late in rounding into shape and never showed his true form. This season Bernie Moore cut winter football practice short for the baseball-football players and Brown is expected to develop into one of the best hurlers in the conference.

Helveston came along fast last year, so fast in fact, that one Texas league club almost talked him out of returning to Bengalville last fall for the football season.

Harry Rabenhorst, who gave L. S. U. this winter its first basketball championship, has been working his charges one week and the starting team is beginning to take shape. His present plans call for Brown and Helveston to be the first string battery, with Jess Fatherree, Mule Miller and Emile Lockbaum of Kenner, La., serving as the other pitchers.

Norman Hunt, a veteran first baseman, is being pushed hard for his job by Gus Tinsley, a sophomore, and the latter may get the nod Thursday for the opener of the three-game series with Purdue. If Tinsley starts at first Hunt, a hard hitting young man, will probably be assigned the duty in right field.

Due to the illness of Jack Walker, a soph, either Bud Callender or "Sparky" Landry will start at second base. Buddy Blair, senior who has attracted the eyes of Southern league scouts, will perform in the shortfield, while Newt Humphrey, last year's shortstop, will be stationed at third base.

Jack Harris and Roland Brown, two veterans, are assured of left and centerfield jobs, while either Tinsley or Hunt will care for the right garden. Other outfielders on the roster are Ernest Seago, Walter Sullivan and Fatherree.

Football players form the backbone of the Tiger team and just as soon as they are rid of the football kinks and get their eyes on the smaller sphere, the Tigers should give a good account of themselves. In addition to Brown and Helveston, Tinsley, Hunt, Fatherree, Sullivan, Humphrey, Roland Brown, Seago and Miller were all members of the football squad.

Purdue will have the benefit of a series under its belt when they come to Baton Rouge as the Indiana nine will meet Louisiana Polytech early this week at Ruston.

Weather's Distressing, But Banquets Are O. K.

Waldorf came to town all pepped up for spring football and the opportunity of seeing his new charges in action for the first time.

The birds were singing and it was springtime down in Kansas when he started his trek northward, he says. But the day he arrived the heaviest snowfall of the winter occurred and there weren't more than two consecutive days of agreeable weather for the next several weeks.

But Waldorf made the best of the situation. Two days after his arrival he had accepted 20 invitations to speak at various meetings and dinners during March.

BABE OUT, BRAVES LOSE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—With Babe Ruth missing his first exhibition game as the result of a mild attack of ptomaine poisoning which kept him confined to his home, his former teammates, the New York Yankees, blasted out a 7 to 2 victory over the Boston Braves today to even their spring exhibition series at two games each.

DODGERS WALLOP TIGERS

LAKELAND, Fla. — Showing no preference between two veteran hurlers and a rookie, the Brooklyn Dodgers pounded out a 12 to 4 decision over the Detroit Tigers today.

Paced by Lonny Frey, who cracked out a home run, double and single, the Dodgers got to Fred Marberry for six hits and four runs in three innings, found Eldon Auker for four more runs in the next five frames and then finished up by scoring four runs off rookie Cesnovar in the ninth.

CARDS BEAT RED SOX

SARASOTA, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Bad base running and even worse hitting by the Boston Red Sox gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 4 to 1 decision over the American leaguers. The Sox made only six hits off the offerings of Tinning and Haines, while the world champions banged away at Wes Ferrell and Hockette for 10 safeties.

OUACHITA TENNIS TEAM WINS AGAIN

Both Senior Squad And Junior Sweep Matches With Rayville

The senior and junior tennis players of Ouachita parish high school blanked Rayville high school's two teams here yesterday, the Lion seniors winning, 13 to 0, and the juniors, 3 to 0. The matches were played on the Barkdull Faulk courts.

It was the first time that the juniors had participated in the matches and their play featured yesterday's event. Trist McConnell and Charles Dent represented Ouachita in boys' singles and Donald Kennedy and John P. Jones played the doubles match. Everett McCoy and Billy Stodghill played both singles and doubles for the Rayville juniors.

Senior summary:

Boys singles:

James Crotwell, Ouachita, beat Carey Ellis, 6-2, 6-2.

John B. Fudickar, Ouachita, beat Lloyd Lane, 6-0, 6-1.

Billy Gannaway, Ouachita, beat John Binion, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4.

Ted Mahr, Ouachita, beat Huston Wilkerson, 6-3, 6-3.

Girls' singles:

Jean Sholars, Ouachita, beat Elenora Corey, 6-0, 6-3.

June Moffett, Ouachita, beat Lucille McCoy, 6-1, 6-1.

Boys' doubles:

Patton and Kennedy, Ouachita, beat Connell and Mulhern, 6-0, 6-1.

Gannaway and Crotwell, Ouachita, beat Ellis and Binion, 6-1, 7-5.

Girls' doubles:

Moffett and Sholars, Ouachita, beat Corey and McCoy, 6-0, 6-1.

Mixed doubles: Patton and Boyd, Ouachita, beat Connell and Corey, 6-0, 6-1.

Fudickar and Sholars, Ouachita, beat Ellis and McCoy, 6-0, 6-1.

Ted Bank Leaves To Take Over Duties At Idaho U.

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—(AP)—Ted Banks, former freshman coach at Tulane university, left today for Moscow, Idaho, to start spring football training at the University of Idaho where he has been selected as head coach for the Vandals.

The coach and his assistant will arrive at Moscow Wednesday afternoon and will begin spring training about April 1.

Coach Bank said he had obtained the services of Tessier "at least for spring training" but that no permanent appointments would be made until he arrives at the college.

Minnesota Girl Netter Sets Hot Scoring Pace

MONTEVIDEO, Minn., March 23.—(AP)—Thea Sletkolen, center on the Montevideo high school girls' basketball team, scored 197 of the team's 331 points in this, her fourth season. She never failed to score at least 20 points in any game and had a season average of 24 5-9 per contest.

TECH NINE MEETS PURDUE IN THREE GAMES THIS WEEK

First Of Series With Boilermakers To Be Played On Monday

RUSTON, La., March 23.—(Special)—The Louisiana Tech baseball squad will open its 1935 intercollegiate baseball schedule here Monday afternoon when they meet the Purdue university nine in the first of a three-game series. The contest is slated to get under way at 3:30 p.m.

The Techmen rounded into shape by battling the El Dorado nine in two warmup games this week. The Canines took the Lions down on the home diamond Thursday afternoon and invaded the Arkansas lads camp Saturday to again beat the El Dorado boys.

With seven varsity lettermen reporting back for baseball duties, Coaches Eddie McLane and Ray E. Davis see a promising future ahead for their willow wielders. The lettermen that will represent the Bulldogs on the diamond this season are: "Cowboy" Kyle, Marion; "Mutt" Pittard, Ruston; "Smokey" Taylor, Ruston; Robert Null, Ruston; Joe Pankey, Ruston; Jack Thigpen, Ruston; and Troy Shackleford, Bernice.

According to an announcement by Coach McLane, Kyle will probably start in the pitching role for the Techmen in their first intercollegiate game of the current season; however, it was pointed out that no pitcher would be allowed to go the full route until the season is well underway. Pittard and Taylor are probably next in line for service in the Purdue games.

Six more games have been added to the schedule of the Tech nine. Four games with the College of Marshall have been added, two to be played here April 12 and 13 and two to be played away, April 19 and 20. Two contests with Birmingham-Southern, previously announced pending, have been definitely scheduled for April 22 and 23, to be played in Birmingham.

The Delightful Dodgers Still A Circus

By Harry Grayson
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

ORLANDO, Fla., March 23.—I landed at Orlando with a great deal of apprehension.

There were unmistakable signs late last season that the Brooklyn Dodgers were out to violate all the fine old traditions of Ebbets Field in 1935.

What would baseball do without its Daffiness boys?

But Casey Stengel quickly allayed our fears.

The Dodgers are still the Dodgers.

Stengel got a new three-year contract and a substantial raise for finishing in sixth place.

That could happen only in Brooklyn.

"Casey Stengel belongs to the Brooklyn fans," said President McKeever, like a true Brooklynese. "He may have to do it without too much pitching or any other one thing, but he'll manage the Dodgers as long as I am president."

Brooklyn won more games in the National league than the pennant-gathering Detroit Tigers grabbed in the American during the last month and a half of the 1934 campaign. The stretch-burning St. Louis Cardinals copped only two or three more engagements than the Dodgers during the same period.

Stars Stud Daffy Roster

The Dodgers have one of the great right-hand pitchers of the business in Van Lingle Mungo. They possess one of the game's brilliant young shortstops in Linus Frey. Lon Koenecke established a major league fielding record with only two errors, both debatable, in center field. Ralph Boyle led senior loop flychasers in assists, although limited to 120 contests.

With all this going on there appeared to be real danger of the Dodgers sacrificing their entertaining qualities for baseball.

What would the national game on the banks of the Gowanus be without Dazzy Vances, Chick Fewsters, and Babe Hermans sliding into third base in a body, and Hermans spearing fly balls with their noggins?

Stengel's cap was a bird cage during his playing days across the bridge. Casey is the noblest Dodger of them all—has been on and off since 1912. It was difficult to believe that he would do anything tending to make the citizens of Brooklyn take baseball seriously.

"The main show may not be as side-splitting as it has been in years gone by, but the sideshows will be up to the old standard," explains Manager Stengel.

"Take Frenchy Bordagaray, for example. Bordagaray can out-talk everybody in baseball except Dizzy Dean and myself.

"Bordagaray has outrun race horses at county fairs in California, and is further qualified to be a Dodger. For instance, the last place Chicago White Sox returned him to the Pacific Coast league last June because he was hitting .320, and because he had never hit under that figure anywhere.

Added Attraction

"We also have the smallest outfielder in captivity, and offer him to the public at one and the same price. He is Nick Tremark, 5 feet 5, and, believe it or suspect me of fibbing, too small to be farmed out.

"We sent Tremark to Buffalo last summer, and Ray Schalk, who isn't so large himself, shipped him back. Schalk couldn't believe that Nick was big enough to play ball even after he hit a home run.

"Then we sent Tremark to a New York-Pennsylvania league outfit managed by Elmert Yoter, who once played third base for Cleveland. Yoter is a little, bald-headed bloke, but he wouldn't even give Tremark a uniform.

"When Tremark returned to Brooklyn, there was a new cop at the players' gate. The cop mistook Nick for one of the neighbor's children, and refused him admittance.

"Tremark rushed up to Business Manager Bob Quinn in high dudgeon, and hit the rafters when old Bob failed to recognize him out of uniform.

"I may fail to land or develop a pitcher to help Mungo, Emil Leonard, Ray Benge, and Johnny Babich, but I'll farm out Tremark if it takes all summer."

Yes, sir-ee! The Dodgers are still the Dodgers.

L. S. U. BREAKS FIVE MARKS TO WIN S. L. I. RELAYS

The Tigers broke five of seven new marks set, while Southwestern smashed one, as did Tulane. Tulane also tied an old mark.

L. S. U. captured the meet and led in first places by a good margin in the college section, while Southwestern, Tulane and Louisiana college also won first places. Northeast Center of L. S. U. at Monroe, won both events in the college freshmen competition. Baton Rouge was out in front in the high school contests, while Istrouma, Baker, Bastile and Bolton also came out first in some of the events.

Wax, of Baton Rouge, and Brown, of Baker, each scored two firsts in the high school section.

New marks set by Louisiana State included the 880-yard college relay; two mile college relay; high jump; javelin, and mile relay. Southwestern established a new broad jump record, and Tulane made a new mark in the 440 yard relay. Tulane tied its own record set in 1934 in college high hurdles.

Individual record smashers were Duncan, Southwestern, and Kent and Blair, of Louisiana State.

An added feature of the meet was an exhibition hurdles race between Al Moreau and Johnny Morriss, in which Moreau finished first. His time was announced as 14.4 seconds.

The meet was one of the most successful in the history of the annual carnival and drew a large crowd to the stadium. The program opened with a parade of athletes, and Southwestern Louisiana institute band, which was led by Miss Mary Fontenot, of Crowley, queen of the carnival, and her maids.

The summary:

College high hurdles—Smith, Tulane, first; Chauviere, Southwestern second; Roberts, L. S. U., third. Time 1:5 seconds, ties Southwestern relay record established by Fisher of L. S. U. in 1934.

Shotput (college)—Hart, Louisiana college, first; Lester, L. S. U., second; Freese, Tulane, third. Distance, 46 feet, 4 1-2 inches.

880-yard relay (college)—L. S. U., first; Southwestern, second; Tulane, third. Time 1:29.6. Winning team composed of Saxon, Black, LaSalle, Newell. This is a new record. Old record 1:29.9 established by Louisiana State normal in 1932.

Pole vault (college)—Perez, Tulane, and Lodrigues, Tulane, tied for first place; Clements, S. L. I., third. Height, 11 feet, 6 inches.

Discus (high school)—Pruitt, Istrouma, first; Milner, Bolton, Alexandria, second; O'Neil, Baton Rouge, third. Distance, 119 feet 8 inches.

DIZ WINS FIRST TILT WITH BABE

Well, Dizzy Dean is one up on Babe Ruth. The mighty Cardinal hurler set down the mighty Braves slugger without a hit when he faced him twice in an exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla. It was the first meeting in a game for the two since the Babe entered the National league. You may recall that Diz said some unkind things about Ruth's switch to Boston when it was announced, but this picture indicates there's no hard feelings. It was made as each wished the other well before the start of the exhibition match. (Associated Press Photo)

Hughey Critz Finds The Dean Boys Easy To Hit

Here's The Latest Gossip From Big League Training Camps

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

MOBILE, Ala., March 23.—Random shots from the training camp dugouts: Hughey Critz, whose name is pronounced to ryme with "fights" and whose nimble legs cover more ground than any other second baseman in the National league, wishes all the pitchers were as easy to hit as the Dean brothers . . . Hughey's stickwork averaged only .241 for the entire 1934 season but he combed the offerings of Dizzy and Paul Dean at a .400 clip. . . . His explanation: "I guess it's because I am more of a punch-hitter than a swinger."

Ray Harrell, right handed product of the Cardinals' Rochester "farm," clinched a job with the "varsity" this week by his sterling performance against the Giants . . . the 23-year-old Texan fanned New York's "big four" in the batting order, Hank Leiber, Mel Ott, Bill Terry and Travis Jackson, in swift succession at Bradenton . . . The world champions will need pitching re-enforcements, to help the Deans and Wild Bell Hallahan, already acting wilder than ever . . .

All American league clubs except the champion Detroit Tigers are carrying big "ifs" around in their bag of pennant prospects . . . Mickey Cochrane's crew, barring accidents, figures to overpower the league again . . . It will be a hot race only if Lefty Grove makes a pitching comeback for the Red Sox, if Jimmie Foxx succeeds as the backstopping builder-upper of the Athletics, if the Yankees develop more power to go with their speed, if Washington's twirling staff makes a comeback all along the line, and if Cleveland's Indians can survive the early loss of their great shortstop, Bill Knickerbocker, out with appendicitis . . .

Now that he's married and challenged by Charley Gelbert's attempted comeback, Leo Durocher is playing the best baseball of his career as shortstop and captain of the Cardinals . . . Charley hasn't a chance to get his old job back with Leo not only covering a country acre of ground but hitting oftener and harder than ever before . . . Leo was classed among the "all-American outs" when he was with the Yankees in 1928-29 but he became a hitting hero of the world series last fall as he aspires now to the home run crown of the "grapefruit league" . . .

Any question about what Babe Ruth meant to the Yankees as a drawing card has been dissipated by training camp attendance . . . The Boston Braves, who share St. Petersburg with the New York Americans as a conditioning ground, have outdrawn the Yankees at least 10 to 1 so far, including free as well as cash customers . . . It is likely that much of the Babe's old following in the Bronx will cross the Harlem river, starting this April, on the way to the Polo grounds . . . The shift of one well-worn king from the American league's playing deck to the National league's hand now seems to have assured the latter a "grand slam" for 1935 . . .

Rabbit Maranville, still gamely hobbling around on a leg that was fractured a year ago, will be kept by the Braves for utility work only . . . Manager Bill McKechnie has decided he can't risk the "Rab" as a regular at second base . . . Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Browns, won't attempt to do any infielding himself unless one of his front-line is hurt or traded . . . There's still talk that Oscar Milillo, second sacker, will eventually land with the Boston Red Sox, who balked at the previous price put on his services . . . Melillo is poison at the plate to Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, Yankee southpaw and ace of the American league hurlers . . .

Babe Ruth has a chance to break two all-time records this year that he didn't know about . . . One is for total runs scored, the other for total bases on all hits, and both are now held by Ty Cobb . . . The Babe must score 84 runs—six more than he did last year— to pass Cobb's mark of 2,244 but he needs only 102 total bases on the hitting side to exceed Ty's total of 5,863 . . .

Clarence Rowland is looking over possible training sites for the Chicago Cubs, who plan to shift next spring from Catalina to Florida . . . The Giants probably will not return to Miami Beach . . . Jacksonville, with new stands erected, is booking an extensive round of major league exhibition games for 1936.

LONG CONTINUES TO BERATE JONES

Biff Won Grid Games Because He Had More Men, Says Huey

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—Pausing in his talk of politics to discuss another favorite topic, football, Senator Huey Long said today Louisiana State university had won football games under Coach Biff Jones only "because we had more men than our opponents."

A bare 6 to 0 victory over the University of South Carolina two years ago brought Long to the subject of football and the mentor he forced out of his state university.

The Louisiana "kingfish," here to address a "share the wealth" mass meeting, was receiving a stream of callers at his suite at a local hotel. He spied a youth wearing a University of South Carolina monogram.

"Are you a football player?" Long asked, and continued quickly, "You all played us, I believe."

The athlete, who said his name was Watson, replied, "Yes, sir, year before last."

"Were you on that team?" Long fired at him. "You nearly beat us, as I recall."

"You know," Long averred, "the only reason we beat you was because we had more men than you did. Biff Jones would just keep running in new men until we won. We had to run in three teams before we beat Arkansas.

"We're going to get somewhere this year, though, I believe," he added.

DISTRICT BOXERS TO ENTER STATE MEET THIS WEEK

High school boxers of north Louisiana, who qualified at the district tournament at Ruston March 15, will move on Baton Rouge this week-end for the fourth annual state boxing tournament which will be held Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Louisiana State university and the state high school athletic association at the L. S. U. gymnasium.

The Tigers of Neville high school of Monroe, who lost their district title to the Choudrant Aggies at the district contests, will be defending champions in the state battles. Coach Percy Brown, of the Bengals, will devote the first part of this week to final preparations for the defense of his team's state crown and plans to leave Thursday for the state capital. However, he is expected to enter only five of the seven qualified Neville mittmen.

Neville boxers who are to be taken will be Warren Wilkerson, district 90-pound champion; Manier Cannon, runner-up for the district title in the 98-pound division; "Shorty" Green, district 126-pound champion; Nick Danna, third place holder in the district 135-pound class; and Darius Crews, district 165-pound champion and veteran tourney scrapper. Two other Tigers who qualified at the district tourney, P. A. Poag, Jr., heavyweight, and Edward Endom, light heavyweight, are not expected to go.

From Choudrant in Lincoln parish, will come a fighting crew of Aggies who won the district crown, which Neville had held for the past two years, from the Tigers. The Aggies qualified six men and are expected to send them all to the battles. One of the entries is State Champion "Chic" Pipes, 155, who seems better than ever this year.

From six other north Louisiana towns come qualified boxers, with Bolton of Alexandria, third place winner of the district meet, and Farmerville leading with six qualified men each. Others qualified as follows: Homer 5, Oakdale 3, Haynesville 1 and Spearsville 1.

The entries from Farmerville will be two second place holders, Compton, 118, and Rabun, 145; and four third place winners, Meeks, 105, Frazier, 126, B. Works, 155, and Gates, 165.

Homer has two district champions, Brock, 105, and Chadwick, 135; one second place district title holder, Willis, 112; and two third place winners, Kendrick, 145, and White 118.

Sav-Mor Team To Play Lumbermen, Publishers

The Sav-Mor grocery softball team will engage the Slagle-Johnson Lumbermen, an independent team, and the Publishers, of the Twilight league in a doubleheader at the Barkdull Faulk diamond this afternoon, it was announced yesterday. The first game, with the Lumbermen, will begin at 1:30 o'clock.

Tom Spatafora will probably pitch the first game for the grocery boys, while "Skinny" Renaud will face the Publishers. Leo Garland, manager of the Sur-Wa squad, will catch both games.

FOOTBALL GUARDS FORM BATTERY ON L. S. U. BALL NINE

Brown, Helveston Are Veteran Stars; Tiger Prospects Good

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23.—(Special)—A pair of second-string all-southeastern conference football guards will form the first-string Louisiana State baseball battery this spring.

In naming his starting football line-up last fall, Capt. Biff Jones would announce "Buck" Brown and "Butch" Helveston when he got to guard positions. Thursday afternoon when the Tigers make their debut here against the Purdue Boilermakers, the guesser-in-chief will announce, "Batteries for L. S. U.—Brown, pitch, Brown—Helveston, catch, Helveston.

Due to an arm injury last year, his sophomore year, Brown was late in rounding into shape and never showed his true form. This season Bernie Moore cut winter football practice short for the baseball-football players and Brown is expected to develop into one of the best hurlers in the conference.

Helveston came along fast last year, so fast in fact, that one Texas league club almost talked him out of returning to Bengalville last fall for the football season.

Harry Rabenhorst, who gave L. S. U. this winter its first basketball championship, has been working his charges one week and the starting team is beginning to take shape. His present plans call for Brown and Helveston to be the first string battery, with Jess Fatherree, Mule Miller and Emile Lockbaum of Kenner, La., serving as the other pitchers.

Norman Hunt, a veteran first baseman, is being pushed hard for his job by Gus Tinsley, a sophomore, and the latter may get the nod Thursday for the opener of the three-game series with Purdue. If Tinsley starts at first Hunt, a hard hitting young man, will probably be assigned the duty in right field.

Due to the illness of Jack Walker, a soph, either Bud Callender or "Sparky" Landry will start at second base. Buddy Blair, senior who has attracted the eyes of Southern league scouts, will perform in the shortfield, while Newt Humphrey, last year's shortstop, will be stationed at third base.

Jack Harris and Roland Brown, two veterans, are assured of left and centerfield jobs, while either Tinsley or Hunt will care for the right garden. Other outfielders on the roster are Ernest Seago, Walter Sullivan and Fatherree.

Football players form the backbone of the Tiger team and just as soon as they are rid of the football kinks and get their eyes on the smaller sphere, the Tigers should give a good account of themselves. In addition to Brown and Helveston, Tinsley, Hunt, Fatherree, Sullivan, Humphrey, Roland Brown, Seago and Miller were all members of the football squad.

Purdue will have the benefit of a series under its belt when they come to Baton Rouge as the Indiana nine will meet Louisiana Polytech early this week at Ruston.

Weather's Distressing, But Banquets Are O. K.

Waldorf came to town all pepped up for spring football and the opportunity of seeing his new charges in action for the first time.

The birds were singing and it was springtime down in Kansas when he started his trek northward, he says. But the day he arrived the heaviest snowfall of the winter occurred and there weren't more than two consecutive days of agreeable weather for the next several weeks.

But Waldorf made the best of the situation. Two days after his arrival he had accepted 20 invitations to speak at various meetings and dinners during March.

DODGERS WALLOP TIGERS

LAKELAND, Fla. -- Showing no preference between two veteran hurlers and a rookie, the Brooklyn Dodgers pounded out a 12 to 4 decision over the Detroit Tigers today.

Paced by Lonny Frey, who cracked out a home run, double and single, the Dodgers got to Fred Marberry for six hits and four runs in three innings, found Eldon Auker for four more runs in the next five frames and then finished up by scoring four runs off rookie Cesnovar in the ninth.

GIANTS BEAT A'S

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla.—Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, New York mound aces, hurled effective ball today as the Giants defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 3 to pull up to a .500 rating in 16 games played in the "grapefruit" league.

OUACHITA TENNIS TEAM WINS AGAIN

The senior and junior tennis players of Ouachita parish high school blanked Rayville high school's two teams here yesterday, the Lion seniors winning, 13 to 0, and the juniors, 3 to 0. The matches were played on the Barkdull Faulk courts.

It was the first time that the juniors had participated in the matches and their play featured yesterday's event. Trist McConnell and Charles Dent represented Ouachita in boys' singles and Donald Kennedy and John P. Jones played the doubles match. Everett McCoy and Billy Stodghill played both singles and doubles for the Rayville juniors.

Senior summary:

Boys singles:

Dawson Kennedy, Ouachita, beat Billy Connell, 6-0, 6-0.

James Crotwell, Ouachita, beat Carey Ellis, 6-2, 6-2.

John B. Fudickar, Ouachita, beat Lloyd Lane, 6-0, 6-1.

Billy Gannaway, Ouachita, beat John Binion, 6-8, 6-4, 6-4.

Jack Hackley, Ouachita, beat Fred Mulhern, 6-0, 6-3.

Ted Mahr, Ouachita, beat Huston Wilkerson, 6-3, 6-3.

Girls' singles:

Mixed doubles: Patton and Boyd, Ouachita, beat Connell and Corey, 6-0, 6-1.

Fudickar and Sholars, Ouachita, beat Ellis and McCoy, 6-0, 6-1.

Ted Bank Leaves To Take Over Duties At Idaho U.

The coach and his assistant will arrive at Moscow Wednesday afternoon and will begin spring training about April 1.

Coach Bank said he had obtained the services of Tessier "at least for spring training" but that no permanent appointments would be made until he arrives at the college.

Minnesota Girl Netter Sets Hot Scoring Pace

MONTEVIDEO, Minn., March 23.—(AP)—Thea Sletkolen, center on the Montevideo high school girls' basketball team, scored 197 of the team's 331 points in this, her fourth season. She never failed to score at least 20 points in any game and had a season average of 24 5-9 per contest.

TECH NINE MEETS PURDUE IN THREE GAMES THIS WEEK

First Of Series With Boilermakers To Be Played On Monday

RUSTON, La., March 23.—(Special)—The Louisiana Tech baseball squad will open its 1935 intercollegiate baseball schedule here Monday afternoon when they meet the Purdue university nine in the first of a three-game series. The contest is slated to get under way at 3:30 p.m.

The Techmen rounded into shape by battling the El Dorado nine in two warmup games this week. The Canines took the Lions down on the home diamond Thursday afternoon and invaded the Arkansas lads camp Saturday to again beat the El Dorado boys.

With seven varsity lettermen reporting back for baseball duties, Coaches Eddie McLane and Ray E. Davis see a promising future ahead for their willow wielders. The lettermen that will represent the Bulldogs on the diamond this season are: "Cowboy" Kyle, Marion; "Mutt" Pittard, Ruston; "Smokey" Taylor, Ruston; Robert Null, Ruston; Joe Pankey, Ruston; Jack Thigpen, Ruston; and Troy Shackleford, Bernice.

According to an announcement by Coach McLane, Kyle will probably start in the pitching role for the Techmen in their first intercollegiate game of the current season; however, it was pointed out that no pitcher would be allowed to go the full route until the season is well underway. Pittard and Taylor are probably next in line for service in the Purdue games.

Six more games have been added to the schedule of the Tech nine. Four games with the College of Marshall have been added, two to be played here April 12 and 13 and two to be played away, April 19 and 20. Two contests with Birmingham-Southern, previously announced pending, have been definitely scheduled for April 22 and 23, to be played in Birmingham.

The probable starting line up for Tech is: Riser, first base; Mitchell, second base; House, shortstop; Pankey, third base; Shackleford, left field; Cotton, center field; Taylor, right

"Only the Best"

The Delightful Dodgers Still A Circus

By Harry Grayson
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

There were unmistakable signs late last season that the Brooklyn Dodgers were out to violate all the fine old traditions of Ebbets Field in 1935.

What would baseball do without its Daffiness boys?

But Casey Stengel quickly allayed our fears.

The Dodgers are still the Dodgers.

Stengel got a new three-year contract and a substantial raise for finishing in sixth place.

That could happen only in Brooklyn.

"Casey Stengel belongs to the Brooklyn fans," said President McKeever, like a true Brooklynese. "He may have to do it without too much pitching or any other one thing, but he'll manage the Dodgers as long as I am president."

Brooklyn won more games in the National league than the pennant-gathering Detroit Tigers grabbed in the American during the last month and a half of the 1934 campaign. The stretch-burning St. Louis Cardinals copped only two or three more engagements than the Dodgers during the same period.

Stars Stud Daffy Roster

The Dodgers have one of the great right-hand pitchers of the business in Van Lingle Mungo. They possess one of the game's brilliant young shortstops in Linus Frey. Lon Koenecke established a major league fielding record with only two errors, both debatable, in center field. Ralph Boyle led senior loop flychasers in assists, although limited to 120 contests.

With all this going on there appeared to be real danger of the Dodgers sacrificing their entertaining qualities for baseball.

What would the national game on the banks of the Gowanus be without Dazzy Vances, Chick Fewsters, and Babe Hermans sliding into third base in a body, and Hermans spearing fly balls with their noggins?

Stengel's cap was a bird cage during his playing days, across the bridge. Casey is the noblest Dodger of them all—has been on and off since 1912. It was difficult to believe that he would do anything tending to make the citizens of Brooklyn take baseball seriously.

"The main show may not be as side-splitting as it has been in years gone by, but the sideshows will be up to the old standard," explains Manager Stengel.

"Take Frenchy Bordagaray, for example. Bordagaray can out-talk everybody in baseball except Dizzy Dean and myself.

"Bordagaray has outrun race horses at county fairs in California, and is further qualified to be a Dodger. For instance, the last place Chicago White Sox returned him to the Pacific Coast league last June because he was hitting .320, and because he had never hit under that figure anywhere.

Added Attraction

"We also have the smallest outfielder in captivity, and offer him to the public at one and the same price. He is Nick Tremark, 5 feet 5, and, believe it or suspect me of fibbing, too small to be farmed out.

"We sent Tremark to Buffalo last summer, and Ray Schalk, who isn't so large himself, shipped him back. Schalk couldn't believe that Nick was big enough to play ball even after he hit a home run.

"Then we sent Tremark to a New York-Pennsylvania league outfit managed by Elmert Yoter, who once played third base for Cleveland. Yoter is a little, bald-headed bloke, but he wouldn't even give Tremark a uniform.

"When Tremark returned to Brooklyn, there was a new cop at the players' gate. The cop mistook Nick for one of the neighbor's children, and refused him admittance.

"Tremark rushed up to Business Manager Bob Quinn in high dudgeon, and hit the rafters when old Bob failed to recognize him out of uniform.

"I may fail to land or develop a pitcher to help Mungo, Emil Leonard, Ray Benge, and Johnny Babich, but I'll farm out Tremark if it takes all summer."

Yes, sir-ee! The Dodgers are still the Dodgers.

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT BOOKED FOR STADIUM SHOW

KELLY TO MEET FINKELSTEIN IN FEATURE MATCH

McIntyre, Elitch Tangle In Other Bout Wednesday Night

Another double main event card, with the feature match bringing together Ernest Kelly, popular local favorite, and Harry Finklestein, husky Rochester, N. Y., Hebrew, will be presented at the regular weekly wrestling show at Roosevelt stadium Wednesday night, Promoter Charlie Bruscato announced yesterday. Don McIntyre, clever Pennsylvania heavyweight, will meet Nick Elitch, Greek showman, in the other match.

Finklestein made his local debut last week, losing to Cowboy Luttrall, whom he spotted some 12 pounds. The Jewish star was simply outweighed by the Cowboy but it will be different when he tackles Kelly. The two weigh about the same, with Harry probably having a pound or two in his favor.

Finkelstein didn't pull any rough stuff last week but press reports indicate that he doesn't behave so well in other cities. Kelly and the Jewish boy have a score to settle, as they wrestled to a one-hour draw in Houston last Friday night without either gaining a fall. Houston papers dubbed Finkelstein "one of the dirtiest wrestlers in the business." So apparently the Hebrew has his good and bad nights. Promoter Bruscato hasn't been informed just how Finkelstein will perform against Kelly here Wednesday night but it's a good bet that he'll repeat his Houston tactics.

Kelly, a former Tennessee football star, is the most popular wrestler to appear here in the past three years. He is strictly a "scientific" performer and his match with Don McIntyre a week and a half ago was the best seen here since the game was revived. He never resorts to foul tactics and features a devastating hook [illegible]

McIntyre, having successfully tamed Frenchie LaRue last week, is out after another victory over a rough-house artist and expects to give Nick Elitch a dose of the same medicine.

"I've learned what it takes to trim these so-called rough wrestlers," Bruscato said McIntyre told him, "and I figure I can take care of Mr. Elitch. I lost to Nick in Philadelphia two years ago but I've learned a lot since then."

Elitch, Bruscato said, is puzzled over LaRue's loss to McIntyre but isn't worrying over the outcome of his battle with the Pennsylvanian. Holding two victories over McIntyre, Nick figures he can repeat.

Both bouts will be best two out of three falls, with each having a two-hour time limit. Ordinarily the semi-final match is limited to one hour but Bruscato rates the Elitch-McIntyre bout on a par with the Kelly-Finkelstein affair and thus has designated it a main event.

Bruscato also announced yesterday that the R. and A. Jewelry company will give a $100 emerald stickpin to the winner of the Kelly-Finkelstein match. The pin is on display at the stadium.

Ouachita Valley League To Meet Next Thursday

The Ouachita Valley league will hold its organization meeting here next Thursday night at the Missouri Pacific Boosters hall, President Dent announced last night. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

All teams which were represented last year and clubs which desire admittance to the circuit this season are urged to attend the meeting.

It is hoped that a six or eight club league may be formed. The circuit finished last season with four clubs. Ruston is expected to enter a team in the Ouachita Valley this year, it was said.

GEORGIA TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD

Bulldogs Have Several Promising Men From Freshman Ranks

ATHENS, Ga., March 23.—(AP)—Supported by several members graduating from last season's undefeated freshman team, the outlook appears bright for the University of Georgia's track team.

"Our varsity should be every bit as good as last year's team," said Coach H. J. Stegeman in sizing up the squad. "We lost only two dual meets a year ago to Alabama Poly and Georgia Tech, neither of which scored more than a four point victory."

The Bulldogs' greatest loss by graduation was Graham Batchelor, former captain and star weight man.

Forrest "Spec" Townes, an outstanding hurdler who won a first place in the Charlotte invitation meet recently, is one of the leading varsity performers. The coaching staff expects him to be a consistent winner throughout the season.

The more valuable members of the squad in the various events include:

Sprints—Glenn Johnson and Pinky Moore.

440 yard run—Wesley Calhoun and Shorter Rankin.

High jump—John Bond.

Hurdles—Townes, Bond and Johnny Jones.

Shot put, discus and javelin—Maurice Green and Harman.

The Bulldogs' schedule, including seven meets, follows:

March 30, Clemson in Clemson; April 6, Presbyterian college in Athens; April 13, Furman in Athens; April 20, Alabama Poly in Athens; May 4, Georgia Tech in Atlanta; May 11 Florida in Gainesville; May 17-18 Southeastern conference meet in Birmingham.

GOLFING BRIGADE INVADES GEORGIA FOR 2 TOURNEYS

Metropolitan Open Starts Saturday, Then They Move On Augusta

By Kenneth Gregory
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

ATLANTA, March 23.—The old guard of the club wielding brigade, supplemented by outstanding southern professionals and leading amateurs, stops off here a week from today in the tour along the "money trail" to compete in the second annual $2,000 Metropolitan open golf tournament.

Moving southward after a sojourn in the Carolinas, the professional troop will be guest at Atlanta's Capital City club for the two-day tournament, won last spring by Ky Laffoon, the Denver sharpshooter.

A qualifying round of 18 holes is scheduled next Saturday, with the low sixty and ties battling over 36 holes on Sunday for the cash prizes and trophies. A pro-amateur event at 18 holes has been arranged for Friday as a curtain raiser.

Laffoon has not announced definitely whether he will be on hand to defend his crown, but tournament officials believe the Denver pro will be present. Ky staged a spectacular finish to edge Paul Runyan out of first place money in the inaugural meet.

Many amateurs, including Charlie Yates, national intercollegiate champion, have signified their intention of entering and the list is expected to be swelled by several professionals from the Southeastern P. G. A.

Following the tournament here, the golfers will head for Augusta and the second annual $5,000 meet sponsored by the Augusta National Golf club, starting April 4, in which Bobby Jones will again match himself against a great field of professionals.

The entry list for the Metropolitan will be increased by a large number of Atlanta golfers, as well as representatives from neighboring states. Practically all of the professionals competing in the Carolina tournaments are expected to check in here and try for a share of the $2,000, which will be split up into fifteen prizes. There will be ten amateur awards, including trophies, medals and golf equipment.

Among the professionals who have advised they will be present are Gene Kunes, Jules Huot, Orville White, Les Mallory, Mike Tiso, Jack Patroni and Frank Walsh.

Billy McWilliams of Rome, Ga., Georgia state champion, and Tommy Wright, Knoxville, Tenn., sensation who was one of the low scoring Simon Pures in last year's tournament, are expected to compete with the amateurs.

NEVILLE NETTERS DEFEAT BASTROP

Rams Sweep Boys' Doubles But Otherwise Haven't Much Luck

The Neville high school tennis team continued to exercise its jinx over the Bastrop high school squad yesterday, defeating the Rams, 8 to 3, at Bastrop.

Bastrop swept the two boys' doubles matches and took one of the boys' singles for its three points. The Neville girls were victorious in all their matches and the Tigers also swept the mixed doubles.

A return match between the two schools will be played in the near future.

The summary:

Boys' singles:

Jimmy Lawrence, Bastrop, beat Clyde Payne, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

R. C. White, Neville, beat Todd Spear, 6-3, 7-5.

Richard Sackett, Neville, beat Eldridge, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Marvin Greason, Neville, beat Wirt Rogers, 7-9, 6-3, 8-6.

Boys' doubles:

Lawrence and Spear, Bastrop, beat White and Sackett, 6-2, 6-2.

Rogers and Eldridge, Bastrop, beat Payne and Learned, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4.

Girls' singles:

Carrie Perce, Neville, beat Jeanette Rowe, 6-4, 6-4.

Lucille Brown, Neville, beat Frances Pettis, 6-1, 6-0.

Girls' doubles:

Brown and Smith, Neville, beat Pettis and Rowe, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Mixed doubles:

Sackett and Brown, Neville, beat Spear and Pettis, 7-5, 6-3.

Perce and Payne, Neville, beat Lawrence and Rowe, 6-3 (called, darkness).

Head Play Runs Well In Mud To Win Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO, Calif., March 23.—(AP)—Head Play, golden chestnut star owned by Mrs. Silas B. Mason, won the $25,000 added Bay Meadows handicap today on a muddy track. The time was 2:00.3 for the one mile and one-eighth.

Time Supply, winner of the first Bay Meadows handicap last fall, ran second, three and one-half lengths behind the winner. Gusto was third and Dark Winter fourth.

Head Play paid $3.20, $2.40, and $2.40.

CAN'T GET LON'S GOAT

Wilson Hopes To Pilot Phils To Fourth Place

However, Peppery Manager Appears To Face Hopeless Task

(Note: This is the twelfth of a series of stories analyzing the prospects of major league baseball clubs for the coming season).

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—The Phillies may not be going anywhere in particular this season but there is no inferiority complex, on that account, in the ranks of a peppery band of athletes presided over by fighting Jimmy Wilson.

In his more optimistic moments Manager Wilson considers the Phils have a chance to finish as high as fourth in the coming National league race. Jimmy is among the smartest handlers of pitching talent in the major leagues but he will need to be a miracle-worker to get the club out of the second division. It finished seventh last year and hardly figures to do any better, in view of the team's glaring lack of reserve strength.

Wilson thinks he got all the better of the winter's trading with the New York Giants, whereby he parted with Dick Bartell and George Davis in exchange for John Collins, (Blondy) Ryan, Johnny Vergez, George Watkins and at least $50,000 in cash.

Ryan's record cannot compare with Bartell's at shortstop or as a hitter but Blondy has unquenchable spirit and the knack of achieving results that do not show in "the little red book." The former Holy Cross star lost none of his inspirational enthusiasm in the transfer from a pennant contender to a second division outfit. If anything he is fighting harder than ever to prove to the skeptical that he is a big league shortstop.

Vergez has a fight on his hands with Bucky Walters for the third base job. So far Walters has had the edge but the band-box park of the Phillies may help Vergez revive his slugging habits. Johnny has experimented at second base but Lou Chiozza, a sophomore star, is definitely slated for the job, with Dolph Camilli, a long range batsman, holding down first base.

The short right field fence should be a boon to Watkins. George thinks he should hit upwards of 20 home runs in the Phillie park, for he is a natural pull hitter. He will patrol center field, with Ethan Allen moving over to left and Johnny Moore handling the carom shots in right field.

While hopefully casting about for adequate replacements, Wilson is developing a "fire ball" pitching staff. The Phils are concentrating on pitching speed to help check opposing hitters.

The Phils came up with two pitching sensations last year in Curtis Davis, drafted from the coast league, and Euel Moore, Indian right-hander purchased from Baltimore. Davis won 19 games with a seventh-place club and finished third to Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell in effectiveness. Moore, the veteran Sylvester Johnson and "Fidgety Phil" Collins will do the heavy duty but Wilson expects to surprise the league with one or two newcomers.

Wilson and his great young backstop, Al Todd, each played in 91 games last year but the Elmira (N. Y.) boy hit .318 to his manager's .292 and probably will do more than half the receiving this season.

MEETS SOUGHT BY CENTER TRACKMEN

Track Events To Be Held Here; Another Grid Drill To Be Held

The Southwestern carnival at Lafayette yesterday was Northeast Center's first venture into track competition but negotiations are underway to schedule several dual meets to be held here this spring, it was anonunced yesterday.

Repairs are being made on the track and field at Brown stadium and hurdles are being constructed. All preparatory work will be completed in time for the meets expected.

Members of the track squad, besides Mosely, Rachel, Guin, Mays and Day, who attended the Southwestern relays, are Williamson, "Bully" White, Jeffries, Hunter, Brennon, Arnold, Cagle, Rushing, Trichel, Hyde, Gandy and Tensely.

Coach Jim Malone, who last week attended Coach Bernie Moore's spring drill of L. S. U.'s prospects at Baton Rouge, plans to hold another spring training session for his gridders sometime next month or in May.

The football outlook for the college this coming season is promising. Negotiations are under way to bring the Murray State Teachers college of Kentucky to Monroe for a game next fall. The date, however, is tentative. Season tickets are expected to be on sale at bargain prices by July 15, it has been reported.

Baseball preparations at the college have been definitely set aside because of financial conditions, but Coach Malone announced that the boys will be permitted to play with local aggregations.

Strong Tinymites Close Cage Schedule With Win

STRONG, Ark., March 23.—(Special)—The Strong Tinymites closed their 1934-35 basketball season here last night by trouncing the Ouachita parish girls 42 to 21, in a fast and furious game featured by aggressive play from start to finish.

The Tinymites took a 12 to 6 lead in the first quarter, weathered a determined Ouachita rally in the second and led 20 to 16 at the half. Ouachita weakened in the third quarter and the Tinymites turned on the steam to run up a big score in the last period.

The Tinymites have a season record of 21 victories out of 25 games, scoring 1,002 points against 491.

Many sport experts have declared that if Buddy Blair, L. S. U.'s three letter man, had played football, he would be rated as one of the outstanding collegiate athletes in the country. He is one of the best basketball forwards in the country; professional baseball scouts have been on his trail for three years, and he is the Southeastern conference javelin record holder as well as being National A. BOXING SITUATION GETTING NOWHERE

Heavyweight Series Ends; Baer-Schmeling Bout Looms

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The heavyweight boxing situation looked like a subway platform during commuting hours today. Everybody was in a hurry, but getting nowhere.

The only thing about it that remained positive was Madcapper Max Baer is still the champion.

Otherwise matters stood as follows:

James J. Braddock, the Jersey City veteran, who won a clean-cut 15-round decision from Art Lasky last night, is dickering for a bout with ex-Champion Max Schmeling now that Primo Carnera has "sold out" Madison Square Garden for the 20th Century Sporting club and a bout with Joe Lewis, sensational Detroit negro.

Jimmy Johnston, the Garden's fistic matchmaker, is just itching to announce a Baer-Schmeling championship tilt for June but doesn't dare in view of the probability that the New York state athletic commission won't sanction it before Schmeling tackles Braddock.

Added to those developments is the anticipated demise of the Garden's elimination tournament to determine a worthy title challenger. When Carnera turned his back on Johnston yesterday and signed with "the enemy" he sounded the tournament's death knell for he was scheduled to meet the winner of the Braddock-Lasky affair in the Garden on April 5. A late check-up indicated the Garden would be dark that night and, perhaps, for the remainder of the indoor season because the circus moves in early in April.

Centenary Coaches Drill Large Squad In Football

SHREVEPORT, March 23—(Special)—Forty-six prospective Centenary gridsters, in their first week of spring training, were put through a long drill on football fundamentals by Coaches Curtis Parker and E. T. Renfro during the past week. The coaches stressed stance, form blocking, tackling, starting, pulling and form running in their drills.

Included in this group were 17 lettermen, 8 squadmen and 21 graduates from last year's weak freshman team, which incidentally did not win a game out of five played.

LIONS SEEK TO SCHEDULE GAMES

Baseball Team Ready For 1935 Campaign: Three Veterans Back

Ouachita parish high school's baseball team, which won the championship of north Louisiana last year, is seeking games, Coach Leo Hartman announced last night.

The squad has been working out for the past several weeks and yesterday played a practice game with a team of players from Northeast Center of L. S. U.

The Lions have scheduled only two games so far, Coach Hartman said. These are with Simsboro, the first to be played on April 6 at Simsboro and a return game to be played here on April 10. High school teams are urged to communicate with Coach Hartman.

The Ouachita squad this year contains only three players who were members of the championship team last season. They are Eddie Bowles, Fluitt Hundley and Jack Stewart. Bowles played in the outfield last year but has been converted into a catcher. Hundley is holding down his old berth at shortstop but Stewart, another outfielder of 1934, has taken over the third base job.

The Lions have a much lighter team than represented the local school last season, Coach Hartman said. The squad is fast, with a general improvement in fielding, but the hitting so far has been weak, according to the Ouachita mentor.

Coach Hartman hopes to schedule a number of games and then wind up the campaign by participating in the district and state tournaments.

FRED HAAS MAPS BUSY CAMPAIGN

L. S. U.'s No. 1 Golfer Starts With Bobby Jones' Tournament

BATON ROUGE, La., March 23.—(Special)—Fred Haas, Jr., Louisiana State sophomore golf sensation, has a strenuous campaign mapped out for himself this spring and summer. The No. 1 man of the L. S. U. varsity golf team, who was recently medalist in the New Orleans carnival golf tournament, will start the fireworks by competing in the national golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., April 4-7.

There Freddie will meet the finest professional divot diggers in the land in addition to the rotund gentleman named Bobby Jones, considered the greatest golfer of all time. Although Freddie can only hope to finish high in this tournament, the experience will prove invaluable.

The L. S. U. sophomore, who is southern amateur and western junior champion, will make his varsity debut in the University of Georgia's all-south collegiate invitational tourney at Athens, late in April.

A dual match with Georgia Tech about this time is also in the making and, if it goes through, it will bring Charley Yates, national collegiate champion, and Haas together for the first time.

Plans for Haas and his mates, who include Bob Anderson, who defeated Haas for the Louisiana amateur crown in 1933, to invade the mid-west have just about been dropped, but the Tigers will play Tulane and other southern schools.

Haas, as well as Anderson and perhaps two other L. S. U. golfers, will be entered in the national intercollegiates, while Haas will again compete in the national amateur. Last year the slim Louisiana youngster went to the round of 16 before being eliminated by the man who finished as runner to Lawson Little.

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT BOOKED FOR STADIUM SHOW

McIntyre, Elitch Tangle In Other Bout Wednesday Night

Another double main event card, with the feature match bringing together Ernest Kelly, popular local favorite, and Harry Finklestein, husky Rochester, N. Y., Hebrew, will be presented at the regular weekly wrestling show at Roosevelt stadium Wednesday night, Promoter Charlie Bruscato announced yesterday. Don McIntyre, clever Pennsylvania heavyweight, will meet Nick Elitch, Greek showman, in the other match.

Finklestein made his local debut last week, losing to Cowboy Luttrall, whom he spotted some 12 pounds. The Jewish star was simply outweighed by the Cowboy but it will be different when he tackles Kelly. The two weigh about the same, with Harry probably having a pound or two in his favor.

Finkelstein didn't pull any rough stuff last week but press reports indicate that he doesn't behave so well in other cities. Kelly and the Jewish boy have a score to settle, as they wrestled to a one-hour draw in Houston last Friday night without either gaining a fall. Houston papers dubbed Finkelstein "one of the dirtiest wrestlers in the business." So apparently the Hebrew has his good and bad nights. Promoter Bruscato hasn't been informed just how Finkelstein will perform against Kelly here Wednesday night but it's a good bet that he'll repeat his Houston tactics.

Kelly, a former Tennessee football star, is the most popular wrestler to appear here in the past three years. He is strictly a "scientific" performer and his match with Don McIntyre a week and a half ago was the best seen here since the game was revived. He never resorts to foul tactics and features a devastating hook scissors.

McIntyre, having successfully tamed Frenchie LaRue last week, is out after another victory over a roughhouse artist and expects to give Nick Elitch a dose of the same medicine.

"I've learned what it takes to trim these so-called rough wrestlers," Bruscato said McIntyre told him, "and I figure I can take care of Mr. Elitch. I lost to Nick in Philadelphia two years ago but I've learned a lot since then."

Elitch, Bruscato said, is puzzled over LaRue's loss to McIntyre but isn't worrying over the outcome of his battle with the Pennsylvanian. Holding two victories over McIntyre, Nick figures he can repeat.

Both bouts will be best two out of three falls, with each having a two-hour time limit. Ordinarily the semi-final match is limited to one hour but Bruscato rates the Elitch-McIntyre bout on a par with the Kelly-Finkelstein affair and thus has designated it a main event.

Bruscato also announced yesterday that the R. and A. Jewelry company will give a $100 emerald stickpin to the winner of the Kelly-Finkelstein match. The pin is on display at the stadium.

Ouachita Valley League To Meet Next Thursday

The Ouachita Valley league will hold its organization meeting here next Thursday night at the Missouri Pacific Boosters hall, President Dent announced last night. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

All teams which were represented last year and clubs which desire admittance to the circuit this season are urged to attend the meeting.

It is hoped that a six or eight club league may be formed. The circuit finished last season with four clubs. Ruston is expected to enter a team in the Ouachita Valley this year, it was said.

GEORGIA TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD

Bulldogs Have Several Promising Men From Freshman Ranks

ATHENS, Ga., March 23.—(AP)—Supported by several members graduating from last season's undefeated freshman team, the outlook appears bright for the University of Georgia's track team.

"Our varsity should be every bit as good as last year's team," said Coach H. J. Stegeman in sizing up the squad. "We lost only two dual meets a year ago to Alabama Poly and Georgia Tech, neither of which scored more than a four point victory."

The Bulldogs' greatest loss by graduation was Graham Batchelor, former captain and star weight man.

Forrest "Spec" Townes, an outstanding hurdler who won a first place in the Charlotte invitation meet recently, is one of the leading varsity performers. The coaching staff expects him to be a consistent winner throughout the season.

The more valuable members of the squad in the various events include:

Sprints—Glenn Johnson and Pinky Moore.

440 yard run—Wesley Calhoun and Shorter Rankin.

High jump—John Bond.

Hurdles—Townes, Bond and Johnny Jones.

Shot put, discus and javelin—Maurice Green and Harman.

The Bulldogs' schedule, including seven meets, follows:

March 30, Clemson in Clemson; April 6, Presbyterian college in Athens; April 13, Furman in Athens; April 20, Alabama Poly in Athens; May 4, Georgia Tech in Atlanta; May 11 Florida in Gainesville; May 17-18 Southeastern conference meet in Birmingham.

NO TIGER KAYOED

In 39 fights this winter not a single member of the L. S. U. Southeastern conference boxing championship team was knocked out. In dual meets no Bengal was floored, although two hit the deck in the conference tournament.

GOLFING BRIGADE INVADES GEORGIA FOR 2 TOURNEYS

Metropolitan Open Starts Saturday, Then They Move On Augusta

By Kenneth Gregory
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

ATLANTA, March 23.—The old guard of the club wielding brigade, supplemented by outstanding southern professionals and leading amateurs, stops off here a week from today in the tour along the "money trail" to compete in the second annual $2,000 Metropolitan open golf tournament.

Moving southward after a sojourn in the Carolinas, the professional troop will be guest at Atlanta's Capital City club for the two-day tournament, won last spring by Ky Laffoon, the Denver sharpshooter.

A qualifying round of 18 holes is scheduled next Saturday, with the low sixty and ties battling over 36 holes on Sunday for the cash prizes and trophies. A pro-amateur event at 18 holes has been arranged for Friday as a curtain raiser.

Laffoon has not announced definitely whether he will be on hand to defend his crown, but tournament officials believe the Denver pro will be present. Ky staged a spectacular finish to edge Paul Runyan out of first place money in the inaugural meet.

Many amateurs, including Charlie Yates, national intercollegiate champion, have signified their intention of entering and the list is expected to be swelled by several professionals from the Southeastern P. G. A.

Following the tournament here, the golfers will head for Augusta and the second annual $5,000 meet sponsored by the Augusta National Golf club, starting April 4, in which Bobby Jones will again match himself against a great field of professionals.

The entry list for the Metropolitan will be increased by a large number of Atlanta golfers, as well as representatives from neighboring states. Practically all of the professionals competing in the Carolina tournaments are expected to check in here and try for a share of the $2,000, which will be split up into fifteen prizes. There will be ten amateur awards, including trophies, medals and golf equipment.

Among the professionals who have advised they will be present are Gene Kunes, Jules Huot, Orville White, Les Mallory, Mike Tiso, Jack Patroni and Frank Walsh.

Billy McWilliams of Rome, Ga., Georgia state champion, and Tommy Wright, Knoxville, Tenn., sensation who was one of the low scoring Simon Pures in last year's tournament, are expected to compete with the amateurs.

NEVILLE NETTERS DEFEAT BASTROP

Rams Sweep Boys' Doubles But Otherwise Haven't Much Luck

The Neville high school tennis team continued to exercise its jinx over the Bastrop high school squad yesterday, defeating the Rams, 8 to 3, at Bastrop.

Bastrop swept the two boys' doubles matches and took one of the boys' singles for its three points. The Neville girls were victorious in all their matches and the Tigers also swept the mixed doubles.

A return match between the two schools will be played in the near future.

The summary:

Boys' singles:

Jimmy Lawrence, Bastrop, beat Clyde Payne, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.

R. C. White, Neville, beat Todd Spear, 6-3, 7-5.

Richard Sackett, Neville, beat Eldridge, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Marvin Greason, Neville, beat Wirt Rogers, 7-9, 6-3, 8-6.

Boys' doubles:

Lawrence and Spear, Bastrop, beat White and Sackett, 6-2, 6-2.

Rogers and Eldridge, Bastrop, beat Payne and Learned, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4.

Girls' singles:

Carrie Perce, Neville, beat Jeanette Rowe, 6-4, 6-4.

Lucille Brown, Neville, beat Frances Pettis, 6-1, 6-0.

Girls' doubles:

Brown and Smith, Neville, beat Pettis and Rowe, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Mixed doubles:

Sackett and Brown, Neville, beat Spear and Pettis, 7-5, 6-3.

Perce and Payne, Neville, beat Lawrence and Rowe, 6-3 (called, darkness).

Head Play Runs Well In Mud To Win Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO, Calif., March 23.—(AP)—Head Play, golden chestnut star owned by Mrs. Silas B. Mason, won the $25,000 added Bay Meadows handicap today on a muddy track. The time was 2:00.3 for the one mile and one-eighth.

Time Supply, winner of the first Bay Meadows handicap last fall, ran second, three and one-half lengths behind the winner. Gusto was third and Dark Winter fourth.

Head Play paid $3.20, $2.40, and $2.40.

CAN'T GET LON'S GOAT

Wilson Hopes To Pilot Phils To Fourth Place

However, Peppery Manager Appears To Face Hopeless Task

(Note: This is the twelfth of a series of stories analyzing the prospects of major league baseball clubs for the coming season).

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—The Phillies may not be going anywhere in particular this season but there is no inferiority complex, on that account, in the ranks of a peppery band of athletes presided over by fighting Jimmy Wilson.

In his more optimistic moments Manager Wilson considers the Phils have a chance to finish as high as fourth in the coming National league race. Jimmy is among the smartest handlers of pitching talent in the major leagues but he will need to be a miracle-worker to get the club out of the second division. It finished seventh last year and hardly figures to do any better, in view of the team's glaring lack of reserve strength.

Wilson thinks he got all the better of the winter's trading with the New York Giants, whereby he parted with Dick Bartell and George Davis in exchange for John Collins, (Blondy) Ryan, Johnny Vergez, George Watkins and at least $50,000 in cash.

Ryan's record cannot compare with Bartell's at shortstop or as a hitter but Blondy has unquenchable spirit and the knack of achieving results that do not show in "the little red book." The former Holy Cross star lost none of his inspirational enthusiasm in the transfer from a pennant contender to a second division outfit. If anything he is fighting harder than ever to prove to the skeptical that he is a big league shortstop.

Vergez has a fight on his hands with Bucky Walters for the third base job. So far Walters has had the edge but the band-box park of the Phillies may help Vergez revive his slugging habits. Johnny has experimented at second base but Lou Chiozza, a sophomore star, is definitely slated for the job, with Dolph Camilli, a long range batsman, holding down first base.

There Freddie will meet the finest professional divot diggers in the land in addition to the rotund gentleman named Bobby Jones, considered the greatest golfer of all time. Although Freddie can only hope to finish high in this tournament, the experience will prove invaluable.

The L. S. U. sophomore, who is southern amateur and western junior champion, will make his varsity debut in the University of Georgia's all-south collegiate invitational tourney at Athens, late in April.

A dual match with Georgia Tech about this time is also in the making and, if it goes through, it will bring Charley Yates, national collegiate champion, and Haas together for the first time.

Plans for Haas and his mates, who include Bob Anderson, who defeated Haas for the Louisiana amateur crown in 1933, to invade the mid-west have just about been dropped, but the Tigers will play Tulane and other southern schools.

Haas, as well as Anderson and perhaps two other L. S. U. golfers, will be entered in the national intercollegiates, while Haas will again compete in the national amateur. Last year the slim Louisiana youngster went to the round of 16 before being eliminated by the man who finished as runner to Lawson Little.

field; Thigpen, catcher; Kyle or Pittard, pitcher.

The Purdue squad, numbering 20 players and coaches, will arrive in Ruston Sunday afternoon. It is probable that Noble Kizer, the Boilermakers' famous football coach, will accompany the club here.

The Purdue team is a heavy hitting outfit, with Lang, an outfielder, leading the attack. Lang hit for a .400 average in Big Ten games last season. Skoronski, captain-elect of the football squad, also is a good hitter. He plays first base. Craig and Williamson, infielders, also are outstanding members of the Boilermaker nine.

Purdue played 17 Big Ten games last year, winning nine, losing six and playing two ties.

The Boilermaker series will be resumed in May when the Bulldogs make their annual trip through the middle west.

Ruth In Bed With Attack Of Ptomaine Poisoning

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Suffering from a mild attack of ptomaine poisoning, Babe Ruth was confined to his bed today while the Boston Braves and New York Yankees met in the fourth game of their spring exhibition series before a crowd of 1,000. It was the first exhibition game the Babe had missed since joining the Braves this spring. His place in right field and third position in batting order was taken by Rupert Thompson, a rookie.

Fuqua Beats Hornbostel In Special 600-Yard Race

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.—(AP)—Ivan Fuqua upset his former Indiana university teammate, Charley Hornbostel, in a special 600-yard race at the third annual Butler university relays tonight, beating off a challenge of the world's indoor record holder on the last turn.

The time was 1 minute, 11.7 seconds, only four-tenths of a second behind Hornbostel's record.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's negro sprinter, equalled the world's sixty-yard dash record, covering the course in 6.1 seconds to beat Sam Stoller and Willis Ward of Michigan.

Ohio State's two mile relay quartet opened the relays with a thrilling victory over Notre Dame. The time was 7 minutes, 53.5 seconds, a new relays' record.

Mack To Present Untried Team In American Battle

By John J. Romano

Connie Mack will present another youthful, untried team wearing the A of hallowed baseball memory this season. Then there is the startling experiment of turning a sterling first baseman and home-run slugger into a catcher. Connie is frank enough to say that the final standing of the team depends on the ability of Jimmy Foxx to handle his young pitchers, and to play as well as he did at first base. The position is not new to Foxx. He came up to the big leagues as a catcher, but was converted into a first baseman and his record proves he was a good one, too.

Dismantling a winning combination is nothing new to the silver-haired mentor and treasurer of the Philadelphia Athletics. He has not had a winner since 1931. He did have a powerful club until he was forced to sell Lefty Grove, Jimmy Dykes, George Earnshaw, Al Simmons, Max Bishop and Rube Walberg. These were good players in their own right but remember away back when the so-called White Elephants with Eddie Plank, Jack Coombs, Eddie Collins, Home-Run Baker, and others ruled the American league? Winning ball games and pennants became so monotonous that Connie broke up the team, distributed the players and strengthened other teams so that the race would become closer. Connie commenced to rebuild with younger players and made a good job of it.

Slipped Past Senators

The question is, "What will he do this year?"

The outlook is glum, indeed. Last season the A's finished in fifth place. They failed to win fifty per cent of the games played, and only the failure of the crippled Washington Senators to play up to their real strength enabled the A's to finish as high as they did.

Last season Connie had high hopes of Frankie Hayes coming through and taking care of the catching department. Frankie did as well as could be expected from a young man suddenly boosted into a regular position with a major league club. But Mack proved his judgment was at fault by turning Hayes loose early this year, converting Foxx into a catcher and keeping the 32-year-old Charley Berry as second-string receiver. How Connie would like to have the scrappy Mickey Cochrane back.

Pitching Looks Weak

The pitching department is also an untried quantity. Relying on Johnny Marcum, Joe Cascarella, Sugar Cain, LeRoy Mahaffey and Bill Dietrich to hold up the team is a risky proposition.

Marcum made good last year and may better his record this year. He won fourteen and lost eleven in 1934, which was not bad for a first-year man. Next to Marcum was Bill Dietrich, who showed eleven wins against twelve losses. Then came Mahaffey with six victories and seven defeats, Cascarella with twelve and fifteen, and Alton Benton, who could only account for seven victories while dropping nine games. Sugar Cain was Connie Mack's biggest disappointment, although all the blame should not be put on Cain's shoulders. The A's just wouldn't hit when Sugar walked on the mound. Sugar dropped seventeen games last year while winning only nine, but at the same time was the most effective hurler in Mack's brigade, showing an earned run average of only 4.40 per game.

When it takes six pitchers to win 57 of the 68 games credited to the A's in the final standing, it must be admitted that Connie Mack looks for a miracle, and no less, to finish as high as he did in 1934.

Hooks On The Spot

Mack has but four infielders, not counting Foxx, who played with him last year. They include Pinky Higgins, Eric McNair, Dib Williams and Hal Warstler. He is bringing up Alex Hooks to play first. This Western leaguer is in a tougher spot than George Selkirk, who is expected to take Babe Ruth's place in right field for the New York Yankees. At least Selkirk has had class AA experience and a taste of major league pitching. Hooks belted them a mile for the Tulsa club. But he may find the Western league is a kindergarten compared to American league. Hooks on first, Williams or English at second, McNair and Newsome, also from Tulsa, at short, and Higgins at third gives Mack one of the lightest hitting infields he has ever had.

The outfield is not so bad in that he has hold-overs such as Lou Finney, Ed Coleman, Bob Johnson and Roger Cramer to patrol the outer gardens. Cramer and Johnson batted better than .300, while Finney and Coleman dropped a little below the charmed circle. However, the latter pair look better in spring training. Then Mack has the youthful Wally Moses who hit hard against a counter Gulf of Mexico wind at Galveston and a speed merchant on the bags to fight it out with one of the regulars for a steady job.

Frankly, there is not much hope for Connie Mack and his assortment of veterans, plentifully mixed up with youngsters to be any better than the National league team representing Philadelphia. Only one team, the St. Louis Browns, look weaker on paper. The fight to stay out of the cellar lies between them. Unless Lady Luck frowns on his helpless assortment they are doomed for eighth and last place in the pennant race.

PICARD WINNER AT CHARLESTON

Pennsylvania Pro Continues Steady Golf To Take First Money

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—Leading from the opening round, Henry Picard continued his how pace down the stretch today and came in the winner of the $3,000 Charleston open golf tournament to the great delight of a wild gallery which surged over the Wappoo course in the wake of the former local pro.

Picard's aggregate of 278 was five strokes higher than the winning total turned in last year by Paul Runyan when the White Plains, N. Y., marvel closed out with a 65.

Victor Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., shot the lowest round of the final day, a crackling 68, and with his closing rush came into a tie for third place at 282 with Harry Cooper, Chicago.

Wiffy Cox closed out with his third round of the tournament under 70 and finished behind Ghezzi and Cooper with 283. The Brooklyn Gob's rounds were 69-78-67-69.

Runyan, so completely the master of the wind-swept seaside links last year, could break par of 71 only once in his defense of his title.

His 66 of yesterday brought him back into the running after previous rounds of 75 and 71, but he could do no better than a 73 on his final try and finished seven strokes behind Picard and in a tie at 285 with Ky Laffoon of Denver, and Leo Mallory of Noroton, Conn.

Sports Writer Struck On Head By Flying Golf Ball

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—O. B. Keeler, "Boswell" to Bobby Jones and a veteran at dodging wild shots, suffered his first accident on a golf course today, a crack on the head from a ball while watching the Charleston open tournament.

The Atlanta sports writer, who followed Jones to virtually all the former grand-slam champion's tournaments and has probably seen more championship golf events than any other man, was taken from the course with blood streaming from a cut on the back of his head.

Within a short while, however, he returned and did a story for his paper.

Keeler was near the sixteenth green with his back turned to the play and talking football with Don McCallister, University of South Carolina coach, when Harold McSpadden's second shot, an iron which was sliced off line, struck him.

Wells Takes Uplifting Talent To Iowa State

The giant Wells—he weighs 230 pounds and is six feet, three inches tall—comes to Iowa State from Sioux Falls college at Sioux Falls, S. D., where in a single season he brought the school out of an athletic decline.

When he reported at Sioux Falls last fall the football and basketball teams had been losing regularly. Last fall the grid team won six of eight games, and the basketball team won its conference title.

At Minnesota Wells won the Big Ten medal for scholarship and athletic prowess.

INDUSTRIAL--REVIEW OF THE TWIN CITIES

SAVINGS PLAN IS PROVING POPULAR

McKaskle Explains Advantages Of Systematic Plan Certificates

The Trusted Systematic Savings certificates, being introduced to citizens of Monroe and vicinity by A. H. McKaskle, representative of the Industrial Finance and Thrift corporation of New Orleans, provide an excellent means of systematic saving without the usual hazards of loss. Mr. McKaskle, who recently came here from Jackson, Miss., where the plan has been highly successful, has established offices with the White System, Inc., on North Second street, a subsidiary of the corporation.

The importance of a systematic savings plan is recognized by the average person. Under the plan offered by Mr. McKaskle, one may set aside a small amount of his or her income to create an emergency fund for any economic mishap that might arise. There are times when everyone needs extra cash and a Trusted Systematic Savings certificate provides this in time of emergency.

This plan also is an ideal method of creating an educational fund. The advantages of a college education are well recognized but parents sometimes find it impossible to spare the expense necessary to send a child through college. A college education not only insures better employment but college training proves invaluable in business life. By the systematic savings plan, parents may spread the cost of their child's education over a number of years and the money put away each week will hardly be missed.

The safety of the Trusteed Systematic Savings certificates is unquestioned. The Industrial Finance and Thrift corporation has operated 11 years with a loss ratio of less than one-tenth of one per cent per annum on loans made through such agencies as the White System. The security is of the highest type, thus assuring certificate holders of the utmost safety of their savings.

"We have men in Monroe and throughout the entire state to give every man, woman and child a chance to learn of the systematic savings plan," Mr. McKaskle said yesterday. "We can show them what it means to have patience in laying away a small amount of their income and noting the results when they reach the age of 55 or 60 years.

"Seven out of ten merchants fail each 10 years because they have not made their present business build up a cash reserve to meet economical pressure which they are bound to encounter if they stay in business.

"Professional men have taken to our plan in Mississippi far beyond our expectancy and have recommended it to their friends as to safety and earnings on their money to such an extent that they come into our offices without solicitation to make inquiries concerning the savings plan.

"I hope that each and everyone in Monroe will give us the chance to explain the plan by dropping by our office or giving as a phone call for an appointment.

"As far as safety is concerned, our company has built through steady growth to its present size since its inception in 1925. The company operates chain industrial loan banks throughout the south and has managed to pay substantial dividends to their stockholders.

"We feel that we are rendering a service in the south to the masses of salaried people that has been greatly in need of for the past 20 years. The loss ratio with this class of people to whom we loan money has been less than one-tenth of the average loan. When these people are honest and their ability to pay on small paper is unlimited, then why should they not enjoy the privilege of being lifted from their financial adversities? When people have sickness or death or any unforeseen calamity hits them and they can furnish sufficient endorsements of good, substantial salaried people and secure a loan from us, taking them out of a rut that probably would have wrecked them, we are ready to serve them. Thus they may be able to bunch their obligations, borrow the money from us and carry on in life."

BUILT-IN TRUNKS, FORE AND AFT

INCENDIARY FIRES CAN BE REDUCED

Cooperation Of Interested Persons Will Cut Down Fire Loss

Reports issued by the fire departments of two large cities prove that incendiary fires can be reduced if the correct methods are employed, according to Downes Brokerage, Inc., local agents.

From Kansas City, Mo., comes the statement that in 1932 there were 61 arson fires there causing losses of $712,309; in 1933 there were 67 such fires, accounting for losses of $160,656, while in 1934 the number of arson fires decreased to 36 and the resulting losses to $50,590—a remarkable reduction indeed.

The report from Atlanta, Ga., shows an equally striking reduction. In 1933, 98 incendiary fires accounted for losses of $72,314, while in 1934 the number of such fires decreased to 30 and the losses to $11,242.

By "correct methods" is meant the effective cooperation of all interested authorities. The Kansas City report mentioned the National Board of Fire Underwriters among other organizations that had helped make the record possible. This organization has long assumed a position of leadership in the fight on incendiarism. It has established arson squads in most of the large cities, employs many skilled investigators and assists police and fire departments as well as fire marshals in combating arson. It has aided many cities to form their own arson squads and is ready to cooperate at all times with district attorneys and all proper authorities.

If the crime of arson is to be fought effectively it is highly important for district attorneys to vigorously force prosecution of the criminals involved.

An important part of the effort to reduce the number of arson fires has been the enactment of model arson laws in the majority of states. These laws have been of great assistance in bringing fire criminals to justice, as previous laws sometimes obstructed rather than aided in the prosecution of arson cases.

The battle against this "crime of crimes" merits the support and cooperation of all citizens. Everyone can help by reporting any suspicious incidents in connection with fires that come to their attention, and by urging their district attorneys to put forth aggressive efforts to obtain convictions.

LUDLUM IS DUCO PAINT MAN HERE

Expert, Factory-Like Work Turned Out At Third Street Shop

Now is the time to have your car painted for the Spring motoring season. And A. C. Ludlum, the Duco expert, is the man for the job. Mr. Ludlum is located at 310 North Third street and the phone number at his ship is 3027.

Mr. Ludlum operates the authorized Duco auto re-finishing station and he paints your car with genuine Duco, the best known and most efficient of automobile finishes. It's the same Duco the maker puts on your car when it comes rolling out of the factory.

The Ludlum shop will impart that "factory finish" look to your car, no matter how shabby it may appear before you place it in their charge. There are a variety of colors to select from but no matter which you choose, you will be surprised at the job when it is completed. The old phrase "just like new" may be most aptly applied to a Ludlum Duco-ed car.

Mr. Ludlum is an expert at re-finishing automobile bodies. Every particular of the job is done efficiently even down to the striping and other intricate phases of the work.

And you will be surprised to learn just how reasonable the price is. Car owners who believe that a complete paint job is beyond their means would do well to consult Mr. Ludlum at his Duco shop. The charge is small compared to the beauty and added life it gives your car, and too, you don't have to have all cash, either. You may arrange to pay for the job on installments. Thus, there is no reason to delay having that car painted.

Mr. Ludlum invites automobile owners to visit his shop at 310 North Third street. He will be glad to furnish you an estimate on the job without obligation.

NEW OLDSMOBILE HAS KNEE-ACTION

Motorists Sold On Spring Principle Which Makes Easy Riding

Knee-Action wheels have been an important factor in the great increase in Oldsmobile sales since the introduction of the new 1935 cars, according to D. E. Ralston, vice-president and general sales manager of Oldsmobile.

"Motorists throughout the country are sold on knee-action wheels," he said. "Thousands of them have ridden in cars equipped with knee-action for millions of miles, over all kinds of roads, and realize just how much knee-action adds to comfort, safety, and ease of control.

"The knee-action principle is a simple one. Each front wheel acts independently. If one wheel strikes a bump or rut, a big sturdy coil spring absorbs the shock. The only function of the coil springs is to cushion the ride. The bounce which is transferred to the rear seat passengers in a car with conventional springing is done away with in a car that has knee-action. Rear seat passengers enjoy a ride that is just as smooth and comfortable as the ride in the front seat. Oldsmobile's knee-action construction is characterized particularly by strength and safety.

"With knee-action wheels," said Mr. Ralston, "Oldsmobile combines a complete system of the most modern features for riding quality and safety. The final result as Oldsmobile produces it is due to the combination of knee-action wheels and the ride stabilizer, plus double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers front and rear, plus scientific redistribution of weight throughout the car. Put them all together, in the Oldsmobile way, and then you have the true 'gliding ride,' the finest ride it is possible to engineer into a motor car today."

BUICK DOMINATES MEDIUM MARKET

FLINT, Mich., March 23.—(Special)—The Buick Motor company continued its dominance of the medium and upper price automobile markets during January with a total of 41.1 per cent of all the U. S. registrations in this field, W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager of the company, announced today.

"This data shows that of 17 makes of automobiles bearing a factory base price of $850 and up, Buick registered slightly more than four out of every 10 cars," Mr. Hufstader said. "The total registration of this group was 10,317 units of which Buick registered 4,240.

"The company maintained its strong sales position in many leading markets, achieving fourth place in sales volume in one state; fifth place in nine states and the District of Columbia; sixth place in 14 states and seventh place in 10 states.

"These areas were among the best automobile markets in the country, such as New York and Florida, where Buick registrations were fifth position, and Pennsylvania, Texas and California where Buick registered the sixth greatest number of cars during January."

CHEVROLET OPENS BALTIMORE PLANT

Veteran Workers To See Modern Assembly Plant Before Opening

Twenty-four workers, each the veteran in point of service of one of the 24 manufacturing and assembly plants of the Chevrolet Motor company, will be honored with a trip to Baltimore for a pre-opening inspection of the new Chevrolet assembly plant in that city. The workers, whose average age is 71, were chosen according to the number of years they have been in the service of Chevrolet. Following a tour of the new plant, the group will make side-trips to points of historic interest in the vicinity of Baltimore, including Mount Vernon and the Capitol at Washington.

The delegation of Chevrolet employes will assemble in Baltimore March 19, coming from plants at Oakland, Cal.; Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Atlanta; Norwood, O.; Toledo; Tarrytown, N. Y.; Bloomfield, N. J.; Janesville, Wis.; and Detroit, Saginaw, Bay City, and Flint, Mich. During their stay in Baltimore, they will be guests of Chevrolet and city officials.

The new Baltimore assembly plant, which will supplement the present facilities of Chevrolet's other nine assembly plants, is the first major plant construction in the automotive industry since 1929. Assembly operations will begin in Baltimore early in April and it is estimated that the new development will have a yearly production of 80,000 passenger cars and trucks.

Inspecting an automobile plant before the start of operations will not be a new experience to many of the Chevrolet workers making the trip. Some of them started with Chevrolet when the company was in its infancy and low-priced transportation was still in its experimental stage. Others have been on their jobs since their home plants were opened by Chevrolet. They represent the major operations that combine to form the finished product. The foundry, the transmission shop, gear and axle plants, body plants, and plants manufacturing brakes, small parts, knee-action units, wheels and motors are all represented by this group of delegates from the upper age bracket of employes chosen to receive this special recognition for long service.

TECH NINE MEETS PURDUE IN THREE GAMES THIS WEEK

field; Thigpen, catcher; Kyle or Pittard, pitcher.

The Purdue squad, numbering 20 players and coaches, will arrive in Ruston Sunday afternoon. It is probable that Noble Kizer, the Boilermakers' famous football coach, will accompany the club here.

The Purdue team is a heavy hitting outfit, with Lang, an outfielder, leading the attack. Lang hit for a .400 average in Big Ten games last season. Skoronski, captain-elect of the football squad, also is a good hitter. He plays first base. Craig and Williamson, infielders, also are outstanding members of the Boilermaker nine.

Purdue played 17 Big Ten games last year, winning nine, losing six and playing two ties.

The Boilermaker series will be resumed in May when the Bulldogs make their annual trip through the middle west.

Ruth In Bed With Attack Of Ptomaine Poisoning

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Suffering from a mild attack of ptomaine poisoning, Babe Ruth was confined to his bed today while the Boston Braves and New York Yankees met in the fourth game of their spring exhibition series before a crowd of 1,000. It was the first exhibition game the Babe had missed since joining the Braves this spring. His place in right field and third position in batting order was taken by Rupert Thompson, a rookie.

Fuqua Beats Hornbostel In Special 600-Yard Race

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.—(AP)—Ivan Fuqua upset his former Indiana university teammate, Charley Hornbostel, in a special 600-yard race at the third annual Butler university relays tonight, beating off a challenge of the world's indoor record holder on the last turn.

The time was 1 minute, 11.7 seconds, only four-tenths of a second behind Hornbostel's record.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's negro sprinter, equalled the world's sixty-yard dash record, covering the course in 6.1 seconds to beat Sam Stoller and Willis Ward of Michigan.

Ohio State's two mile relay quartet opened the relays with a thrilling victory over Notre Dame. The time was 7 minutes, 53.5 seconds, a new relays' record.

Mack To Present Untried Team In American Battle

By John J. Romano

Connie Mack will present another youthful, untried team wearing the A of hallowed baseball memory this season. Then there is the startling experiment of turning a sterling first baseman and home-run slugger into a catcher. Connie is frank enough to say that the final standing of the team depends on the ability of Jimmy Foxx to handle his young pitchers, and to play as well as he did at first base. The position is not new to Foxx. He came up to the big leagues as a catcher, but was converted into a first baseman and his record proves he was a good one, too.

Dismantling a winning combination is nothing new to the silver-haired mentor and treasurer of the Philadelphia Athletics. He has not had a winner since 1931. He did have a powerful club until he was forced to sell Lefty Grove, Jimmy Dykes, George Earnshaw, Al Simmons, Max Bishop and Rube Walberg. These were good players in their own right but remember away back when the so-called White Elephants with Eddie Plank, Jack Coombs, Eddie Collins, Home-Run Baker, and others ruled the American league? Winning ball games and pennants became so monotonous that Connie broke up the team, distributed the players and strengthened other teams so that the race would become closer. Connie commenced to rebuild with younger players and made a good job of it.

Slipped Past Senators

The question is, "What will he do this year?"

The outlook is glum, indeed. Last season the A's finished in fifth place. They failed to win fifty per cent of the games played, and only the failure of the crippled Washington Senators to play up to their real strength enabled the A's to finish as high as they did.

Last season Connie had high hopes of Frankie Hayes coming through and taking care of the catching department. Frankie did as well as could be expected from a young man suddenly boosted into a regular position with a major league club. But Mack proved his judgment was at fault by turning Hayes loose early this year, converting Foxx into a catcher and keeping the 32-year-old Charley Berry as second-string receiver. How Connie would like to have the scrappy Mickey Cochrane back.

Pitching Looks Weak

The pitching department is also an untried quantity. Relying on Johnny Marcum, Joe Cascarella, Sugar Cain, LeRoy Mahaffey and Bill Dietrich to hold up the team is a risky proposition.

Marcum made good last year and may better his record this year. He won fourteen and lost eleven in 1934, which was not bad for a first-year man. Next to Marcum was Bill Dietrich, who showed eleven wins against twelve losses. Then came Mahaffey with six victories and seven defeats, Cascarella with twelve and fifteen, and Alton Benton, who could only account for seven victories while dropping nine games. Sugar Cain was Connie Mack's biggest disappointment, although all the blame should not be put on Cain's shoulders. The A's just wouldn't hit when Sugar walked on the mound. Sugar dropped seventeen games last year while winning only nine, but at the same time was the most effective hurler in Mack's brigade, showing an earned run average of only 4.40 per game.

When it takes six pitchers to win 57 of the 68 games credited to the A's in the final standing, it must be admitted that Connie Mack looks for a miracle, and no less, to finish as high as he did in 1934.

Hooks On The Spot

Mack has but four infielders, not counting Foxx, who played with him last year. They include Pinky Higgins, Eric McNair, Dib Williams and Hal Warstler. He is bringing up Alex Hooks to play first. This Western leaguer is in a tougher spot than George Selkirk, who is expected to take Babe Ruth's place in right field for the New York Yankees. At least Selkirk has had class AA experience and a taste of major league pitching. Hooks belted them a mile for the Tulsa club. But he may find the Western league is a kindergarten compared to American league. Hooks on first, Williams or English at second, McNair and Newsome, also from Tulsa, at short, and Higgins at third gives Mack one of the lightest hitting infields he has ever had.

The outfield is not so bad in that he has hold-overs such as Lou Finney, Ed Coleman, Bob Johnson and Roger Cramer to patrol the outer gardens. Cramer and Johnson batted better than .300, while Finney and Coleman dropped a little below the charmed circle. However, the latter pair look better in spring training. Then Mack has the youthful Wally Moses who hit hard against a counter Gulf of Mexico wind at Galveston and a speed merchant on the bags to fight it out with one of the regulars for a steady job.

Frankly, there is not much hope for Connie Mack and his assortment of veterans, plentifully mixed up with youngsters to be any better than the National league team representing Philadelphia. Only one team, the St. Louis Browns, look weaker on paper. The fight to stay out of the cellar lies between them. Unless Lady Luck frowns on his helpless assortment they are doomed for eighth and last place in the pennant race.

WOULD HOUSE AFRICANS

STOCKHOLM—(AP)—Plans are under way, the Stockholm Tidningen reports, to sell portable Swedish summer cottages as homes for African negroes. A Swedish engineer is touring Africa as advance agent of the plan, the newspaper says.

PICARD, WINNER AT CHARLESTON

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 23.—(AP)—Leading from the opening round, Henry Picard continued his how pace down the stretch today and came in the winner of the $3,000 Charleston open golf tournament to the great delight of a wild gallery which surged over the Wappoo course in the wake of the former local pro.

Picard's aggregate of 278 was five strokes higher than the winning total turned in last year by Paul Runyan when the White Plains, N. Y., marvel closed out with a 65.

Victor Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., shot the lowest round of the final day, a crackling 68, and with his closing rush came into a tie for third place at 282 with Harry Cooper, Chicago.

Wiffy Cox closed out with his third round of the tournament under 70 and finished behind Ghezzi and Cooper with 283. The Brooklyn Gob's rounds were 69-78-67-69.

Runyan, so completely the master of the wind-swept seaside links last year, could break par of 71 only once in his defense of his title.

His 66 of yesterday brought him back into the running after previous rounds of 75 and 71, but he could do no better than a 73 on his final try and finished seven strokes behind Picard and in a tie at 285 with Ky Laffoon of Denver, and Leo Mallory of Noroton, Conn.

Sports Writer Struck On Head By Flying Golf Ball

The Atlanta sports writer, who followed Jones to virtually all the former grand-slam champion's tournaments and has probably seen more championship golf events than any other man, was taken from the course with blood streaming from a cut on the back of his head.

Within a short while, however, he returned and did a story for his paper.

Keeler was near the sixteenth green with his back turned to the play and talking football with Don McCallister, University of South Carolina coach, when Harold McSpadden's second shot, an iron which was sliced off line, struck him.

Wells Takes Uplifting Talent To Iowa State

The giant Wells—he weighs 230 pounds and is six feet, three inches tall—comes to Iowa State from Sioux Falls college at Sioux Falls, S. D., where in a single season he brought the school out of an athletic decline.

When he reported at Sioux Falls last fall the football and basketball teams had been losing regularly. Last fall the grid team won six of eight games, and the basketball team won its conference title.

At Minnesota Wells won the Big Ten medal for scholarship and athletic prowess.

SAVINGS PLAN IS PROVING POPULAR

McKaskle Explains Advantages Of Systematic Plan Certificates

The Trusted Systematic Savings certificates, being introduced to citizens of Monroe and vicinity by A. H. McKaskle, representative of the Industrial Finance and Thrift corporation of New Orleans, provide an excellent means of systematic saving without the usual hazards of loss. Mr. McKaskle, who recently came here from Jackson, Miss., where the plan has been highly successful, has established offices with the White System, Inc., on North Second street, a subsidiary of the corporation.

The importance of a systematic savings plan is recognized by the average person. Under the plan offered by Mr. McKaskle, one may set aside a small amount of his or her income to create an emergency fund for any economic mishap that might arise. There are times when everyone needs extra cash and a Trusted Systematic Savings certificate provides this in time of emergency.

This plan also is an ideal method of creating an educational fund. The advantages of a college education are well recognized but parents sometimes find it impossible to spare the expense necessary to send a child through college. A college education not only insures better employment but college training proves invaluable in business life. By the systematic savings plan, parents may spread the cost of their child's education over a number of years and the money put away each week will hardly be missed.

The safety of the Trusteed Systematic Savings certificates is unquestioned. The Industrial Finance and Thrift corporation has operated 11 years with a loss ratio of less than one-tenth of one per cent per annum on loans made through such agencies as the White System. The security is of the highest type, thus assuring certificate holders of the utmost safety of their savings.

"We have men in Monroe and throughout the entire state to give every man, woman and child a chance to learn of the systematic savings plan," Mr. McKaskle said yesterday. "We can show them what it means to have patience in laying away a small amount of their income and noting the results when they reach the age of 55 or 60 years.

"Seven out of ten merchants fail each 10 years because they have not made their present business build up a cash reserve to meet economical pressure which they are bound to encounter if they stay in business.

"Professional men have taken to our plan in Mississippi far beyond our expectancy and have recommended it to their friends as to safety and earnings on their money to such an extent that they come into our offices without solicitation to make inquiries concerning the savings plan.

"I hope that each and everyone in Monroe will give us the chance to explain the plan by dropping by our office or giving as a phone call for an appointment.

"As far as safety is concerned, our company has built through steady growth to its present size since its inception in 1925. The company operates chain industrial loan banks throughout the south and has managed to pay substantial dividends to their stockholders.

"We feel that we are rendering a service in the south to the masses of salaried people that has been greatly in need of for the past 20 years. The loss ratio with this class of people to whom we loan money has been less than one-tenth of the average loan. When these people are honest and their ability to pay on small paper is unlimited, then why should they not enjoy the privilege of being lifted from their financial adversities? When people have sickness or death or any unforeseen calamity hits them and they can furnish sufficient endorsements of good, substantial salaried people and secure a loan from us, taking them out of a rut that probably would have wrecked them, we are ready to serve them. Thus they may be able to bunch their obligations, borrow the money from us and carry on in life."

BUILT-IN TRUNKS, FORE AND AFT

INCENDIARY FIRES CAN BE REDUCED

Cooperation Of Interested Persons Will Cut Down Fire Loss

Reports issued by the fire departments of two large cities prove that incendiary fires can be reduced if the correct methods are employed, according to Downes Brokerage, Inc., local agents.

From Kansas City, Mo., comes the statement that in 1932 there were 61 arson fires there causing losses of $712,309; in 1933 there were 67 such fires, accounting for losses of $160,656, while in 1934 the number of arson fires decreased to 36 and the resulting losses to $50,590—a remarkable reduction indeed.

The report from Atlanta, Ga., shows an equally striking reduction. In 1933, 98 incendiary fires accounted for losses of $72,314, while in 1934 the number of such fires decreased to 30 and the losses to $11,242.

By "correct methods" is meant the effective cooperation of all interested authorities. The Kansas City report mentioned the National Board of Fire Underwriters among other organizations that had helped make the record possible. This organization has long assumed a position of leadership in the fight on incendiarism. It has established arson squads in most of the large cities, employs many skilled investigators and assists police and fire departments as well as fire marshals in combating arson. It has aided many cities to form their own arson squads and is ready to cooperate at all times with district attorneys and all proper authorities.

If the crime of arson is to be fought effectively it is highly important for district attorneys to vigorously force prosecution of the criminals involved.

An important part of the effort to reduce the number of arson fires has been the enactment of model arson laws in the majority of states. These laws have been of great assistance in bringing fire criminals to justice, as previous laws sometimes obstructed rather than aided in the prosecution of arson cases.

The battle against this "crime of crimes" merits the support and cooperation of all citizens. Everyone can help by reporting any suspicious incidents in connection with fires that come to their attention, and by urging their district attorneys to put forth aggressive efforts to obtain convictions.

LUDLUM IS DUCO PAINT MAN HERE

Now is the time to have your car painted for the Spring motoring season. And A. C. Ludlum, the Duco expert, is the man for the job. Mr. Ludlum is located at 310 North Third street and the phone number at his ship is 3027.

Mr. Ludlum operates the authorized Duco auto re-finishing station and he paints your car with genuine Duco, the best known and most efficient of automobile finishes. It's the same Duco the maker puts on your car when it comes rolling out of the factory.

The Ludlum shop will impart that "factory finish" look to your car, no matter how shabby it may appear before you place it in their charge. There are a variety of colors to select from but no matter which you choose, you will be surprised at the job when it is completed. The old phrase "just like new" may be most aptly applied to a Ludlum Duco-ed car.

Mr. Ludlum is an expert at re-finishing automobile bodies. Every particular of the job is done efficiently even down to the striping and other intricate phases of the work.

And you will be surprised to learn just how reasonable the price is. Car owners who believe that a complete paint job is beyond their means would do well to consult Mr. Ludlum at his Duco shop. The charge is small compared to the beauty and added life it gives your car, and too, you don't have to have all cash, either. You may arrange to pay for the job on installments. Thus, there is no reason to delay having that car painted.

Mr. Ludlum invites automobile owners to visit his shop at 310 North Third street. He will be glad to furnish you an estimate on the job without obligation.

NEW OLDSMOBILE HAS KNEE-ACTION

Motorists Sold On Spring Principle Which Makes Easy Riding

Knee-Action wheels have been an important factor in the great increase in Oldsmobile sales since the introduction of the new 1935 cars, according to D. E. Ralston, vice-president and general sales manager of Oldsmobile.

"Motorists throughout the country are sold on knee-action wheels," he said. "Thousands of them have ridden in cars equipped with knee-action for millions of miles, over all kinds of roads, and realize just how much knee-action adds to comfort, safety, and ease of control.

"The knee-action principle is a simple one. Each front wheel acts independently. If one wheel strikes a bump or rut, a big sturdy coil spring absorbs the shock. The only function of the coil springs is to cushion the ride. The bounce which is transferred to the rear seat passengers in a car with conventional springing is done away with in a car that has knee-action. Rear seat passengers enjoy a ride that is just as smooth and comfortable as the ride in the front seat. Oldsmobile's knee-action construction is characterized particularly by strength and safety.

"With knee-action wheels," said Mr. Ralston, "Oldsmobile combines a complete system of the most modern features for riding quality and safety. The final result as Oldsmobile produces it is due to the combination of knee-action wheels and the ride stabilizer, plus double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers front and rear, plus scientific redistribution of weight throughout the car. Put them all together, in the Oldsmobile way, and then you have the true 'gliding ride,' the finest ride it is possible to engineer into a motor car today."

BUICK DOMINATES MEDIUM MARKET

FLINT, Mich., March 23.—(Special)—The Buick Motor company continued its dominance of the medium and upper price automobile markets during January with a total of 41.1 per cent of all the U. S. registrations in this field, W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager of the company, announced today.

"This data shows that of 17 makes of automobiles bearing a factory base price of $850 and up, Buick registered slightly more than four out of every 10 cars," Mr. Hufstader said. "The total registration of this group was 10,317 units of which Buick registered 4,240.

"The company maintained its strong sales position in many leading markets, achieving fourth place in sales volume in one state; fifth place in nine states and the District of Columbia; sixth place in 14 states and seventh place in 10 states.

"These areas were among the best automobile markets in the country, such as New York and Florida, where Buick registrations were fifth position, and Pennsylvania, Texas and California where Buick registered the sixth greatest number of cars during January."

CHEVROLET OPENS BALTIMORE PLANT

Veteran Workers To See Modern Assembly Plant Before Opening

Twenty-four workers, each the veteran in point of service of one of the 24 manufacturing and assembly plants of the Chevrolet Motor company, will be honored with a trip to Baltimore for a pre-opening inspection of the new Chevrolet assembly plant in that city. The workers, whose average age is 71, were chosen according to the number of years they have been in the service of Chevrolet. Following a tour of the new plant, the group will make side-trips to points of historic interest in the vicinity of Baltimore, including Mount Vernon and the Capitol at Washington.

The delegation of Chevrolet employes will assemble in Baltimore March 19, coming from plants at Oakland, Cal.; Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Atlanta; Norwood, O.; Toledo; Tarrytown, N. Y.; Bloomfield, N. J.; Janesville, Wis.; and Detroit, Saginaw, Bay City, and Flint, Mich. During their stay in Baltimore, they will be guests of Chevrolet and city officials.

The new Baltimore assembly plant, which will supplement the present facilities of Chevrolet's other nine assembly plants, is the first major plant construction in the automotive industry since 1929. Assembly operations will begin in Baltimore early in April and it is estimated that the new development will have a yearly production of 80,000 passenger cars and trucks.

Inspecting an automobile plant before the start of operations will not be a new experience to many of the Chevrolet workers making the trip. Some of them started with Chevrolet when the company was in its infancy and low-priced transportation was still in its experimental stage. Others have been on their jobs since their home plants were opened by Chevrolet. They represent the major operations that combine to form the finished product. The foundry, the transmission shop, gear and axle plants, body plants, and plants manufacturing brakes, small parts, knee-action units, wheels and motors are all represented by this group of delegates from the upper age bracket of employes chosen to receive this special recognition for long service.

Cotton

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—(AP)—Cotton today ended a week of erratic and nervous price fluctuations with futures 9 to 12 points below Friday's final prices.

Opening from 3 to 4 points lower, the market began to slip off and the session ended with May at 10.84, July at 10.88; Oct. at 10.52 and Dec. at 10.61.

The usual evening up of commitments for the week-end brought prices up a few points from the low during the final minutes of trading.

The closing rally that characterized dealings in yesterday's session on the passage of the Patman bonus bill by congress was short-lived with today's decline cancelling part of yesterday's dollar and a half bale advance.

Advices from abroad reported a very steady market at Liverpool, with shorts covering and contracts scarce as the English market had its first opportunity to reflect the action of the house on the bonus bill.

Professional trading furnished the major portion of today's business and the public was said still to be on the sidelines pending more concrete developments in the federal program relative to next year's cotton crop.

Today's exports were 10,574

New York

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—Early declines were followed by partial recoveries in cotton today.

Washington reports quoting Senator George as predicting that a reassuring statement on the cotton control plan for next year will be issued by the administration was a contributing factor in the rally.

July contracts, after selling off to 10.82, closed at 10.92 with the general market finishing steady at net declines of 3 to 10 points.

Cotton futures closed steady, 3 to 10 lower.

New York Stocks

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The stock market received no fresh inspiration to bolster it today and prices were pulled irregularly lower. Trading was about the average for the Saturday short session. The closing tone was heavy. Transfers aggregated 300,000 shares.

Faced with indifferent week-end trade reports, coupled with sagging grain prices, the congressional snarl over the work relief bill and week-end adjustment of accounts, the share market was hesitant from the beginning and with the exception of a few bright spots in non-ferrous metals and isolated cases of strength in other groups, leaders went along easily with the downward current.

Cotton futures recovered sharply following the announcement of Senator George concerning the probability of the president continuing the 12 cent loan plan, but the time was too short to allow full recovery and final prices were 15 cents to 50 cents a bale net lower.

Foreign exchanges were more stable following a sharp recovery in the Belgian currency which has kept international dollar rates on edge for several days. Sterling was about unchanged and francs only a trifle lower.

Other divisions also produced a few firm spots. American Crystal Sugar preferred was bid up 3 points. Simms Petroleum, Freeport Texas and American Shipbuilding got up around one and fractional advances were shown by Liggett & Myers "B" and American Bank Note.

Renewed selling in rails and utilities placed the brunt of the decline in these groups. Losses of a point or more were shown by Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Radio preferred "B," while smaller declines occurred in American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, Pennsylvania, New York Central and Southern Pacific.

Motor shares received little encouragement from the slightly higher output during the current week and such leaders as General Motors and Chrysler were among others slipping around 1-2 point along with such other trading favorites as U. S. Steel, J. I. Case, DuPont, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 23.—(AP)—Material setbacks of grain prices early today followed cables showing Liverpool wheat market action unresponsive to yesterday's upturns this side of the Atlantic. Starting 1-8 to 3-4 lower, May 94 3-4 to 95 Chicago wheat futures underwent an additional sag afterward. Corn opened 3-8 off to 1-8 up, May 78 3-8 to 1-2, and subsequently declined all around.

Corn closed nervous, 1-2 to 1 3-4 under yesterday's finish, May 77 3-4 to 7-8, wheat 1 cent to 1 1-4 down, May 94 to 94 1-8, oats 3-4 to 1 cent off, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 5 cents advance.

Cotton

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—(AP)—Cotton today ended a week of erratic and nervous price fluctuations with futures 9 to 12 points below Friday's final prices.

Opening from 3 to 4 points lower, the market began to slip off and the session ended with May at 10.84, July at 10.88; Oct. at 10.52 and Dec. at 10.61.

The usual evening up of commitments for the week-end brought prices up a few points from the low during the final minutes of trading.

The closing rally that characterized dealings in yesterday's session on the passage of the Patman bonus bill by congress was short-lived with today's decline cancelling part of yesterday's dollar and a half bale advance.

Advices from abroad reported a very steady market at Liverpool, with shorts covering and contracts scarce as the English market had its first opportunity to reflect the action of the house on the bonus bill.

Professional trading furnished the major portion of today's business and the public was said still to be on the sidelines pending more concrete developments in the federal program relative to next year's cotton crop.

Today's exports were 10,574

New York

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—Early declines were followed by partial recoveries in cotton today.

Washington reports quoting Senator George as predicting that a reassuring statement on the cotton control plan for next year will be issued by the administration was a contributing factor in the rally.

July contracts, after selling off to 10.82, closed at 10.92 with the general market finishing steady at net declines of 3 to 10 points.

Cotton futures closed steady, 3 to 10 lower.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—Stocks heavy; metals resistant. Bonds firm; secondary rails rally. Curb irregular; mining shares higher. Foreign exchanges mixed; Belga rallies. Cotton lower; lower and spot house selling. Sugar higher; firm spot market. Coffee firmer; trade covering.

CHICAGO: Wheat lower; sympathy with corn. Corn weak; bearish Argentine advices. Cattle nominally steady. Hogs nominally steady; quotable top $9.00.

New York Stocks

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—The stock market received no fresh inspiration to bolster it today and prices were pulled irregularly lower. Trading was about the average for the Saturday short session. The closing tone was heavy. Transfers aggregated 300,000 shares.

Faced with indifferent week-end trade reports, coupled with sagging grain prices, the congressional snarl over the work relief bill and week-end adjustment of accounts, the share market was hesitant from the beginning and with the exception of a few bright spots in non-ferrous metals and isolated cases of strength in other groups, leaders went along easily with the downward current.

Cotton futures recovered sharply following the announcement of Senator George concerning the probability of the president continuing the 12 cent loan plan, but the time was too short to allow full recovery and final prices were 15 cents to 50 cents a bale net lower.

Foreign exchanges were more stable following a sharp recovery in the Belgian currency which has kept international dollar rates on edge for several days. Sterling was about unchanged and francs only a trifle lower.

Other divisions also produced a few firm spots, American Crystal Sugar preferred was bid up 3 points, Simms Petroleum, Freeport Texas and American Shipbuilding got up around one and fractional advances were shown by Liggett & Myers "B" and American Bank Note.

Renewed selling in rails and utilities placed the brunt of the decline in these groups. Losses of a point or more were shown by Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Radio preferred "B," while smaller declines occurred in American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, Pennsylvania, New York Central and Southern Pacific.

Motor shares received little encouragement from the slightly higher output during the current week and such leaders as General Motors and Chrysler were among others slipping around 1-2 point along with such other trading favorites as U. S. Steel, J. I. Case, DuPont, Westinghouse, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 23.—(AP)—Material setbacks of grain prices early today followed cables showing Liverpool wheat market action unresponsive to yesterday's upturns this side of the Atlantic. Starting 1-8 to 3-4 lower, May 94 3-4 to 95 Chicago wheat futures underwent an additional sag afterward. Corn opened 3-8 off to 1-8 up, May 78 3-8 to 1-2, and subsequently declined all around.

Corn closed nervous, 1-2 to 1 3-4 under yesterday's finish, May 77 3-4 to 7-8, wheat 1 cent to 1 1-4 down, May 94 to 94 1-8, oats 3-4 to 1 cent off, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 5 cents advance.

WASHBURN HEADS BANKING GROUP

Regional Clearing House Association Holds Meeting In Monroe

J. S. Washburn, vice president and trust officer of the Central Savings Bank and Trust company, was elected president of the First Regional Clearing House association of Louisiana at a meeting of the organization here Thursday afternoon and night.

Other officers were named as follows: W. C. McDonald, vice president and cashier of the Jackson Parish bank, vice president; W. F. Prickett, cashier of the Winnsboro State bank, secretary.

After a 30-minute adjournment, from 6:30 to 7 o'clock, the assembly and visitors enjoyed a seven-course dinner. Entertainment features included acrobatic dancing by Miss Mary McKee of West Monroe and vocal selections, with Don Breitenmoser playing the accompaniment.

In the afternoon session the association was addressed by Claudius Dickson, federal housing administrator, and Carie White, deputy commissioner of debt moratoriums.

The First Regional Clear House association's membership is composed of all banks in the 14 parishes of the fifth congressional district.

Bastrop Association Gets Federal Charter

BASTROP, La., March 23.—(Special)—The Bastrop Building and Loan association received its federal charter this week and just as soon as details are worked out the name of the association will be changed to the Bastrop Federal Savings and Loan association and will operate under federal supervision.

Decision to change the association into a federal organization was made several months ago by the board of directors and word was received here Thursday by George H. Goodwin, secretary, that the application of the association for a federal charter had been approved.

The Bastrop Building and Loan association, which was organized in 1923, is considered one of the strongest small town associations of its kind in the state and its conversion into a federal building and loan association will considerably strengthen the institution.

CERTIFICATE

We have audited the accounts pertaining to the above statement of Resources and Liabilities of Investors Syndicate as of December 31, 1934, as shown by its books and records. Our audit included the actual verification of evidence of the possession of all its assets, including those on deposit, together with inspections of properties wherever such inspections appeared necessary. We have also investigated the renewal experience of the Certificates and are of the opinion that the table of reserves adopted by Investors Syndicate, together with future payments called for by the Certificates and interest at the present rate will cover the discharge of all Certificates as they become due.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that, in our opinion, the above balance sheet correctly reflects the financial condition of Investors Syndicate as of December 31, 1934. The company has complied with all of our requirements as auditors.

Show World Gloomy Over Laurel And Hardy Break

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—Dissolution of the comedy team of Stan Laurel and Ollie Hardy today inspired gloomy forecasts as to which would sink, which swim.

It is a vaudeville axiom, carried over into all branches of show business, that the break-up of a comedy combination spells success for one and invariable disaster for the other.

The troupers who huddle along Forty-Seventh street today recognized the jinx that parted the comedy film players. They have seen that jinx wreck such standard acts as Clayton, Jackson and Durante, Doyle and Dixon, Bard and Pearl, Gallagher and Shean, Bert and Betty Wheeler—lots of others.

There never was success enough to share after the parting—well, hardly ever.

This feeling was shared by Eddie Darling, chief booking executive for the Keith-Albee theaters when vaudeville was supreme. Darling saw many good players sink when they changed partners.

"Well," he recalled, "Jimmy Doyle was a great dancer, but after he parted from Harlan Dixon only Dixon rose to musical comedy triumph. Ben Bard went into obscurity, but his partner, Jack Pearl, is a star today.

"I think Hardy and Laurel will find it tough going it alone, it always is. I know that when I tried to book the partners separately after the smash it was almost impossible. Audiences who take teams to their heart don't want them any other way."

Darling acknowledges that the eventual success of individuals justified the parting.

"Take Jimmie Durante. He was always the whole act, and he would have been foolish to continue with others."

"Nobody," Darling continued, "can blame Walter Huston, now that he's a star of drama, for breaking up the act of Whipple and Huston. Or Eddie Cantor for leaving Al Lee, who, incidentally, has done all right as a manager.

"Sometimes both partners click, as was the case of the team of Ben Bernie and Phil Baker. Fred Astaire was never bigger than he is now, but we all wept when Sister Adele wrecked the team by getting married."

Almost complete oblivion attended the parting of Ed Gallagher and Al Shean. Gallagher is now dead, and Shean is playing, but not headlining, in pictures. Gus Van has never won, alone, the success he shared with Joe Schenck before the latter's death.

The Duncan sisters, the Dolly sisters and the Fairbanks twins were hopeless parted, Darling said. So were Weber and Fields, as they always discovered after one of their frequent rows had severed their association. Maurice, the dancer, was always distressed, but never defeated, when he lost a partner. He was lucky with his new ones.

Some of the other vanished members of once-starring turns are Betty Wheeler, of Bert and Betty Wheeler; Mercedes, of Bert Lahr and Mercedes; Betty Healy of Ted and Betty Healy, and Lester Crawford of Crawfold and Broderick.

That Broderick is Helen Broderick. She was a chorus girl when she married Lester Crawford and became his vaudeville partner. Crawford, a gifted actor, withdrew when her comedy powers gained her stardom.

WAR BENEFITS ARE AVAILABLE

Parish Service Officer Explains Compensation For Veterans

(Editor's note: The following article is the first of a series prepared by H. B. McClendon, Ouachita parish service officer, for publication in the Sunday Morning World. The articles explain benefits available to United States veterans of wars in which this country has participated, and discuss compensation, pensions, hospitalization, funeral expenses, and other benefits.)

The regulations issued by the veterans' administration authorizing service connection for different disabilities state that some disabilities may be connected by showing the existence of disability before January 1, 1925.

Disabilities that must be shown to have existed by medical evidence within one year from the date of discharge, are known as chronic constitution disabilities. A few of these are: arthritis, chronic heart conditions; and several others.

Some disabilities have no presumptive period, and it must be shown that they were actually treated for the disability while in the service. A few of these disabilities are; gunshot wounds; chronic bronchitis; ear trouble; eye disabilities, and throat disabilities.

The veteran, in submitting an application for service connection on Form P-1, should state when and where he received treatment while in the service, so that the veterans' administration may request the medical records from the war or navy departments, depending on the branch of service in which the veteran served during the war. He should give the names of the officers (if he has this information) who treated him. A good deal depends upon the information given by the veteran in his application in arriving at a decision as to whether or not his case has merit.

In the event the veteran did not receive treatment in the service, and bases his claim for service connection on the presumptive period of one year, or the period from the date of his discharge to January 1, 1925, depending on the nature of his disability, he should submit with his application the statement of a physician, or physicians, showing the date of his first examination and treatment, the diagnosis made, and all symptoms and findings noted at that time to designate the diagnosis.

The physician should state that those symptoms were found on a certain date, in order that the rating board of the veterans' administration can determine when the veteran first had the disability.

A statement from a physician to the effect that he treated the veteran from 1919 to 1935 for a certain disability would be sufficient. Also, if the veteran can secure lay evidence from friends who knew him immediately after service, he should secure their affidavits. The information given in the affidavits should be specific—the affidavits should give dates, and describe in detail exactly what they saw when they observed the veteran. Many veterans have submitted affidavits of no value, for the reason that their friends gave their "opinion" of the physical condition of the veteran in general terms.

In addition to the above, there should be submitted a physician's statement showing the veteran's present physical condition.

(More detailed information on the subjects of this article may be obtained from Mr. McClendon. Next Sunday, the Morning World will publish the second article of the series, which will discuss applications for total permanent, non-service connected pensions.)

Record Broken Twice Within Four Months

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 23.—Figures on February business just released by Investors Syndicate totaled the largest single month's volume in face amount of contracts written since the company's founding in 1894.

A total of $22,739,700 in face amount of new contracts was written in February as compared with the previous greatest month's volume of $21,380,750 established last November. "This consistent increase in volume of business is, we feel, a reflection of the general improvement of conditions and a corresponding strengthening of the surplus of individual incomes," King Merritt, general sales manager, said. "Twice in the month of February, the largest volume for a single week was broken." The last figure for the business week ending February 16 was $8,330,475.

WASHBURN HEADS BANKING GROUP

Regional Clearing House Association Holds Meeting In Monroe

J. S. Washburn, vice president and trust officer of the Central Savings Bank and Trust company, was elected president of the First Regional Clearing House association of Louisiana, at a meeting of the organization here Thursday afternoon and night.

Other officers were named as follows: W. C. McDonald, vice president and cashier of the Jackson Parish bank, vice president; W. F. Prickett, cashier of the Winnsboro State bank, secretary.

After a 30-minute adjournment, from 6:30 to 7 o'clock, the assembly and visitors enjoyed a seven-course dinner. Entertainment features included acrobatic dancing by Miss Mary McKee of West Monroe and vocal selections, with Don Breitenmoser playing the accompaniment.

In the afternoon session the association was addressed by Claudius Dickson, federal housing administrator, and Carie White, deputy commissioner of debt moratoriums.

The First Regional Clear House association's membership is composed of all banks in the 14 parishes of the fifth congressional district.

Bastrop Association Gets Federal Charter

BASTROP, La., March 23.—(Special)—The Bastrop Building and Loan association received its federal charter this week and just as soon as details are worked out the name of the association will be changed to the Bastrop Federal Savings and Loan association and will operate under federal supervision.

Decision to change the association into a federal organization was made several months ago by the board of directors and word was received here Thursday by George H. Goodwin, secretary, that the application of the association for a federal charter had been approved.

The Bastrop Building and Loan association, which was organized in 1923, is considered one of the strongest small town associations of its kind in the state and its conversion into a federal building and loan association will considerably strengthen the institution.

Officers of the association are H. F. Madison, Jr., president, C. N. Dalton, vice-president, James Madison, treasurer and George H. Goodwin, secretary. Directors are J. Lester White, W. T. Smith, Dr. O. M. Patterson and Dr. C. L. Hope.

We have audited the accounts pertaining to the above statement of Resources and Liabilities of Investors Syndicate as of December 31, 1934, as shown by its books and records. Our audit included the actual verification of evidence of the possession of all its assets, including those on deposit, together with inspections of properties wherever such inspections appeared necessary. We have also investigated the renewal experience of the Certificates and are of the opinion that the table of reserves adopted by Investors Syndicate, together with future payments called for by the Certificates and interest at the present rate will cover the discharge of all Certificates as they become due.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that, in our opinion, the above balance sheet correctly reflects the financial condition of Investors Syndicate as of December 31, 1934. The company has complied with all of our requirements as auditors.

Show World Gloomy Over Laurel And Hardy Break

NEW YORK, March 23.—(AP)—Dissolution of the comedy team of Stan Laurel and Ollie Hardy today inspired gloomy forecasts as to which would sink, which swim.

It is a vaudeville axiom, carried over into all branches of show business, that the break-up of a comedy combination spells success for one and invariable disaster for the other.

The troupers who huddle along Forty-Seventh street today recognized the jinx that parted the comedy film players. They have seen that jinx wreck such standard acts as Clayton, Jackson and Durante, Doyle and Dixon, Bard and Pearl, Gallagher and Shean, Bert and Betty Wheeler—lots of others.

There never was success enough to share after the parting—well, hardly ever.

This feeling was shared by Eddie Darling, chief booking executive for the Keith-Albee theaters when vaudeville was supreme. Darling saw many good players sink when they changed partners.

"Well," he recalled, "Jimmy Doyle was a great dancer, but after he parted from Harlan Dixon only Dixon rose to musical comedy triumph. Ben Bard went into obscurity, but his partner, Jack Pearl, is a star today.

"I think Hardy and Laurel will find it tough going it alone, it always is. I know that when I tried to book the partners separately after the smash it was almost impossible. Audiences who take teams to their heart don't want them any other way."

Darling acknowledges that the eventual success of individuals justified the parting.

"Take Jimmie Durante. He was always the whole act, and he would have been foolish to continue with others."

"Nobody," Darling continued, "can blame Walter Huston, now that he's a star of drama, for breaking up the act of Whipple and Huston. Or Eddie Cantor for leaving Al Lee, who, incidentally, has done all right as a manager.

"Sometimes both partners click, as was the case of the team of Ben Bernie and Phil Baker. Fred Astaire was never bigger than he is now, but we all wept when Sister Adele wrecked the team by getting married."

Almost complete oblivion attended the parting of Ed Gallagher and Al Shean. Gallagher is now dead, and Shean is playing, but not headlining, in pictures. Gus Van has never won, alone, the success he shared with Joe Schenck before the latter's death.

The Duncan sisters, the Dolly sisters and the Fairbanks twins were hopeless parted, Darling said. So were Weber and Fields, as they always discovered after one of their frequent rows had severed their association. Maurice, the dancer, was always distressed, but never defeated, when he lost a partner. He was lucky with his new ones.

Some of the other vanished members of once-starring turns are Betty Wheeler, of Bert and Betty Wheeler; Mercedes, of Bert Lahr and Mercedes; Betty Healy of Ted and Betty Healy, and Lester Crawford of Crawfold and Broderick.

That Broderick is Helen Broderick. She was a chorus girl when she married Lester Crawford and became his vaudeville partner. Crawford, a gifted actor, withdrew when her comedy powers gained her stardom.

Parish Service Officer Explains Compensation For Veterans

(Editor's note: The following article is the first of a series prepared by H. B. McClendon, Ouachita parish service officer, for publication in the Sunday Morning World. The articles explain benefits available to United States veterans of wars in which this country has participated, and discuss compensation, pensions, hospitalization, funeral expenses, and other benefits.)

The most important form is known as Form P-1, which is an application for service-connected compensation.

The regulations issued by the veterans' administration authorizing service connection for different disabilities state that some disabilities may be connected by showing the existence of disability before January 1, 1925.

Disabilities that must be shown to have existed by medical evidence within one year from the date of discharge, are known as chronic constitution disabilities. A few of these are: arthritis, chronic heart conditions; and several others.

Some disabilities have no presumptive period, and it must be shown that they were actually treated for the disability while in the service. A few of these disabilities are; gunshot wounds; chronic bronchitis; ear trouble; eye disabilities, and throat disabilities.

The veteran, in submitting an application for service connection on Form P-1, should state when and where he received treatment while in the service, so that the veterans' administration may request the medical records from the war or navy departments, depending on the branch of service in which the veteran served during the war. He should give the names of the officers (if he has this information) who treated him. A good deal depends upon the information given by the veteran in his application in arriving at a decision as to whether or not his case has merit.

In the event the veteran did not receive treatment in the service, and bases his claim for service connection on the presumptive period of one year, or the period from the date of his discharge to January 1, 1925, depending on the nature of his disability, he should submit with his application the statement of a physician, or physicians, showing the date of his first examination and treatment, the diagnosis made, and all symptoms and findings noted at that time to designate the diagnosis.

The physician should state that those symptoms were found on a certain date, in order that the rating board of the veterans' administration can determine when the veteran first had the disability.

A statement from a physician to the effect that he treated the veteran from 1919 to 1935 for a certain disability would be sufficient. Also, if the veteran can secure lay evidence from friends who knew him immediately after service, he should secure their affidavits. The information given in the affidavits should be specific—the affidavits should give dates, and describe in detail exactly what they saw when they observed the veteran. Many veterans have submitted affidavits of no value, for the reason that their friends gave their "opinion" of the physical condition of the veteran in general terms.

In addition to the above, there should be submitted a physician's statement showing the veteran's present physical condition.

(More detailed information on the subjects of this article may be obtained from Mr. McClendon. Next Sunday, the Morning World will publish the second article of the series, which will discuss applications for total permanent, non-service connected pensions.)

Record Broken Twice Within Four Months

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 23.—Figures on February business just released by Investors Syndicate totaled the largest single month's volume in face amount of contracts written since the company's founding in 1894.

A total of $22,739,700 in face amount of new contracts was written in February as compared with the previous greatest month's volume of $21,380,750 established last November. "This consistent increase in volume of business is, we feel, a reflection of the general improvement of conditions and a corresponding strengthening of the surplus of individual incomes," King Merritt, general sales manager, said. "Twice in the month of February, the largest volume for a single week was broken." The last figure for the business week ending February 16 was $8,330,475.

Successful Trades Day Held At Delhi

DELHI, La., March 23.—(Special)—The "Delhi Trades Day," sponsored by Delhi merchants under the direction of John Cerniglia, local man, was widely attended Saturday and drew quite a bit of business to D according to the participating m chants.

The series of trades days will l several weeks, and an invitation h been extended to all persons of th Delhi trade territory to attend each Saturday.

Some of the titled women of England have abandoned their traditional lives of leisure and are rapidly becoming an efficient group of business and professional women.

TAKING THE PROFIT OUT OF BURGLARY

The easiest way to put the burglar out of business is to take the profit out of his enterprise.

The easiest way to do that is to keep your valuables in the modern, fire and burglar-proof vault.

For a very few cents a week, you can thus make sure that any unwelcome visitor to your home will leave empty-handed.

Individual lock-boxes rent for $4 and upwards a year.

THE STORY OF GENE TUNNEY IS A LESSON IN DETERMINATION. IT IS TYPICAL OF REAL AMERICA AND AN INSPIRATION TO EVERY BOY. THROUGH SHEER GRIT AND INTELLIGENCE HE CAME FROM NOWHERE AND ATTAINED THE HEIGHTS.
I'M GONNA BE A COP WHEN I GROW UP. WHAT ARE YOU GONNA BE GENE?
OH I THINK I'LL BE A COLLEGE PROFESSOR, OR MAYBE A PRIEST.
HE WAS BORN IN 1898 IN THE IRISH SECTION OF GREENWICH VILLAGE AND CHRISTENED JAMES JOSEPH. HIS FATHER WAS A POOR DOCK WORKER. BUT THE TUNNEYS WERE DEEPLY RELIGIOUS, DECENT, UNCOMPLAINING FOLK. THEY EARNED THEIR BREAD! AT 15 GENE WENT TO WORK.
SO YE GOT A JOB AS A STENOGRAPHER GENE? I THOUGHT YE WERE GOIN' TO STUDY FOR THE CLERGY.
I'LL HAVE TO SACRIFICE THAT MOTHER. THE TWELVE DOLLARS A WEEK I'M GETTING IS MORE IMPORTANT TO US NOW.
AT NIGHT HE STUDIED LAW AT N.Y. UNIVERSITY AND IN HIS SPARE TIME WENT IN FOR ALL PHASES OF ATHLETICS. HE HAD TROUBLE WITH HIS RIGHT ARM, BUT CURED IT THROUGH EXERCISE.
GET TO BED LAD. YE CAN'T WORK ALL DAY AND STUDY ALL NIGHT.

DURING HIS STAY IN EGYPT ALEXANDER THE GREAT VISITED A FAMOUS TEMPLE IN THE OASIS OF SIWA, WHERE THE CRAFTY PRIESTS HAILED HIM AS A DESCENDANT OF THE GOD, AMMON-RA.
ALEXANDER TOOK THIS FLATTERY SERIOUSLY. THE GREEKS AND MACEDONIANS WERE NOTIFIED OF HIS "DIVINE" ANCESTRY. THE YOUTH'S HEAD WAS COMPLETELY TURNED------
MANY BELIEVED THE HANDSOME YOUNG CONQUEROR WAS A DEMI-GOD. WAS HE NOT MARKED BY THE GODS-? ONE OF HIS EYES WAS BLUE, THE OTHER BROWN----!

ARBELA (330 B.C.) WAS ONE OF THE DECISIVE BATTLES OF HISTORY.... DARIUS' ARMY WAS ROUTED, AND THE PERSIAN EMPIRE FELL AT THE MERCY OF ALEXANDER.
ALEXANDER, PURSUING THE FLEEING PERSIANS TOWARD BABYLON, RODE UP JUST AS THE "GREAT KING" WAS BREATHING HIS LAST.

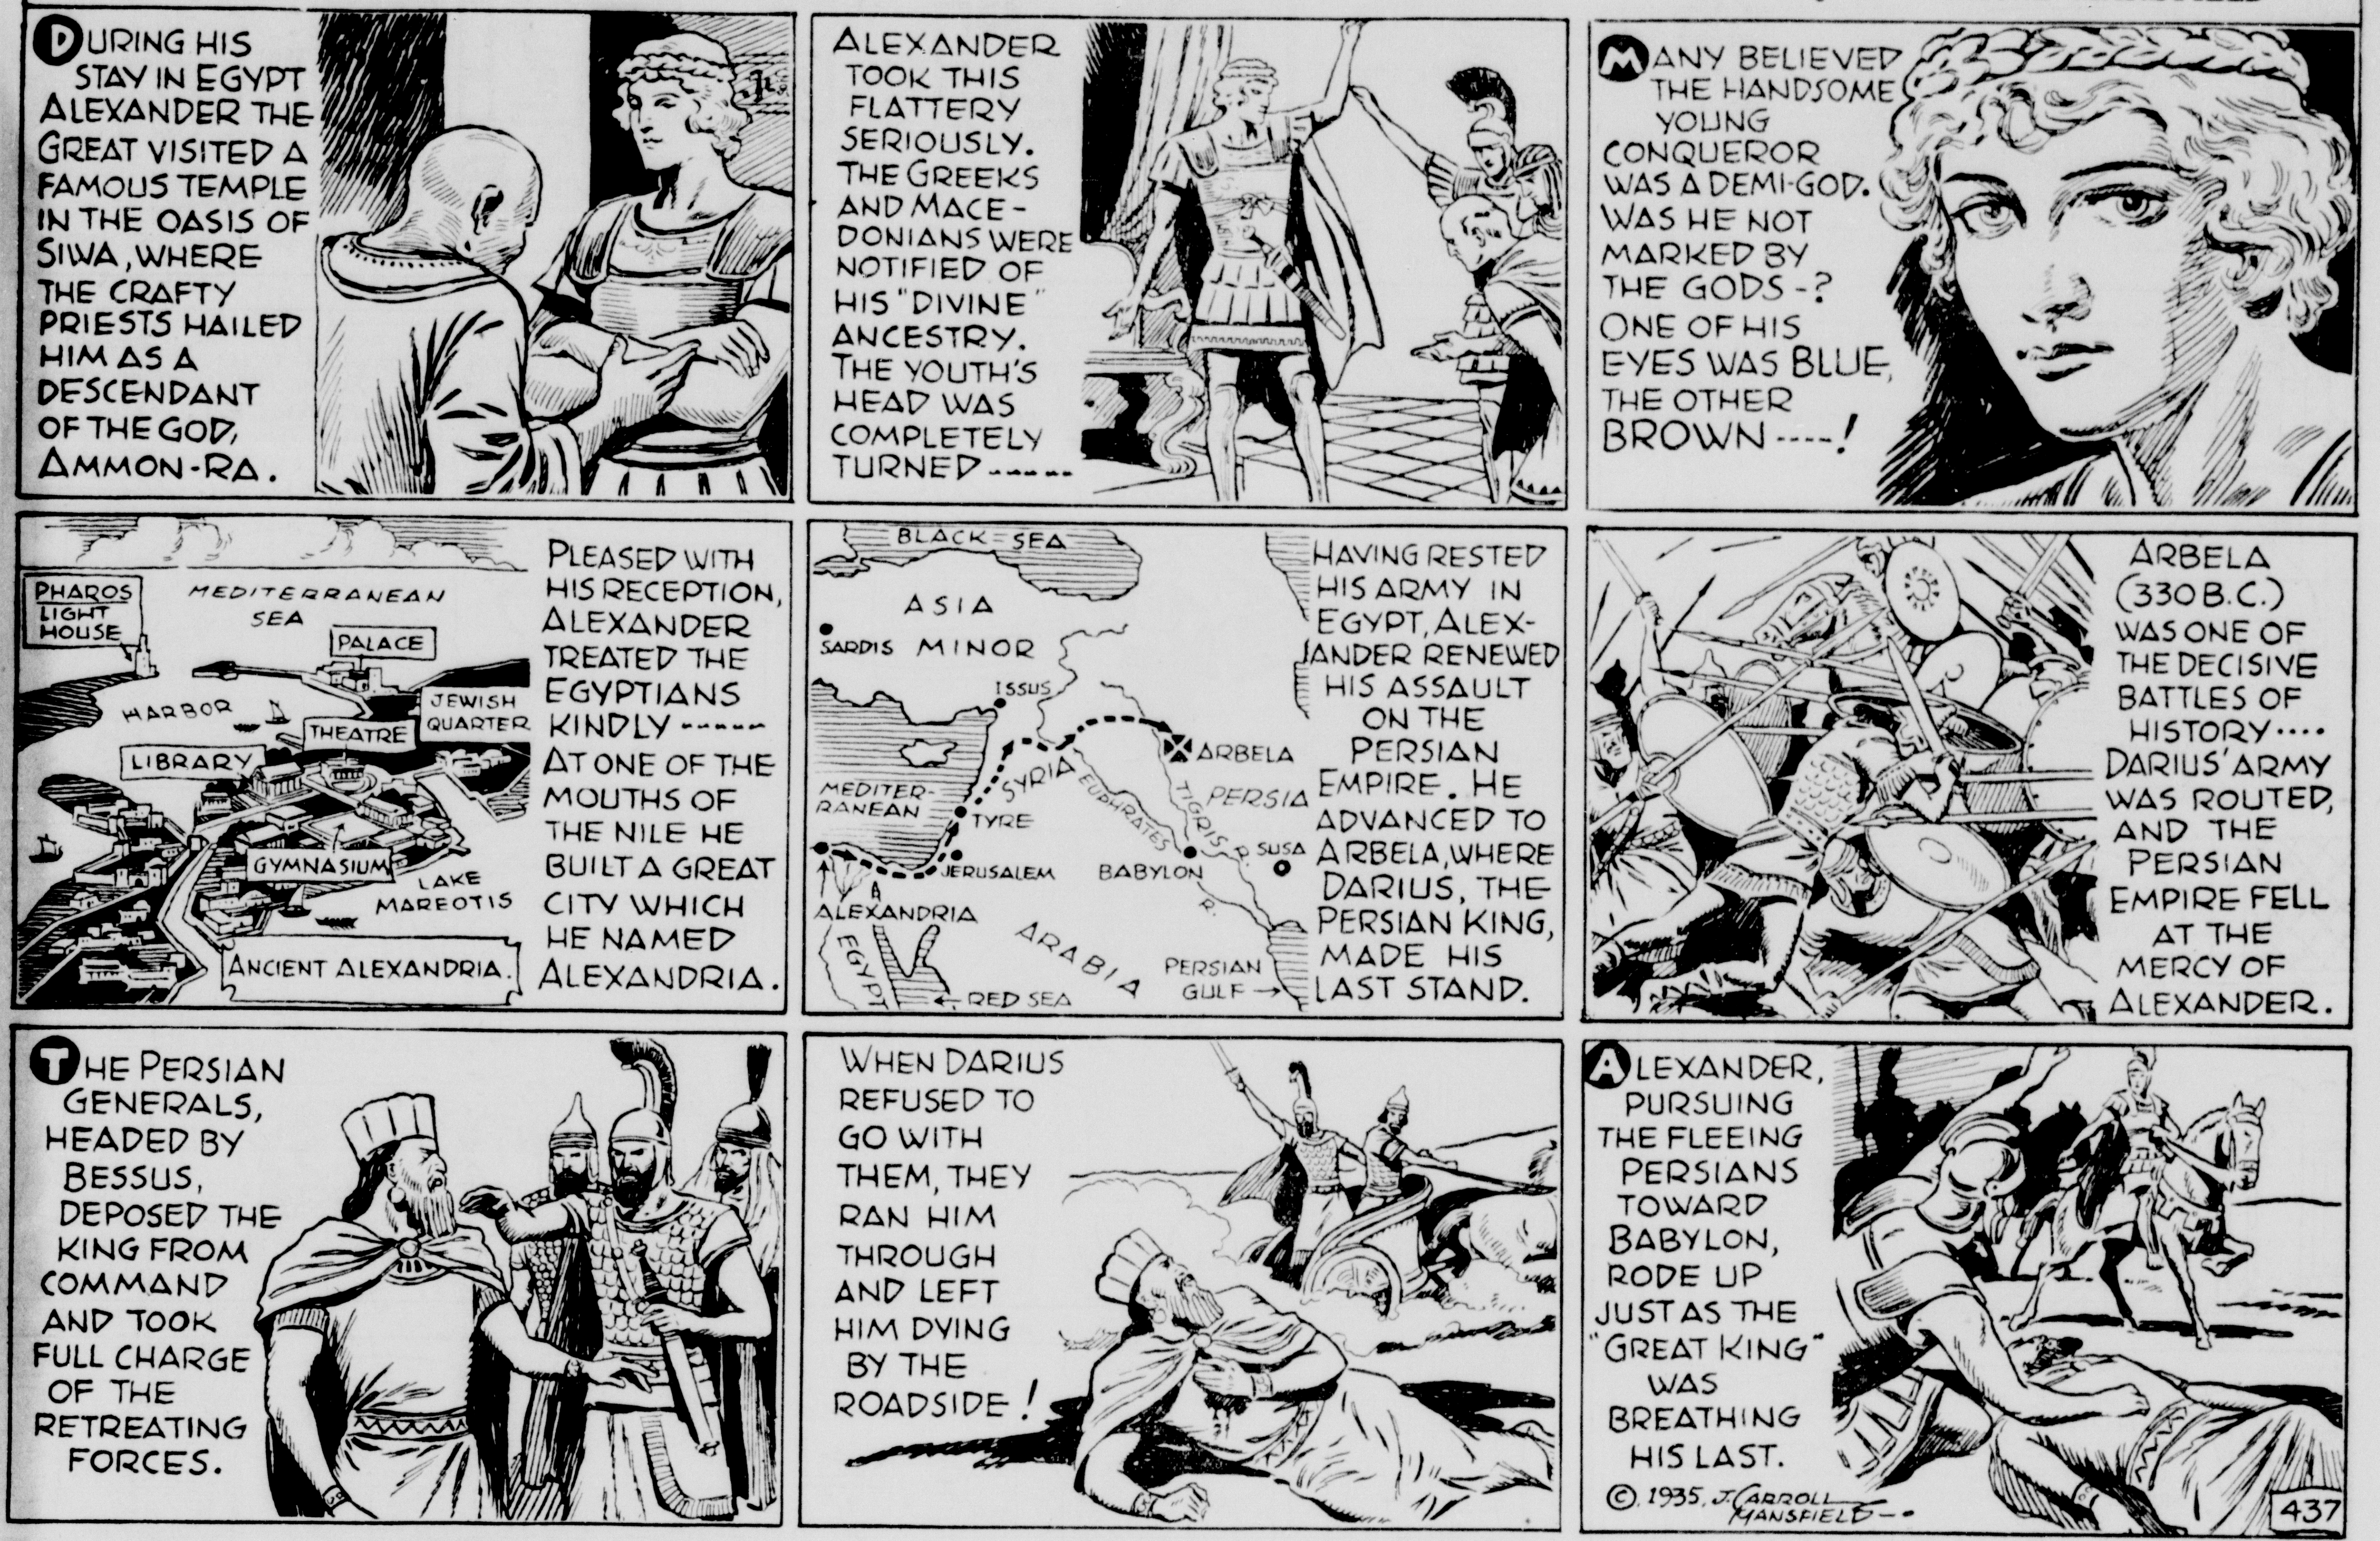
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY -:- Alexander The Great—Part VI -:- By J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



During his stay in Egypt Alexander the Great visited a famous temple in the oasis of Siwa, where the crafty priests hailed him as a descendant of the god, Ammon-Ra.
Alexander took this flattery seriously. The Greeks and Macedonians were notified of his "divine" ancestry. The youth's head was completely turned-----
Many believed the handsome young conqueror was a demi-god. Was he not marked by the gods-? One of his eyes was blue, the other brown----!

Arbela (330 B.C.) was one of the decisive battles of history.... Darius' army was routed, and the Persian Empire fell at the mercy of Alexander.

One Mad Gang's Trail Across Three States of Hate Loot Murder and Love

But the Law Finally Rounded Up and Wiped Out the Mob, Putting an End to America's Gigantic Hi-Jacking Racket—And All Because They Tried to Put a Pretty Girl "On the Spot"

ONE of the most singular phenomena of great crimes is the swiftness with which ludicrous legend springs up instantly to supplant authentic fact.

Let us assume that a particular atrocious murder has been committed. Immediately the wheels of the law are set in motion to grind out the truth of the mystery.

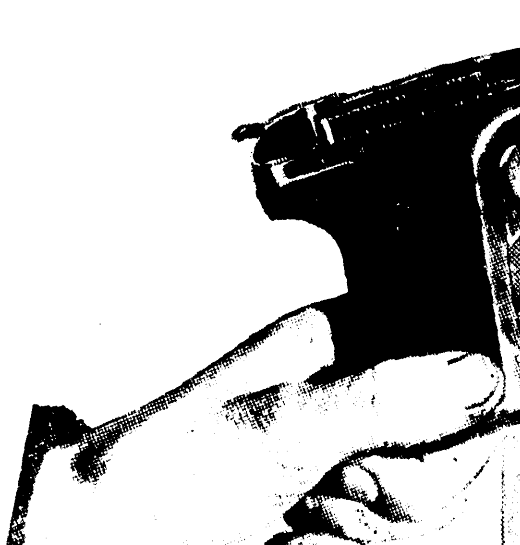
Skilled Department of Justice agents sniff the scent, pursue their panting quarry, and—nine times out of ten run him to earth. The complexities of the case are unraveled, are made of record. But—

By the time the case is marked closed, the tongue of trivial gossip has distorted the details into an unrecognizable caricature. And the irony of this is that usually actuality is far more fascinating than fantastic fable!

Never has this situation been so acutely realized as in the recent spectacular round-up and wiping-out of the notorious Mais-Legenza gang. This epical band of hi-jackers for months terrorized all Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, earning for themselves the appropriate nickname of "The Tri-State Mob."

Much has been written of these desperate miscreants' deeds, some of it false, some true. Here for the first time the saga of the gang is given, completely and accurately.

THAT BOYISH GLANCE
Young Bob Mais, Mobster, Kidnaper, Killer, in His Richmond, Va., Cell, Awaiting Execution for His Several Crimes.



THEY "FRISKED" HIM
Automatic Pistol with Which Mais Vainly Tried to Defend Himself When "Dicks" Nabbed Him, Asleep, in a Harlem Apartment House.

WITH A BULLET IN HER LUNG

Pretty Mary McKeever, Who Unwittingly Pointed the Path to Killer Mais's Hideaway.

DIRK OF DEATH
This Wicked-Looking Knife Was Taken from Mais's Person at the Time of His Final Arrest. He Had a "Rod" on Him, Too.

BRAINS OF THE BUNCH
Walter Legenza — Steely, Sardonic, Tight-Lipped — Who Was Mais's Chief Henchman and the Inspirer of the Gang's Cleverest Crimes. He Got the Chair.

DODGING THE LENS

CARRIED THE "CHICKEN" CAN
Kindly Old Mrs. Elizabeth Mais, the Bandit's Mother, Who, Unconsciously, Aided Him in His Jail Break. She Was Absolved of the Charge of Complicity in His Escape.

SCENE OF THE BREAK
Entrance to the Richmond, Va., Jail, Out of Which Mais and Legenza Shot Their Way. Note Curious Crowd Viewing the Premises.

Bandit Mais's Last Letter to His Pastor

MR. GEIGER, there is no use for me to try to lie to you at this time. I know that I have been bad, that I have committed sins, that I have broken the Ten Commandments, but I can honestly tell you now that I have never committed murder, and that is one thing that I will never have to answer for. . . .

Mr. Geiger, I also want you to know that I have asked the Lord for forgiveness of my sins and also have repented for the things I have committed, and I have also asked Him, although my sins have been of scarlet, that they will be washed white as snow. I think at the end I have tried to be right and tried to do right in the end if I can be forgiven.

THE crime of hi-jacking, a product peculiar to the last decade's hoodlumism, has long been the especial thorn in the side of the Department of Justice.

Other organized felonies have been exterminated, or reduced to a minimum. The "snatch racket" isn't what it used to be, take it from the underworld. Repeal has reduced bootlegging to a pale wraith of its former ruddy self. And so on down the line.

But the path of the hi-jacker, blotted with blood and bright with gold, has been devious, defiant. Hi-jacking persisted in thriving. Hi-jacking not only of liquor, but of every marketable commodity.

Now it must be told. With the executions of Robert Mais and Walter Legenza a few weeks ago, hi-jacking saw the writing on the wall. If not dead, it is already at death's door.

Behind this sweeping but absolutely true statement lies an extraordinary story. Let us set the scene for that story's climax.

The time: September 29th, 1934. The scene: Richmond, Virginia. Cloudless sky. Coppery sun. Along the simmering streets the feet of pedestrians beat out an asphalt symphony.

One pair of these feet belong to aged Mrs. Elizabeth Mais, shuffling wearily but eagerly along toward vine-draped Jail Alley. Under her rheumatic arm, the little old lady—soft-voiced, affable of feature—carries a can labeled "Chicken." Tightly sealed, that can is.

Meanwhile things are moving at the jail.

Charles W. Moss, attorney, counsel for the two convicted felons, arrives. He is shown into the conference room, where—so Mais and Legenza have assured him—"a man"—no name mentioned—will bring him money to stake an appeal for them. Warden Moore and Deputy Sergeant Selph fetch the convicts, headed for the "hot squat" because of the wanton slaughter of a Federal Reserve truck driver the previous March.

Attorney Moss peers down the corridor, sees his clients, in prison blue, approaching. Two guards flank them. But suddenly Legenza, trigger man for "The Tri-State Gang," thrusts his hand into his shirt bosom, whips out a small pistol, barks to Mais:

"Come on. Let's go!"

Mais draws, too, and the doomed men herd their guards—unarmed—into a corner and make for the jail door. Mais sends an unerring bullet into Selph's abdomen; Legenza drops Moore with a thigh wound. W. A. Toot, elderly policeman, steps into the bandits' route. He empties his gun at them; falls, mortally wounded.

Then the desperadoes dash into Jail Alley, re-load their revolvers, breathlessly head for Broad Street, welcome avenue of escape. Twice Robert Mais falls as if wounded. But he rises, and he and Walter try to thumb a lift.

They fail. Enraged and fearing apprehension, the mobsters turn down Ballard Street and commandeer a mail truck at gunpoint. As radio alarms shrill the news of their break, the killers leap out, seize a gray sedan and—vanish utterly. . . .

At this point the natural question on your lips is:

"How did Mais and Legenza get the guns that facilitated their escape?" The answer is easy: the weapons had been concealed in the can marked innocuously "Chicken."

Do not, however, infer that old Mrs. Mais was in on the plot. Although at first heavily suspected of complicity and persistently interrogated, she was at long last absolved of criminous intent, and so she vanishes from our story. . . .

From the time that Mais and Legenza dropped from sight, one of the country's greatest man hunts was on. The feverish chase led police and "Feds" through half a dozen States. In the course of their orbit, the hunted men kidnaped and slew a notorious Philadelphia gambler, and committed two audacious holdups.

This was at the height of the hunt. But when the hounds closed in, the hares escaped, to the obbligato of a furious gun battle.

Now the inevitable woman in such cases entered the scene. She was pert little Mary McKeever, Mais's sweetie. "G" men followed Mary in New York. By "tailing" her, the operatives spotted the whereabouts of Mais and Legenza.

Quickly and without qualm, the law took its vengeance. Mais walked the State of Virginia's last mile. He was a shattered man even before the electrodes were applied. Dying, he left an extraordinary letter to the pastor of his boyhood church. A portion of this letter is reproduced above.

With the wiping out of these gang lords, let us survey the careers of all the "Tri-Staters." The original leader was "Big George" Phillips, head of a booze syndicate. Phillips hit on the brilliant idea of hi-jacking cigarettes, furs, razor blades and other trade commodities.

Legenza, although he boasted: "Burglary's my line," was in charge of the whiskey hi-jacking. Arthur Misunas, another of the mob, saved his skin by turning State's evidence against Mais and Legenza at their Richmond trial.

And the doughty Mais? He had made a small-time start as an auto thief, but dropped that for "legging." It is amazing that his only court record shows that in 1931 he was fined and put on probation for a year for "illegally transporting liquor."

Other arresting—not to say arrested—characters in the "Tri-State" drama were Herbert Myers, George Kauffmann, Martin Farrell, "Bones" Gale, John and Barbara Kendrick and the Miss McKeever already referred to.

All was amity within the ranks of the "Tri-Staters" till the advent of Mrs. Leonora Fontaine. She was an engaging French-Canadian who had impulsively left her husband because of the allurements of "Big George." She was to regret this.

Panic descended upon the gang when the District of Columbia police peppered Phillips with slugs in the ignominious act of swiping a motor car. Their chief gone, the others held a hurried conclave. The outcome was the decision that Leonora, who had never committed a crime, must be put on the spot.

Why? Well, she was beautiful and fairly ingenuous and might yield up dangerous secrets of the gang's activities under pressure.

Mais took the apprehensive young woman to a suburb of Philadelphia. Kauffmann, the narcotic-drenched trigger man, was sent for.

In the early hours of the next morning, a householder in Upper Darby heard pitiful moans on his doorstep. There lay a slender girl in blue pajamas. She writhed and cried:

"Help! I'm dying. I've been shot!"

Then darkness closed her eyes. She was, of course, Leonora.

Hospital physicians said she couldn't live, for her wounds looked mortal. One bullet had ploughed its way into her body a fraction of an inch above the heart.

But her vital resistance proved great.

A blood-stained trail led police to the apartment where Leonora had met her agony. Outside the house was a motor car. Blood had smudged it. The car was registered locally in Mais's name!

The next day a well-groomed stranger tried to force his way to Leonora's bedside. He was intercepted and driven away. The fact that the stranger was a hired assassin rippled through the underworld.

Unabashed at failure, the Mais-Legenza gang plotted to dynamite the hospital. The plan was stillborn. Nothing happened.

Leonora was transferred to Washington, where it was felt Uncle Sam's protective eye would suffice for her personal safety. As she convalesced, Leonora talked. And talked. Before she was escorted to her Canadian home, chaperoned by an armored truck and machine-gun guards, the "Tri-State" aggregation began to crumble.

They found "Dopey" Kauffmann's bullet-shattered body on a Pittsburgh dump. Persons close to Mais claimed the latter had ordered Kauffmann's assassination as a penalty for not properly finishing off Leonora.

Now the "Tri-State" women became excessively voluble. Herbert Myers, one of the gang's most desperate characters, had been hiding out in New York. But "the coppers were coming," and when they came Myers elected to shoot it out with them. He killed, in the melee, Detective James Garvey, and was shot in the stomach.

When the trials of Mais and Legenza came along the talk was overwhelming. Arthur Misunas, spotted in San Francisco and shunted 'cross country, talked. The Kendrick woman talked. So did lovely Leonora. In consequence the bandits were convicted of murdering the hapless bank truck driver.

Later his corpse was discovered in a rural creek. It is said that Weiss's family, who had received ransom notes demanding $100,000, actually paid out to someone $25,000—all in vain.

In spite of the man-hunt, Mais and Legenza continued their larcenous activities. They robbed the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company of $4,000, and stuck up the Philadelphia Electric Company to the tune of $48,500, and rifled a Baltimore arsenal of machine guns, revolvers and ammunition.

But the desperate game was almost up. On December 13th, Phila. detectives taking a school-girl's tip, in two lightning-like raids nabbed Frank Wiley and Charles Zeid, who had unfortunately attached themselves to the Mais caravan.

This precious pair were instrumental in pointing the path to a suburban railway station where Mais and Legenza were lurking. The "footloose fools" were there, right enough, but won their liberty in a terrific gun battle. In jumping from a lofty embankment, Legenza broke both legs. Loyally Mais spirited him away.

In New York "Feds" "tailed" the McKeever girl. Unconsciously she led them to a hospital, where "William Stewart"—with both legs broken—was a patient. "Stewart," alias Legenza, was trapped, taken and on the way to legal death by the time he was mending.

Meanwhile but one vital member of the gang—Mais—was at liberty. Very shortly he was spotted in a house in Harlem. Deep in sleep, the bandit—by this time known as the "Dillinger of the East"—was aroused, dug for his "rod," and was promptly disarmed and pinched. They took away from him an automatic and a long, wicked dirk. . . .

It was the trail's end.

Psychiatrists still insist that Mais and Legenza were the most intelligent criminal leaders in the annals of American felony. Maybe so, but they paid the price of their cleverness and, incidentally, wrote finis to hi-jacking as the not-so-gentlest of the nimble American arts.

One Mad Gang's Trail Across Three States of Hate Loot Murder and Love

But the Law Finally Rounded Up and Wiped Out the Mob, Putting an End to America's Gigantic Hi-Jacking Racket—And All Because They Tried to Put a Pretty Girl "On the Spot"

ONE of the most singular phenomena of great crimes is the swiftness with which ludicrous legend springs up instantly to supplant authentic fact.

Let us assume that a particular atrocious murder has been committed. Immediately the wheels of the law are set in motion to grind out the truth of the mystery.

Skilled Department of Justice agents sniff the scent, pursue their panting quarry, and—nine times out of ten run him to earth. The complexities of the case are unraveled, are made of record. But—

By the time the case is marked closed, the tongue of trivial gossip has distorted the details into an unrecognizable caricature. And the irony of this is that usually actuality is far more fascinating than fantastic fable!

Never has this situation been so acutely realized as in the recent spectacular round-up and wiping-out of the notorious Mais-Legenza gang. This epical band of hi-jackers for months terrorized all Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, earning for themselves the appropriate nickname of "The Tri-State Mob."

Much has been written of these desperate miscreants' deeds, some of it false, some true. Here for the first time the saga of the gang is given, completely and accurately.

Bandit Mais's Last Letter to His Pastor

MR. GEIGER, there is no use for me to try to lie to you at this time. I know that I have been bad, that I have committed sins, that I have broken the Ten Commandments, but I can honestly tell you now that I have never committed murder, and that is one thing that I will never have to answer for. . . .

Mr. Geiger, I also want you to know that I have asked the Lord for forgiveness of my sins and also have repented for the things I have committed, and I have also asked Him, although my sins have been of scarlet, that they will be washed white as snow. I think at the end I have tried to be right and tried to do right in the end if I can be forgiven.

THE crime of hi-jacking, a product peculiar to the last decade's hoodlumism, has long been the especial thorn in the side of the Department of Justice.

Other organized felonies have been exterminated, or reduced to a minimum. The "snatch racket" isn't what it used to be, take it from the underworld. Repeal has reduced bootlegging to a pale wraith of its former ruddy self. And so on down the line.

But the path of the hi-jacker, blotted with blood and bright with gold, has been devious, defiant. Hi-jacking persisted in thriving. Hi-jacking not only of liquor, but of every marketable commodity.

Now it must be told. With the executions of Robert Mais and Walter Legenza a few weeks ago, hi-jacking saw the writing on the wall. If not dead, it is already at death's door.

Behind this sweeping but absolutely true statement lies an extraordinary story. Let us set the scene for that story's climax.

The time: September 29th, 1934. The scene: Richmond, Virginia. Cloudless sky. Coppery sun. Along the simmering streets the feet of pedestrians beat out an asphalt symphony.

One pair of these feet belong to aged Mrs. Elizabeth Mais, shuffling wearily but eagerly along toward vine-draped Jail Alley. Under her rheumatic arm, the little old lady—soft-voiced, affable of feature—carries a can labeled "Chicken." Tightly sealed, that can is.

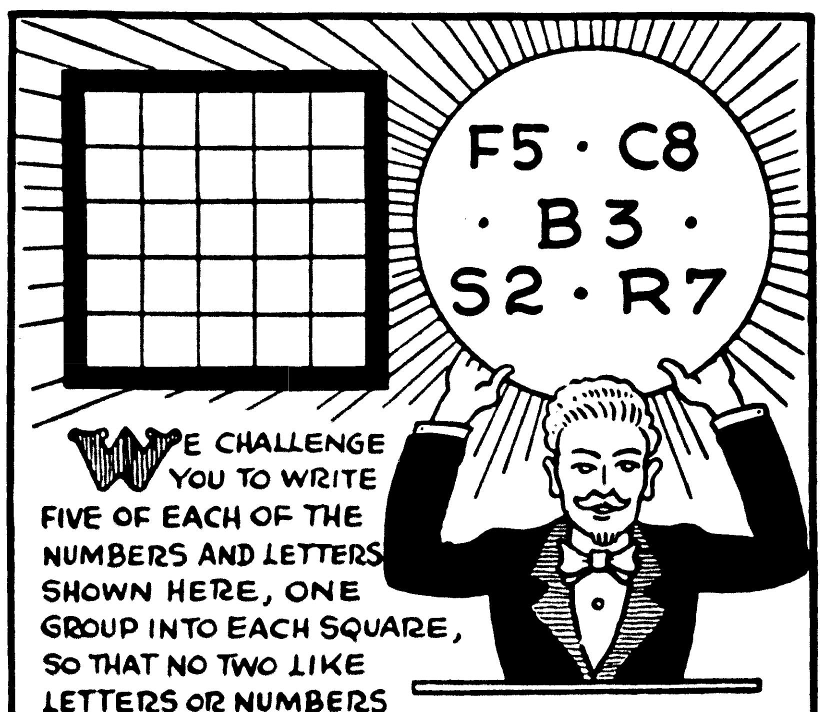
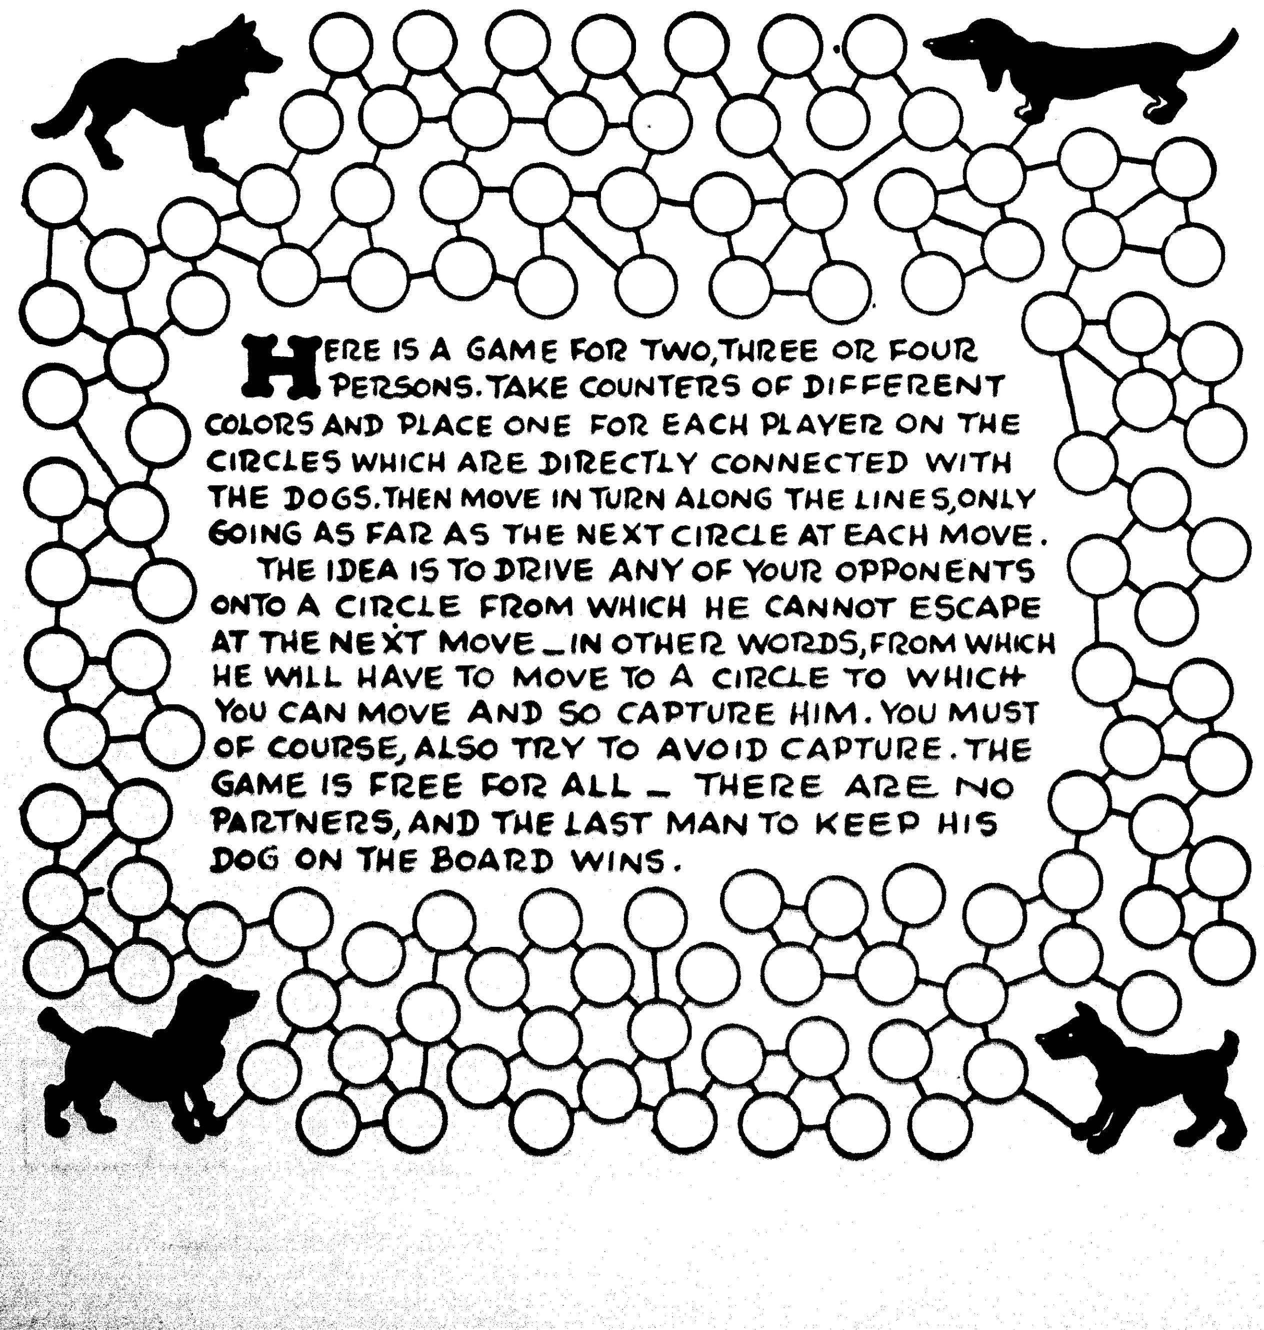
TRY TO REARRANGE THE THREE GROUPS OF LETTERS SHOWN ABOVE TO FORM WORDS. THEN REARRANGE THE WORDS TO FORM A SENTENCE THAT WILL READ THE SAME BACKWARD AS IT DOES FORWARD.



WE CHALLENGE YOU TO WRITE FIVE OF EACH OF THE NUMBERS AND LETTERS SHOWN HERE, ONE GROUP INTO EACH SQUARE, SO THAT NO TWO LIKE LETTERS OR NUMBERS WILL BE IN THE SAME ROW ACROSS OR DOWN.



HERE IS A GAME FOR TWO, THREE OR FOUR PERSONS. TAKE COUNTERS OF DIFFERENT COLORS AND PLACE ONE FOR EACH PLAYER ON THE CIRCLES WHICH ARE DIRECTLY CONNECTED WITH THE DOGS. THEN MOVE IN TURN ALONG THE LINES, ONLY GOING AS FAR AS THE NEXT CIRCLE AT EACH MOVE.

THE IDEA IS TO DRIVE ANY OF YOUR OPPONENTS ONTO A CIRCLE FROM WHICH HE CANNOT ESCAPE AT THE NEXT MOVE — IN OTHER WORDS, FROM WHICH HE WILL HAVE TO MOVE TO A CIRCLE TO WHICH YOU CAN MOVE AND SO CAPTURE HIM. YOU MUST OF COURSE, ALSO TRY TO AVOID CAPTURE. THE GAME IS FREE FOR ALL — THERE ARE NO PARTNERS, AND THE LAST MAN TO KEEP HIS DOG ON THE BOARD WINS.

DICK TRACY
by CHESTER GOULD
CHIEF - THIS LATEST ESCAPE OF BORIS ARSON HAS GOT THE WHOLE TOWN AROUSED! MY ADMINISTRATION IS ON THE SPOT!
I'M AWARE OF THAT, MR. MAYOR.
THE NEWSPAPERS ARE CLAIMING COLLUSION! THEY'RE INSINUATING ARSON WAS PERMITTED TO ESCAPE.
THAT'S A ROTTEN LIE, MR. MAYOR!
JOHN, YOU KNEW VERY WELL THAT IT WAS AGAINST ALL RULES AND REGULATIONS TO ALLOW A PRISONER TO COOK IN HIS CELL!
YES, I KNEW THAT.
AND IF ARSON HADN'T BEEN ALLOWED TO COOK IN HIS CELL - HE WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN ABLE TO GET HIS HANDS ON A POTATO, AND WHITTLE A GUN OUT OF ONE, THEN STAIN IT WITH IODINE.
YOU'RE RIGHT.
NOW THE QUESTION IS - WHO GAVE ARSON THE POTATO AND IODINE THAT ENABLED HIM TO ESCAPE..? THAT'S GOT TO BE SETTLED NOW!
MR. MAYOR, AS CHIEF OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT, IT'S QUITE OBVIOUS WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS - - I ADMIT THE ENTIRE BLAME.
THAT'S ALL I WANT TO HEAR-
JOHN, WHEN I APPOINTED YOU CHIEF OF POLICE, YOU INSISTED ON SIGNING THIS RESIGNATION, AND LEAVING IT IN MY DESK JUST IN CASE YOU EVER DID ANYTHING I DIDN'T LIKE. WELL, I HEREBY ACCEPT YOUR RESIGNATION.
OH NO YOU DON'T, MR. MAYOR! YOU'RE NOT FIRING CHIEF BRANDON! HE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THIS - I GAVE ARSON THAT FOOD!
THAT'S A DIRTY LIE!
HE'S TAKING THE RAP FOR ME.
DON'T BELIEVE IT! BRANDON'S TOO REGULAR TO TELL THE TRUTH IF IT MEANS PUTTING ANYBODY ELSE ON THE SPOT! I GAVE ARSON THE POTATO THAT HE CARVED HIS GUN FROM!
ARE YOU WILLING TO GIVE ME A SIGNED LETTER ASSUMING ALL BLAME FOR ARSON'S ESCAPE - AND SEND A SIMILAR STATEMENT TO THE PRESS.
I'LL DO IT NOW.
BRANDON - THIS MAN IS THROUGH! YOU CAN PUT HIM BACK IN UNIFORM OR YOU CAN FIRE HIM COMPLETELY.
NO! NO! LISTEN - ..I..HE.. . . .
I'VE GOT TO PRESIDE AT A COUNCIL MEETING IN ONE MINUTE. YOU CAN DICTATE YOUR STATEMENT TO MY SECRETARY, AND LEAVE IT ON MY DESK.
TRACY - WHAT IN THE WORLD MADE YOU DO THIS THING? ARE YOU CRAZY?
CHIEF, I'VE GOT SOME PLANS FOR THE RECAPTURE OF BORIS ARSON! AND I CAN WORK THEM OUT BETTER IN UNIFORM! I'M GOING TO BE A COP AGAIN!
